COUNTY CORRESPONDENCE

NO 6 OPS

The following pupils passed from senior second to junior third. Names in order of merit: Tommie R. MacEachern, Wesley Montgomery, Chester Irwin, Earl Reed, Albert Thornton.

PLEASANT POINT

The little daughter of Mr. Rich-Sampson of this place, who has been seriously ill for the past three months has returned from her grandmother's at Mauoc much improved in health. Her rapid recovery is looked for.

CAMBRAJ

Mr. J. Irwin, Brock-ave., Toronto, visited Cambraj and Hartley friends last week.

Miss Lizzie Irwin of Toronto, formerly of Lindsay, is the guest of her brother Mr. L. Irwin, Cameron.

Miss Blanche Irwin has returned home after an extended visit with friends in the city.

SONYA

Mr. Alexander McDougall of Chicago is spending a few weeks at home.

Mr. Malcolm Ferguson is visiting friends here.

Mr. Robert Dixon took advantage of the Niagara excursion and spent a profitable day viewing that great Canadian wonder.

Mr. McDougall, who has been sick for some time, is, we are glad to state, well again.

JANETVILLE

Our village is not a favorite resort for visitors this summer because it lacks that sweet, refreshing atmosphere which is pleasant to every person. On the contrary the air is charged with the odor of pigs (if not pigs itself) which makes any place very unpleasant. The people of the village can hardly keep their doors or windows open and the church on Sunday evenings contains air laden with that unpleasant odor. It annoys the people going to and from church and is not suitable to inhale after meals. We will remind some of our citizens to attend to this matter or our Medical Health Officer will have to be informed and let him attend to this state of affairs. Use other people as you would like them to use you. Pigs should not be placed near a front street, when there is plenty of room somewhere else, and if they are penned here, clean the pen twice a week and possibly that will remove some of the odor.

OMEMEE

A large amount of grain was harvested last week.

Our village is pretty well rid of surplus employees who are all getting good wages from the farmers.

Saturday afternoon was well observed as coronation day. Large driving parties from Bridgenorth, Franklin and Bethany, accompanied their respective baseball and football teams to Omemee, where closely contested games were played. The Citizens band orchestra and Glee Club, assisted by Mr. R. Cornwall, gave a number of patriotic selections which were well rendered.

There will be two games of base ball on Saturday with Peterboro seniors and juniors. Our boys are plucky and satisfied to hold all visiting clubs down, but victory is sure for them at some future time. The concert at the band stand will come off as usual about 8 p.m.

Mr. J. D. Thornton has received the appointment of issuer of marriage licences instead of George Morrison who who resigned.

The coronation services held in our respective churches last Sunday were very interesting and profitable and were largely attended.

MINDEN

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday evening, August 6th, at Pleasant Hill home, the residence of the bride's parents, when Emily Alice, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Puffer of Minden and Albert W., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Shrigley of Dorset, were united in marriage. The wedding march was rendered by Dr. Willett S. Puffer, while his baby sister Miss Ina E., acted as flower girl for the bridal procession. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. Whyte, Methodist clergyman, assisted by the Rev. T. Willett Puffer of Wellington, Illinois, brother of the bride. The bride was supported by her sister, Miss Jennie Puffer, while the groom had the assistance of an intimate friend in the person of Robert J. McCaw of Dorset. The wedding dinner was a bounteous and delicately served repast, that received ample justice by the guests that taxed the comfortable seating capacity of the old home. The home was decorated throughout with wild ferns and water lilies. The parlor, where the ceremony was performed, was draped in pink and white, with an abundance of ferns and water lilies, that gave a most pleasing aroma to the atmosphere. The arch, under which the bridal party stood while the mystic words were spoken, was decorated in addition to ferns and lilies, with the Canadian and American flags, the latter in honor of the guests from Uncle Sam's dominions. The bride wore an artistic creation of the dressmaker's art, made of white silk organdie, and carried a bouquet of white and pink water lilies. The groom wore the customary black. The young couple are held in high esteem among their many friends, and all who know them. The many and valuable presents, that they received, bears testimony to their friends' estimation. After a short wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Shrigley will be at home to their friends at Dorset, Ont.

