GARDEN PARTY.

The garden party held at Cameron of last week under the auspices of St. George's church proved a splendid success in every manner and a great deal of credit is due to Rev. Mr. Kingstone and Messrs. Richard Naylor and John Oakley, church wardens. A splendid supper was served on Mr. J. Oakley's lawn by the ladies after which a splendid program was furnished by the following: Chairman's address by Rev. Mr. Kingstone; speeches by Rev. Canon Marsh, Lindsay; Rev. W. H. A. French, Fenelon Falls, and by Rev. H. H. Howard, Cambray; several fine numbers by St. Paul's church choir of Lindsay; solos by Messrs. S. E. Marrett and T. Murtagh, of Lindsay; selections by St. Paul's church male quartet, of Lindsay, comprising Messrs. T. H. Murtagh, M. E. Roberts, C. E. Marrett and E. Nesbitt. Roemig's orchestra of Lindsay, were present and furnished several high-class numbers during the evening.

A large number of Lindsay and Cambray people were present as well as a number from Fenelon Falls.

Hundreds of Dead Fish in Lake Simcoe

Beaverton Express: A strange mortality appears to have overtaken large numbers of fish in Lake Simcoe during the past week, as for miles along the eastern shore they are strewn in large numbers.

All varieties of fish appear to have suffered from the fatal influence. What may have been the cause of this strange mishap may never be known, but it would appear to be the result of a severe shock such as is caused by the concussion of large quantities of dynamite in or near the water. There are no works going forward in this locality, however to which such an effect can be attributed.

GOOD "COPY" ESSENTIAL.

The demand that "copy" for the newspapers be written only on one side of the paper is even now more imperative than ever on account of the use of type setting machines. The loss of time in turning over the paper means less type set. There are other good reasons for the rule, and copy written on both sides creates trouble for all through whose hands it passes. A contemporary calls attention to another fault on the part of correspondents, namely, writing too close to the top of the page, leaving no room for local lines and instructions to the printers. To this might be added still another, that many correspondents leave too little space between the lines so that it is difficult to make any necessary corrections.

Janetville and Lindsay Play a Tie Game

The Janetville sluggers and the Lindsay Shamrocks had another set-to Friday afternoon, making the fourth of the season. The two teams lined up on the Lifford baseball grounds and for seven innings engaged in a nip and tuck tussle, the result being a tie game, the scorer announcing the fact that each nine had tallied exactly six runs. The game was replete with sensational plays and the Janetville boys were determined to stem the string of defeats if at all possible. Lindsay having carried away three scalps in previous games. Both teams played good ball, Mr. Bert McGill, of Janetville, handling the indicator with satisfaction to all. Williamson relieved Langdon in the last innings and had two strike-outs. Following is the line-up:

Table with 3 columns: Name, Position, Team. Janetville: Gilson (pitcher), Shackleton (catcher), P. Spratt (1st b.), N. W. McGill (2nd b.), R. Burns (3rd base), O. McGill (Denison), s. stop (Staples), Williamson (1. field), Heaslip (Nesbitt), c. field (Paul), Kennan (r. field), H. Burns (Lindsay).

The garden party after the game was very much enjoyed by the boys from Lindsay.

Mr. A. O'Brien, of Toronto, was in town Tuesday for a few hours renewing acquaintances. On Sunday and on Dominion Day Mr. O'Brien visited his parents near Bald Point and while out on Sturgeon Lake managed to capture four fine maskinonge.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson II.—Third Quarter. For July 14, 1912.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Mark iv, 1-20. Memory Verse, 20—Golden Text, Jas. 1-21—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

"Jesus went about all Galilee teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people." "Anointed with the Holy Ghost and with power, He went about doing good and healing all that were oppressed of the devil, for God was with Him" (Matt. iv, 23; Acts i, 38). The great topic of Scripture is the kingdom fore-shadowed in the dominion over all things granted to Adam and Eve and consummated when the kingdoms of this world shall have become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ, and he shall reign for ever and ever (Gen. i, 26-28; Rev. xi, 15). After Adam lost the dominion by listening to the devil, handing the dominion over to him and thus bringing sin and the curse upon our race and the earth, God began to reveal by type and plain statement a Redeemer and a redemption and a restoration of all that was lost by sin.

