EVIDENCE IN THE FUR-WOOL CASE

The Interesting Trial Adjourned by County Magistrate Moore until August 23rd.

There was a large attendance at the Police Court on Tuesday morning when the case against Mr. Simon Marshall was opened before County Magistrate Moore. The charge was that on the 20th of June of this year he was in unlawful possession of several beaver skins. The accused was defended by Mr. G. H. Hopkins, and entered a plea of not guilty. The Crown was represented by County Crown Attorney Devlin. Several witnesses were examined, and there was much interest taken in the proceedings. Several lively tilts took place between Mr. Hopkins and Chief Vincent, on account of the assistance offered the Crown Attorney during the trial by the latter. Mr. Hopkins also objected to the magistrate helping in the conduct of the Crown's case.

The first witness was Theodore McIlhargey, who proved a rather unsatisfactory witness for the Crown. The County Magistrate on one or two occasions referred to his unwilling or unsatisfactory answers.

Theodore McIlhargey said he was express agent on the Haliburton train. He received a bale of wool at Kinmount but did not know whom he got it from. It might have been from Belch, the assistant of the station agent. Witness made out a waybill for the parcel but did not get the name of the sender because the bale was delivered just as the train was leaving. The bale was addressed to Horn Bros., Lindsay. The bale weighed about 100 lbs. he thought. It was shipped as "wool." He gave the parcel to the express driver, Stafford Barnett, on reaching Lindsay. As it was not his duty, the witness did not see it loaded on the express wagon. The parcel was left at the express room of the station. No one but Stafford Barnett had authority to take charge there. "I know," said the witness, "that Belch threw the parcel into the car. It was not Marshall." This concluded the evidence and cross-examination of this witness.

J. O'Keefe, baggageman at the Lindsay G. T. R. station was the next witness. He told how Constable Jones had asked him on June 20 to take charge of a bale for him. The bale was lying on the east end of the platform and the witness promised to put it away as soon as the train left. The bale was transferred to the express room when witness found it was express matter. Barnett locked the express room door. There was no hole in the bale then nor was it torn. Later on the witness told Mr. Mitchell to warn Barnett to see that nothing happened to the bale as Mr. Jones was so particular about it. Simon Marshall wanted to know if they were going to examine the bale, but witness said he told Marshall he did not know and asked him to get out as he was busy. Mitchell got the key of the express room from Barnett. The witness said he simply told Mitchell to warn Barnett. "Later I heard some yelling," continued the witness. I opened the back door and saw Marshall running after Mitchell who was in the rig. They left the station together. It was nearly ten o'clock by this time and I left the station at this time for 10 or 15 minutes. When the 11 o'clock train came in, Barnett came over and told me the door of the express room was open. I went over and looked at the bale. I saw it was ripped open. Barnett was with me. There was no damage done to the door. The lock was not broken. The door had not been pried open nor were there marks of violence on it. Jones came back next day for the bale, and I explained what had happened. James Mitchell, carter, sworn, said that he saw the bale (produced in court) at the station when the 8.45 train came in from Kinmount. He said: "Some one said, 'there's a bundle for you, Jim!' The bundle was on the platform. There was no hole in it. I saw Marshall a few minutes after. I think I helped John O'Keefe carry the

LINDSAY WINS AT COLLINGWOOD

BAND GETS FIRST PRIZE—BASEBALL TEAM WINS GAME WITH 7 TO 2 SCORE

Fully 300 of Lindsay's citizens joined the excursion of the Sylvester Band and the Woodmen of the World to Collingwood on Monday of this week. The train from here was made up of nine coaches and additions were received to the number of the passengers at various stations along the line, until when Collingwood was reached there was a passenger list of 525.

Lindsay's Band won the first place in the band tournament with 233 points; Meaford coming next with 179. These were the only two bands entered in the contest, but Lindsay's high rating is creditable to the Sylvester Band just as much as if there had been fifty entries, and the excellent condition to which the band has attained as a musical organization tempts one to think that they would have given as good an account of themselves no matter how many non-professional bands had entered. The Lindsay band in their elegant new uniforms were a credit to the town.

In the baseball match Lindsay won by a score of 7 to 2 against Collingwood.

The day was a very enjoyable one except for the rowdiness of a number of the professed sports of that northern town who proved to be utterly lacking in the decencies of hospitality and a disgrace to clean sport and every-day decorum.

When the Band returned here in the evening they were heartily cheered and also received a reception from an impromptu "band" of the calithumpian order.

DROWNING ACCIDENT

BODY OF UNKNOWN MAN FOUND IN THE WATER NEAR CAMERON.

A man's clothes on the bank of the lake shore near Cameron left apparently as if the man had just gone in for a swim, but without any owner being visible, led to the discovery that an unknown man had been drowned in that vicinity.

