News of Town and Country Briefly Told

—The roads in Haliburton county have been very greatly improved this season by reason of the government grants obtained for them. The Bobcaygeon road both north and south of Minden has been repaired and is now in a fairly good condition for such a hilly section; the Mountain Lake road which had been in a wretched condition is now a comparatively good road; the Carnarvon road has been well repaired, and the road from Allsaw to the boundary of Minden and Dysart has also been put in excellent repair. The roads in Anson township have also come in for a fair share of improvement and the Stage Road between Minden and Geleit and Kinmount and the Dutch Line in Snowdon, and the Cameron road and Iron Mine road in Lutterworth, Stanhope, Glamorgan, Monmouth and Carden roads have not been neglected in this matter, and the new bridge across Burnt river at Irondale is now under construction, and will shortly be completed.—Minden Echo.

—Rev. J. W. Macmillan, B.A., of Winnipeg, will conduct service at Sturgeon Point next Sunday.

—Too many of our township and town councils, says the Ottawa Echo, are negligent in the matter of the destruction of weeds. Vacant lots in almost every town are rendered unsightly and productive of foul seeds. The law is quite clear on this point, and should be enforced. He is doing a public service when he enters a complaint against such recklessness. An owner cannot plead time or intention to cut the weeds down at some future date. The law fixes that date, and it distinctly says that these weeds must not go to seed. Now a great many plants are left until their seeds are over ripe, and does ripen after cutting. That is a case where the law has been broken.

—The attraction at the Academy during fair week will be "The Shadow Behind the Throne," by Leander de Cordova. This play will be given on Thursday, Sept. 20.

—A fog signal which was exploded by a heavily loaded wagon passing along Kent street on Wednesday afternoon last caused quite a commotion along the street, and a piece of the cap or stone from the street where it was exploded, struck a horse in the neck. The horse was standing by the side of the street several yards from the place where the signal was struck by the heavy wagon, and an ugly wound was made in the right side of the animal's neck, which bled quite profusely. How such a belittled article became deposited in the street is not explained, but it proved itself a dangerous cobblestone.

—The Standard Bank has opened at Cambray a sub-branch to Lindsay, twice a week, on Tuesday and Friday. Office in Wm. Weldon's house.

—The question has arisen as to what responsibility a farmer undertakes who subscribes for a $100 share of bank stock. It is learned on good authority that he is responsible for double the amount of his holding.

—Rev. A. C. Wishart, B.A., who for six years has been the successful and popular pastor of Knox church, Beaverton, preached his farewell sermon last Sunday evening, and is removing to Brussels, Ont., where he has accepted a pastorate.

—The building at the southwest corner of Kent and York streets has been leased by the Standard Bank, and the work of refitting will be commenced in a few weeks. By October 1st the bank will occupy new and up-to-date quarters. Architect Power, of Kingston, is here making plans for the necessary changes.

—About 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon last, lightning struck and burned the new bank barn of Richard Halls, about two miles west of Little Britain. The contents were this season's fall wheat and hay, partly covered by insurance.

—Col. Sam. Hughes, M.P., returned on Saturday night from his trip to the west, much impressed with the growing opportunities of that part of the Dominion.

—Master Frank McDowell, the 10-year old son of Mr. Robert McDowell, of the north ward, who was successfully operated on for appendicitis at the Ross Hospital a couple of weeks ago, by Drs. White and McAlpine, was removed to his home this week, and is recovering rapidly.

—The steamer Manita will run an excursion to Kirkfield tomorrow, Friday, leaving the town wharf at 8.45, and arriving at Kirkfield at noon. Return tickets 75c; from Sturgeon Point 50c.

—H. P. Chesell, secretary of the Gullway fall fair, writes that the dates of this year's meeting at Kinmount will be Sept. 10 and 11.

—The Mariposa fair will be held at Oakwood on Sept. 27, and 28.

—Mr. Roenigk has for sale at his store on Kent street some postal cards with the cut of the Sylvester Band. He has the exclusive right of handling these cards, and is selling them at the price of two for five cents. Get one and send it to your friends.

