

BY SOME MEANS THE CANOE WAS UPSET

And Miss Julia Sharpe Lost Her Life—A Sad Fatality.

Civic holiday was this year marked by one of the most unfortunate occurrences that has ever shocked this community.

On Thursday evening Geo. McGregor an employe in the oatmeal department of the Flavell company's mills, took Miss Julia Sharpe junior bookkeeper in the office of that firm, up the river in a canoe.

Mr. P. Masseau night engineer at the mill was in the engine house, McGregor went over and told him that Miss Sharpe was in the river. Together they went back but McGregor seemed unable to tell where the upset had occurred.

Deceased was a daughter of Mr. J. S. Sharpe, Sussex st. and hardly fifteen years old. She had been in the mill office for eighteen months and was a very bright girl.

Eldon Council Proceedings

A meeting of the township council was held in Hartley on August 4th; members all present.

The following communications were read: From the Automatic Vending Machine Co., respecting vending machines; from Dr. Gerrow veterinary inspector, respecting the contagious disease known as "sheep scab"; from Mr. John McSweeney, township solicitor, respecting road ditches, also respecting recent amendments in the drainage law; from E. Mesgrove, bringing to the notice of the council the destitute condition of Mrs. Mary Godfrey and her six small children, and requesting assistance in her behalf.

On motion of Mr. Ross, seconded by Mr. Vanstone, bonuses for building wire fences were directed to be paid as follows: John McCuaig, lot 4 in 7th con., $9 for 60 rods; Dagald Cameron, lot 8, 9 h con., $18 for 120 rods.

On motion by Mr. Vanstone, seconded by Mr. Ross, the following charity grants were made: Patrick McGuire $5, Mrs. Godfrey $5, to be expended by D. R. McArthur, Marian McArthur $9, payment for her maintenance to J. L. McEachern, for Donald McKay $14.30 to be paid to J. E. Dixon.

On motion of Mr. McPherson, seconded by Mr. McArthur, the following road grants were voted: For 1st side line west of 7th con. line the sum of $20; for opening up the road on 11th con. line south from 1st side line $30; for 3rd side line at 8th con., $15. Councillor Ross was appointed commissioner to expend the same.

On motion of Mr. Ross, seconded by Mr. McPherson the sum of $50 was voted for improving the road on first side line west from the 4th con. line, Conn. Vanstone to be commissioner to expend the same.

On motion of Mr. McPherson, seconded by Mr. Ross, the following accounts were passed: T. W. Nicholl, road markers, $36; G. W. Beal, blank form 46; Wilson & Wilson, printing $1.50; J. J. Cave, printing, $3.75; J. J. Cave, on contract $22.50; Jas. Jack's suit damages and coats $79.14; John McSweeney, township solicitor's account 29.98; O. D. Barr registrar's fees re lot 13 S.P.R., 45; D. D. McArthur, for gravel $3.40; John Lucas, for gravel $1.60; P. McGuire, rent of room for council, $1.50.

On motion by Mr. McArthur, seconded by Mr. McPherson, Jas. McGirr was appointed collector for the current year at a salary of $70.

A number of deputations and individuals with claims or requests were in attendance at the meeting. The discussion of their several requests occupied so much time that the council was compelled to lay over a large part of the business on the order paper till next meeting of council.

Council adjourned to meet at Lorneville, Saturday, the 18th inst. at 10 o'clock.

DYSPEPSIA AND HEADACHE

AN ELDERLY LADY TELLS OF HER CURE THROUGH THE USE OF DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS AFTER A SCORE OF OTHER REMEDIES HAD FAILED.

Dyspepsia causes more genuine distress than most diseases that afflict mankind. In this country from one cause or another, its victims are numbered by the hundreds of thousands, and those afflicted always feel tired, worn out and miserable, and are subject to fits of melancholy or ill temper without apparent cause. It is obvious that the human body, in order to perform its functions, must be properly nourished, and this cannot be done when the food is improperly digested. Those who suffer from indigestion should exercise care as to diet, and only easily digested foods should be taken. But more than this is required—the blood needs attention in order that the stomach may be strengthened, and the secretion of the gastric juice properly carried on. There is no other medicine offered the public that will act so promptly and effectively as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Proof of this is given in the case of Mrs. F. X. Doddridge, St. Sauveur, Que. In conversation with a reporter, Mrs. Doddridge said: "For quite a number of years I have been a terrible sufferer from dyspepsia, accompanied by the sick headaches that almost invariably comes with this trouble. I suffered from terrible pains in the stomach, bloating and belching wind. All food seemed to disagree with me, and as a result of the trouble, I was very much run down, and at times I was unable to do even light household work. I am sure I tried a score of different medicines, but without success, and as I am sixty years of age, I had come to believe that it was hopeless to expect a cure. A friend who had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with good results, urged me to try this medicine, and my husband brought home a couple of boxes. Before they were finished, I felt a great better, and we then got another dozen boxes, and these have completely restored my health, and I now feel better than I have done for years, but actually feel younger. I can only recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to similar sufferers."

Here is a story which was told by Colonel Thomas Wentworth Higginson at the Twentieth Century club in Boston. A country clergyman called on Henry Ward Beecher and asked his advice about what to do with persons who go to sleep in church something which had become quite prevalent in his congregation. Mr. Beecher listened very attentively, admitted that it was serious and then said: "When I first came to Plymouth church, I thought about this problem, and I will tell you about the course I decided upon. The sexton was given strict orders that if he saw any person asleep in my congregation he should at once go straight into the pulpit and wake up the minister."