The body of the stranger was recovered in about twelve feet of water. The unfortunate man had apparently gone in for a swim and had probably been taken with cramps, and so lost his life. The bent arms and tight twisted fingers pointed to such a conclusion. Further, a farmer in the vicinity saw the stranger Sunday evening and the later had stated that he was then going down to the lake to enjoy a bath and swim.

Dr. Wood, Coroner, was notified and investigated the case, but an inquest was deemed unnecessary under the circumstances. An order was given permitting the burial of the body and interment was made at Eden cemetery on Tuesday.

The deceased was about 25 years old and was an Englishman to judge by his appearance. It is said he was employed recently near Glenora. Nothing to show his identity was found on the stranger or in his clothing, though a locket in which was enclosed a photo of two old people may yet aid in identification. The Coroner has this locket.

LIEUT.-COL. DEACON DEAD

PASSING AWAY OF A CRIMEAN WAR VETERAN—A POPULAR AND PUBLIC-SPIRITED CITIZEN.

On Sunday morning at an early hour there passed away one of the best known citizens of Lindsay in the person of Lieut.-Col. James Deacon.

The late Col. Deacon was a retired officer from the British army in which he held a commission in the First Royal Scots Regiment. He served in the Crimean war with distinction and was at the battles of Balaklava, Sebastopol, Alma and Inkerman. He also saw active service in India and his many medals and decorations were proof of his efficiency as an officer and his courage as a soldier.

In the early sixties he came to Lindsay and about forty years ago became Lieut.-Col. in the 45th Regt, and he did much to bring the battalion to a commendable state of efficiency.

The late Col. Deacon served during the Riel rebellion, and with such efficiency as to earn the expressed appreciation of a grateful government.

Not only was the Colonel a man of distinguished military career, but the qualities of energy, courage and integrity that made his mark in soldierly lines, made him also a useful private citizen and public official. He served the town of Lindsay in many capacities and always with satisfaction to the people and honor to himself. He was in successive terms Reeve and Mayor of the town, and for several years was a useful member of the School Board. Col. Deacon was one of the early earnest workers in the Central Charity committee and his efforts were productive of much good on that Board.

For several years the deceased was police-magistrate for the County of Victoria, which office he held until failing health necessitated his resignation.

Col. Deacon was 84 years of age at the time of death, and he died full of years and honors, having served his country long, faithfully and well as a soldier, as a citizen and as a public official.

For some time past the Colonel had been in very poor health. On Saturday he was able to be up and around a little. Saturday evening he was lighting his pipe when a spark caught on his dressing gown and before help reached him the gown was on fire. He received burns that were painful, but which would not have been serious in his younger, stronger days. The shock, however, told badly on him, and Sunday morning he passed quietly away.

The news of his death was received with the greatest regret and sorrow by all who knew him, and he was widely known. The town flag was flying half-mast for the loss of a good citizen and a kindly man of many high qualities.

The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon to Riverside cemetery, with full military honors. Service was conducted in St. Paul's church, and the local company of the 45th Victoria Regiment, with arms reversed, and preceded by the Regimental Band slowly marched before the old soldier to his last resting place.

The funeral was very largely attended, and the military aspect of the funeral added to its solemnity. The band played the "Dirge Dolore."

BOY LOST

FORBIE KENNY NOT BEEN HOME SINCE TUESDAY OF LAST WEEK.

Forbie Kenny, son of Dr. Kenny, veterinary surgeon, has been missing from his home since the 6th of August. He left home on the morning of the 6th about eight o'clock, saying he was going to play with some boys out near the Ops bridge. He was last seen playing with Mr. Robinson's children in that vicinity.

The missing lad is fair-haired and has bluish-grey eyes. He is 9 years old and tall for his age. He was dressed in a blue blouse, black pants, navy blue peaked cap and was barefooted. His parents are much alarmed at his absence and fears are entertained that something may have befallen him. Any information as to his whereabouts should be sent to the police at Lindsay or to his parents.

Canoists and others going up the Couge should keep their eyes open for any traces that may lead to the recovery of the little fellow.

Wedding at Haileybury

The Haileyburian in its last issue, reports a wedding that will be of interest. The bride is a former resident of Lindsay, and her many friends here will extend best wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Day spent a part of their honeymoon in Lindsay with relatives of the bride. The Haileyburian paper says:

St. Paul's Anglican church was the scene of a popular wedding on Wednesday last, when Miss Lilly Bradshaw, of Haileybury, became the wife of Mr. Herbert A. Day, manager of the Haileyburian. The bride was tastefully attired in a dress of white silk over white taffeta. She wore a tulle veil, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Meta Bradshaw, sister of the bride, looked very dainty, in her costume of pink silk. She also carried a bouquet of the same flowers as the bride. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. A. Cowling. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. R. A. Bradshaw, and the groom was attended by Mr. F. Brocklebank, as best man. The choir of the church attended and sang the musical part of the service very appropriately. The newly-married couple left for Toronto and other points by the 7.45 express. They were the recipients of numerous presents. The weather was ideal and the church was filled with well-wishers of the young couple.
