B. J. GOUGH, The Wonderful Cheap Man.....

The steamer David Weston caught fire on the St. John river N. B. on Sunday afternoon and though she was beached three people lost their lives and several were injured. The fire spread with great rapidity. The mate stayed at helm till land was reached, although badly burned. There were 40 passengers of whom three perished.

The Clergue works at Soo Ste. Marie have been closed down, and the 100-million dollar concern is practically insolvent. About 4000 men have been thrown out of employment and $7000 a day wages cut off. These men throng the streets without means and special constables protect property. The "Soo" is for the time being, ruined. It is not known what will become of the Clergue concern.

The safe of Mr. James Cumming, a Liza miller near Brockville, and well known as Canadian trade commissioner to South Africa was blown to pieces by burglars on Saturday night. An entrance had been gained by the aid of tools stolen from a neighboring blacksmith shop. These included a large sledge hammer with which the knobs of the safe door had been broken off. Into the opening dynamite had been placed.

While Mr. T. Roberts, who has employed by the Caledon Mountain Trout Company for the last year as caretaker of the fish and game on their property in Caledon, was attending to his duties at Dufferin Lake on Thursday, he was shot at the ball passing through his hat from the front, cutting through the hair. Another shot was fired, the ball entering the water within ten feet of A. Pickering, a comrade of Roberts', who was in a boat at the time. Roberts had heard some persons talking, and was going in their direction when the shot was fired. He followed the track of the person or persons, but owing to the thickness of the bush, he could not see who they were.

—Orillia News-Letter: The rate of taxes for 1903 will be 24 mills on the dollar, or one mill less than last year. The reason of this drop is not in any decreased expenditure in town affairs but to a surplus in the electric light and power system of about $4000, over and above the current expenditure. The figures show that the total receipts from the power scheme to be $18,563 and waterworks to be $6,910, a total of $25,473. The expense for capital accounts, that is all debentures and interest falling due, amounts to $13,810 a year, to which is to be added $7,500 for working expenses—a total expenditure of $21,310. This leaves a profit of $4,163 or enough to reduce our taxes nearly three mills on the dollar. Opponents of the power scheme, with all its delays and worries, will now likely withdraw their opposition.

—Orillia Packet: By the way, the way, the Lindsay Watchman-Warder, referring to the Packet's symposium, says we made enquiry of "twenty more progressive towns"! Nonsense! There aren't two more progressive towns than Orillia, to be found in the Province of Ontario, to say nothing of twenty; and no one knows it better than our hyperheated contemporary down in Lindsay. We may have fallen behind a little in the matter of sidewalks, while stealing a march on our rivals in power. But we'll soon catch up in that regard;—whereas Lindsay, for instance, couldn't overtake us in the matter of shade trees (which constitute the other side of the question under discussion) in ten years if she tried ever so hard. Don't imagine Mr. Watchman-Warder, that it's a sign of lack of progressiveness to try to profit by other people's experience, no matter how far behind they may be on the whole.

garding the trees, we must admit are quite large clearings up Orillia way.