—Rev. L. S. Hughson preached in the Baptist church on last Sunday morning and evening. His morning subject was "The Joys of Christ through Man," and in the evening, instead of the theme announced, he took for his subject "Behold, I stand at the door and knock." Christ's effort to enter the life and become the dominant power in the human heart. Mr. Hughson applied his subject alike to the unsaved and the Christian in all phases of life, giving several illustrations from personal knowledge to show that we are not willing enough to make sacrifices to gain for ourselves and others the one thing which above all others is necessary in order to make the best of life—the vital knowledge of Jesus Christ. The reception of God's efforts by the human heart is hindered by the mind's absorption in material things, or with the many duties of life, but the results of the acceptance of Him brings the greatest power and satisfaction, and all that is really manly in the musical part of the service. Mr. Wilson sang "A Dream of Paradise" by Hamilton Gray.

Sylvester Band of Lindsay Win First Prize at Orillia

The Organization has steadily come to the front and is a credit to all concerned. A Tournament in Lindsay next year

Lindsay is proud of the success of the Sylvester band in winning the first prize at the Orillia competition on Wednesday of last week. The band has made splendid progress during the last three years, and this summer is in much better condition than it has ever been. This is saying a great deal, for the Sylvester band is a musical organization of which any city might be proud.

For the advancement and proficiencies of the town owes much to the generous efforts of Mr. R. Sylvester, as well as to the ability of Mr. Roenigk and the loyalty and faithful work of the players. When Mr. Sylvester came to the assistance of the organization three years ago this fall it was weak, and the citizens were dissatisfied because of the cost to the town, from $500 to $600 per annum, but now it is only costing the town $300 plus a small sum for the maintenance of the pavilion in the park, and its worth has increased a good many times beyond what it formerly was.

