RASH ON FACE HANDS AND ARMS
 Skin Would Cake Over and Peel. Spots Large, Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Has Not Had a Mark on Her Since. They Also Cured Mother of Pimples on Face.

578 Gladstone Ave., Toronto, Ont.—"My baby's trouble began as a rash and the skin used to sometimes peel off and look as if I were going to get better, but would just cake over again and peel. The spots were large and it used to cost the mother face very red and inflamed all the time. It came on her face, hands and arms, and it used to make her restless at night. She got the rash in March and how I hated to see it on her little face and hands! I tried a lot of different things after that but nothing did any good. I saw the advertisement and sent for samples of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and it started to get better right away. I used them only about once a day, and in little more than two weeks she had a spot on her anywhere. She had it three months before I used the treatment. She has not had a mark on her since and she is two and a half years old now. Cuticura Soap and Ointment also cured pimples on my face."
 (Signed) Mrs. McKnight, Jan. 8, 1912.
 For treating most complexion troubles, rough hands, and dry, thin and falling hair, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have been the world's favorites for more than a generation. Sold throughout the world. Little sample each mailed free, with 22-p. Skin Book. Address Post Card, Botten Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 34D, Porteur, U. S. A.

THE NEW MODERATOR.
 Dr. Murdoch Mackenzie a Worthy Leader of Presbyterians.
 It was an Englishman who libeled his fellow-Britisher as "the unspeakable Scot." The epithet was 99 per cent. spleen and the remainder, a begrudged compliment. Happily, the author of it belonged to a slim minority of his countrymen. The fact is that the author was too helplessly incompetent to find a better reason for the Scotchman's knack of getting into the Hall of Fame.
 On the other hand, the amount of space in that sacred temple, which is scented with the thistle and colored by the tartan, is enough to make the people from "north of the Tweed" a bit bashful. For a worthy Scotchman seldom writes to an editor unless it is to ask that "his name be kept out of print."
 But no matter which way you turn a Macdonald or a Grant, a Douglas or a Burns, a Hector or an Alexander, seems to have done the deed. In war and in peace, in the church and in the state, it has almost become proverbial. Therefore, it is not strange that when the militant hosts of Presbyterianism, assembled in Toronto recently, were settling upon a significant password, it should be whispered along the lines—it shall be Murdoch! Dr. Murdoch Mackenzie, the new moderator of the General Assembly, was made in the same mold, which has given to the world its far-famed Highlanders. It is the mountain and the moor; the mist of the sky and the music of the stream that has put the temper in the metal. Then there is the poverty of the bleak Scot and the preciousness of a love for the same. Such is the fuel for the fire. But it is religion—the mystery and the mist of God; the deep, strong faith in His perfect will and infinitive love! Here we have the fire which makes the cast. Yesterday it was MacCallum More and Montrose. To-day it is Murdoch Mackenzie, the new chief of the Presbyterian clans.
 Among the gentlest sons of men he looks as dominant as a Scotch thistle in a bed of chrysanthemums. He has the strenuous fire and the fearless face. From his bushy, grey beard and massive head, the scales of his forehead, there is a warning—"touch me who daunt!" One can easily drop into the realm of fancy and imagine among his forefathers a dashing Covenanter. Further back, see a monk with the most penitential hair shirts. And still distant, some mighty Crusader, who could not be drawn out of his native glens except to save the holy relics from the infidel.
 This has been his inheritance. True, it bore him no revenue and under feudal tenure of modern law. In his blood there is still the strength of ancient warriors. As a churchman there is a blending of both monk and minister. And he has some farther in the name of the Cross than any knight who appeared before the walls of the Holy City.
 Moderator Mackenzie will rise to the requirements of his high office. As a student in Montreal he was a daily surprise to his professors. He has a distinct place among foreign missionaries—being a linguist of the rarest type, an evangelist of wonderful power and a wise and sagacious counselor. As such, his brethren have loved him. Now they desire to give him honor. His strength has inspired hearts, and now as moderator, every churchman has a special interest in him.

"Kidding" the 1913 Candidates.
 Recently there was related one or two incidents of candidates being heckled by fun-loving ratepayers, and several more such stories have recently cropped up—some old and some new.
 Arthur Frost, a young man who aspired in vain to be a Toronto alderman at the recent election, gave his audience ten minutes of pure comedy on nomination night and made Speaker W. H. Hoyle, of the Ontario Legislature, almost tumble off his chair with laughter, when the interrupter got on his trail.
 He announced that he would, if elected, voted to establish a home for the feeble-minded.
 "I am interested in the case of a young woman—
 "That was as far as he got for a minute or two. When the noise subsided he began again—"Never mind, boys, I have been married a year and a half."
 That only made it worse. Every time the unhappy candidate opened his mouth he put his foot, metaphorically speaking, farther into it, and the audience emphatically refused to take seriously any statement he might make.

RAILWAY TIES ON ROAD.
 Evidently there are residents in Mariposa township who do not take very kindly to the innovation of automobiles, and object to them tearing through the banner township and covering their crops with dust, judging from the manner in which the Oakwood road was obstructed the other evening by a couple of railway ties.
 Mr. J. A. Isaacs, of the York-st. livery, was motoring home with a couple of passengers when he noticed some dark object on the road in the vicinity of Taylor's Corners. He managed to stop his car in time to save him from meeting with a serious accident, as the objects in question were found to be a couple of large railway ties, placed a few feet apart.
 When attending a theatre, a big hat in front is not nearly as offensive as a whiskey perturbed breath behind.

