THE GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC ENDORSED BY THE COMMONS

An Early Morning Vote of 117 For to 71 Against Ratifies The Government's Scheme

The Mail and Empire's Ottawa correspondent writes thus of the close of the debate and division of the House on the Grand Trunk Pacific scheme at 2 o'clock yesterday morning:

The closing hours of a debate which will become historic in the annals of Canada were marked by several brilliant speeches. In spite of the extraordinary length of the argument upon the Grand Trunk Pacific scheme the interest which is taken in the project was strikingly shown by the large attendance of members.

Mr. Fowler, of King's spoke during the morning session with an excellent address, in which he vigorously combated the extraordinary proposals of the Government.

Mr. Paterson followed with a characteristic stump speech, full of glittering generalities and wonderfully barren of definite information.

One of the most intelligent criticisms of the Government's scheme was furnished by Mr. E. F. Clarke in a two-hour speech which fairly bristled with significant facts. He pointed out how useless the proposed road would be to either Quebec or Ontario, as it would be separated from the great industrial centres of both provinces by from two to four hundred miles, and if ever completed would be a longer rail route to Winnipeg than that already existing.

An interesting scene occurred when Mr. Clarke enquired how it was that Mr. Paterson had so suddenly become an ardent supporter of the Government scheme when he was for so long reported as one of its strongest opponents in the Cabinet.

Mr. Paterson attempted to hedge the question, but Mr. Clarke was inexorable. At a hint from one of his colleagues, Mr. Paterson denied that he had ever opposed the scheme. The Minister's manner of denying the persistent reports as to his opposition to the Government's proposals, however, was far more significant than his final brief contradiction.

Mr. Borden was unfortunately absent from the debate, owing to an attack of rheumatism. He, however, people enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

The Kenosha brought a large crowd from Omonee last Friday. The party left home to go to Bobcaygeon, but owing to the lowness of the water the boat was unable to land at the latter place and came up to the Falls.

Mr. Davey sr. took an unexpected bath last Thursday. While the Manitoba was being locked through the canal, Mr. Davey thought to save time and take his skiff through also. The water was coming rapidly in, the skiff upset and Mr. Davey had a trial of the temperature at the bottom of the lock. Lockmaster Junk immediately closed the valves and Mr. Davey rose to the top. He soon got out of the water, and we are happy to state seems none the worse for his wetting.

Miss Ellis entertained a large number of her friends on the lawn last Wednesday. They spent a most pleasant afternoon at Laidlaw's Landing on Cameron Lake.

The Kawartha took a happy party from Sturgeon Point to Balsam Lake last Wednesday when a delightful day was spent.

Mr. Morden of the B. N. A. Bank gave a solo in St. Andrew's choir last Sunday morning, which was most beautifully rendered. Mr. Morden possesses a voice of great strength and culture and is a great acquisition to St. Andrew's choir. Mr. Downs of Holly, New York, who has been spending a few weeks at the Brooks House here, with his wife, played Mr. Morden's accompaniment most beautifully. Mr. Downs presided over a large pipe organ in a church in Holly and his playing was as great a treat as Mr. Morden's singing. Mr. Evans of the B. N. A. Bank rendered "The Holy City," as a solo in the evening, and his singing is also very fine. Mr. Procter of Toronto also occupied a place in the choir and Messrs. Morden, Evans, Procter and McKendry rendered a quartette in a most effective manner.

That the guaranteeing of the Fenelon Falls debentures by the county council is viewed with appreciation by the neighboring townships is shown by the greeting afforded the delegates who visited there recently. Messrs. McFarland, Brandon and McDiarmid visited the Verulam council when the following resolution was passed: Moved by J. Brooks, seconded by W. Devitt "Resolved that the resolution passed at the last session of the council viewing with displeasure the county guaranteeing the bonds of Fenelon Falls in the purchase of the water power from Messrs. McDougall, Brandon and Austin, be and is hereby rescinded, and that instead with a deal of satisfaction, tending as it does towards municipal ownership and that our county representatives be instructed to support the measure as heretofore."—Carried. Dr. Gould and Mr. J. McFarland visited the Fenelon council when the following was passed: Moved by J. P. Palmer, seconded by E. Mark, and resolved, that this council having heard the deputation from the Fenelon Falls Board of Water, Light and Power Commissioners, we hereby express our approval of the guaranteeing of the debentures of said village by the County of Victoria.—Carried.

Mr. A. Workman has gone to Toronto to live.

Mr. Philip Pritisker, the enterprising jeweller, has opened up a modest little hardware store here, occupying a portion of Chapman's tailor shop. He moved his family to the village recently.

The annual meeting of the Bible Society will be held in the Presbyterian church next Monday evening, and will be addressed by a representative.

THE C. P. R. CAN SERVE THE WEST SAYS WINNIPEG NEWSPAPER MAN

Mr. A. B. Bethune Declares That Rolling Stock Will Make Second Line Unnecessary

(Toronto News, Tuesday)

Mr. A. B. Bethune, of Winnipeg, for many years one of the leading newspapermen in the Canadian west, who has recently been upon a visit to England, arrived in the city this morning, and registered at the Queen's hotel.

To a reporter of the News Mr. Bethune stated that he was personally strongly opposed to the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific transcontinental line, and believed that any citizen of Manitoba and the Northwest who had studied the transportation problem would agree with him. The Canadian Pacific Railway alone would be amply sufficient for some time to handle all the business of the Northwest, if the business would obtain the proper facilities for looking after business. The road had been simply starved of its proper equipment well, and to enrich those who were interested. The wealth of some of the leading men of the Dominion could be traced to such a source. The turnover of the New York Central operating only 3,300 miles of track equalled within a few million dollars that of the whole of the Canadian railways. The same road had 2,100 locomotives, whereas the Canadian Pacific had only 7,000 and 9,000 of road. Freight cars and locomotives were required to solve the present transportation problems in the west.

SERIES OF BLUNDERS

To him the railway policy of the present government—and he was one of those who helped to elect them, was either a series of blunders or a series of deliberate steals. He believed Sir Wilfrid Laurier was personally an honest man, but without business habits, and that he was surrounded by a number of business men who were not wholly uninterested. Mr. Blair has struck the nail upon the head when he said, that it was not the west that could not afford to wait, but Senator Cox. The same Senator Cox, and the president of the Toronto Globe, had been the recipient of a very kind gift from the Dominion in the Crow's Nest coal lands. He (Mr. Bethune) was utterly disgusted with the manner in which the Liberals were conducting affairs at Ottawa. As men possessing common sense, they should have had an object lesson in the construction of the Canadian Pacific. But no, they rushed into the Canadian Northern, and before that was completed, the present chaotic scheme was put before the country.

He considered that a contrast between the profits of the Grand Trunk, the Canadian Pacific, and the Intercolonial was unfair. First, of all, the I.C.R. was built partly as a political and military road, and it was tamed and twisted all around the country. In spite of the fact that such a course had been adopted, and that the country through which it ran was a poor one, and that it ended where business really commenced—Montreal—the road would pay today if the same charges were made upon it, as upon the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk. He favored the suggestion of extending the Intercolonial to Winnipeg, with parliament as the arbiter in any particular case which might have to be made. The gradual extension of the mountain would fully meet the demands of the growing west for some time.