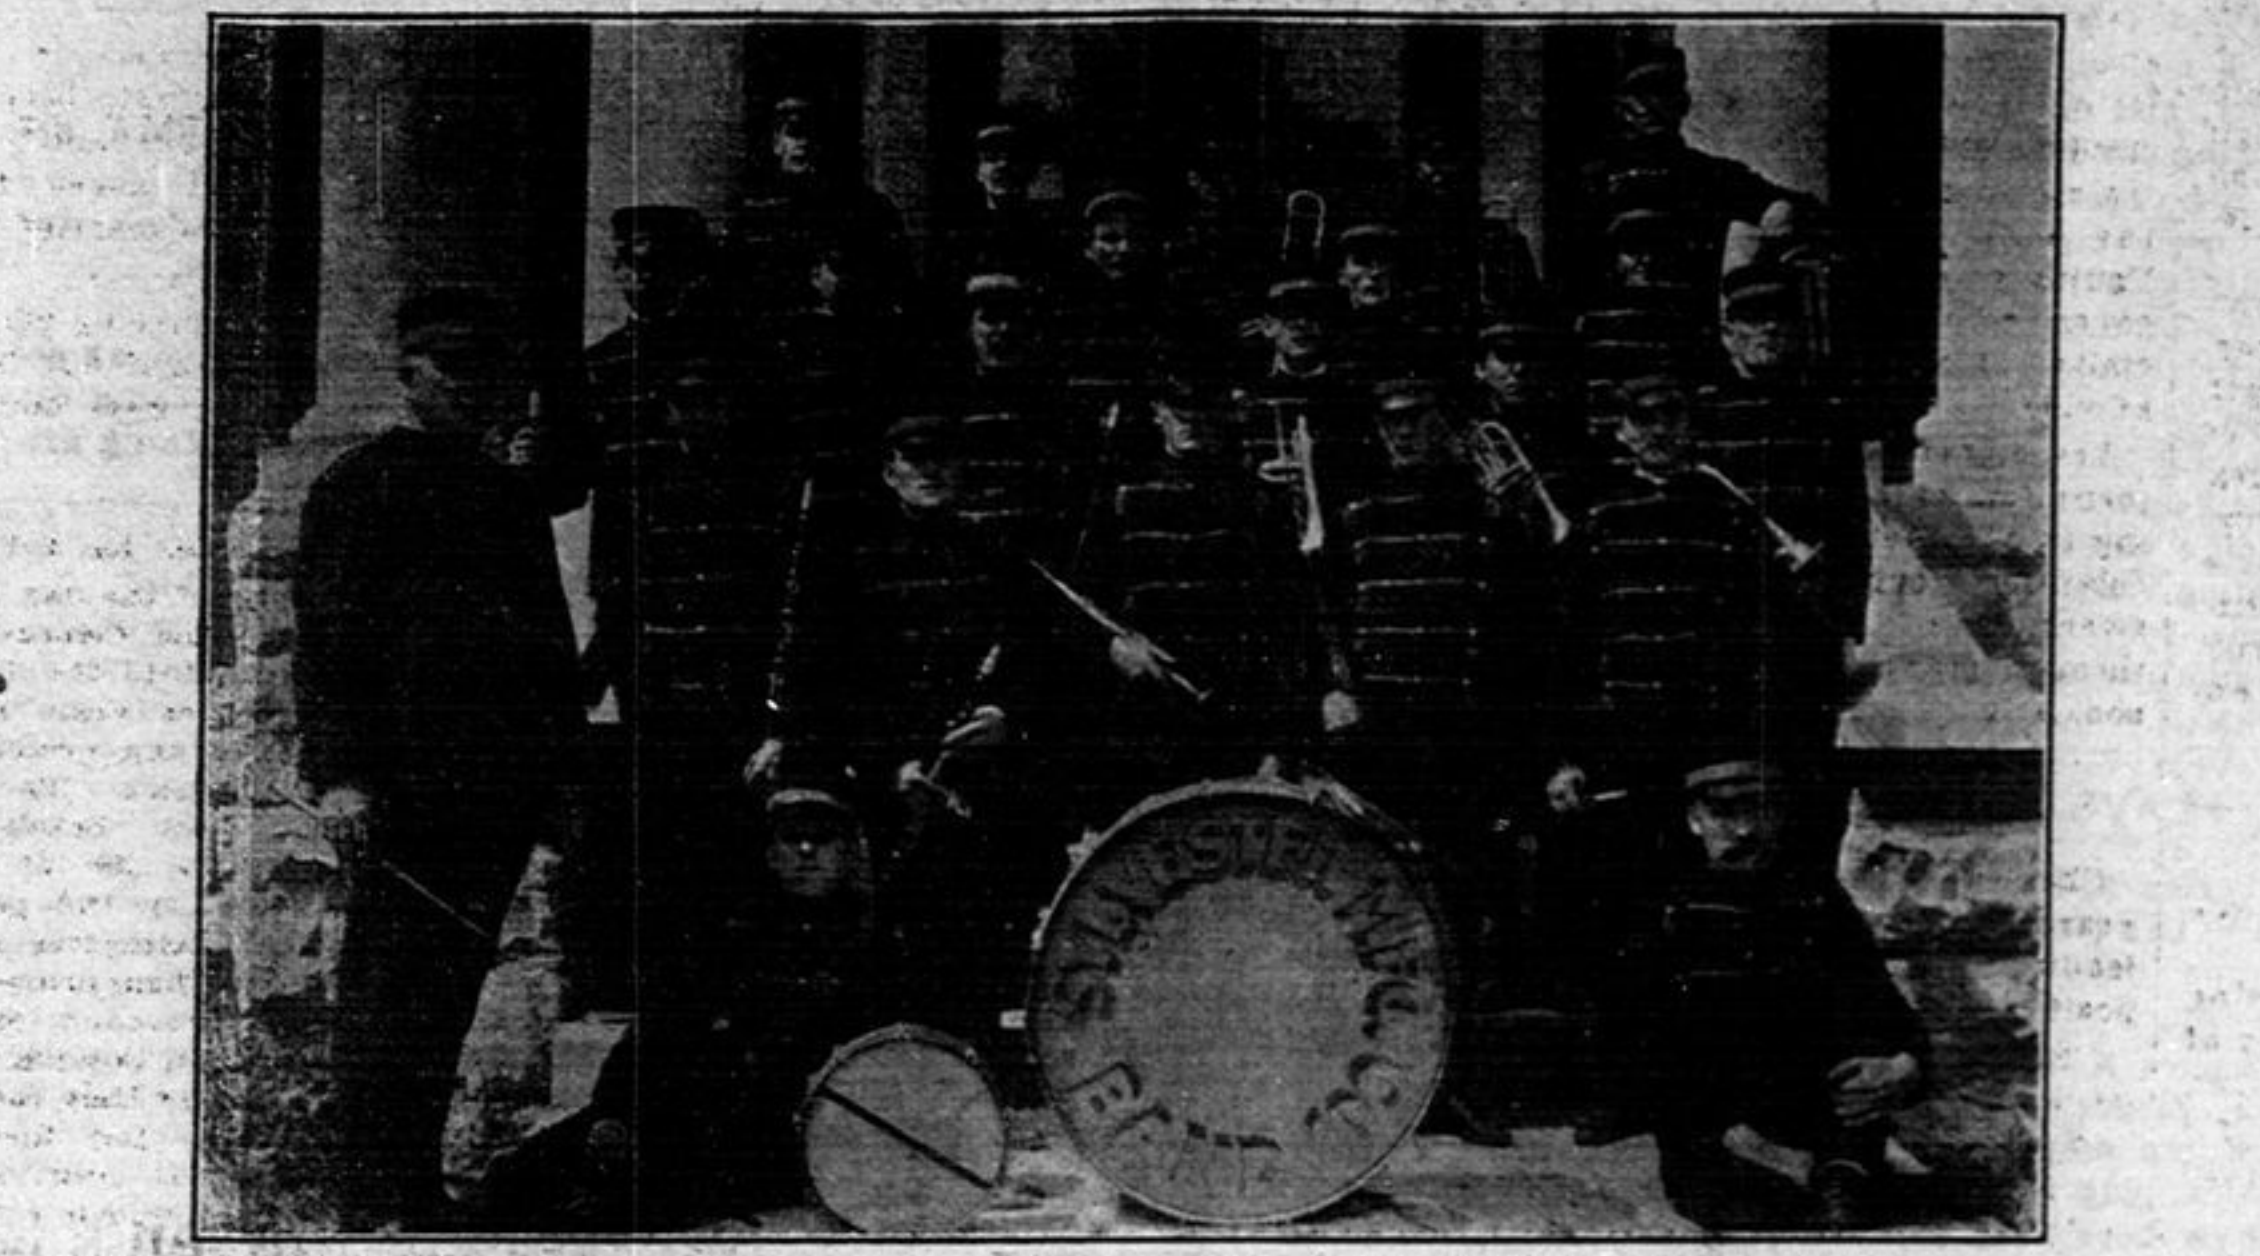

The weekly concerts are growing

W. H. ROENIGK, Conductor Sylvester Band.

The other members, S. Ferguson, Leo Primeau and H. Soddart, could not get away, and were therefore not chosen among the twenty-five players.

The Bracebridge band played "Foot and Peasant" as the selection, and the same set of waltzes as the Sylvester band. The Newmarket band's selection was a medley of Scotch airs. The judges were Mr. Mitchell, leader of the Orillia band, Professor Pierce, B.M., of Midland, and Mr. J. Hughes, all well known musicians. The points of superiority of the Sylvester band were volume of tone, construction, light and shade, phrasing, and the even balance between wind and reeds. It was the best balanced band of the five, and care was taken to have the instruments in tune. The competing bands conceded the superiority of the winners of the first prize, although the Newmarket band protested alleging that some of the Sylvesters were professional players hired for the occasion. Of course there was no ground for such protest and it did not count.

in interest and have a very uplifting influence. The band is available at a nominal cost for public occasions, and we have an organization that can go out and take the leading place among the military bands in camp, and in public gatherings like the inauguration of the town of Campbellford or the annual procession of Orangemen in Lindsay, and, in competition with the aspiring organizations at Orillia, take the first prize. This is what the town needs, and this is what it has, and every citizen should be willing to lend every assistance and encouragement in maintaining this band, and keeping it in the first rank. Success achieved by a Lindsay band, or a Lindsay club, or a Lindsay factory, or establishment, is an advertisement for the town, and all such successes are appreciated.

