HAPPENINGS ABOUT TOWN

Items Gleaned From Local Sources

Little Local Lines

—Dining-room girl wanted. Apply at C. Veitch's hotel.—34-3.

—Wanted—20 men to work on sewers. Work for two months. P. G. Pilkie, Lindsay.

—A bank-book bearing the name G. J. Brumwell was found on the Oakwood road and may be had at this office.

—The Y.M.C.A. football team was re-organized on Monday night with Rev. J. W. Macmillan honorary president.

—To Rent.—One or two rooms, with plate glass front, suitable for grocer, tailor or shoemaker. Apply to M. E. Tangney, Kent-st.—35-4.

—Contractor Hartnett is working on the Ops drain. It is a big ditch. A camp of 20 or 30 men will be planted at the scene of operations.

Fall Opening on Wednesday, Sept. 19th and following days, showing Silks, Millinery, Mantles, Dress Goods and Trimmings. DUNDAS & FLAVELLE BROS.—36-1

—Mr. Chew of Midland has been nominated by the Reformers of East Simcoe. The Hamilton Spectator says that unless the elections are held on Chew's day he won't be in it. Ghastly!

—R. Hudson of Port Hope, manufacturer of stove backs, is still in town. Orders left at Timmin's restaurant will receive prompt attention. Repairs of all kinds made on coal or wood stoves. Charges moderate.

—Mr. Sam. Champion, merchant tailor, has opened in the premises two doors east of The Watchman-Warder, and business has already started his way. Old customers, as well as new ones, will find a nice assortment of Canadian and imported tweeds to select from.

—The Beeton World says it has the names of two widowers who want wives. If these gentlemen are not able to negotiate that matter themselves, it is scarcely worth the World's while bothering about it. Applicants from Lindsay must write direct to the World office.

—Miss Sarah Campbell, daughter of Mr. Rod Campbell of Vancouver, B. C., formerly of Woodville and Cannington, was married on August 23rd to Mr. Geo. McCuaig, a well-known business man of Vancouver. Mr. Alex. Carmichael, a former resident of Lindsay, was groomsman.

—On Wednesday evening of last week Mr. and Mrs. W. Casey of Valentia were driving home from the village when the horse became fractious. The lines broke and Mr. Casey jumped out and seized it by the head but was unable to keep it from the ditch. The buggy upset and Mrs. Casey's arm was broken.

—Mr. Jacob Snelgrove of lot 14, con. 2, Mariposa, has made a record as an onion grower. On half an acre he has a crop that approaches 130 bushels. They are the Dutch sets and black seed varieties. Many of the former sort weigh over a pound each. The soil is a sandy loam. Mr. Snelgrove has ten acres in vegetables and small fruits.

—Master Kay Anderson was a surprised and moist youth last Thursday morning. He was standing in a natty suit of khaki on the old scow against which the Esturion lands waiting for the boat to leave for the Point. As he turned to get on board he dropped through where a plank was gone and lit in the two feet of water in the hold. He was fished out none the worse.

—A wreck occurred on the railway near Blackwater on Friday morning. A special train of empty passenger coaches left here for Toronto in charge of Con. Gall and Driver Clarke. When running at full speed near the place mentioned a gravel train backed down onto the track. The crews jumped but the trains collided with great force. Both engines were damaged and several flat cars derailed.

—On Thursday morning last, John Gunnigal drove too near the newly-filled sewer just outside of this office. The heavy rain of the previous day together with the thorough puddling given the filling as it was put in made it a bog, and one horse dropped into it to his body in an instant. A front wheel of the hack followed. Assistance and John, got things in shape again without damage.

—The tea and lecture in connection with the harvest home services of the Queen-st. church on Monday night were a decided success. The victuals did the ladies who cooked them great credit; the crowd was large and highly delighted with Rev. J. J. Rae's lecture on "Mind Your Own Business." This was a sparkling, pungent deliverance on the business of life and how to attend to it. Sound philosophy, garnished and illuminated by pathos, wit and striking anecdote, and imparted with the which Mr. Rae is master, made this lecture one of eloquence of manner and speech of was among the most instructive and entertaining ever heard in Lindsay. Proceeds of the evening $75.

—Dr. Philip O'Hanlon, coroner's physician in New York city, has this to say: "In my opinion there is no such good medium for the spread of disease as the trailing skirt of a woman. The streets are filled with germs. A woman comes along trailing a skirt and gathers them up. She takes the garment off and hangs it up in a closet. The warmth of the closet causes the germs to flourish. If legislation is necessary to make a woman wear a short skirt, then we should have legislation." Certainly. Nothing else among the silly ways of women disgusts men with them more than the slatternly way some of them flop their mud-bedraggled, filth-laden skirts around their heels.

