The Utica Globe publishes a portrait of Mr. James Boxall, of Lindsay, and a reference to his connection with the Sons of England and recent election as supreme president of that order.

Mr. Boxall is a good advertisement for Lindsay, but the Utica Globe insists upon dating all its Canadian dispatches from Ottawa or London, evidently thinking that Ottawa is the hub of the east and London of the west.

Don't forget, Mr. Globe, that Lindsay is a hub, too, and that is why we like Mr. Boxall live here.

Chief of police S. Nevison attended the convention of constables held in Toronto during the exhibition. The excellent paper of constable Twiss, of Dundas, on County Constables, met with Mr. Nevison's view. There is not adequate provision made for the remuneration of these officers. The present law in certain cases obliges them to go to much expense in chasing a culprit, and in case they don't catch him, there is no provision made for reimbursement. Not much inducement to carry out the purposes of their office.

Parties coming to Lindsay Fair will make no mistake by calling 3 doors north of Opera House, foot of Kent-St., if they need anything in the photograph line. E. WILLIAMSON, Lindsay's Leading Photographer.
