IN CHICKEN COOP.
London, Ont., July 24.—Shortly after seven o'clock this morning Edward Davies, aged 48, hanged himself in a disused chicken coop at the rear of the residence of Mr. William Roberts, 332 Egerton-st. The suicide had arrived with his wife from Wales only on Monday evening, and was boarding with Mr. Roberts, his cousin. The latter had procured a position for Davies at the Grand Trunk car shops, but the man seemed to be discouraged at starting life anew. He left the house early this morning and had most deliberately hanged himself. His body was still warm when found by his wife and Mrs. Roberts.

COLT HAD EIGHT FEET.
St. Thomas, Ont., July 25.—Richard Moore, an Oxford Township farmer, possesses a freak colt which is now two months old. The young animal has the unusual number of seven feet, and an eighth foot, which was only connected with a small ligament, fell off a few days after its birth. The extra feet are attached to each leg immediately behind the regular feet and growing out from the fetlock. The supplementary feet are slightly smaller than the others. The colt is a handsome young specimen and the owner has already refused $1,000 for his curiosity.

COMPLETED IN THREE YEARS.
The plans and specifications for the canal through to Georgian Bay, are understood to be about completed. The contracts will be let this autumn. This means that the Trent Valley canal will be open from end to end, inside of three years. The work at the upper end of the canal are not so difficult as at the lower end, which are about completed. The canal will, in all probability, be an eight foot canal, as it is understood that the minister is desirous of making this great waterway worth the money it has cost the people.

CASE OF GLUTTONY.
Woodville Advocate's reference to the unusual mortality among the fish of Lake Simcoe, referred to in a recent issue of this journal has led to many efforts being made to ascertain the cause. A curious feature of the case seemed to be that fish appeared to be perfectly healthy, and it now appears they were the victims of an inordinate appetite for the juicy June fly which usually appear early in June but which owing to the backward spring did not develop until the end of the month, when they appeared in great numbers. On opening the fish it was found that invariably they were glutted with these insects in some cases the mouth being so filled as to obstruct the operation of the gills.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.
Lesson V.—Third Quarter, For Aug. 4, 1912.
THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xiii, 44-53. Memory Verses, 45, 46—Golden Text, Matt. vi, 33—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

It was after He sent the multitudes away and went into the house that He explained to the disciples the parables and spake these others of today's lesson. It has been said that a parable is like a nut that has to be broken to get the meat—it keeps the good through the indolent and for the diligent. It is also true that there are outside truths for the world that they may receive if they will and enter in, and there are truths only for those who are within. The parables of the hidden treasure and the pearl give us wholly another view of what is going on in this present age and of its consummation in spite of all the work of the adversary. Remembering what we said in a previous lesson concerning the explanation of a word or phrase holding good through the whole of Scripture, we now note the field of verse 44 and the explanation in verse 45, "The field is the world." The word "treasure" takes us back to Ex. xii, 5, Israel His peculiar treasure. See also Ps. cxxxv, 4; Mal. iii, 17, margin. Thus the law, the prophets and the Psalms enlighten us concerning the treasure. Since Israel's rejection of Christ and her consequent scattering among all nations she has been a treasure to no one but Himself, but to Him who is the apple of His eye, and still sun, moon and stars cease to shine she shall not cease to be a nation before Him (Zech. ii, 8; Jer. xxxi, 35-37). Who can this be who gives up all that He has in order to buy the field? No one can buy the field but He who has the right to redeem it, the true Boaz, the mighty man of wealth, who as evidence that He had purchased or redeemed the field wore the crown of thorns. The story of the pearl is virtually the same except that the pearl is the church, as the treasure is Israel. Pearls come from the sea, and in Rev. xii, 15, it is written, "The waters which thou sawest are peoples and multitudes and nations and tongues." In Eph. v, 27, the completed church is spoken of as a glorious church, not having spot or wrinkle or any such thing, but holy and without blemish. In these words one cannot help seeing a perfect pearl without spot or blemish or wrinkle. In this case, as in that of the treasure, the man gave up all that he had to purchase it. Salvation, or eternal life, or the Son of God, in whom we have redemption, is not obtained in that way, but as the free gift of God (Rom. iii, 24; v, 1). Neither money nor good works can obtain eternal life. The cost of our redemption fell wholly upon Jesus Christ, and by His perfect life and death in our stead and resurrection from the dead He has provided eternal redemption for all who will receive Him. We are saved, however, at so great a price in order to become His disciples, and the cost of being a disciple falls wholly upon the believer, for it is written "Whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath he cannot be my disciple" (Luke ix, 33). Returning to the treasure and the pearl which He obtains by giving up all that He had, "for ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ that, though He was rich, yet for your sakes He became poor that ye through His poverty might be rich" (II Cor. viii, 9), it is certainly true that whatever of value or preciousness there will be in Israel or the church it will be because of union with Him in whom alone is any preciousness. Another phase of truth should be considered in connection with Israel and the church, and that is that Abraham was promised a seed as the stars of heaven and as the dust of the earth or the sand of the sea, a heavenly and an earthly seed. Here also we see that church, the heavenly, and Israel, the earthly, seed. When these have been fully gathered we shall have the kingdom ruled over by a righteous king and with Him the church, His body, and Israel, His earthly people, all righteous.