—A man named Jos. Castor figured on the street last Friday night and in the police court next morning. Magistrate Steers did a little figuring too, and between them they made it 14—that is 14 days in Stonewall for Castor. By reason of fire-water he had used offensive language to Mr. Albert Palen and struck another man. When Con. Nelson essayed to gather him in he waxed pugilistic and these two engaged in a hatless conflict on Kent street. Later the one now in durance was overcome, languished in the cells till day and police court appeared, and then ascended the via dolorosa to Her Majesty's boarding house. Fortunately for him his insulting language, striking and resisting arrest were not urged or his drunk and disorderly penalty might have had the remainder of the 19th century annexed to it.

—Tuesday night's severe windstorm must have been a vigorous remnant of the Texas cyclone. From 10 o'clock it grew in violence until rattling shutters and quaking houses roused the drowsy sleeper to a sense of peril. In most cases there was no reason for alarm on that score but nevertheless serious enough damage was being done throughout the county. Reports next morning show that the apple crop was almost wholly blown down and in many cases the trees badly shattered. The awning at Mr. Calvert's butcher shop was wrecked and, either by the force of the gale or the falling irons of the awning, his plate glass window totally wrecked. The Esturion officers report Wednesday morn-

...ility of Sturgeon lake navigation.

Little Local Lines

—A stone was thrown through a plate glass in Sutcliffe and Son's store one night last week.

—Mr. Robt. Lukey of Toronto has purchased the Helm stock and will occupy that stand, —Messrs. J. and I. Thurston of Pleasant Point have rented Mr. Jos. Brien's farm near Valentia.

—Wanted, immediately, a waist finisher Apply to Miss Braden, dressmaker, over Carter's store.—37-2.

—Miss Mitchell is offering the balance of her summer millinery very cheap. Everything new and fashionable.—26-tf.

—The Kent st. sewers were completed on Monday. Contractor Pilkie has the Francis-st. section of that contract well along.

—Hon. Sydney Fisher, Dominion minister of agriculture, Ottawa, will open West Durham fair at Bowmanville on Friday, Sept. 14th, at 1 p. m.

Fall Opening at Dundas & Flavelle Bros., Wednesday, September 19th, and following days. Display of Millinery, Dress Goods, Silks and Trimmings.

—The Watchman-Warder and the Montreal Family Herald, or the Weekly Mail-Empire, until Dec. 30th, 1900, for 40 cents to new subscribers. Send in money and names at once.

—At the adjourned meeting of the water commission held on Tuesday afternoon, Manager Begbie explained that the pipe for extensions had been bought. The extensions are being pushed.

—The kopjes left by the sewer contractor on the intersection of Cambridge and Kent streets show that the council has been lax. They may easily cause an accident that will result expensively to the town.

—Commencing Monday, September 10th, the "Esturion" will leave Lindsay at 5.45 p. m., instead of 6.30 p. m., on her late trip, touching Sturgeon Point at 7 p. m., and arriving at Bobcaygeon at 8.15 p. m.

—Visitors to town and to the Central fair should not fail to visit the Misses Paton's millinery rooms, over Carter's store, entrance from Dr. Neeland's stairs. New fall stock just arrived, and very cheap.—36-1.

—It was expected that Col. Hughes would reach Canada early in this month. Since, however, he is engaged on some literary work, the time of his arrival is now not known with certainity. No word was received from him in the last English mails —At the Toronto Industrial, Dr. Broad's famous Clydesdale stallion "Granite Lad," 2338, upheld his reputation as a prize winner, taking second prize against a large field of competitors. "Granite Lad" possesses both size and quality, which is very essential in the Clyde to-day.

—Dundas and Flavelle Bros., and Sutcliffe and Sons will both have their alterations far enough advanced by fair time to be ready for the volume of business usual at that time. Mr. A. J. Graham the one-price clothier has enlarged and improved his premises. He will take a leading place in the clothing business this fall.

—Col. Selous, the famous African hunter, and author of several volumes on that continent, is coming to Canada to hunt Moose. He has written to Col. Rankin at Mattawa to arrange details and will arrive there in time to join the expedition to hunt the only big game in the world against which he has not yet tried his rifle.

—Mr. A. McEvoy has changed the name of the Mansion House to "The Grand Union." The hotel has been thoroughly overhauled and refitted in the new, and is now one of the best farmers' hotels in the province. The location is central, directly opposite the market, and no doubt the new proprietor will receive a liberal share of public patronage.

