VALENTIA

The members of Little Britain lodge L.O.O.F. will attend divine service in the Methodist church at Valentia on Sunday, Oct 7, at 3 p.m.

VICTORIA ROAD

Dr. C. Bowerman of Beaverton visits Victoria Road (Chirpaw's Hotel) every Thursday regularly. Gas used for painless extraction. Teeth filled, and crowns, bridges and artificial sets inserted. Call early.

HARTLEY

Mr. James Kent, agent C.P.R. Telegraph Co. at Montreal, with his wife and family, also Mr. Isaac Burchell, wife and family, Whitby, were the guests of Mr. Wm. Manning last week. Mr. I. A. B. Manning and sister C. R. Manning of Lindsay spent Sunday at home.

A large number took in the Lindsay Central and report a very enjoyable time.

MILLER SMITH-EMILY.

On Wednesday, Sept. 19, a very pleasing event occurred at the residence of Mr. J. Ashmore, when Miss Ida Thurston and Mr. Will Tresidder of Lindsay were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Strike of the same town. The bride was supported by Miss Tillie Ashmore, while the groom had the able assistance of Mr. Will Miller. A beautiful march suitable to the occasion was played by Miss Eva Kennedy, after which a sumptuous repast was indulged in by all present. On the following evening the young couple took train for Orillia and other towns to spend their honeymoon. All their friends join in wishing them a long, happy and useful life.

CAMERON

Our community has lately suffered a sad bereavement in the death of Mr. Jas. Bryson, our esteemed friend and postmaster, who held the office for nearly forty years. He passed peacefully away on Wednesday morning, Sept. 12, at his late residence. He had been feeling poorly during the summer, but was taken to bed two weeks before his death. Good physicians were in attendance, but in spite of this and the devoted care of his family, death intervened. On Thursday his remains were interred in Eden cemetery, the service being conducted by Rev. J. W. Macmillan of Lindsay. The funeral was followed by the mourners and many sympathizing friends. He is sadly missed by the family, there being seven left to survive him. These are Mrs. A. J. Dunveigh, Mrs. A. S. Wilson, Mr. John Bryson, Mrs. S. A. Wilson, Oakwood, Cameron; Mrs. S. A. Wilson, Oakwood; Mr. W. H. Bryson, Midland; Mrs. W. C. Fell, Cameron; Mr. A. E. Bryson, teacher, Bobcaygeon; and Miss S. J. Bryson, Cameron. The deceased came to Canada fifty-two years ago and settled on the north half of lot 8, con. 5, in the township of Fenelon, where he reared his family. His house was a refuge for the stranger as well as for his friends. His kindness and consideration for those he knew will not soon be forgotten. After eighty long years of life he died rejoicing in the Lord and the hope of meeting the loved ones gone before.

FAIRBAIRN-NORTH VERULAM

Mrs. Thos. Wallace of Little Britain spent last week visiting relatives in this neighborhood.

Miss Ida Scott, teacher of S.S. No. 4, spent Sunday with Miss Skitch.

Mr. Dougall Robinson, the cheese maker, has resigned his office. The factory is at present in charge of Mr. Hall of Cameron, until a new cheese maker can be appointed.

Quite a number of our citizens visited the Central fair held at Lindsay last week. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Robinson, Messrs. Walter and Alfred Tiers, Tallowan Robinson, George Kittle, Samuel White, James Britton, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. McGee and Misses Tiers, Skitch, Pogue. Some others seemed to prefer a picnic on Dunn's landing and to watch the Crandella from the distance, but perhaps it was because they were left.

Mr. F. Sandford made a business call here on Saturday.

The weather is turning cooler and fall is setting in. Soon musical sleigh bells will be the order of the day. But bicycle bells just now disturb the silence of the moonlight air. It might save trouble if bicyclists carried searchlights instead of bells and thus remove all danger of running into the church platform.

Rev. A. Shaver and Rev. Mr. Hopkins of Little Britain exchanged pulpits this week. Service was held here in the morning last Sunday and Mr. Hopkins treated the large audience to an excellent sermon on the subject of baptism.

Miss Mabel Elliott, daughter of Mr. Wm. Elliott, returned to Belleville on Wednesday, 19th, to continue her studies in the Deaf and Dumb Institute.

Come to Bobcaygeon fair on Saturday, Sept. 29. You'll miss it if you don't. It's the dady of them all.

