An Invitation

We give a cordial invitation to our friends who are attending the Lindsay Central Exhibition to make our store their headquarters. We have plenty of room for parcels, wraps, etc.

Little Local Lines

The derailing of a freight on the C.P.R. at Myrtle delayed traffic on the line on Friday morning.

For Monday evening the attraction of the Academy of Music will be "In New York," an interesting and high-class play.

Major Simcoe, the assistant lady editor of the "War Cry" and the Young Soldier, will conduct services at the S. A. this Saturday and Sunday.

The subject for debate at the Young Men's Bible Class at Cambridge street church on Sunday afternoon will be, "Resolved that Moses is a greater a law giver and statesman than as prophet, patriot, general and orator." The affirmative will be taken by Messrs. B. Eyles and W. Stables. Messrs. N. Graham and B. Wane will take the negative.

Peterboro is trying to get into the limelight with a mystery. A woman's complete outer costume, with the exception of the bonnet, was discovered one day last week by a boy at play to be hidden away in a riddle in the A. McDonald lumber yard. No trace of the owner was in the neighborhood, and it is said that the only explanation is a suicide in Seabrook's Bay.

While Mr. James Finnegan and Mrs. Annie Finnegan, of Ops, were driving home from church a couple of weeks ago they met an automobile from town—Mr. Robson's. Mr. Finnegan says the auto was running at a high rate and did not stop when the horse became frightened. It ran into the horse becoming unmanageable and ran away, and Mr. Finnegan received a head shaking up and to be noted in the proceedings, it is at the present time says he is still slowly recovering from the effects of the mishap.

Mr. J. Brown, of West Ops, showed the Watchman-Warder this week an interesting exhibit, which, though he will not show it at the fair, is well worth a visit.

... a report of the fair...

Don't You Come To the Fair Without seeing our selection of Blacks and Blues FOR SUITINGS PRICES RIGHT

ALEX. CLARK

Peterboro Examiner: The Salvation Army Band is being sought after by several places where it has not been heard. Lindsay is trying to secure it for week-end and it will probably visit the northern town on October 5th and 6th.

Review: An Emily farmer in the city to-day with a load of oats had the misfortune to have his wagon broken before they were safely landed at the Quaker Oats Company's factory. A wheel came off on Hunter street, at the other side of the Munro House, which let down the wagon and broke the rear axle in two. He was within a few hundred yards of his destination when the accident occurred.

W. H. Roenick, local agent of the Dominion Piano and Organ Co., regrets that he will be unable to have a stand at the Lindsay Central Exhibition this year, on account of his time being fully taken up with the band and the Academy of Music. He invites exhibition visitors to call at his store any day of the Fair and receive one of the fine sovieners, which the Dominion Piano Company have sent for distribution.

Another bunch of accidents due to the bad condition of the Trent Valley mudway is on hand again this week. Sunken logs came near getting the company of a wood scow on Saturday. The scow was damaged, and much delay and annoyance caused by the hunt of a sunken log. The rocks ran "under" the Str. Alexandra owing to the extreme "deepness" of the water. Yes! Everybody is requested to kindly look pigasant and to praise the blessed name of The Post and the defeated candidate for what they INTEND to do for the canal "this year." Yes!

The Bobcaygeon Fair on Wednesday and Thursday next, Sept. 25th and 26th, promises to be a good one. Proper attention has been given to the securing of good railway and boat connection, and the prospects for a bumper attendance are of the best. The exhibits this year are said to be large and interesting, with prizes good. The Grand Formal March on Thursday, the 26th, headed by the Sylvester Band, and the performance on the platform in the grounds in the afternoon by 250 school children are other interesting features. The trials of speed will also be interesting events.

The Scotch Line, Verulam, correspondent of the Bobcaygeon Independent last week had the following two items: "Through the kindness of Mr. Wm. Warren, of Lindsay, a beautiful Bell piano was placed in the Baptist church to be used during the special meetings which are being held each night this week and next. A large congregation enjoyed the service Sunday night. Mr. Torry is a powerful speaker, and Mrs. Torrie is a sweet singer. The meetings are progressing favorably this week..... Vice-President Wm. Lewis, says the show at Bobcaygeon on Wednesday and Thursday, 25th and 26th, will be larger and grander than ever. The procession headed by the famous Lindsay Band is going to be exceptionally good. So we will all be there."