The Redeemer is first mentioned as the seed of the woman, the redemption is set forth in the sacrifice which provided the coats of skins, and the restoration is seen in the cherubim (Gen. iii, 15, 21, 24). Later it was revealed that the Redeemer would be the seed of Abraham, having a special people on earth called Israel, the twelve tribes from the twelve sons of Jacob, and that through them all nations would be blessed. Still later it was revealed to David that the Lord's anointed would proceed from Him, sit upon His throne and reign forever, and to Him give all the prophets witness. Matthew's gospel opens with a statement concerning Jesus Christ, the Son of David, the Son of Abraham, the one in whom all the promises would be fulfilled. During His public ministry of three or four years and also during the forty days between His resurrection and ascension the kingdom was His one great topic, but those to whom He specially came despised and rejected Him, asked for a murderer instead of Him, said, "We have no king but Caesar," and cried concerning Jesus Christ, "Crucify Him, crucify Him!" It was after they had determined to kill Him that He began to teach in parables as in the lesson of today, which is recorded also in Matt. xiii, 1-9. The words to Matt. xiii, 1. "The same day went Jesus out of the house and sat by the seaside," are very suggestive of the fact that He was about to leave the house of Israel and gather from the sea of nations a special people for a special purpose. In Heb. iii, 5, 6, we read of Moses faithful in all his house as a servant and of Christ as a Son over His own house. In Matt. xxiii, 38, 39, Jesus said, "Behold your house is left unto you desolate, for I say unto you ye shall not see Me henceforth till ye shall say, Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord." We are waiting for that "Hill," or as it is in Luke xii, 13, "occupy till I come," and in I Cor. xii, 28, "Shew the Lord's death till He come," or in Ezek. xxi, 27, Acts iii, 21, "It will overturn till He come whom the heavens must receive until the times of restoration of all things which God hath spoken by the mouth of all His holy prophets."

The kingdom is no mystery, but one of the plainest things revealed in the Scriptures, but that the kingdom which was at hand should be postponed and an age intervene between its rejection and its actual coming was something not before revealed, and only fully revealed later to Paul, as he states in Eph. iii and elsewhere. This age in which we still live is covered by the seven parables of Matt. xiii, the first of which and its explanation we have in our lesson in Mark today. He spoke the parable to the multitudes, but explained it to his disciples when they came with them, saying, "Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God, but unto them that are without all these things are done in parables." Then He gave the reason (verses 10-12). In verse 13 He seems to indicate that this parable of the sower is a key to all the parables or that this one is so simple that if they understood it not it would be difficult for them to understand any. With the explanation given so fully by Himself, no further comment is necessary. Let us, however, note carefully that the great work given us is to sow diligently the incorruptible seed of the word of God (Luke vii, 11; I Pet. i, 23), remembering that He will watch over it and it will not fail to accomplish His pleasure (Jer. i, 12, R. V.; Isa. lv, 11). The devil is always ready to snatch away the word lest people should believe and be saved. He is the god of this world, blinding the minds of those who believe not (II Cor. iv, 4). The thing to do is to receive the word with meekness and bring forth fruit with patience (Jas. i, 21; Luke vii, 16). If we are true believers, saved fully and forever by the sacrifice of Christ, we will, by His grace, have victory over the cares of this world, the deceitfulness of riches, the pleasures of this life and the lusts of all other things which might choke the word and hinder our fruitfulness.

How to Deal with Some Weeds Which Contaminate Clover Seed Crops

In the production of alfalfa seed the weeds to be especially watched are ragweed, ribgrass, bladder campion, trefoil and sweet clover. Usually it is only the perennial weeds which contaminate the seed if they are killed out and thin places of field are taken care of with a scythe.

In alfalfa, the docks are sometimes common. They should be pulled when in blossom after the ground has been softened with a rain, or they may be picked out when cutting the seed and burned. The campions, especially night flowering catchfly or sticky cockle, when in blossom shoot up above the alfalfa and if not too thick may be either pulled or the tops cut off with a sickle. It would be necessary to hand pull wild mustard from alfalfa and spud out any ox-eye daisy. Trefoil is hard to deal with in alfalfa. In red clover most of the wild mustard disappears with the first cutting. The rest must be hand pulled if they appear after the crop is removed for hay and any other perennials must be dealt with in a similar way. Ribgrass and campion seeds are altogether too common in red clover seed, as are also those of ragweed and foxtail. Sweet clover is becoming quite prevalent and can be easily removed from the first crop by pulling or spudding after a rain.—D. A. Mackenzie, B.S., Lindsay.

CHEMICAL WARFARE IN THE MIGHTY DEEP.

Deadly Germs, Not Bullets, May Decide Future Contests. Strange Fishes That Carry Their Own Electric Lighting Plants.

The warfare of the future may be a war between chemists. The nation with the most ingenious chemists will be the nation to conquer. Bullets, shells and explosives will be replaced by a series of the most death-dealing germs or poisons known to science, says Pearson's Weekly.

