-Visitors to Toronto should not miss seeing the new city hall situated on Queen-st. west. It has been built at a cost of two-and-a-half millions, and is one of the very handsomest buildings on the continent.

-It is said that a girl in the south ward sat for hours out on the verandah the other night watching for one of those Opp. Post Office, Lindsay kissing bugs. After the old folks had retired, one of them came along and stopped quite a while. He stood nearly six feet tall and wore a dark suit with a

-The man of the Examiner falls to glee because cheese sold on the Peterboro board last week at 10 5-8 cents. He has in derision our remark concerning the former sale, when the Lindsay article brought 10 3-8 cents and complacently adds that though they make good cheese they don't crow. His wisdom in refraining from an imitation of chanticleer is evident, since Lindsay cheese, in the same of which he makes his 10 5-8 boast, brought 11 1-4 cents.

-That enterprising daily, the London News, has issued its annual midsummer number. The contents whether regarded from the standpoint of subject matter or workmanship are equal to anything of the sort even published in Canada. They are at a loss to understand where they are to look for their money for large quantities of hogs which were delivered to him at different sections. A rough estimate puts his liabilities in the neighborhood of $8,000."

-The Port Hoper Kearnan who got into jail for abusing his horse last week stood up before P.M. Steers and received instructions to sojourn in Castle Jackson for a month of the hot weather. Because he was found guilty of beating Mr. John Pearce, he was asked to contribute $10 principal in addition to $8.45 expenses. He had to deposit his watch as a pledge to make good damages done to "Billy" Robinson's new racycle, while giving the street performance that led to his being gathered in.

-No too hearty congratulations can be extended to Miss Mamie Mc Alpine for her brilliant work on the recent Queen's University Junior matriculation exams. Miss McAlpine secured first-class honors in both Classics and English and stood fourth in each against the entire number writing. Her marks of 94 in Latin and 92 in Eng. lish poetry are phenomenal as anything ever obtained by a pupil of the Lindsay Collegiate. Messrs. Keeping Prices Down.

Reviewing the special incidents and attractions of this store, we are satisfied to continue the policy of extra low prices as a stimulus to trade. The results of the season's business merely confirm our belief that store life can be active all t he yea round, without regard to seasons or the weather.

We're getting in closer touch all the while with leading manufacturers, and they understand better the constituency we serve. That means this store is becoming more of an outlet for surplus stocks, and shoppers directly benefit by such conditions.

We're moving ahead faster than ever before, and developments already under way will add to Watch the papers and visit the your interest. store often.

Church Notes.

-Rev. L. S. Hughson faced his own congregation on Sunday after four weeks of holidays in the east.

-At a meeting held last week the Quarterly Board of the George-st. Metho-(I dist church, Peterborough, invited Rev. S.

-Rev. J. W. Macmillan was in his own pulpit at both services on Sunday. Both sermons gave evidence of the mental remonth of holidays.

-Rev. John Wilkie of Indore, Central India, will occupy the pulpit of St. Andrews' church next Sunday evening. Mr. Wilkie has been twenty years at his post and is now the head of an important missionary college. He is a figent and interesting speaker, whom it is a treat to hear. All are invited.

-Rev. Dr. Williams, formerly pastor of the Cambridge-st. Methodist church, conducted both services at that church on Sunday last. Both sermons were heard by large audiences who thoroughly enjoyed the vigorous thought and delivery of one of the ablest preachers in Canadian Methodism. The doctor's health became so impaired that he was compelled to superannuate at last conference and will in future reside in Pasdens, California. His family has already gone and the doctor and Mrs. Williams will leave shortly.

Purchased the Lot

Last year's council finding it necessary to extend the town wharf entered into an agreement with Mr. Thos. Robson to build was required by the contract would cost about $500. Yesterday the purchase of the entire 80-foot lot was arranged by the council for $300. What has been only an unsightly mound and dumping ground will be transformed into one of the prettiest spots in town. The summit will be cut away and the earth used for terracing the steep sides. A road will run around on the west and north sides down to the wharf and thus the steep hill by which it is now reached will be avoided. The plot will be beautified in various other ways and the view from the deck of steamers coming to dock will be rendered less nsightly.
