Ancient Chainless Prayer

"Lord Jesus I employ Thee keep all humanity, keep evil by Thy most precious blood, and take me to dwell in eternity." One of these ancient chainless prayer letters is being forwarded yesterday by a well-known Lindsay citizen, who has no intention of forwarding it. The letter then reads as follows: "This is an exact ancient prayer. Copy it and see what happens. It is for one who will not copy this prayer will meet with sorrow, but if the prayer is re-written, the sender will on forward to nine different persons, the sender will on bear of some great joy and will be delivered from all tity. Do not break the chain and make a wish while prayer."

CAUSE OF CLIMATIC CHANGES

By E. R. POWELL, Lindsay. A talk with E. R. Powell on the cause of warm and cold winters, seismic disturbances and the cause of the present cold spring since the 10th of April. Last year it froze up on the 10th of April and remained so for a long time. This year it turned very cold on the 10th of April and remained so for over a month. Now what is the cause? The autumnal equinox occurs at the south pole at this time, no doubt causing a vacuum at certain points when the north polar cold rushes in. I am of the opinion that conditions in the southern hemisphere should be considered as well as those of the north in order to prognosticate whether we will have warm or cold winters or summer and wireless telegraphy may yet accomplish this feat. I claimed the north pole was severely criticized until I had a chance to explain. We are aware that the statistical centre of the earth is 15 degrees north of the equator. Now if you take an orange and pass a needle 15 degrees from its centre and another at right angles through its centre to represent the poles. Then pass it around orbit, and you will find that its element pass around with great violence, collecting and discharging its waters, which appears to be about the time of the vernal equinox. In the winter of 1903-4 the south polar water rushed up the Atlantic with great force driving the hot equatorial water and mist which was rising by the cold air from the north pole. It never got any colder than 10 degrees below zero, but remained at that night and day all winter with a fall of snow 4 feet deep. This winter the storms have rushed across Europe west of the Ural mountains driving the hot air and water from the Indian ocean by way of the Kiroo or Japanese current and reaching the west coast of America, thus giving us a warm winter in America. Over 30 years ago I learned there had been a tropical calm in the Indian Ocean, which is very warm. And I predicted a warm winter. It came and there were many warm winters after that. I am of the opinion that when the G.T.P. is built to Prince Rupert forests will be removed along the line causing a draft that will greatly modify the climate in the Northwest. Now here is a piece of information that should be remembered. H. G. Vennor years ago predicted a great snow storm in October, and had it published in the papers weeks before it happened. This made a weather prophet of him. He got up an almanac and made five thousand dollars by it. At this time he could get no information from the Northwest as we can now, when a storm is forming there. How did he do it? Now if you observe small cirrus clouds moving slowly from the southeast in October or November, they may not cross the horizon all day, and it may be days and even weeks before the storm will occur. It is always a great storm that draws the clouds a great distance. Although Vennor kept his secret I happen to know how he did it. By timing these clouds as they pass you will learn the exact time the storm will occur. This information will be valuable to farmers. When Vennor's storm came, vegetables were frozen, and live stock greatly injured. The thermometer dropped far below zero. Now we will consider the movement of the south polar waters. At the time of the earthquake in Italy the south polar water was welling up against the west coast of Africa and Europe. It is a well known fact that water will rise in wells and springs far inland when a tide is rising and it is impossible to conceive the wonderful force exerted. Water rushes into the fires one explosion after another occurs. Perhaps unnoticed until a volume enters when a general upheaval occurs. There may be other causes such as the explosion of gases in cavities, but this gives the facts as far as it is possible to know them, although many theories have been advanced. In the winter of 1907-8 the south polar water was welling up against South Africa and South Australia. Floods were experienced in India, but it did not appear to effect the Japanese current to any extent. My object in telling you this is to demonstrate the wonderful power of the south pole as it travels farther in passing through the earth's orbit.