A SARNIA LADY

Tells How Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills Cured Her Nervous Troubles and Strengthened Her Weak System.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are an inestimable boon to anyone suffering from any disease or derangement of the heart or nerves or whose blood is thin and watery. Mrs. E. Horning, of 115 George Street, Sarnia, Ont., is one of those whose experience with this remedy is well worth considering. It is as follows:—"I am pleased to recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills to anyone suffering from nerve trouble, no matter how severe or of how long standing. For years my nerves have been in a terribly weak condition, but Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which I got at Geary's Pharmacy, have strengthened them greatly and invigorated my system, leaving me no excuse for not making known their virtues. "I cannot refrain from recommending these pills to all sufferers as a splendid cure for nervousness and weakness."

LIONS, TIGERS AND ELEPHANTS.

What an Animal Trainer Says About Their Traits in Captivity.

"Personally I would rather undertake to train jungle bred lions than lions that are born in captivity. You may win the regard of the first class, but the others are so accustomed to seeing everybody that they respect nobody. The idea that lions desire to eat up their trainers is preposterous. I feed these lions 12 1/2 pounds of fine meat every day at 5 o'clock. If a lion was ravenously hungry, the case might be different. When a beast gets mad and knocks you down with a blow from his paw, you must lie still. It would be useless to fight back, for if he should close his jaws no bone would stand the pressure. I do not fear the lion's jaw and teeth—the paws and claws are the things that have left their marks all over my body. Their claws are sharp as fishhooks and take hold in the same fashion.

"Yes, I have been nipped by lions a number of times, generally in the fleshy part of the hand and the leg; the teeth have gone clean through with a snap. Still the claws are the things that make the life of the lion trainer an 'unpreferred risk' in life insurance writing.

"Tigers are much brighter than lions, and can be taught many tricks, but they can never be relied on, as treachery appears to be their disposition and inheritance. They are tremendous fighters, and if they cannot get up a row among themselves they are ready to help others. The closest call I ever had in my life was when a jaguar got over the partition in the big den into the cage occupied by a lion and undertook to take a bone away from the latter. I went in and undertook to drive the jaguar back into her own cage. The beast turned upon me and clawed me horribly, while the lion took a whack at my back. When I was finally dragged out of the cage, the new suit of clothes that I wore was a mass of tatters, and I was swarmed and bloody from head to heels. This famous fight occurred in Washington with the W. C. Coup show. I had a number of encounters with Wallace, who was set down on the bills as 'the man eater.' He had chewed and clawed many men, but never eaten one, but he did occasionally feast on a horse. So many stories have been told about Wallace by trainers that never handled him it would be idle for me to repeat them, as I had him all the time he was in this country. That famous lion died two years ago in an express car while on his travels.

"Tigers have a fancy for sliding on their backs and getting you at a disadvantage, as they lie and claw upward. The moment you turn to leave a cage they are liable to slide its whole length and drag you down before you can raise your whip.

"But, take my word for it, the most dangerous animal you can encounter in a menagerie is a 'bad elephant.' I've been with 'em for 40 years, and I know."

TRICKS OF THE TRADE.

Men Do Not Always Get the Cigar They Pay For.

At the cigar stand of an up town hotel a guest asked the dealer for an imported cigar.

The dealer handed out a handful of cigars which were in all appearance the real thing.

"Are these real imported cigars?" asked the purchaser, depositing his quarter on the little change mat.

"Yes, sir," responded the other.

"It is too nice a night for a dispute," said the guest to a reporter, "and since the cigar is a good one I will smoke it, but it is not an imported cigar that he sold me, though it resembles one. It was made in this country of imported tobacco.

"What's the difference?" as the tobacco was grown on the island of Cuba.

"I am an internal revenue inspector, and I can tell at a glance whether a cigar is the imported article in the box from Havana or whether it is made in this country of imported leaf. The difference is great in many ways, and the fact that it is an average judge of cigars cannot detect it is no excuse why he does not get what he calls for. Who can tell the difference between a Paris made gown and one made here of the same imported materials? Very few. The difference is usually about $100 in favor of the dress-maker.

"But with cigars it is another matter. Some dealers will tell you that we make a better article of imported rolled tobacco than the Cuban cigar makers. Perhaps so. The dealer makes a bigger profit on the sale, and that is what he is looking out for.

"If you desire to buy a cigar made by Cuban workmen and the real imported stuff, examine the box for the internal revenue stamps. They will be observed, if you look carefully, and are six in number. All bear the words 'Imported cigars, United States customs,' and the number of the cigars contained in the box plainly engraved at each end of the stamp, in the center of which is the engraving of a steamship.

"The stamp for the box containing 25 cigars is smaller than the others and is drab in color. The box containing 50 cigars is distinguished by a green stamp, the 100 blue, the 250 red and the 500 yellow ochre in delicate tints.

"There is a difference in both the smoke and the flavor of a cigar made by Havana workmen and those made at the principal tobacco marts here. Our makers do not import the very finest leaf for the very excellent reason that the Cubans won't allow it to leave the island, desiring it for their own high grade cigars of London and Paris. The Cubans roll their cigars in a way peculiar to themselves, and when a man calls for the genuine rolled article he wants it and ought to have it."