A despatch from Bobcaygeon is responsible for the information that a Kinnmount gentleman had a peculiar and somewhat exciting experience the other day while paddling back to Kinnmount from the village made famous by the fact that "Mr. Adolph Smith is the gentleman who writes the leading articles for the Independent." The gentleman noticed something that at first glance he took to be a dog, but later believed to be a bear. A closer view confirmed the belief that the swimming animal was a bear. Now, whereas, the Kinnmount gentleman's name is given as Jones; and whereas the bear appeared did not like Jones; and whereas Mr. Jones had no firearms or other suitable weapon; and whereas as one or two swabs with the paddle had no more noticeable effect on the bear than the feeble spooking of our esteemed Quaker street contemporary; therefore, he it resolved, that the story remain as it is, without comment, until such time as further information is to hand or the hide of the bear decorates a back yard fence.

Many military friends and those in the Orange Order and other fraternal societies in which he was actively interested, learned with the deepest regret here last week of the death of Col. J. E. Hellwell at Sterling on Tuesday afternoon. The late Col. Hellwell was born in Lancashire, Eng., about 55 years ago, and was the son of an Anglican clergyman. He was a leading Conservative, a prominent Orangeman, and a member in high standing of the Masonic and Oddfellow lodges. He had passed through all the offices of the Grand Lodge of Ontario, and was well up in Masonry. A widow and three children survive. Deceased was a Northwest veteran and had been wounded at Batoche. He was a barrister by profession. Death was due to heart failure. Col. Hellwell had been ill for some time, but was supposed to be improving. He was widely known and just as widely respected and his death is deeply regretted and much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family. The local lodges of the Orange Order sent a wreath of flowers surmounting a floral crest, as a tribute of their esteem and regards.

The millinery openings are on this week. The showings are excellent and further notice of the elegant and up-to-date displays will be given.

George Ellsworth, a young lad employed at Rider & Kitchen's factory, was kicked by a horse while leading the animal to water. His arm was broken below the elbow.

Lindsay Central Fair—to-day, tomorrow and Saturday. Remember the Three Big Days and don't miss the combined education and amusement; instruction and entertainment; profit and pleasure; on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, this week.

Mr. J. J. Kelso, Superintendent for the Neglected and Dependent Children of Ontario, is sending out a suggestion that it would be well to give wide publicity to. The cause to be aided is one of the most deserving. Mr. Kelso asks all and sundry to remember that children's clothes are always useful to his department. Clothing for both sexes, any article or size, clean and in good repair, will be welcomed and the co-operation of ladies' benevolent organizations is invited. Contributions of such wear might be made to the local Children's Aid Society or direct to Mr. Kelso, Toronto.

Mrs. Stamelen, late of Chicago, makes the interesting announcement elsewhere in this issue, that a new, up-to-date millinery parlor has been opened in Lindsay. Mrs. Stamelen has been with some of the fashionable and exclusive millinery firms in Chicago, and is ready to show the latest and newest in charming head wear for the ladies of this district. Mrs. Stamelen has opened her millinery parlors in Hetger's old stand, east end of Kent street, the store having recently been remodelled and renovated. The "opening" will be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday the three days of the Lindsay Central Fair. The ladies of the town and all visitors to the fair are invited to call and see the latest designs in fall and winter millinery.

The Independent has the following to say about the new dam at Little Hob for which tenders were recently called: Tenders are called by the Department of Canals for the construction of the new dam at Little Hob and they are to be in by the 20th inst. According to the plans the dam is to be of concrete similar in construction to those on the Kirkfield-Simcoe section of the waterway. The site is a little below the present dam and is 500 feet across. The embankment chiefly on the south side of the river is a large part of the work, being over 1,200 feet which will be of clay, replacing the present slab and sawdust construction. The work is to be completed by November of next year, and besides being of service to the village electric plant, will assist very much in ending the leakage of water that causes much complaint from the boat people.

Bobcaygeon Independent: The Manita met with an unusual experience on Monday night, on its trip from Cobocook and Lindsay. Coming through Fenelon lock, the rush of water in the upper locks turns over the blocks of shale that are loose in the bottom and they get against the gate preventing its opening. An hour and a half delay caused the boat to be at Sturgeon Point at 8 o'clock, the hour they were due at Bobcaygeon. As they left the Point a dense fog settled over the lake, and remained till after daylight, Tuesday morning. The boat steamed away, and present-ly ran to shore, then they did not know where they were at, until the fog lifted for a few moments sufficient to show the lights of Sturgeon Point and they knew they were at Pleasant Point. An attempt was made to feel their way along the shore, and slowly they reached the neighborhood of Bureka Point, when the captain decided they would have to anchor. The passengers spent the night as best they could, and the boat arrived in port at seven the next morning.

