Dear Sir :- In your letter in the Fenelon Falls Gazette of last week, Commissioner Chalmers reported on you express your great surprize that You made yourself officious. You Ald. O'Reilly pointed out that this deny that you used the word "sumgo to Constable Brock," etc. Why didn't you leave the matter to Mr. McGee, as you said it was in his diwish your neighbors to be fined. A lot you cared. If it had cost you a thought, or if you were anxious for anything but to show your authority, you would have given an item to both local papers stating the law regarding trotting over the bridge would be enforced after a certain date; you would then have done a manly thing. You talk about my manliness! I could just here strike you very hard on that score, and "the effort to justify myself in my daily violation of a common law.' Also your twaddte about posterity, etc., but I spare you this time. You know what I mean ? A common law or any other law that has not Ald.