Miss Shrigley, Miss Munt and Mr. Robt. McCaw, all of Dorset, and Mr. John McCaw of North Bay were visitors here on the occasion of Miss Puffer's wedding.

HOW CAPITAL REGARDS THE LABOR UNIONS

They Are a Conspiracy Against the Industrial Good

A GREAT PUBLIC DANGER

Some Action to Repress Their Operation is Required—"Heads I Win; Tails You Lose"

An editorial article in last week's Insurance and Finance Chronicle, published in Montreal, deals with labor unions. Its headings read: "A Great Problem Raised by the Strike: Have Men a Right to Combine in Order to Paralyze an Industry." Parts of it are reproduced herewith as follows:

The strike of the anthracite coal miners has raised one of the most difficult of economic social problems. Have men a right to enter into a combination which is intended to paralyze a particular industry for some ulterior purpose, such as raising their wages, imposing their own rules on employers, restricting the output of the trade or shortening the hours of labour?

WHAT IS LABOR WORTH

The system of regulating the share divisible amongst those by whose labour an article has been produced out of the sum it has realized, that is, the wages to be paid for such labour is a highly controversial topic. In the great mass of merchantable goods it is impossible to ascertain the precise cost of any one man's contribution of labour, as the interlacings of a variety of interests are too involved, too intricate to be discriminated. The artisan rarely works in complete independence of others or independently of some mechanical aid given by the employer. Even in coal mining, in which enterprise the labourer's share in cost of production seems so direct as to be easily valued, when looked at carefully, presents this difficulty. Before the miner can begin work he must have certain appliances that are provided by the capital of the mine owner. There must be arrangements available for marketing the output which are also furnished by the proprietor's capital. Thus, the labour power of a miner would be worthless were not capital to provide it with the necessary plant for its utilization; and, after such labour has been expended it may be of no value, because capital has not provided for the transportation of its product to market. The arrangements for production and marketing of all products are indeed like a highly complicated piece of machinery in which the utility of each part, its relative value, therefore, is bakers were to combine, they might inflict a fearful loss of health and life in the community. A corner in wheat may be criminal by being a conspiracy against the public well-being.

Now, the very essence of all crime is wrong done to or injury inflicted upon another person or corporation or the community. If, then, the entire body of labourers whose exertions are required for the production of a regular distribution of a necessary of life, enter into a combination to stop such production, they are very likely to do a grievous wrong to some persons and to inflict injury upon the entire community.

The Trades' Union to-day is, in reality, a "Combine" for the restraint of trade and the raising of prices by a monopoly. It sets at defiance the law of supply and demand; it creates, artificially, such market conditions as serve its purpose. The law against combines, therefore, applies directly to such combinations or unions. They are also a menace to the well-being of the community, for they aim at gaining their ends by establishing such conditions as would be an intolerable tyranny and oppression and danger to the State. They are, indeed, a conspiracy against the industrial welfare of the country. How such power is to be controlled, regulated, kept within safe limits is a difficult problem. But, that the paralyzing of an industrial enterprise by which the whole country is injured can be for some repressive action, is indisputable.

THE PRICE OF WOOL IS KEPT LOW BECAUSE SHODDY IS SOLD FOR IT

The Leading Pure-Bred Stock Salesmen of Great Britain Writes of the Question

F. W. Hodson, live stock commissioner for the Dominion sends for publication a letter by Mr. Alfred Mansell, of Shrewsbury, England concerning the low price of wool. The commissioner describes Mr. Mansell as "the leading pure-bred stock salesman of Great Britain, and secretary of the Shropshire Sheep Breeders' Association." The letter is as follows:

My attention was first drawn to the extensive adulteration in woollen goods by an able article headed, "Why is Wool so Cheap?" in which the writer, who is well known as a wool expert, boldly states that: "If the wearing apparel, as used by men and women, were only made out of the pure wool fibres expressly given to us by Providence for this sole purpose, instead of being substituted by other foreign materials, then there would be a robust state of affairs, in connection with wool, but,