—Sylvesters Bros. won an interesting case before Judge Harding recently. Two farmers were sued for the price of binders they had ordered and used a week and returned to the shop. No notes had been given but the court ordered them to pay the price in full. One of them had bought one of another make in the meantime. He has a binder for sale now.

—The Esturion was an hour late leaving on Friday night. A tug and logs delayed its turning. The mill men are offenders more and more. On Saturday the channel was practically choked, to the great peril of the Crandella, especially on her home trip. The improvements in the river are wholly monopolized by the mill stuff. There is trouble ahead.

—Mr. S. G. Parkin gave his annual moonlight yachting party last Thursday evening. At an early hour the Str. Greyhound was at the upper wharf and took on board 50 guests. At the Point possession was taken of Hide-away cottage, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Pakins summer house and a most enjoyable time was spent. Mrs. A. W. Parkin was chaperone. Town was reached at 2 a.m.

—Robinson & Ewart, our enterprising young shoe men, escaped violation of the sidewalk by-law only on a technicality last Friday. For more than the specified hour the walk in front of their place of business was piled as high as the first story of the block with empty boxes. There were 115 of them. This was the second shipment of empties within the year. The last one comprised nearly 200 boxes. Looks like business.

—Gentlemen, are you bald? Investigate and see for yourself the Art Coverings in Wigs and Toupees. Prof. Dorenwend's manufactures are worn on over 55,000 heads by all classes, and in all stations of life. They are the essence of perfection, light in weight, durable and a great benfit to health, and a protection to the head against cold, draughts, catarrh, etc. Trying on and demonstrating the completness of these goods free of charge. He will be at the Benson House, Lindsay, Saturday Sept. 22nd.

—One person in Lindsay felt more interested in the Galveston storm than all the rest put together. She is Madame Toujouse of that city who has been stopping for some weeks at the Benson House. She has many friends in the fated city and for 48 hours after she read of the storm was unable to get any word of them. This was because the wires were down. The lady's anxiety was affecting and all who knew of it were glad when she received a telegram yesterday noon saying that her people were all safe.

—Archie McEachern, the Woodville boy who promises to be the world's champion bicycle rider, was badly hurt at New Haven on Tuesday night. He was riding into the last lap of the 322nd mile of the six-days race when his pacing tandem got a puncture and he plunged into it at full speed. He was thrown in the air and lit among the spectators. Miller, his mate, and the six-day champion, was also caught and suffered concussion of the brain. His condition is serious, but that of McEachern is not so reported.

—Mr. Jas. Smith of Simcoe county turned 28 young hogs into an acre of peas just as they were getting ripe. They ate every pea in about 15 days and did well on them. He figured that the pigs would eat three pounds per day; that for 15 days would be 45 pounds for each pig. For the 28 it would be 1260 pounds or 21 bushels. It all shows that the peas were a good yield and that Mr. Smith was saved the work of feeding in a busy season and the pigs chewed the grain more thoroughly than if eating hurriedly from a trough.

A Cheap Trial Trip.

The Watchman-Warder and the Montreal Family Herald, or the Weekly Mail-Empire, until Dec. 30th, 1900, for 40 cents to new subscribers. Send in money and names at once.

North Victoria Fair

—The North Victoria fair at Victoria Road will be held this year on Sept. 18 and 19. The directors are sparing no efforts to make the fair of 1900 the best ever held at Victoria Road. Many special attractions are expected on the ground. Speeding-in-the-ring promises to excell former years, many flyers intending to compete. The best horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry in North and South Victoria and many from North Ontario meet in competition for prizes at Victoria Road. Nearly everybody goes rather than miss the event of the season. Many come to see the great iron bridges and scenery on the canal, and especially the peat works—the greatest in the world, and the red hot program worth twice the entrance money.

The Woman's Edition

Before another edition of this paper the "Woman's Edition" will be an accomplished fact. We bespeak for it a hearty support, not only on its own merits, but for the good cause which it is intended to help, and as an appreciation of the enterprise shown by the ladies of our town. It has given them an immense amount of work and much anxiety, but the result will, we are sure, amply repay them.

* * * *

To the young lady who sells the largest number of papers a handsome volume of poems will be presented by the committee. To the young gentleman selling the largest number, a large and handsome framed picture will be given. This latter will be given by Mrs. W. A. Goodwin.

* * * *

This office will be given up entirely to the ladies on Friday, the 21st. Elaborate preparations are being made for decorating it and the public, both ladies and gentlemen, are very cordially invited to call upon the ladies there and buy a copy of their paper.

* * * *

A commodious booth will be erected on the fair grounds, where the ladies will be glad to receive the ladies and gentlemen from the town and country.

Church Notes.

