

Verdict of Guilty Handed out to the Camorristi

Viterbo, Italy, July 8.—The jury in the Camorra trial today found verdict of guilty against all the prisoners except two. Eight of the men were found guilty of actually taking part in the murder of Genaro Guoccolo and his wife, and the others were found guilty of being associates of the slayers or members of a criminal band. Scenes of the wildest excitement followed the announcement of the verdict, and court was adjourned until the prisoners could be calmed sufficiently to carry their sentences later in the afternoon.

Struck His Wife

At Birds But Struck His Wife. A farmer residing at Mark Attery, about six miles from the city, was accidentally struck yesterday by her husband. As he sat at a flock of blackbirds, he was eating strawberries in the garden, the woman stepped from the barn, twenty yards distant, and struck in the head by the charge. Her injury is not dangerous.

8,000 Which Awaits Persons to Claim it

Eight thousand dollars for persons to claim it. This is not a hot weather story. Fact taken from a solemn report, the loan corporation's statement, published by the loan companies. It is a sum of money on deposit with loan companies which have not been claimed for. This is a new feature of the report, added this year. The amounts, which aggregate 8,000 vary from twenty-five to amounts over a thousand. They come from a variety of sources. Some people have savings accounts and after a while have forgotten them. Others have had savings which after their deaths were unclaimed. Others are dividends where shareholders have not been located. Any one might be affected in either better have a look at the list of the loan corporations.

Suffered With Nerve Trouble FOR TWO YEARS

Impossible for him to sleep. Mr. Chas. W. Wood, 34 Torrance St., Montreal, Que., writes: "For two years I had suffered with nerve trouble, and it was impossible for me to sleep. It did not matter what time I went to bed, in the morning it was even worse than the night before. I consulted a doctor, and he gave me a tonic to take a half hour before going to bed. It was all right for a time, but the old trouble returned with greater force than before. One of the boys who works with me, gave me half a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I took them, and I got such satisfaction that I got another box, and before I finished it I could enjoy sleep from 10 p.m. until 6 a.m., and now feel good."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Greatest Orange Demonstration Ever Held in Peterboro

STIRRING ADDRESSES BY HON. SAM HUGHES AND OTHERS

Peterboro, July 13.—Once more the glorious "Twelfth," with shrilling fife and roll of drum, with blare of bugles and waving flags. How proudly they marched in this city yesterday, the Orange Young Britons with chests expanded; their elder brethren of the L.O.L. like warriors of old, on with triumphant swing. Decked with gold lace, silk sashes and fluttering ribbons in the gay colors of their order, these stalwarts of Protestantism, rank after rank, followed the Lady True Blues. Throughout the procession horsemen on white steeds pranced to the martial music. Everywhere waved Union Jacks, upheld by standard-bearers. In the forefront of each battalion shone the glorious banner of Orange. As they marched on George-st. through lines of admiring thousands, 'twas a sight to stir the blood. Hurrah for King Billy! The crowd was immense and the "Walk" one of the longest ever witnessed in this district, and prominently in the long line was noticed the lodges from Lindsay and district. They looked spic and span and presented a fine appearance, while the Citizens' band from Lindsay was one of the finest and best in the entire parade. The streets were lined with spectators, and excellent order prevailed throughout the entire day. YOUNG ORANGE BOYS. The banners of L.O.L. 557, Lindsay, were unfurled to the breeze, and the Orangemen from that district looked neat and natty. A number of them were wearing the good old tile hat with frock coats, while a number were decked out in white coats and hats. The juvenile lodge of Young Orange Boys in the Lindsay district presented a fine appearance. At the head of the district of Lindsay were noticed three prominent Orange brethren, viz.: W. Warren, county master, Jos. Brown, district master, and A. Marshall, worshipful master. THE AFTERNOON. By the afternoon the expected thousands of visiting Orangemen had become a realization and as they formed up in the Central Park in preparation for the monster procession the sight was an inspiring one. The interest was manifested by the people in watching the muster of defenders of the Protestant faith in Canada, as would be shown had the occasion been a military one. Finally about 1.45 o'clock, the lodges became arranged in their places and following the lead of South Hastings they left the park to form the longest procession that has ever marched on the streets of Peterboro. The following was the order of the counties that marched: SOUTH HASTINGS. CENTRE HASTINGS. NORTH HASTINGS. NORTHUMBERLAND. VICTORIA. HALIBURTON. WEST DURHAM. EAST DURHAM. WEST PETERBORO. WEST PETERBORO. These comprising 150 or 175 Orange lodges with the members in full regalia marched through the city by the following route: Down Murray to George to Hunter street, west on Hunter street to Aylmer, south on Aylmer to Dalhousie, east on Dalhousie to George, north on George to Hunter, east on Hunter to Water, north on Water to Dublin, west on Dublin to George, and south on George to Central Park. The procession was in charge of Bro. J. B. McWilliams, Chief Marshal, and Brothers Wm. Kindred, Geo. Bartley, Hurrell Dodds and P. Neves Marshals. HON. COL. SAM. HUGHES. The Hon. Col. Sam. Hughes explained that the twelfth of July should be celebrated because the one key-note of the Orange Order was liberty and toleration. The speaker said that after having traveled for some time he had returned to this section of the country and thought that the best citizens were to be found in the Orange districts. In touching upon the temperance question, Col. Hughes said that he failed to see the place where a drunken man would fit in. He was glad that no Orangemen had become intoxicated, and was pleased to see the ever decreasing use of liquors at social and other functions. In connection with the bi-lingual question, the speaker expressed the opinion that many of the loyal French-Canadian families had realized that without a thorough knowledge of the English language their children could not keep pace with the advancement of civilization, and consequently were educating them in this language. HON. DR. SPROULE. The Hon. Dr. Sproule was received

"It was cooler then."