First of all, a shell will be filled with germs of cholera, typhoid, or smallpox. Fired into a besieged town, these dreadful shells will do their deadly work far more effectively than any melinite, lyddite, or other explosive ever invented.

The thickest armor plate or the heaviest guns in the world will be useless against them. In a week the besieged city would be a mere pestilence-laden graveyard. A shell even the enemy would think twice about entering.

Chem warfare is only a part of the new system of warfare at the British admiralty is now considering. Another idea of the inventor is a shell filled with a material that will literally set the atmosphere on fire.

When this shell bursts over a town or camp the air will be filled with blazing red-hot specks that will settle down and burn everything within reach. The atmosphere itself will be so heated that no living being would survive in its for more than a few minutes.

The fog shell has long been the dream of the war offices of various nations. Such a shell is now actually under consideration.

When the fog shell explodes the air for hundreds of yards around the spot will be filled with a thick, dense fog worse than any coming from a gun. The biggest dreadnought in the world would be rendered useless in a few minutes with one of these shells, and that without injuring her in any way. She would simply be shut in by the fog, a fog so thick that no searchlight could penetrate it. A few torpedo boats, once the fog shell had been fired, could sink their huge enemy with practically no danger whatever to themselves.

Perhaps the most horrible part of the new invention is "Blindite." As its name implies, it is a ghastly substance, which blinds anyone within reach. Enough "Blindite" can be put in an ordinary rifle bullet to blind a dozen people.

A shell filled with "Blindite" would blind everyone within 100 yards' radius. Such a shell, exploding over a warship, would leave it as helpless as a mouse in a cat's home. The inventor himself discovered this chemical quite accidentally, and was nearly blinded at the time.

Now that such ideas are actually being seriously considered it is to be hoped that they will be carried through and approved of. The very possibilities of the horrors that war will bring in its real then will keep nations at peace.

SPEAKERS FOR THE 12th.

The Orange celebration in Peterboro on the 12th, promises to be one of the finest of its kind in this part of the country. Among the speakers expected for the day are: Col. Hon. Sam. Hughes, Rev. C. H. Coon, Rev. Ben. Oriel, Rev. R. Pogue, Rev. W. C. Riddiford and the Rev. Patrick Morgan. The occasion will certainly be a memorable one. Lindsay and Victoria County lodges will attend.

Sea Serpents.

Sea serpents date back to the days of Aristotle, who wrote: "The serpents of Libya are of enormous size. Navigators along the coast report having seen a great quantity of bones of oxen, which they believe without doubt to have been devoured by the serpents. These serpents pursued them (the seamen) when they left the shore and upset one of their tremes." (Olaus Magi: i wrote in the middle ages of a sea serpent 200 feet long and 20 feet thick which haunted rocks and caves near the coast, the old writer adding, "And he puts up his head on high like a pillar and catches away men, and he devours them.")

Why He Knocks.

Porter—Yes, you see, sir, it's no good tapping at the office window. It will not open until ten minutes before the train starts whatever you do.

Benighted Traveler (who wishes to reach Lindsay via the coast via geobol-typistoo?)—Ten minutes? Good gracious! Why, it'll take me a quarter of an hour to tell 'em where I want to go.—London Mail.

