ROYALTY HONORED SOLDIERS AT THE CAPITAL CITY

Blind Trooper Mulloy was Among Those African Fighters Who Got Medals

A section of the Globe correspondent's description of the visit of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York to Ottawa is given below. Trooper Mulloy in whom they showed such interest is he who lectured at Sturgeon Point a month ago. After telling how a statue of Queen Victoria was unveiled the Globe correspondent says :-"But still more strongly tinctured with the emotional element was the ceremony of the presentation of medthe unveiling and at the foot of the agement themselves. monument. One Victoria Cross was to be bestowed, Lieut. ### Why Are Side Tables Patronised More Than the Center Ones?

Why is it that most persons when entering a restaurant will seat themselves at one of the side tables in preference to the center tables? If this idiosyncrasy of restaurant patrons has never attracted your attention just note the appearance of your own restaurant when next you have occasion to go there before the midday rush sets in.

Almost every side table will be taken by one or more persons, while of the center tables scarcely one will boast of an occupant. This rule holds good from the highest class of establishment to the cheapest form of "beanery," and not only is it true of cating places mostly patron-• the shopping districts where women form and W. B. Watt. the greater part of the custom.

Many waiters with whom I have talked on the subject confirmed the truth of the statement, but few sought to explain it, contenting themselves with the remark that they much preferred to be assigned to side tables, where they were not only assured of more chance to make "tips," but where these self same tips were also much more generous, the satisfaction of sitting at the side seeming to promote the good nature of the luncher or diner.

What the explanation may be is difficult to say exactly. Perhaps because the coat hooks are usually ranged along the walls those seeking to replenish their inner economy prefer to be where they can at the same time keep close watch of their outer integuments, but this only comes into consideration during the winter, as in summer there are no coats or wraps to watch out for. Man, and wom- Hon. Thos. Greenway. an, too, for that matter, is a creature of habit, however, and the custom acquired during the winter probably unconsciously persons prefer to eat with as much privacy as possible and think they can secure this in a greater measure by sitting at one side of a room rather than in the middle, where they are exposed, as were, to the concentrated gaze of all those in the establishment.

Close Shaves Are Bad.

In shaving to make the skin perfectly smooth requires not only the removal of and a close shave means the removal of a layer of skin all around. The blood vessels thus exposed are not visible to the eye, but under the microscope each little quivering mouth, holding a minute blood drop, protests against such treatment. The nerve tips are also uncovered, and the pores are left unprotected, which makes the skin tender and unhealthy. This sudden exposure of the inner layer of the skin renders a person liable to have colds, hoarseness and sore throat.-London Family Doctor.
