WM. THORNBURY,

of the Township of Ops, County Mariposa Township Gala Fair Held at Oakwood

Oakwood, Sept. 28.-The sixtyfirst annual fall fair of the Mariposa Agricultural Society was held in the pretty village of Oakwood on Tuesday afternoon and was a decided success. The weather was that could be desired, the bright sunshine making the day an ideal for a fall fair. During the afternoon heavy clouds darkened the sky, led, but such was not the case, as the sun shone brightly again.

That the fair was the best in the history of the society was the general opinion of the large.crowd present. Everything went well and there was not a hitch in the entire proceedings, which speaks well for the directors, officers and judges.

PROSPEROUS TOWNSHIP.

Mariposa township is known Lot 23 and 24, con. 13, Mariposa, the banner township of the County 117 acres, nearly all tillable land, of Victoria and it richly deserves the stock farm. In good locality, half be observed everywhere. The far-

NO HORSE-RACING.

Following the example of the Woodville fair the directors decided to do away with horse-racing, with the exception of a farmer's race, which has been popular in Oakwood for years. Instead of open horse- ty." racing a large baseball tournament was held and the experiment proved a success in every way. CROWDED COURT.

The courtroom was crowded from one o'clock when the court opened until the close. The grand jury as enumerated yesterday were all present and, after receiving instructions of a general nature from His Lordship, they retired. In the course of an hour the jury returned and Mr John Suggitt, the foreman, announced the finding of a true bill.

HUNTER AT EASE.

Hunter did not appear to notice anyone present as he was led into the court room, handcuffed, by Constable Minthorne. He waited nonchalantly until the iron cuffs were taken off his wrists and then stepped into the prisoner's box. Clerk Sootheran read the charge of murder against him, and in a high-toned voice Hunter answered "Not Guil-

EPILEPTIC RELATIVES.

Mr. Johnson stated that it had come to his knowledge that two relations of Hunter's had been in the Mimico asylum. One cousin has died there, being afflicted with opilepsy and another cousin is in that institution at present suffering with the same trouble.

HUNTER'S MIND.

Mr. Stewart's deposition contained the information that up to the beginning of the present month Hunter's mind was not n such a dition that he could direct his fairs like an ordinary individual. > Mr. Blackstock submitted that oufficient time had been allowed to permit the defence to gather all the information necessary. He thought delay would be unnecessary.

COMMENTS ON DEFENCE.

His Lordship expressed the opinion that an adjournment would favor the defence and might be prejudical to the prosecution, but would probably be in the interest of justice. Referring to the defence, based upon epileptic fits while the accused was at a tender age, would not be a defence that would exculpate the prisoner, unless it could be shown The lawyers defending Hunter, who that the accused was under the inis charged with the murder of fluence at the time. FOUR TEAMS PRESENT.

Four of the strongest teams in the county, and the same four that battled for supremacy at Woodville, were present and played the fastest kind of ball. Valentia, champions of the Mariposa League, carried off the honors and the fifteen dollars. They played good consistent ball and richly deserve the victory. HARTLEY AND CRESSWELL.

The draw was made at two o'clock The Hartley boys were always ahead after the first innings. In the fourth innings they batted out eight runs which won the game. Cresswell played a good uphill game and several times looked as if they would tie the score but they could not get the necessary hit. Harry Keslick, the star "kid" twirler, was not as effective as on former occasions, nor was he accorded the best of support by his infield. Outside of the fatal fourth innings, however, he pitched good ball, and fanned six men. "Andy" Dixon, the reliable Cresswell catcher, played a good game and scored most of the runs. Hartley used two pitchers, McKerrall and McFadyen. and they both pitched good ball, Me-Kerrall being the most effective. The Hartley boys hit the ball hard and their superior base-running won for them the game. They have no particular stars, but they all play good ball. Thornbury brothers are very fast on bases and each had several stolen bases to their credit. The line-up:
