Professional Ball of a Certain Class

Professionalism runs rampant in Janetville. There is surely a wide field for work on the part of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union in that village and if something is not done in that direction before long the entire township will be under the ban of the C.A.A.U. Janetville is a pretty little village in the township of Manvers, Durham county, and is about eight miles from Lindsay. The village has periodical spurts of baseball enthusiasm and very recently the fans gave vent to their feelings by putting on a baseball tournament. Now, under ordinary circumstances, the member of Parliament for the riding, or the prospective candidate, would have put up a suitable trophy to be awarded to the winning team—not so at Janetville, however; the young men of that village and the villages in that locality believe in playing ball for something more substantial than a silver trophy that would merely adorn the sideboard of the dining room of the captain or manager of the winning team. The prizes awarded at Janetville baseball tournament on Saturday consisted of cold, hard cash. In the report of the affair as published in a Lindsay paper, we are told that the tournament attracted the youth and beauty of Manvers township, but although six teams were entered, only three turned up, including Lifford, Yelverton and Janetville. The participating nines played "ringers" and apparently every old thing counted. We are further told that during the afternoon the ladies of the community furnished an excellent tea on the grounds, and that the good things provided disappeared as if by magic before the voracious appetites of some of the visitors had been satisfied.

Although the young men of Janetville treat with contempt the teachings and principles of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union, they have more genuine pleasure, work up more interest, and draw a bigger crowd than they would ever be able to do if they were to attempt to play the part of a side show to the C.A.A.U. We venture to say that every person enjoyed himself at Janetville on Saturday and the affair was run open and above board. They play a certain kind of professional ball there, and they don't care who knows it. The C.A.A.U. can't put them out of business, or in any way injure their annual tournament, but it might suspend every player who took part in the games, but the Janetville boys wouldn't care if they were possibly being run out of business.—Peterboro Examiner.

Newly-Wedded Couple At 'Caygeon Given a Reception

Bobcaygeon, August 5.—The work at Little Bob Bridge is progressing rapidly. The fourth and last pier will be in place this week, and will no doubt be ready for the steel in a couple of weeks time. There will be quite a bit of work yet filling in between the centre piers, and from the outside ones to the mainland, but this is being attended to with as much speed as possible under the circumstances by the foreman, Mr. T. Kelly.

Mr. Herbert Nicholls, of North Verulam, passed through town Tuesday afternoon with a new traction engine. We understand he has purchased a new separator of modern style.

The Union Sunday school excursion from Fenelon Falls to Chemong and the Woodmen's excursion from Lindsay to Peterboro passed through on Thursday.

The judging of field crops was done this year by Wm. Rogers, of Frontenac County. Mr. Rogers, who was at one time a member of the House of Commons as a Patron, is a farmer of some 300 acres a few miles east of Kingston. He is very well pleased with this district, and is reported to have stated that he will buy seed from here for his own use. That those taking part in the competition are trying to secure the best type of grain was quite apparent to the judge, and that they are trying at the same time to free themselves from weeds is evidenced by the fact that 18 out of 20 secured certificates. May the good work go on.

This has been a rainy week, and a stormy week—plenty of both—but so far as we are aware no damage done. The electrical storm on Thursday morning was a hummer.

When a person hears tin horns tooting and bells jingling about the time of retiring, there is reason to believe that something is afoot, especially when to go outside at that particular time would mean a good drenching. This, however, did not deter those interested in giving Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams—who had just arrived on their honeymoon from Toronto, where they had been married on the day previous—(Tuesday) a rousing reception. Mr. McWilliams we understand, is a thrifty real estate agent of Pittsburg, and Mrs. McWilliams was formerly Miss Florence Davidson, daughter of Mr. Jos. Davidson, of South Verulam.

Mr. Siebold, who is summering at Mrs. Kennedy's, and is an intimate friend of the groom, engineered the fun to the enjoyment of all concerned.

A bus load drove out to the Baptist garden party at the Scotch Line Wednesday evening and spent a pleasant time.

The Ladies' Guild of Christ church announce a garden party on Thursday evening, the 18th inst.

The school board at a recent meeting have undertaken a complete re-organization of the work. It appears that the entrance room has become somewhat clogged, more pupils passing in than are going out, and more work than one teacher can successfully manage. As a result of a conference with the inspector, who is interested in the welfare of the school, the entrance work will be moved up to room A, hitherto taken up by high school work only. The entrance room formerly will now take up the 3rd class, and the preparatory entrance class. Room 2 will be for the second class only, while rooms 1 and 2 will be for junior work. This should relieve the tension, and we trust will prove satisfactory.

BACK FROM MONTREAL. Conductor Thomas Ringland returned from Montreal on Saturday evening, where final arrangements were made between the men and the Grand Trunk. Mr. Ringland and the local employes are apparently satisfied with the settlement.

The brakemen have received an increase of from seven to thirteen per cent., while the conductors in many cases have received large increases, some of the Lindsay runs being increased as high as $40 per month.

Charge Against Mr. Chew Laid Before Indian Agent

Orillia, Ont., Aug. 8.—Manley Chew, M.P. for East Simcoe, was summoned to appear before Police Magistrate Clark here this afternoon on ten charges of supplying liquor to Indians on Christian and Beausoleil Islands. When the case was called Mr. Chew failed to appear, but his counsel, Mr. Fred Grant, of Midland, entered several objections to the jurisdiction of the court. He claimed that Beausoleil and Christian Islands were not in the county of Simcoe, that the cases should be tried by an Indian agent, and that as a matter of fact his client had already appeared and pleaded before Indian Agent Todd, of Christian Island.

It then transpired that after receiving the summons to appear before Police Magistrate Clark, on the strength of informations laid by Detective Markle, arrangements had been made to have the cases tried before the Indian agent for the islands, who was recently appointed on Mr. Chew's nomination in succession to Mr. Charles McGibbon, of Penetang, who first reported the alleged breach of the law to the Indian department.

The informations before Mr. Todd were laid on the 5th and the cases called on the 6th and adjourned till to-morrow.

Police Magistrate Clark declined to recognize the validity of proceedings taken after his summons had been issued.

The question of territorial jurisdiction proved more troublesome. A map was produced which showed Indian Island to be in Simcoe. Christian Island was arranged to give an opportunity for having the point cleared up. If it should be found that Beausoleil Island is in Muskoka seven of the cases, and these the ones in which the evidence is said to be strongest, will fall through so far as this court is concerned.

Meantime Mr. Chew is in the position of being summoned to appear both in Orillia and Christian Island at the same hour to-morrow to answer to the same charges. His lawyer promised to advise him to appear in Orillia. About a score of Indian witnesses from Christian and Beausoleil Islands are also waiting here till the question of territorial jurisdiction is settled.
