FINE DISPLAYS OF FALL MILLINERY

Dainty Design and Rich Materials Again Challenge the Weavers of Feminine Headgear

The artists of hatdom are limitless in ingenuity and tireless in achievement. The ceaseless whirl of the seasons seeks to outrun their resourcefulness in vain.

The fall hat of 1904 is a little less "off the face" than that of last year but has not in general quite as low an effect.

The Vienna coat in blue and black silk is a new garment. It has a close-fitting back, and ample skirt. On the shoulders are wide epaulettes.

The work of extension and improvement that Sutcliffe & Son have been busy with during the past few days, and which is yet being vigorously carried on did not prevent the display of millinery that will rank among the best made in the towns of Ontario this season.

display, on account of the number and arrangement as to form and color, made capital impression, that was sustained and enhanced by critical examination of the individual hats.

One was a black lace hat of the Gainsboro type. Around the edge was a plait of pan velvet.

A flat sailor of golden brown pan velvet had a bell crown around which stood a rich collar of cream yoke lace, carrying agrille of russet silk and velvet roses.

What was certainly one of the very choicest hats exhibited in town this season was a large castor and brown pan velvet hat with a high crown.

Ready-to-wears are a specialty with Sutcliffe & Son. The ingenious, varied and ornate effect in design and trimming that is shown in this year is well illustrated by this firm's display.

Miss Carson, chief of the mantle department, also has had the floor space allotted to that department rearranged and placed in better light.

The Vienna coat in blue and black silk is a new garment. It has a close-fitting back, and ample skirt.

A handsome little coat is made of covert cloth. Strapping down at the back, and a bit of velvet let at the side behind give the coat a very neat appearance.

Ladies' skirts in basket cloth, tweeds, broadcloths and Venetians with tucks over the seams, fancy silk braids and strappings, panel fronts, bound with taffeta and having fancy buttons are shown in great variety.

The dainty waist is still in vogue. Silk in all colors is popular. Large sleeves with seam from the elbow close lace insertions, strappings, box plaits and tucks are rare creations.

MISS MITCHELL

If Miss Mitchell should go out of the millinery business a large number of people in this county would be at a loss to what to do when the time came to buy anew hat.

As usual, the display has been prepared under the direction of Miss Jamieson, and as usual it is a display that has strong attraction for the average buyer.

The French fedora crown that is among the new things this year has several fine representatives in Miss Mitchell's stock.

A wide-brimmed hat of residia plush velvet was turned up at the left side. This hat had both the French fedora crown and the bead adornment of the brim.

A black Gainsboro in velvet with chenille open work brim and crown had a collar of shaded mahogany foliage.

Miss Mitchell is showing a great variety of the daring novelties that are being exhibited in this class.

A black Gainsboro in velvet with chenille open work brim and crown had a collar of shaded mahogany foliage.

The Tourist three-quarter coat in golf cloth is a favor in New York, but is pretty advanced for here.

Ladies' skirts in basket cloth, tweeds, broadcloths and Venetians with tucks over the seams, fancy silk braids and strappings, panel fronts, bound with taffeta and having fancy buttons are shown in great variety.

The millinery display is in charge of Miss Wakely as formerly. The section occupied by it was handsomely decorated, and lit with Chinese lanterns.

TWO SERIOUS RUNAWAYS

An Emily Farmer and Mr. A. Primeau Badly Hurt.

On Tuesday afternoon Mr. A. Primeau drove out west of town. After dark two wheelmen found him lying in the road at the head of Kent-st., unconscious.

On Friday Mr. T. Callaghan, a young Emily farmer went up among the three horses with which he was operating a twin plow.

A strange thing about this accident is that at the breakfast table the morning before the injured man's sister told of having in the field, and that she had run for two neighbors who carried him to the house.

Mr. Roscoe Culvert is dangerously ill with typhoid.

Mr. Thos. Bowes of Toronto is in town for a few days.

Mr. "Jack" McHugh of Sioux City is the guest of Mr. Sam Britton.

Miss Logan of Ingersoll has been visiting Mrs. J. L. Perkins, Regent Street.

Mrs. (Dr.) Adam Clarke, of Cypress River, Man., is visiting her father, Mr. Thos. Sadler.

Mrs. H. S. Rear of Rochester, is spending a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Frise, Fingerboard.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Webster left last week for the Northwest. At Winnipeg they will visit their son, Chalmers.

Omeme Mirror: Mr. Rogers has purchased Mr. John Rea's cottage and grounds. Mrs. Rea intends moving to Lindsay.

Miss Alma Metherell, of Rochester is visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Hewitt.

Rev. W. J. Sanders, formerly Methodist pastor at Manilla, died at Roseath, near Belleville, of Bright's disease last week.

Mr. F. W. Percival, son of Sir W. Percival Wimbleton, Eng., is visiting Mr. Ed. Kyle, with whom he got acquainted at Oxford.

Mr. A. Y. Hopkins of Kilmount was in town yesterday on business in connection with the fair to be held at that village on Oct. 7 and 8.

Rev. J. R. Butler and wife, of South Darlington, were in town on Friday on their way home after spending 10 days recreating at Bobcaygeon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Cragg, of Sault Ste. Marie, are visiting Mr. John Taylor, Lindsay-st and Mrs. Cragg's father, Mr. Wm. Graham, Albert-st.

Rev. H. B. Kenny, pastor of the Fenelon Falls Methodist church was in town on Wednesday night of last week on his way home from a 3-weeks holiday.

Mr. Lorne Campbell and Miss Florence McConnell were married in Toronto on Tuesday, and are visiting New York on their honeymoon.

Lindsay Central Exhibition SEPTEMBER 22, 23, 24.