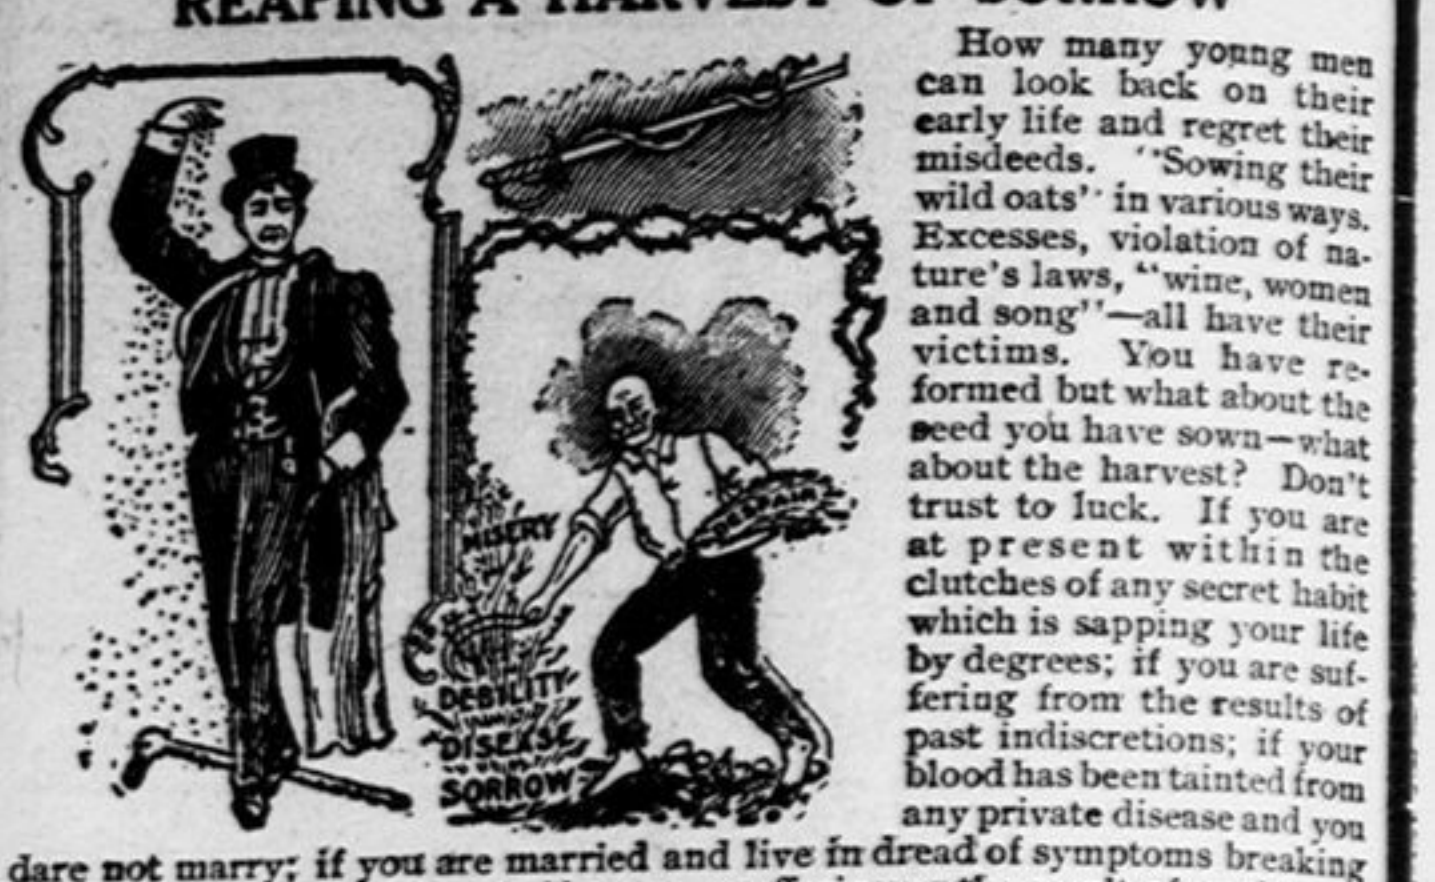

Happiness Impossible.

"Mr. and Mrs. Wicherly seem to be such a happy couple. "I think they merely pretend to be happy." "Why do you say that? Have you any reason for believing they don't get along well together?" "Oh they get along all right together, but they certainly can't be happy. She's setting stout, and he's beginning to lose his hair."

CHILDREN CRY FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

BACK TO STANDARD TIME. Orillia goes back to Standard time on Saturday night. The Daylight Savings scheme has been tried and found wanting. Not so much for any fault of its own; perhaps, but because it was a victim of circumstances. The opposition to it before it went into operation was very bitter in spots, but a did not decrease. The free advertising Orillia received more than made up for all the abuse, so that the scheme, answered the original purpose. Health authorities declare that France loses 250,000 people a year rich will apply for incorporation as because of the inefficiency of the public sanitary system.

Mr. Perrin's lectures of Resurrection" and "The Judgment" have been given by him in towns and some of the cities of Ontario and are reported as being heard. Mr. Perrin will lecture at the Academy of Music on 3 o'clock and 8 o'clock p.m. It is refreshing to find a student departing from the usual 24-hour theory of the present day and yet proving his by God's Word and in a way should set reasonable men to thinking. The Resurrection is a doctrine most lost sight of non-Christians yet on it the early Christians based all their hopes of a future life. These two lectures we have no opinions of some men, but in able truths based upon the Scriptures which are shown to come from Genesis to Revelation and get some good thoughts of harmony of God's Wisdom, of Love and Power. The lectures are given in a that Jew and Gentile, Christian and Infidel, all men everywhere are free to come. The work is self-supporting. Leave your pocket book at home. Bring your note book.