THE AIM DIVINE

Enkindle generous ardor, feed pure love,
Beget the smiles that have no cruelty,

So shall I join the choir invisible,
Whose music is the gladness of the world."

dependent upon the utility and the working, the relative value of all the other parts. By removing one obscure screw, a complicated machine may be rendered worthless until it is repaired. All of which proves how irrational it is for labour to place a value thereon without considering the economic relation existing between such labour and the capital by which it is given a market, that is, a selling value. However great the friction between employers and employed, between capital and labour, they are indissolubly associated as industrial partners, with this difference between their relations and those in an ordinary trade partnership, that one party—Labour—invests nothing he can lose; he draws also a fixed remuneration for his services, he does not share in the losses of the firm, while the other—Capital—risks his fortune; he has no certain income assured, and upon him fall the losses incurred. It is like the trick game of toss-up, "Heads I win—regular wages, Tails you lose—your capital."

THE RIGHT TO STRIKE

It is trifling with words to say that because one man has the right to abstain from work in providing coal, therefore, 140,000 men have this right. MacCulloch says: "A criminal act cannot be generated by the multiplication of acts that are perfectly innocent." That dictum is nonsense. One man may mount a horse most innocently, but, if twenty or thirty men pile themselves on its back, the animal will be damaged and a criminal act will have been committed. A man may withdraw part of his money from a bank without blame, but, if he forms a combination of depositors and proceeds with them to draw out all their funds, he is guilty of a criminal act, the essence of the criminality being a design to do injury by "the multiplication of acts that are perfectly innocent." A person may stand in the doorway of a store without capture, but if a score of men persist in standing there so as to block the entrance, they are guilty of a penal offence. One baker may refuse to go on delivering bread, but, if all the

as it is, the wool is annulled at every turn by the use of substitutes for the sole purpose of cheapening wool fabrics, with little or no regard to the wearing properties of the same."

The same authority states that in a drive of 30 miles around Bradford, not one, but scores, of mills could be pointed out, where for every bale of wool used, ten bales, and often more of shoddy, mungo stockings and cotton are used, and that, in what is known as the heavy woollen districts of Yorkshire, there are dozens of manufacturers who never buy a single bale of raw wool, and yet are known and acknowledged as influential manufacturers of woollen goods.

This is a very extraordinary statement, and notwithstanding the wide circulation of the article quoted, no refutation has been forthcoming from the manufacturers interested.

The importance of the frequent sales of rags of every description, stockings, mungo and the like, despatched from all parts of the British Isles, and several continental countries, held at Dewsbury, Batley, Leeds and other centres in the manufacturing districts, prove the truth of the foregoing assertion.

It is further stated that to several large woollen (?) manufacturers, these sales are far more important than any of the great wool sales held in London, Bradford and elsewhere.

Examples of adulterated goods: Melton, 42 in. wide, 6d. to 7d. per yard, extensively used for skirts and frocks, contains no wool, being absolutely all cotton warp, the web being entirely spun from rags and a little raw cotton blended together to give it strength—sold as woollen goods. It is sold weekly in the shape of meltons, serges and the like, and that the art of finishing as practised in Yorkshire has reached such a state of perfection, that it is now quite possible to hide from the ultimate buyer the defects of the fabric, particularly hiding the foundation material of the cloth.

In the Yorkshire Daily Observer of March 29th last, reference is made to a cheap class of coverts brought out by some leading manufacturers, composed of a mixture of worsted warp, and a cheap carded web termed Algora, a high-sounding name for a blend of cotton with mung. Having a satin or Venetian weave, the web is thrown on the back of the cloth, leaving the face with a worsted appearance. The cloth is well constructed and has a large demand.

An assize trial at Leeds on March 17th last has settled the vexed question of the vague terms "All wool," and "woollen," and we now know that "all wool" means all wool, but "woollen" means anything that is composed of shoddy, mungo and cotton.