The appeal from the county valuation was gone on with before Judge Harding last week, and a thorough consideration of the County Valuers' assessment throughout the county will be made. Bobcaygeon, Mariposa, Emily, Omeme, etc., were taken up. In some cases it was pointed out that land had not been consistently assessed at its full value as required by law. Of course, a certain amount of such apparently wrong assessment is unavoidable in every assessment, county or otherwise. In valuation there is always chance and excuse for difference of opinion and different judgments. Whether the Judge will consider it warranted to have a very extensive revision of the valuation of course remains to be seen. One thing is certain, that this inquiry will cost the county a tidy sum, as it bids fair to be a lengthy proceeding. The hearing was adjourned last week until Oct. 2nd, at Fenelon Falls, when it will be proceeded with.

WOODVILLE FAIR

ELDON AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY HAVE A S'CESSFUL SHOW. FINANCIALLY THE BEST YET.

The attendance at the Eldon Fair on Thursday and Friday was large, and the show good, especially in the line of horses, though some of the other classes were not up to the high standard set in some previous years.

The fair, however, was a very enjoyable one. Many from Lindsay and other outside points were in attendance and the financial results were good.

Special interest was taken in the speeding events, and liberal prizes given. The fair was evidently well managed, and deserved full support from the district.

The following are some of the speeding events results:

Salvation Army

Major Simcoe, the assistant Lady Editor of the Salvation Army War Cry and Young Soldier, will visit Lindsay for the first time and conduct very interesting services at the Salvation Army barracks this Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 21st and 22nd. The major has served many years as an Army officer and a real treat is assured for all who attend.

There is another batch of cases for neglect to clean wells to come up before Magistrate Jackson to-day.

Notice is given by all the barbers in Lindsay that after Sept. 19th, the price for haircutting will be raised to 20 cents.

The congregation of Bethel church, Verulam, has decided to thoroughly renovate their church inside, decorating it in an up-to-date fashion.

About twenty members of the local lodge of the I.O.F. joined the recently formed Cambray lodge in attending divine service at the Presbyterian church, Cambray, on Sunday.

The sign for the Public Library has been completed. The letters are of the raised block kind, and the sign is neat, and should be a convenience to strangers, as well as an ornament to the building.

The Lindsay barbers have raised the price of hair cutting to twenty cents. The Lindsay barbers are also said to be thinking of affiliating with the Peterboro Barbers' Union. The Lindsay barbers had better be very careful, or they will be fined $29,000,000, same as the Standard Oil Company.

Owing to ill health Mr. S. J. Petty has found it necessary to sell out his large stock of jewelry, etc. The sale has been going on now for some weeks, and has been very successful. Cost has not been considered in disposing of the goods, as everything has to go, and the general feeling of the large number of customers has been one of satisfaction with the high grade goods secured at low prices—38-1.

Even chilly weather cannot prevent a good attendance at the weekly band concerts, or keep these musical events from being a success. Despite the coolness of the weather on Friday evening there was a big attendance at the park, and the evening's music was appreciated and enjoyed. Mr. Peter Wilson, the vocalist for the evening, was in good form, and his rendition of the popular song "Dreaming," was heartily applauded.

PECULIAR CASE AT UPTER-GROVE

HOTEL KEEPER FINED FOR EXCLUDING GUESTS WHILE THE JUDGE DINED.

On the day of the last sitting of the Division Court at Uptergrove Mr. Jacob Joliffe, of Millington, called at the hotel, and told the proprietor, Mr. McNulty, that he wanted his dinner. He was informed that he would be served in the time that is to say, after His Honor Judge McIntyre, the members of the Bar, and the Court officials had appeased their hunger. It appears that it has been the practice at Uptergrove to exclude the public in this manner from the dining-room. Judge McIntyre having signified his unwillingness to be placed in such a position that he might be compelled to listen to litigants discussing their cases or commenting on his judgments. Mr. Joliffe took offence, as a hungry man might, at the treatment to which he was subjected, and appears to have made complaint to the Inspector of Licenses. This official laid information against McNulty for neglecting to accommodate his guests as required by law; and the case was heard before Mr. Philip McEwen and Mr. Michael O'Donnell, J.P.; the result being a conviction and fine of $20. Mr. J. J. Joliffe, of Cambridge, appeared for the Inspector, and Mr. John Mulcahy, of Orillia, for the defendant, McNulty. An appeal is talked of.

It appears that the practice of excluding the public from the dining-room of the only hotel in the village while the judge and the lawyers dine has for a considerable time been a sore subject with persons having any business at Uptergrove on court day, and naturally the present case has aroused much interest.