"In Belfast they're having a whale of a time and I'm eating ice cream" soliloquized a parader.

Many of the boys carried sunshades also, mostly of the Japanese variety. And the band played on and off. The silk tile, like the old times are becoming scarcer every year.

Another good old Orangemen missed in the grand parade was Major John Martin, of Lindsay.

There were some fifty-seven different varieties of play hats shown in the parade.

An old white-beard in one of the carriages boasted that he had not missed a single procession in over fifty years.

"There goes Daddy," said a little woman to a wee girlie and the latter beamed as the father caught her eye and waved a flag.

One of the most pleasing features of the day was the total absence of drunkenness—not an intoxicated man was seen on the streets.

Did you notice those walking immediately behind the bands seemed to feel the fatigue less than the others?

The brethren who had to carry others who were only called on to bring along a small testament.

One of the traditions of the "twelfth" is fading away. Silk hats and frock coats are fast disappearing from the annual parade.

It was in 1886 that the great revolution occurred, but the enthusiasm is probably greater to-day than it was even then.

It is suggested that the city might have provided straps for the spectators who lined up hours before the parade passed.

One of the features of yesterday's demonstration was the ladies' L.O.L. who brought up the rear of the procession in carriages.

The Lindsay Citizens' band was perhaps the best in the entire line, and received many compliments on their fine playing.

"And shure wid fame we filled the name of Slatery's Mounted Fut," hummed a fellow with a North of Ireland face as he stumped along.

The Indian band from Roseneath received considerable applause during the parade for their splendid appearance as well as their excellent music.

The People's Chimes in St. John's church were rung yesterday afternoon in honor of the day. Various numbers in accord with the occasion were played.

A white horse ridden by one of the Orangemen became ostreperous and looked like causing trouble at one time. The incident passed, however, without anyone being hurt.

Citizens who didn't walk did the next best thing. They watched and cheered, and then watched and cheered and cheered some more, after which—but what's the use.

It was Wednesday last year. This year it's Friday. But be the day what it will, the loyal sons of good old King William commemorate it with festivity.

If King William hadn't had more control over his charger than some of his worthy imitators he'd have met his death in the Boyne by drowning.

The boys of the Lindsay District Lodge missed the kind old face of "Father" John Kelly, of Lindsay. It was the first walk, he has missed in 55 years.

Many of the regalias on view are precious heirlooms handed down from father to son. Some of the brass instruments in the village bands looked to have been in many a fray in by-gone years.

There were 204 banners left in the Armouries at one o'clock. This meant an equal number of lodges, placing the average number of members at 60 it would make over 12,000 men in the procession.

The Kitties' Band of Be'leville, composed of six bagpipes and large and small drums, were given the place of honor in the procession and received an ovation as they passed through the crowded streets. Hon. Sam. Hughes and Hon. Dr. Sproule were also in the procession and were vigorously cheered at points en route.

"Wish King Billy had crossed the Boyne in January," grumbled one.

To Strengthen Weak Nerves

THE BLOOD SUPPLY MUST BE MADE RICH, RED AND PURE. When you build up the blood you strengthen the nerves, because the nerves get their food through the blood. You cannot reach the nerves with medicine except through the blood—this is a great medical truth few people realize. Nervous people are pale people. They are nervous because they are pale. The blood is so thin and watery that it cannot nourish the nerves. Starved nerves mean sciatica, neuralgia, nervous prostration, paralysis.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are a real nerve tonic. They supply plenty of nourishing red blood to the exhausted nerves, thus enabling them to do the work nature intended they should do. This is the simple secret of the success of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in curing nerve troubles. As to their value in cases of sciatica, Mrs. Job Palmer, Fenelon Falls, Ont., says: "For seven weeks I suffered untold agony from sciatica. I tried everything to ease the pain, but it steadily grew worse. Liniments had no more effect upon the trouble than water. Then the doctor told me to apply a hot iron to the afflicted part and I did so morning after morning, but my leg had become so numb with the pain that I could hardly feel the heat of the iron. I never expected to be able to walk again my leg was so drawn up. I had tried so many things that I had given up hope, yet at the urging of my brother I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. To my surprise in two weeks I was able to stand on my feet with but little pain, and soon after I was able to walk about again. I continued taking the Pills for about two months but some time before I discontinued their use my leg had become normal again, and the agony of the trouble had disappeared and I have not since had a twinge of it. Words fail to express my gratitude for what the Pills did for me and I must strongly recommend them to all sufferers from sciatica."

The every day mission of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is to cure cases like the above and they will not disappoint if given a fair trial. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

John Lamb, aged 25, a farmer's son near Rodney, was found dead in the barn. He had been despondent.

ORDERLY CROWD.

A very noticeable and pleasing feature of the celebration was the good feeling which appeared to possess the people and the sobriety of all. Not one individual who came off the Lindsay train showed any trace of indulging in a debauch during the day. This is strictly against the rules of the Orange Order. Nor nothing in the form of profanity is permissible, men must act as they would in a church parade. This with many other rules established of late years places the Order in good standing with the general public, and the 12th of July is looked forward to by all as one great holiday and day of pleasure.

VETERAN ORANGEMAN.

The annual Orange celebration in Toronto Friday was the usual success, over 8,000 brethren being in the ranks. It was witnessed by several gentlemen from Lindsay, who happened to be in the city on business, and among the former Victoria County people noticed in the "Walk" was Mr. Edward Bunting, who is one of the veteran Orangemen, having attended many a Twelfth of July celebration, and his Lindsay friends hope that he will be spared to attend many future ones.

The corner-stone of St. Michael's church in London was laid by Bishop Fallon.

The Scott Government in Saskatchewan was sustained.