Then let us give three cheers and a tiger for:
The Sylvester Band,
Mr. R. Sylvester,
Mr. W. H. Roenigk,
The Judges,
The Town Council, and
The Town of Lindsay.

THE COMPETITION.
The competition at Orillia was open to all bands, and the five that competed were first-class organizations. The Newmarket band has been attending competitions for years, and until the last two seasons was under the instruction of Mr. John Slatter, the leader of the celebrated 48th Highlanders' band. Lately this organization has been led by Mr. J. Napier, who was solo clarinet player with the Black Watch band, which was the attraction at the Toronto Exhibition in 1904. This band had made special preparations for the contest and had new instruments, and presented a fine appearance. When it was heard playing on the street as it entered the town many expressed the opinion that it would be the winner. The Newmarket band had chosen the best players out of its thirty-two members. The number of players allowed each band was twenty-five.

However, the Newmarket band only received third prize, for the Bracebridge organization took second and Lindsay first.

The score and prizes were as follows:
1st, Sylvester Band, Lindsay, 92 points out of possible 100, prize $100.
2nd, Bracebridge Band, 90 points, prize $50.
3rd, Newmarket Band, 85 points, prize $25.

Each band was required to play a march, a selection and a set of waltzes. The Sylvester band played the march "High Pride," (H. C. Reed), the fantasia selection "Maritana" (W. V. Wallace), and the "Danube Waltz" (J. Ivanovich). The players in the Lindsay band were: E. flat clarinet, Fred Taylor; B flat clarinet, H. Hawthorne, Chas. Burgess, Geo. Ward, Norman Morton, H. Weeks, James Bruce, A. Welch; cornets, W. Heffernan, J. Metcalf, Norman Bruce; altos, Mark Ingle, Marshall Bell, Ed. Elliott, Jack Norton; trombones, Fred Martin, Geo. Burgess, Geo. Carruth; euphonium, Chas. Davidson; basses, Jos. Schade H. Cuthbert; drums, A. Bates, K. E. Randall; conductor, W. H. Roenigk.

The competition took place late in the day and the Lindsay band played last. Most of the seven thousand people who attended the tournament had gone, fearing they would miss the trains, but the applause from the other competitors and the critics who remained was unstinting.

The Lindsay boys did not get through in time to catch the train, so remained until the morning. A large crowd went to the depot here on Wednesday evening expecting to meet the prize-winners, but being disappointed some of the boys improvised an aggregation of instruments and marched through the streets making noises that perhaps wouldn't make a son strike his father, but they let the town know something had happened.

The band arrived on the early train Thursday and playing a march proceeded up Kent street to the Sylvester foundry, where the members dispersed. Many were out to give them welcome.

The tournament also included a firemen's competition and a big program of athletic sports. Thirteen excursion trains brought the seven thousand visitors to Orillia, and the town was early decorated. The winning fire brigades were: Huntsville, 50 1/2 seconds, Bracebridge 53 2/5 seconds, Gravenhurst 60 seconds, the prizes being $100, $50 and $25 respectively. Everything passed off satisfactorily and the Northern Ontario Firemen's Association, under whose auspices the tournament was held, was highly congratulated.

Mr. Roenigk announces the intention of having a tournament in Lindsay next year on a larger scale than that of Orillia.

RECEPTION TO SYLVESTER BAND LARGE CROWD IN THE PARK

Mayor and Aldermen show their interest in the Efforts of the Band—Speeches by Mayor Vrooman and Mr. Sylvester

A reception was given to the Sylvester band on Monday evening in recognition of the winning of the first prize of $100 at the Orillia tournament. The citizens turned out en masse and signified their approbation of the band's achievement.

A program of music was given by the band which was received with hearty applause.

The mayor and aldermen went over from the council chamber where the council was in session to show their appreciation.

Mayor Vrooman addressing the band and citizens said:

"I am delighted to be here on this occasion, and as mayor and on behalf of the citizens to congratulate the Sylvester band, our band, the Lindsay band, upon the recent victory at Orillia.