The Ops Station Mystery
-Parties Tramping the Country
 The party referred to in Wednesday's issue of The Daily Watchman, who was guilty of ill treatment to a girl with whom he was travelling the country via the railway tracks, and who so cruelly treated the girl near Ops station, has been located.
 On information received by Chief of Police Chilton, the two were seen passing through Uxbridge Wednesday afternoon.
 Last week this same man and girl were seen east on the G.T.R. tracks, where it is asserted he was known to have similarly treated the unfortunate female who is apparently under his power.
 A local fireman on the Grand Trunk in conversation with Chief Chilton, informed the officer of the law that the couple were noticed on the day in question, as the train was passing through the country, in the vicinity of Ops station. The man was acting in a manner unbecoming a gentleman, and apparently the young girl was in trouble.
 The pair are now out of the jurisdiction of the town officers, and he will in all probability receive the reward which his lawless spirit prompts him to on his visit to the western towns.

Hartley Resident Remembered
by Friends of Two Lodges
 One of the happiest functions took place at Hartley last Friday when the brethren of L.O.L. 1153 and Court Hartley I.O.F. took occasion to present their fellow brother, Mr. Alexander Spence, with the following address, as well as three very useful presents, as a token of their good will and respect:
 To Alexander Spence, Esq.:
 Dear Sir and Brother,—It is impossible for your brethren and friends to express their sentiments on the eve of your departure from their midst, but must in some manner give evidence of their good will. Of the many services you have rendered during the period of your life among us it's not easy to recount.
 The office you have held in our Societies have rooted in the hearts and minds of every individual under your care the principles of the Order.
 What can be acquired in all societies is strictness of conduct and accuracy of office, which proofs have influenced our members as exemplified by you. Modesty, justice, charity and like have fitted you for the confidence which you have held and have provided excellent effects. These tokens we wish you to accept bear only in a small degree the esteem in which you are held. The same trust will be cherished as our recollections of you will be.
 Signed on behalf of L.O.L. 1153 and Court Hartley I.O.F. 979.
 Mr. Spence was taken by surprise, but thanked the brethren heartily for their kind remembrances. He had been a resident of the district for many years, but on leaving for Toronto he would take with him the very kindest memories of his many friends and acquaintances.

A SPLENDID SHOWING
 The Watchman predicts that in the course of the next five years, and probably very soon, the entrance examinations will be a thing of the past, and pupils wishing to pass from the Public Schools into the Collegiate Institute will be required to pass examinations set by their teachers, or a board of town teachers. In other words, that the pupils work throughout the term, and at examination tests will be the main question considered and the basis of promotion.
 The entrance examinations as they are to-day, held as they are in the hottest period of the year, are cruel and merciless, and very often the clever scholar who is of a nervous make-up and excitable, becomes plucked at the entrance test, when he or she would easily have passed the test at any other time. To the majority who fall to pass the entrance, their school days are over, as they have no more heart for education, and in eight cases out of ten they seek their life's work in other fields.
 So much for the test, but what we wish to particularly dwell upon in this short article, is the splendid showing made in Lindsay, despite the rigid test. Lindsay schools have for years enjoyed a high reputation for efficiency and thoroughness, and the entrance results this year indicate that the high standard has been well maintained. Sixty-five pupils from the town schools passed the entrance examination, twenty-seven being from the Central School, fifteen from Alexandra School, six from Victoria School, ten from the Girls' Separate School, and seven from the Boys' Separate School.
 When results from all over the Province are totaled up it is found that Lindsay schools are well up towards the top of the heap. A good school system is one of the finest assets any town can have, and Lindsay has good reason to be proud of the educational institutions within her gates. The teachers in Lindsay, from the primary up, appear to be imbued with the spirit of "making good," and that they are demonstrated yearly in the number who pass the difficult test.
 When a man is looking for a place to make a home, where his children can have the best educational advantages, Lindsay need not be at all backward in advancing its claims for a trial.
 It is the same in regard to the Collegiate Institute, an institution second to none in the Province, or in the Dominion; an institution equipped with the best teachers, and a principal who is painstaking in his duties and who has a heart-interest in the work of advancing his boys and girls in the educational line.
 The record from year to year of the Boys' and Girls' Separate schools is one of proud of pupils being passed through their entrance examinations with a regularity that is gratifying to the citizens in general.

TO ERECT NEW CHURCH.
 Rev. T. Spratt, of Wolfe Island, left for his home Thursday after a visit to Lindsay friends. He was the guest of his brother Mr. R. P. Spratt while in town. The reverend gentleman has the unique distinction of being forty years in the one parish something which does not often occur.
 Father Spratt is about to erect a church of the most modern architecture, which will cost at least $40,000. The island is very productive and is one of the largest of the Thousand d Islands. In size it is about five miles wide and twenty-one miles long.
 A woman can generally be depended upon to make a fool of a man, but sometimes he saves her the trouble.
 —Mr. Allan Gillies, proprietor of The Watchman, and Mrs. Gillies, returned last week from an extended trip to the Coast and the sunny regions of California. Mr. and Mrs. Gillies have been absent some six weeks, during which time they traveled over thousands of miles of railway, also enjoying motor trips and water trips. The outing was a very enjoyable one, as well as very beneficial. San Diego, Cal., was the farthest southern point included in the itinerary, with a side trip across the border into Mexico. They enjoyed the best of weather, which aided materially in making the trip a delightful one.
 —Mrs. (Dr.) J. McCulloch, Sussex-st., and son Hugh, who have been visiting friends and relatives in various western towns and cities during the past six weeks, returned last week, having enjoyed a splendid holiday. Mrs. McCulloch was accompanied home to Lindsay by her sister, Mrs. Alex. Stewart and son Murton, of Winnipeg, and their mother, Mrs. Neil McFadyen, of Shoal Lake, Man.
