EDEN-MARIPOSA

I was down to Lindsay the other day and the horse track is in the finest condition any track can be, and we must all go and see the speeding at the fair.

The residence of Mrs. D. Ferguson was the scene of a very pretty and happy event on Wednesday evening, Sept. 6th, it being the marriage of her daughter Mary to Mr. Henry Fowler also of this place. The bride was handsomely attired in a dress of cream satin trimmed with lace and wore a gold bracelet which had been presented to her by her betrothed. The bridesmaid was Miss Ada Fowler, sister of the groom, who looked charming in a beautiful costume of pale blue with white silk trimming. Mr. Kenneth Ferguson officiated as groomsmen in his usual pleasing and manly style. At 2.15 o'clock Mrs. W. Fowler played the wedding march, and all gathered round the verandah in front of the residence, where in the presence of about one hundred invited guests Rev. Mr. Duncan of Woodville performed the marriage service which made them one for life. After partaking of a very sumptuous dinner all started for Mariposa station where the newly married couple took the westbound train for Toronto, where they spent their honeymoon. Rice flew hard and fast before the departure for the train, and vast quantities of the same were carried to the depot where local rice showers were also expected according to probabilities. But the groom being sharp on the alert hurried his bride into the rear coach as the train pulled in and left his would-be comforters to take the rice home again. When the train had departed the guests all returned to Mrs. Ferguson's where a most enjoyable evening was spent in social entertainment. The presents were both numerous and costly, showing the high esteem in which the winsome bride was held by her large circle of friends. Subjoined is a list of the presents: Mr. and Mrs. Duncan, bible; Miss K. and Mr. D. Brown, silver butter dish; Mrs. D. Tolmie, cheese dish; Mrs. J. Murchison, lemonade set; Miss M. and Mr. F. Wickett, silver pickle cruet; Mr. H. Macleaven, cheese dish; Mr. W. Argue, silver sugar bowl; Mr. and Mrs. W. Forest, fruit dish; Miss Mary Ferguson, porridge set; Miss J. and Mr. E. McCorvie, glass fruit set; Miss G. and R. and Mr. D. McNabb, china tea set; Mr. Angus and Douglas Spence, cheese dish and china cups; Mr. Dan Campbell, silver pickle cruet; Mr. J. Campbell, glass fruit dish; Mr. Alex. McFadyen, cheese dish; Miss Lillie and Mr. J. McKay, picture; Mr. Peter Ferguson, pepper and salt cruet; Mr. John McKay, carving knife and fork; Miss Katie McKay, half dozen silver spoons; Miss T. and Mr. J. Jewell, bed spread; Miss Flo McPherson, silver butter knife; Mr. Dan Ferguson, music rack; Mr. and Mrs. Alex McKay, table cover; Mr. and Mrs. R. Jordan, table cover; Miss T. McLean, $2; Mr. Neil Murchison, $2; Miss R. and E. Fowler, painting; Miss B. and Mr. Alex. News of the Week

Mr. Frederick Wahl, aged 20 years, a Wyckoliffe College student, was drowned in Grass Lake, North Orillia, on Sunday evening, 3rd inst. Mr. Wahl was spending a few days of his vacation with Mr. Gardiner, and in company with a boy had been in a row boat gathering water lilies. They had returned and were near the shore, and Mr. Wahl was pushing the boat, touching bottom with the oar, when he struck a bog, the oar gave way, and he fell into the water. The boy tried to assist him by shoving the boat to him, but there was quite a gale blowing at the time, and as he could not swim was drowned before help arrived.

Postmaster-General the Duke of Norfolk has shown a profit of nearly $18,000,000 on the working of the British post-office for the year ending last March. The number of postal packages of every kind delivered during the year was 3,495,000,000. London received 28 per cent. of the total of letters posted. The thrift of the working classes is shown in the increase of Post-office Savings Bank deposits, which now stand at $615,000,000. There was an increase of 5 per cent. in telegrams. The staff of the post-office was increased by 10,000 during the year, and now stands at 160,000, of whom 32,000 are women.

Interesting experiments with a new armour plate for warships have just been concluded at Shoeburyness, England, at the mouth of the Thames. The outer plate, six inches thick, is made of the best steel, the backing consists of a special composition, the nature of which is being kept a secret. New plates were fired at with a 350 pound projectile at a distance of 200 yards. When black powder was used the armour plate was, after several shots, found to be practically uninjured. The shot was in some instances reduced to powder by the force of the impact. With cordite it was found that the outer plate could be penetrated three inches, and under certain circumstances the shot went right through, but the severest tests failed to crack the plate. In naval warfare, a hole made by a shot below the waterline can always be plugged up, but cracked and split armour plates necessitate dry-docking and new plates. When two shots were fired simultaneously, hitting the plate two feet apart, there was still no sign of fracture.

Charles Broadbent, a Canadian Pacific Railway fireman, left Toronto on his train at 6 o'clock Saturday night for the east. Three hours later he was a corpse in the little village of Myrtle, having been killed almost instantly. He was on the run from Toronto Junction with a passenger train. As the train was passing through the station at Myrtle Broadbent looked out of the caboose window. Directly north of the tracks is the large water tank from which locomotives get their supply. No sooner had Broadbent leaned out than his head went with a thud against the side of the tank. The engineer, who was an eye-witness, stopped his train as quickly as possible and picked up the unfortunate man, who was leaning out of the window. He was carried to the ground, but expired almost at once. A physician was called, but on his arrival the man was dead. Broadbent's skull had been crushed in a dreadful manner and his neck was broken. The remains were removed to an undertaking establishment pending an inquest. Deceased was 30 years of age and unmarried.

TO THE DEAF.—A rich lady, cured for her Deafness and Noises in the Head by Dr. Nicholson's Artificial Ear Drums, has sent $1,000 to his Institute, so that deaf people unable to procure the Ear Drums may have them free. Don't forget that the discrimination between choice and ordinary grades of butter is becoming more clearly and sharply defined each year. It is only the best that is always in demand and will sell at good prices when there is a surplus of the inferior grades, that either are not wanted at all or else must be sold at a sacrifice. We can hardly expect that under these circumstances this order of things will be changed or improved upon. It is merit that is going to win, and if the dairyman expects to come out satisfactorily at the end of the year it is of the greatest importance that he start right. To try and do a little better than before should be the watchword of the day.—Live Stock.
