PRESENTATION.

Miss Hamilton who for several seasons assisted Miss Berry, of Bobcaygeon in her millinery, left to open business at Cobden, and having decided to remove from Cobden her Sunday school class presented her with a beautiful book of poems, a bouquet and an address expressive of their affection and regard.

SPOTTER ON THE SPOT.

As the result of the work of a spotter who has been living in Smith's Falls for some weeks, a number of C.P.R. employes are now out of work. Some of the men laid off are among the most prominent railway men of that division, and among the most respected citizens of that town, though all of those under the ban do not have their headquarters in Smith's Falls.

PURCHASED NEW OVERLAND.

Mr. Ross Jones, the energetic representative in this district of the Overland automobiles, has succeeded in making another good sale, having sold a large six-passenger Overland to Mr. D. Cinnamon. The new car is one of the best models in the Overland make, and is up-to-date in every respect, being equipped with a fine honeycomb radiator, steel trimmings and running board tool box, while the engine is entirely of aluminum, except the cylinders.

THE SPITTLE BUG.

Mr. Benson of the Department of Agriculture at Whitby writes: Numerous inquiries have come to this office seeking information relative to the presence of white masses of froth upon grass, particularly in low-lying fields. These white masses are due to an insect, commonly called the spittle bug or frog-hopper. The froth is supposed to consist of sap which the parent insect has pumped from the plant by means of its beak, and passed through its alimentary canal.

THE VEGETABLE GARDEN.

When Parliament was in session a number of very useful papers on Agricultural topics were read by prominent authorities before the standing committee of the Senate on Agriculture and Forestry. One of these by W. Saxby Blair, Professor of Horticulture, Macdonald College, deals with the growing of vegetables. After pointing out certain important details more or less common in their application to all vegetable crops, the author follows with more specific information relative to the growing of many of the principal vegetable crops grown in this country.

FINE TONIC FOR WOMEN

beds and cold frames, kinds and application of manures, tillage, successional sowings, etc. Among the crops dealt with are tomatoes, onions, cauliflower, celery, melons, parsnips, beets, salsify, egg plants, spinach, sweet herbs, asparagus, etc. Of all these and others desirable varieties are named. This paper is issued as a pamphlet of seventeen pages and is being distributed free by the Publication Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

A NEW CHURCH.

Peterboro's growth has necessitated the building of another Anglican church at the south end of the town. Rev. Mr. Pryce, has been given in charge of the new parish. Mr. Pryce had temporary charge of Bobcaygeon for a few months.

REBUILDING MILL.

Preparations have been begun to rebuild Mr. Lakins saw mill at Haliburton which was burnt down last week. The mill is to be up-to-date in all respects. In the meantime Malloy and Bryans have taken over the cutting of Lakins logs. Malloy and Bryans intend running their mill day and night and have engaged nearly all Lakins men. It was at first feared that Lakins men would be out of work but they were only idle a day or two, just enough for a little holiday.

MEETING OF JUDGES.

Mr. Hickson, of Bobcaygeon, was in Guelph last week at the agricultural college attending a meeting of the judges appointed for the field crop competitions. The object of the meeting is to have the points on which the judging is made thoroughly explained by the professors and discussed by the judges, so as to obtain a uniformity of decision.

A HEAVY LOSS.

Mr. T. Walden, one of the high-class breeders of Clydesdale horses, suffered a severe loss Monday in the death of his imported registered stallion "Gallant Chattan." The animal was one of the best in the Midland district and had never shown any signs of sickness before. Mr. Walden was awakened this morning by noises emanating in the horse stable and going out discovered the big Clydesdale to be suffering from some acute form of disease. He at once summoned a vet., who pronounced the malady brain fever, from which he died in twenty minutes. It is a severe loss to Mr. Walden as the animal was worth at least $1,500.

A CLEVER STUDENT.

Master Moore White, received the second highest number of marks at the entrance examinations held in town. The young student also made a remarkable showing in composition, receiving the full 100 per cent. given. He is the son of Dr. White, Lindsay.

At the Whitby Missionary Conference - Several From Lindsay

"The greatest seven days of my experience." Such was the verdict of each of the Lindsay delegates to the missionary conference held at Whitby this last week. The program of the missionary education conference or summer school opened at "Trafalgar Castle," the Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby, on the evening of July 3rd, and closed on the evening of July 9th. All present declared it a tremendous success. This year is the tenth anniversary of its institution and its splendid development was clearly seen in the character of this session.