Brought to Lindsay Ross Hospital

Bury's Green, Aug. 16.—Mr. Geo. Armstrong is busy with his threshing outfit and has again attached the wild-cat whistle which can be heard for miles. Mr. Connell re-shingled his barns last week. They had been covered with Ready roofing only a few years ago but did not give satisfaction. The lightning agents are pestering the farmers at present and we notice a few only have erected rods on their buildings. It is reported that Mr. Albert Pogue has purchased a valuable farm near Lindsay and will move there on next season. The trustees of S. S. No. 7 Verulam have secured the services of Miss Munro, of Bruce County, as teacher for the remainder of the year. She having commenced duties on Monday last. Miss Jean Parker, of Dunsford, has resumed her duties at S. S. No. 10 Sommerville again. Mr. Wm. Hoskins left on Friday for the Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, where he will undergo medical treatment we hope to see him soon home again. Mrs. Wm. J. Flett and son and Mrs. J. Flett Jr. are at present visiting their aunt Mrs. Alex. Riley of Wilberforce. CAMPERS AT ROSEDALE. Rosedale, Aug. 10.—On Tuesday night the jolly bunch of campers from Lindsay were awakened from their slumbers by the rain steadily pouring in through their tent, wetting all their valuables as well as themselves. They were in quite a dilemma as the downpour was steadily increasing, so it was decided to beat it as fast as they could. It was too dark to go very far so it was proposed to climb into a hollow tree near by where they remained until the storm had abated. This morning the Gold Dust twins, named "Larry" Blackwell and "Pinky" Searle, were up to their ears in work as everything in the tent had to be spread out and dried in the sun. It took some time to accomplish this and "Larry" complained of pains in his back and neck. The two apothecaries were on the job and administered some of Dr. Rickett's pain-killer and the famous knight of the broomstick was soon feeling all right again. The boys visited Coboconk yesterday and had a nice time with the fair sex of that burg. "Duke" McLean says there is lots of fun in fishing even if the fish do crawl out on the stones when they see him coming. Rod Porter sleeps and eats well and if his weight keeps on increasing as at present, they will have to take him back to town in Mr. Abe Sackett's ice wagon. Harvey Martin takes well with all the young ladies on account of his classy hair-cut and prettily grey sweater coat trimmed with red. Harvey is also the possessor of a fine bass voice and it delights everybody in camp to hear him sing. While out walking the other night Mr. Bert Searle discovered a large turtle lying about a rod ahead of him. He soon rang in the alarm to the rest of his mess mates, but by the time they had got to the spot Mr. Turtle had disappeared, and after searching in vain the boys were forced to give up the hope of having turtle soup for dinner. Mr. Lawrence Blackwell likes to take a stroll over toward the road running opposite the camp. It looks as if there is some attraction over there for him and the rest of the boys mean to investigate. Any stranger who happens to pass the camp is almost forced to believe that a small circus has come to Rosedale on account of the peculiar signs that adorn the tent. 11 CENTS FOR CHEESE. Peterboro, Aug. 18.—Eleven cents was the highest price paid for cheese at the meeting of the Peterboro Cheese Board yesterday morning, at which 3,378 boxes were boarded. The high price came from Mr. Squires. The rest of the board sold at 10c and 10 1/2-15 cents. At 11c. Mr. Squires took Oakdale, Daisy D. Norwood and Killarney. Mr. Brenton, at 10 1/2-16 bought Central Smith, Selwyn and Lang. Mr. Cook at the same price took Shearer, Warsaw, Myrtle and East Emily. Mr. Brenton at 10c. bought Lakefield, Pine Grove, King Edward, Young's Point, North Dummer and Fleetwood. Mr. Cook at 10c. bought Villiers, Westwood, Maple Leaf and Ormonde. Mr. Gillespie at the same price secured Keene, Warminster, Fraserville, Indian River, Trevena, Bensford, Cerdardale and Cavanville. Harry Beekingham of Ottawa, a veteran of the Crimea, claims to have been nursed by Florence Nightingale. CASTORIA For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of

Sergt. Major Martin Knew Late Florence Nightingale

Major Martin through the fortune of war did not come under her immediate care while she was nursing the wounded and the sick, but during the year 1854 when he saw comrades fall down before the onslaught of the enemy and saw them being cared for by the late Miss Nightingale and her heroic staff of nurses, he along with the vast number of soldiers in the war praised her good and noble work. A representative of The Watchman found Major Martin comfortable in his little "den" at his residence on Russell-st. It would not take a mind-reader of any great renown to read that Major Martin was a soldier in his day. If an entire stranger to Major Martin came to town and had the opportunity of taking a peep into his "den" the stranger would without a doubt come to the conclusion that he had seen service, for the walls of the small room are decorated with pictures of the wars of long ago, scenes telling of battles won and recalling memories dear to the heart of the major. Besides there are also to be seen excellent likenesses of great generals, past and present, the present including a large photo of our own little Bob. In a little bookcase in the secretary standing in one corner are several large and nicely-bound volumes, and the stories therein have chiefly to do with famous battles and renowned soldiers. But to get back to the subject matter of this article—although to digress gives one an idea of the character of Major Martin—when he uttered the words quoted above in regard to the late Florence Nightingale, they came from the very bottom of the heart. "When Miss Nightingale landed in Crimea," said the major, "she first came to Balaklava in 1854 and I saw her on several occasions. She was a very pleasant woman and I should judge a lady between thirty and thirty-five years of age, and there was no haughtiness or pride about her. She was a lady in every sense of the word. After the soldiers had witnessed her skill and her tender kindness, many of them being nursed back to life, she received the praises of them all, and also of the vast populace at home. She was a lady as was demonstrated by the fact that when the sum of $350,000 was subscribed and given to her, she requested that the entire sum be spent in erecting a Florence Nightingale home." Major Martin, with many other Crimean veterans all over the land, feels the loss of a good dear friend—the friend of thousands. The new hospital at Oshawa was formally opened.

Her Baby Nearly Died. WAS TAKEN SICK WITH Dysentery.

Mrs. Chas. Farrell, Oakland, Man., writes:—"My dear baby was taken sick last fall, and we got the doctor and he said she had dysentery. She nearly died with it, but two or three doses of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry completely cured her. "My two little boys got a bad case of diarrhoea and two doses made a wonderful change and they were completely cured also. I would not be without such a grand medicine as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry if it were twice the price, as I consider it a wonderful medicine, and I cannot recommend it too highly." Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for over sixty-five years, so you are not experimenting when you use this old and tried remedy. Do not accept any of the many substitutes for this sterling medicine, but ask for Dr. Fowler's and insist on getting what you ask for. Price 35 cents. Manufactured only by The T.