If your dealer does not keep these pills, they will be sent postpaid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DON'T CROWD. Don't crowd; this world is large enough for you as well as me; The doors of all are open wide; The realm of thought is free. Of all earth's places, you are right To choose the best you can, Provided that you do not try To crowd some other man.

What matter though you scarce can count Your piles of golden ore, While he can hardly strive to keep Gaunt famine from the door? Of willing hands and honest hearts Alone should men be proud! Then give him all the room he needs, And never try to crowd.

Don't crowd, proud miss! Your dainty dress Will gladden none the less Because it comes in contact with A beggar's tattered dress. This lovely world was never made For you and me alone; The pauper has a right to tread The pathway to a throne.

Don't crowd the good from out your heart By fostering all that's bad, But give to every virtue room— The best that may be had. Be each day's record such as one That you may well be proud; Give each his right, give each his room, And never try to crowd.

BROKEN SUSPENDERS.

Men Who Would Rather Tie Them Up Than Buy New Ones.

"It's funny," said a Park row haberdasher, "but it's true that 50 per cent of the men of New York are going about with broken suspenders. I've known men worth millions of dollars who neglected to purchase suspenders until their attention was called to the fact that they needed them. The other day a man came in here to buy some neckwear. While he was waiting to be served he kept tugging at a suspender button on his trousers. As the perspiration kept rolling down his neck he bit his lips and mumbled something that sounded like cuss words. He finally asked me if I could give him a piece of twine. When I got it for him, he unbuttoned his waistcoat and proceeded to tie together the parts of an old suspender.

"I'll sell you a new pair for a quarter," I remarked, pointing to a bunch of new suspenders. Continuing, I told him we had some beauties for half a dollar and better ones for a dollar. He said nothing, but continued the work of tying up his broken suspender. Finally I thrust a box of suspenders in front of him, and he reached for a pair.

"Thank you," he said, and he proceeded to take off his coat and waistcoat. Then he threw his old suspenders on the floor, and as he fastened on the new ones he said they felt fine. He told me that he had been feeling uncomfortable for a week and didn't really know the cause of it until he discarded the old suspenders. "Unless my wife buys a pair for me at Christmas time," he said, "I never think about it and wear those I have on until they actually fall off. I know thousands of wealthy men who are like me in that respect. The other day when I called upon a friend at the Waldorf-Astoria he was engaged repairing his suspenders with a piece of wire. Strange to say, he never thought of sending his valet for a new pair, although he was paying $50 a day for a suit of rooms on the fourth floor."

"That fellow," continued the haberdasher, "is a sample of New York's business men. They'll invest thousands of dollars in stocks and bonds, but forget about investing a quarter in suspenders. Most New Yorkers wait until they get a pair as a Christmas or birthday present. German-Americans living in New York, as a rule, get suspenders for Easter Monday; Irish-Americans get presents of suspenders on Easter Sunday morning; Italian-Americans who have made New York their home get new suspenders at Christmas time."

"And what about native New Yorkers?" asked a bystander. "Oh," said the haberdasher, "they get new ones when the string breaks!"

Making Him Whole.

"It takes the glorious old west to do business," said the man with the alligator grip, as he boarded the train at St. Paul. "We of the east are not in it a little bit."

"Anything to relate?" queried one of the passengers as he woke up. "Just a few words. I traveled from New York to Chicago with a staving looking girl. At Buffalo I was gone on her. At Detroit we were engaged. As we reached Chicago she had set the date. I returned home, wrote her 320 love letters, and came out here to get married."

Whom to Wake.

Here is a story which was told by Colonel Thomas Wentworth Higginson at the Twentieth Century club in Boston. A country clergyman called on Henry Ward Beecher and asked his advice about what to do with persons who go to sleep in church something which had become quite prevalent in his congregation. Mr. Beecher listened very attentively, admitted that it was serious and then said: "When I first came to Plymouth church, I thought about this problem, and I will tell you about the course I decided upon. Safe From Lightning.

"Some of the simplest things in the world," says The Scientific American, "are the most efficacious. If you are afraid of lightning, here's a very simple safeguard to remember: Simply put on your rubbers and then stand up so that your clothes won't touch anywhere. Whether you're indoors or out of doors you're perfectly safe, for rubber is a non-conductor, and you are completely insulated."

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE

Works thousands of cures annually. Endorsed by the best breeders and horsemen everywhere. Price, 25c per bottle. As a liniment for family use it has no equal.

West Lorne, Ontario, Can. Dec. 14, 1898.

DR. R. J. KENDALL CO. Dear Sirs:—A year ago I had a valuable horse which got lame. I took him to the Veterinary Surgeon who pronounced it Occult Spavin and gave me little hope, although he applied a sharp blister. This made matters only worse and the horse became so lame that it could not stand up. After trying everything in my power I went to a neighbor and told him about the case. He gave me one of your bottles and I studied it carefully and being resolved to do the utmost in favor of my horse, went to the nearest drug store and got a bottle of your Spavin Cure and applied it strictly according to directions. Before the first bottle was used I noticed an improvement, and when the seventh bottle was about half used, my horse was completely cured and without leaving a blister on him. After reading your treatment I gave the horse good care and did some light work with him, wishing to see if it had effected a cure. I then started to work the horse hard and to my great satisfaction he never showed any more lameness through the whole summer. I can recommend Kendall's Spavin Cure not only as an excellent, but as a sure remedy, to any one that it may concern. Yours truly, SAMUEL THRESEN.

Ask your druggist for Kendall's Spavin Cure, also "Friction on the Horse," the book free, or address DR. R. J. KENDALL COMPANY, ENDSBURG FALLS, VT.