The Lindsay delegation comprised the following: Mrs. Marsh, Miss Marsh, and Miss Victoria Marsh, Miss F. Currie, Miss Balfour, Miss M. Sutcliffe, Miss E. Matchett, Miss M. Smith, Mr. H. G. Manning, Mr. Roy Weldon, Mr. Watson Kirkconnell, and Mr. Arthur Allin. All enjoyed themselves immensely and reported a splendid time. The object of the conference is to quicken religious spirit, to awaken and stimulate interest in missions, and to aid in the forming of the life-plans of those who are yet undecided. Some features of each day were song services, Bible exposition by Dr. MacTavish, of Toronto; platform meetings at which addresses were given by returned missionaries and eminent divines; mission study classes, where a careful study was made of certain text books dealing with various phases of missions, and an open parliament for the discussion of important practical problems in Sunday school and mission study work. Every department was an education in itself and the vision gained of the world-wide need and necessity of mission work had an incalculable broadening influence. The delegates heard addresses from such men as Dr. McGillivray, of China; Rev. Canon Hague, the well-known Episcopal; Mr. Woodsworth, of Winnipeg, the author of "Strangers Within Our Gates," and Mr. John Kolesnikoff, the conductor of a familiar Slavic mission in Toronto. Everything was of the highest order. Nothing could have been more magnificent. Nor were sports neglected. Every afternoon was devoted to relaxation of some sort. A tennis tournament, covering several days, displayed much expert playing, while a sport's day and a hay-rick picnic to Corbett's Point on Lake Ontario, were also enjoyed.

The number of delegates and visitors at the conference this year tallied 285, an unprecedented figure. There were sixteen returned missionaries present from all parts of the world and their talks were most interesting. Everyone came away highly enthusiastic and with a deeper consciousness of personal responsibility. The Whitby summer school this year has been a rousing success.

NORLAND.

Norland, July 15. - The 12th of July which was celebrated in the village and was a great success. There was a nice sized crowd and every one seemed to have a good time. The Orangemen of this place will celebrate the 12th here again next year. The dances which were held at night were well attended and everything was a big success.

Miss Eva Hpnater is at present visiting with Miss Annie Murray of this village.

Miss Mabel Parks, of Head Lake, is visiting with her cousin, Miss M. Murray.

Our general merchants, Le Craw Bros., are doing a big business. They have two delivery wagons on the road.

Mr. I. McDonald is at present visiting at Mr. A. Newson of this village.

BIRTHS.

MacLEAN - To Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm MacLean, Eldon Station, on July 7, 1912, a son.

Some Erroneous Ideas re Fishing Through Holes in Ice Exploded - Air Theory Faulty

At the last session of the county council a motion was brought in by Coun. A. Morrison, of Somerville, and seconded by Coun. A. Southem, of Laxton, that a petition be forwarded to the Government for the preservation of fish from suffocation in our lakes during the winter season, and to allow the netting, or catching of suckers, eels, catfish and carp at any time, giving as a reason that the latter fish are scavengers and live in the spawn beds, devouring the eggs.

The members all took a hand in the debate, which was interesting, but no definite conclusion was arrived at in regard to the catching of carp, eels, suckers and catfish with nets at all seasons. The arguments advanced in support of netting the scavenger fish were that while a fisherman might variably catch a bass or lunge; in doing so the loss would be fully sustained by the destruction of those piscivorous parasites. A motion was passed to let the matter stand over to the November session.

As to ventilating the lakes and rivers much has been said, and opinions are as numerous as the spots on a leopard, and are as varied as the colors of the chameleon. So one would feel like permitting nature to take its course and let the rivers and lakes provide for the supply of air as it did previous to the advent of the white man on the American continent.

The idea of fish receiving air from openings cut in the ice appears to be about as great an absurdity as ever prevailed, and those who favor such an erroneous theory show about as much sense as Bill Thompson's colt, who swam across the river to get a drink. Oxygen cannot penetrate water any more than it could steel or stone, and fish cannot live by oxygen extracted from air, as any fisherman is fully aware, as dwellers of the deep die on being taken from the water, so the ventilation of the lakes is a myth.

quite an authority on anything pertaining to angling and the propagation of the fish species, (being president of the fish and game protective association for many years) is of the opinion that most of the fish found dead in the spring time die of some particular disease peculiar to their species. On the same principal as maladies affect different kind of animals, and not all with the same disease at the same time. One year Mr. Moore said the "lunge are affected and other years, bass, sunfish or perch. He claims the fallacious theory of cutting holes in the ice to admit air was first propounded by a certain quack doctor, now deceased, whose business was injured by the non-allowance of poaching and fishing through the ice in winter time, and is of the opinion that nature will provide a ways and means of supplying the product of our waters with sufficient air now as it did when the red man lived on the banks of the Seagog.

THE ENT

The results of the entrance examinations are now known, and a young heart that has been beating with fevered excitement has three weeks over how it would fare, can sit down on the errors of the past, buckle on their armor to other nine months hard work, a possible chance of success, are once more. Whether it is the fault of teachers, pupils or parents many bright students failed the required marks, it is impossible to definitely determine but not prevent parents from their own conclusions. It is noticeable in certain where pupils were invariably sure, that the change in the staff from year to year is ruinous in its effect on pupils. The necessity of giving good teachers, the very is being evidenced every year results of the entrance examination. If it is necessary to pay his aries in order to secure the teachers, school boards should quibble over the remuneration be it remembered that it is a serious matter in the life of a boy or girl, especially the one be "plucked." It not only another year of hard work, he pupil becomes discouraged, the value of a good teacher should be recognized by every school board.