The seventh parable, the net gathering of every kind, may refer to this whole age or specially to the end of the age, but the great truth seems to be the separation of good and bad. The Lord Jesus did not believe in all who said that they believed on Him (John iii, 19-20), and we cannot tell always who are true and who are not, but the day will declare it. It is ours to gather all we can. How fearful are the furnace of fire, the walling and gnashing of teeth (verses 42, 43, 50; xlii, 13; xxiv, 51; xxv, 41), and if the language is figurative what must the reality be? It is most plainly taught in Scripture that for the righteous there is an eternity of bliss and for the wicked who reject Christ and die in their sins an eternity of woe. How important His question, "Have ye understood all these things?" (51). They were very ready with their "Yea, Lord," but it was not long before He had to say, "Are ye also yet without understanding? Do not ye yet understand?" (xv, 16, 17). It is through faith we understand (Heb. xi, 8), and the one thing required of us and that we can do is to have faith in God. Some consider verse 52 as an eighth parable. If we are wells of living water we will ever give forth for the benefit of others the words of life, the old truths unfolded in the New Testament and the New Testament truths opening up the old.

FOR USE OF FARMERS.
Brownsville, Ont., July 27.—Nearly 2,000 Oxford and Elgin county residents heard Hon. Adam Beck, announce last night that the Hydro-Electric engineers are now at work on a motor which will be for the special use of the farmers. This motor when perfected will be taken along the power lines and its use demonstrated.

Jas. Y. Powell
Recalls Days Of the Pioneers

Lindsay was visited to-day by an illustrious personage, except James Yarwood Powell, who for a number of years resided with his parents in the township of Verulam, but who of late has been living in West Guilford.

Mr. Powell, who comes of good old blue blood ancestors, can trace his genealogy back into ancient history. His father, who was one of the widely-known millwrights of the country, having erected many barns and other large structures throughout old and New Ontario, was a Quaker in religion. "Jas. Y." as he is familiarly called, is a brother of Elias Powell, of Lindsay, and was born on July 12, 80 years ago. However, being a Quaker, he could not join the ranks of the worthy loyal Orangemen, because the Quakers would have nothing to do with anything or any society that pertained to war. The Orangemen carried swords, so therefore James Y. could not become a walker.

Although past the age of three score and ten, Mr. Powell can recall vividly the happenings of the years gone by. He well remembers how his father and the neighbors used to fight the bears and the wolves when protecting their stock; also the hard work accomplished by the pioneers of Verulam and the surrounding country in hewing out their homes in the forest, building roads and establishing communication with each other. The Indians were also plentiful in those days and some of them were not any too much imbued with the proper ideas of civilization.

Mr. Powell remembers the arrival of the first steamship on the waters of Sturgeon Lake and adjacent waters, and how the blast of the first steamboat whistle frightened the inhabitants of the land. He also recalls the time when Parson Fidler was drowned, the demise of their beloved pastor causing deep sorrow among the humble little flock.

The subject of this brief interview also can remember the time when the late auditor-general of Canada, John Langton, resided at Blythe, about the place where Mr. John Graham now resides. Mr. Powell is himself a unique and interesting character, and as he passed down the street this morning attracted no little attention. He wore an overcoat and was crowned with two hats, and as he put it "one is for winter and the other is for summer," and true enough one was felt and the other straw.

BANK IS ROBBED.
Vancouver, B.C., July 25.—Two masked robbers, one a short and the other a tall man, held up the Northern Crown Bank at Central Park, six miles out of Vancouver, at one o'clock this afternoon. They had been loitering in the vicinity for half an hour, having come there with a horse and rig.

They covered Manager C. C. Temple with a gun, and also held up his assistant, Tompkins, both of whom were having lunch. They attempted to force Temple to open the safe, but he refused, and one struck him over the head with a piece of lead pipe. They put Tompkins out of business in the same manner and then broke open a cash-box and stole $2,000. They got away in their rig. When Temple recovered consciousness he telephoned for help, but the robbers have not been captured.

OBITUARY.
WILLIAM HULL.
Lochin citizens were greatly surprised when it was learned that the death of Mr. Wm. Hull had taken place early Tuesday morning. Mr. Hull was in his 66th year and unmarried, living most of the time alone on his own place. He was working on Thursday last, says the Minden Echo, but felt poorly in the evening and went to the home of Mr. Chas. Hicks, where he remained but did not take to his bed more than to lie down occasionally. On Monday he walked down to his own residence and return, but became quite ill early in the night, passing away at 2 o'clock next morning. During his illness he made disposition of his property to his sisters, equally, of whom three are still living, viz., Mrs. Wm. Elstone, of Dysart; Mrs. Wm. White in Man.; Mrs. Greer, somewhere in the West but whose address could not be obtained.

Farm Laborers do Better In Ontario Than the West

The impression that has generally existed that the immigration season from Great Britain to Canada, and especially in Ontario closes with the end of spring is effectually put down with the figures for this season. Not only is the immigration season far from over for this year but so far this month 3414 British immigrants have been distributed among the farmers of Ontario. This is practically double the number for the same period of any previous year, and the tide of immigrants is still pouring in, on some occasions during the month nearly four hundred coming in on one day.

Discussing the situation the Dominion Immigration Agent for Ontario, George L. Stewart, said the main difficulty they had now to contend with was the migration of immigrants to the West after they had spent a few months in Ontario. This was to be deplored, as it was proving not only a hardship for the Ontario farmer; but to the British settlers themselves. With the exception of the western harvest season, the farm laborer averaged far better in Ontario than in the West. Not only did he receive practically as high a wage, but expenses being lower in Ontario he was able to save more.

Another important factor to be remembered by the Ontario farmer abroad, considering leaving Ontario for the west, was that the grain crop of the west only employed the labor