"The citizens are also to be congratulated that they have a band of such a character. I am not going to do any blowing, though. I will leave that to the band. We need not boast about this victory. There was no question that the band would come back with the prize. The band that got the second prize is the one that is to be congratulated for doing so well as to come second to Lindsay's band. They were unfortunate in not having a Roenigk to lead them.

"Lindsay is a famous town in many respects. Some towns are larger and have more money, some have larger factories and buildings, but none are better. In the line of sports Lindsay excels. When we send our curriers to the west, they command attention and bring home a trophy, and thus advertise the town. Now another crusade is started and the town is being advertised in the way of music. This is not the only victory our band is going to win. I will make other records for themselves and the town."

Mayor Vrooman went on to speak of municipal affairs and humorously alluded to the members of the "government." One of the first acts they had done when elected to office was to give the band a grant of $300 a year. They did so, feeling that the people were in favor of maintaining the band, as its work is admired and appreciated in all respects. In advertising the town and giving healthful entertainment to the people, the band may be considered an asset of the town. When the people of other places hear our boys play, they will ask "Where is Lindsay?" and will wish to visit the place from which emanates such a fine musical organization."

In conclusion Mayor Vrooman again congratulated the band, saying that he never appreciated the park and the music so much as he has done this summer. His remarks were received with applause, and he called upon Mr. Roenigk, leader of the band to speak.

Mr. Roenigk was greeted with cheers as he came forward and said: "Mr. Mayor and Gentlemen of the Council, Ladies and Gentlemen: I am glad if we have brought a little honor to the town. I was just thinking when the mayor was speaking that he might have said something about seats for the park. (Cheers from people standing.) However, speaking of the prize, I am not the one to be thanked, nor the band, so much as Mr. Sylvester and Mr. Dingle who have done so much to help us. I was hoping they would be here to speak instead of me, as I am better at band business than I am at making a speech. I thank you for your kind appreciation and for the attention you have given to the concert this summer. It has been a pleasure to play." (Applause.)

Mayor Vrooman then called for Mr. Sylvester and Mr. Dingle, who were discovered in the crowd. Mr. Sylvester came to the pavilion and introducing him, Mayor Vrooman said that "the band would not be as it is to-night if it were not for him." (Cheers from the band and people, and the band struck up "For his a jolly good fellow.")

Mr. Sylvester reviewed the history of the band during the 24 years he has been in Lindsay, and said that four years ago he was ashamed for the town that the organization was in such a poor condition in spite of all kinds of efforts which had been put forth to make the band a credit to the town, the instruments at that time being even offered at auction. He then took hold of it and tried to help it along, and give it some financial assistance. Since Mr. Roenigk came he has succeeded from the outset in making the band not only a credit to himself and the members, but an honor to the town. When he undertook to help, it was with the understanding that the men were to conduct themselves as gentlemen, the band was not to play at hotels for drinks nor pass around the hat for money. He had heard that there had been an impression with some persons that the Sylvester company is making money out of the band. But this is not true. It takes $750 yearly at the very least to maintain the band, and it is now some $550 in the hands of the company. Mr. Sylvester believed that the present council has succeeded in getting the departments of the town down to a starvation, subsidy and the band is certainly on starvation subsidy at $300 a year. He is not content to back up the band any more unless the citizens come to the aid. The time has come when the citizens ought to maintain the organization, and he thought the band had in the past been very unfairly treated by the town. One society takes the 24th of May, another society the 1st of July, and another the civic holiday, without allowing opportunity for the band to benefit by the privilege those days offer to gain some revenue, and that is the only opportunity the band has for putting money into its own treasury. If the citizens consider the band a good thing they ought to be willing to put their hands in their pockets and help pay its way. Mr. Sylvester concluded by saying that his company is willing to do its share, but other citizens should do theirs.

The mayor called upon Mr. Dingle, "a friend of music, a musician as well, and a friend of the band," to speak; but Mr. Dingle thought Mr. Sylvester had expressed his views.

The musical program was then proceeded with and the "town government" went back to its deliberations. The large crowd remained until the program was finished, expressing pleasure by frequent applause.