—Rev. Dr. Talling of Toronto preached at St. Andrew's on Sunday and administered the sacrament of the Lord's supper at night.

—Services at the Queen-st. church were of unusual interest on last Sunday. The religious services in connection with the harvest home anniversary were held. Rev. J. J. Rae of Simcoe-st. Methodist church, Oshawa, was the preacher night and morning and addressed the mass meeting of children in the afternoon. In the morning Mr. Rae discussed the saying that he who finds his life shall lose it and he who loses it shall find it. From nature and the commonplaces of everyday life did the preacher illustrate the great principle that men's lives are enriched by sacrifice and ennobled by all motives to better endeavor. Love, friendship, patriotism or any spur to drive a man from grovelling, to higher things, was a blessing, but the highest motive was declared to be the "for my sake" of the text. At night Mr. Rae chose the words of John the Baptist, "There standeth one among you and ye know him not." Fiction, drama, the press, the courts—all these declared the world's need of moral rescue and its hope that it would come. Standing among men and unknown by them is and has been the Christ who by his cross is helping men to better things. All history is but the record of a great divine effort to restore the race. But men know Him not, because of what they are and of what He is. The sordid, lustful, brutish eye sees not, nor the dull, carnal pre-occupied ear, hear the Son of God that stands among us. Mr. Rae's address is of the magnetic, emotional, dramatic sort and not many men so thrill, instruct and persuade an audience.

Back from England

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Warren Worsley returned from a fourteen weeks sojourn in the Old Country. They had a most enjoyable time and look as though the trip had done them a great deal of good.

Mr. Worsley has taken on something of the portly appearance which residence among the beef and plum puddings of the Englishman always favors. He is certainly a much better representative of John Bull than when he went away.

In speaking of his trip, Mr. Worsley said they went on a slow steamer and had beautiful weather. They were met by friends, who most cordially entertained them at Hastings for a good deal of the time they were away, Both Mr. and Mrs. Worsley have relatives there, among whom they divided up their visit.

It is 14 years since Mr. Worsley was in England before. He saw considerable change even in that time. The compartment railway car is being altered, and in some instances is giving way to the American coach. The compartments are now being joined by a passage, running from one end of the car to the other. Up-to-date farm machinery is being adopted. When asked where he got his mower, one farmer: "In Brantford." "In Brantford, Canada?" asked Mr. Worsley. "Oh, no," was the reply, "American machinery won't stand here." Asked whether that was likely, Mr. Worsley said the land was much rougher there than here. The old style of plowing very narrow lands is still in vogue and is necessary for draining the surface. These furrows are very trying on harvesting machinery. There are a good many self-binders used, but coming along the coast of Ireland, they saw scores of people cutting grain with sickles.

Mr. Worsley did not pay much attention to political affairs, but gathered the impression that the people were largely in favor of the South African war. While he was there two members of parliament had deen mobbed by their constituents for writing letters to the Boers. Of course there were people who condemned the war.

He heard Mark Guy Pearce and Hugh Price Hughes preach, and was delighted with them The latter preaches in a centre of workingmen and has men asking for prayer at every service.

The country road system is in vogue in England and the roads are kept in perfect condition. Mr. and Mrs. Worsley drove across the country many miles, and greatly enjoyed the outing.

The back trip across the Atlantic was rough at times, but never dangerous. A number of whales were seen. On board were 700 passengers, mostly emmigrants, —Polish Jews—many of whom got off at Quebec, and were bound for different places on the continent.

FARMS WANTED!

I have over 20 applications from parties throughout the province inquiring for farms in this locality. Parties having farms for sale will probably find an early customer by applying direct to me. I make no charge unless a sale is effected.

I also have several inquiries from good prompt paying tenants who want to lease farms for a term of years. If owners who have farms to rent will apply to me I can in all probability furnish them with a desirable tenant.

Tenants wanting to lease farms will find what they are looking for by applying direct to me.

Money to loan on mortgage at the lowest current rates of interest. Mortgages bearing interest at former high rates can be paid off by me and advances for that purpose made at the present low rates, and the cost of change will be very small.

J. H. SOOTHERAN,
91 Kent-st. Lindsay.

WOMEN HATE HITCHES

The tribulations that a contrary and unreliable Kitchen Stove will cause in an otherwise well conducted household are beyond description. On wash-days there is the hitch about the fire, or draught, or something anyway which keeps the work back and makes everything drag. On days when baking is to be done there is another hitch, and the oven won't work, and thousands of good victuals are spoiled through the year because that everlasting hitch in some thing or other about that old stove, either cooked them to death or only half through. Why not end this bother and get one of our Souvenir or Happy Thought Ranges?

Housekeepers will see their good points at a glance. To be had at