Pinched.

Swipsy-Muggsy swiped a pair o' shoes from a store yesterday. Lifter—Did they fit him? Swipsy—I don't tink so. I heard one o' de fellows say dat a couple o' cops come along while Muggsy wuz tryin de shoes on, an dey pinched 'im.—Philadelphia Record.

Cats and Rats.

Little Nettie was learning to read, and part of her lesson ran thus: "The cat has a rat." "Huh!" she exclaimed. "The man who wrote this book didn't know much. Cats don't have rats; they have kittens."—Kansas City Star.

Unpopularity is the fate of those who know how to stand alone and to leave their mark upon other men. But time rights the momentary wrongs of those who cannot be swayed by the fickle breath of popular applause.

MATRIMONIAL JARS.

A St. Louis man whose wife wants him to get a divorce so that she can marry another fellow refuses to do so. The saying she must suffer for her sins. The "other man" seems to be having all the best of it in this mix-up.—Chicago Times-Herald.

A woman in Washington is suing for divorce on the ground that her husband is not as prominent in politics as he represented himself to be when he married her. This woman evidently entered into the marriage relations without a proper understanding of the uncertainties of political life.—Lewiston Journal.

A St. Louis woman married a man and divorced him, then married him and divorced him anew, then again and a third time and is now suing for her third divorce. It always takes a woman time to make up her mind.—Buffalo Express.

An American artist married a model who was widely known for perfect figure combined with her heroic size. Three days later the model lady gave the artist an unmerciful thrashing. Then in a spasm of remorse she turned about and tenderly nursed him back to robust health again. How truly feminine!

THE WRITERS.

The will of the late Stephen Crane directs that his library be given to Lafayette college.

Joaquin Miller, the California poet, announced in a recent interview that in the complete edition of his works, which he is preparing for publication only after his death, his real name, Cincinnati Heine Miller, will be used.

TAKING THE REINS.

Chagley Hoyt's first winning heat of his life in 2:07 3/4 constitutes a world's record.

Pilaster, 1:58 1/4, by Egotist, is one of the best trotting race horses on the Lake Erie circuit.

Ananias, 2:06 1/4, pacing, to wagon. If he keeps on, Mr. Emery will beat his turf record of 2:05 with him.

Britanna, the 3-year-old filly, by Tommy Britton, 2:07 1/4, owned by E. A. Lord of Chicago, worked a mile in 2:19 at Joliet the other day.

Cutting's heat in 2:10 1/4 at Joliet the other day was the fastest fifth heat that has been trotted this year. It could have been in 2:10 too.

Kuster, 2:15 1/4, winner of seven races in eight starts this year, sold as a yearling for $35 and for $125 as a 4-year-old. He cost his present owner just $200.

Chelsea, 2:09 1/4, recently pacing at Dover, N. H., is a new 2:10 performer for Gambetta Wilkes. Tonita F., the ex-western mare, was beaten but a head in the heat.

James Shervin, the high priced Baron Wilkes-Stella Belmont 2:19 trotter that was a disappointment last year, connected with first money at Buffalo recently and now has a record of 2:16 1/2.

The chestnut gelding Monopole, a grand circuit performer for several seasons, record 2:08 1/4, pacing, in 1898, is now trotting and recently took a record of 2:23 1/4 at Worcester, Mass.

Jim Ramey, the John R. Gentry pacer, cut his record to 2:11 1/4 at Joliet the other day. He is a big, stout gelding and easy going and will step in 2:10 if his pins, which are under suspicion, do not give way.

It is said that the pacing mare Evolute, by Nominee, who took a record of 2:13 recently, has raised four colts and was never broken to harness until 8 years old. She is a sister of Evolutio, 2:13 1/4.

W. L. Spears' bay colt Jay McGregor, by Jay Hawker, 3, 2:14 1/4—Notre Dame, 2:23 1/4, by Robert McGregor, 2:17 1/4, trotted a work out mile at Lexington lately in 2:21 1/4, repeating in 2:20 1/4, last quarter in 3/4 seconds.—Horse Review.

It Costs.

"I believe," said the well meaning man, "in giving your friend a little wholesome advice whenever the occasion arises. It doesn't cost you anything."

"It costs you your friend very often," said the wise man.—Philadelphia Press.

GROWING

We have now fairly started on our fall term and have more students enrolled now than at the same time last year. Applications for admission to Peterboro Business College are coming in every day, and the prospects are that even with enlarged premises we will be taxed for room. No school can do better for you—few can do as well. Send for our circular, it will tell you.
