

THE FORMULA OF "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Is On The Outside Of Every Box For All The World To See

Every user of "Fruit-a-tives" knows exactly what is being taken. The formula of this famous fruit medicine is printed plainly on the outside of every box. We have stated many times—and now state clearly—that "Fruit-a-tives" is made of the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes, with valuable heart and nerve tonics and antiseptics.

Everyone knows that fruit juice is healthful—but perhaps some do not understand why this is true.

Fruit juice consists of about 91% water, 8% of sweet principle, and 1% of a bitter substance. It is the quantity of bitter principle in fruit that gives the fruit value as a medicine. An eminent physician of Ottawa, after years of experimenting, found a method of increasing the bitter principle in fruit juice, thus increasing the medicinal or curative qualities.

The juices are first extracted from fresh, ripe oranges, apples, figs and prunes. By a secret process, some of the sweet atoms are replaced by the bitter principle. Then tonics and antiseptics are added, and the whole made into tablets, now known far and wide as "Fruit-a-tives."

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world that is made of fruit juices, and is one of the few remedies that have let their composition be known from their introduction to the public.

"Fruit-a-tives" is nature's stimulant for the liver, bowels, kidneys and skin. In cases of obstinate Constipation, Liver Trouble, Indigestion, Backache, Rheumatism, Headaches and Impure Blood, this wonderful fruit medicine cures when everything else fails.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold everywhere at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box, 25c., or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

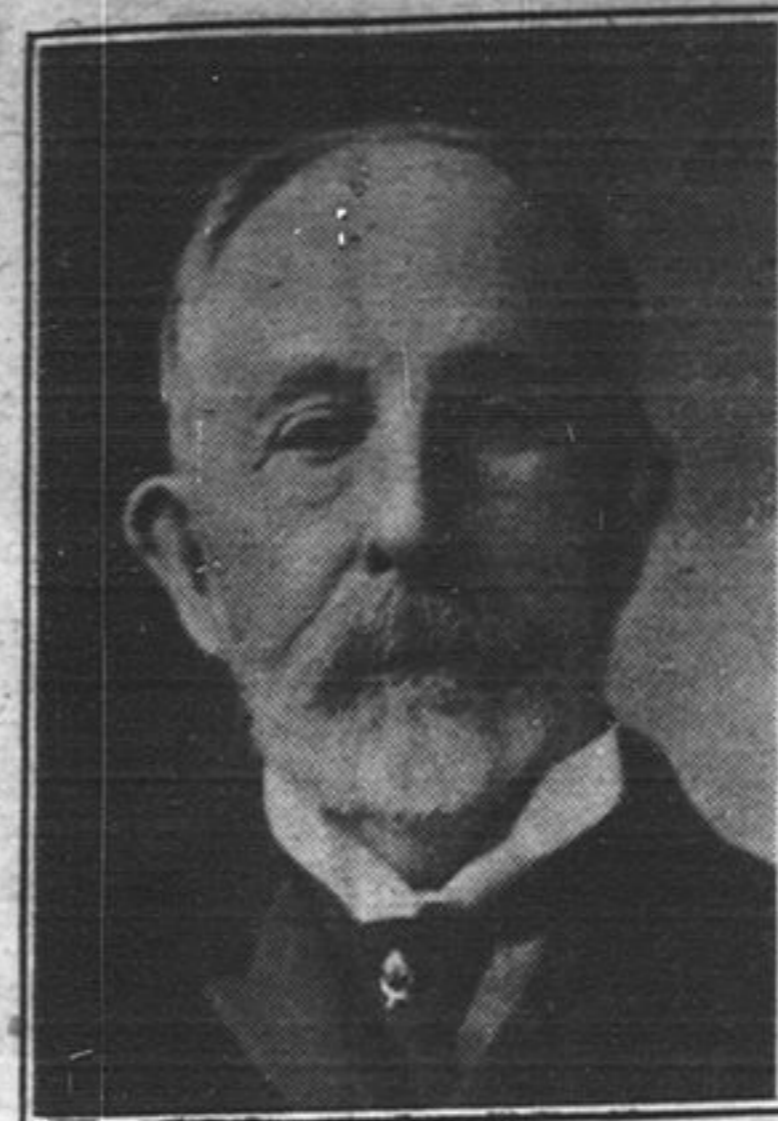

Joseph Cooper Passes Away—Interred on Tuesday

Lindsay lost one of its most prominent and widely esteemed citizens early on Monday in the passing of Joseph Cooper at his residence, corner Victoria-ave. and Francis-st. Mr. Cooper was in his 84th year and had enjoyed good health up till a few weeks ago when he was compelled to take his bed. Death resulted from natural causes following his advanced age.

The deceased gentleman has been a highly respected resident of the town of Lindsay for forty-four years, during which time the ratepayers recognizing his business capacity and strictly honorable methods, had placed him in many positions of honor and trust in the town's service. However, within the last two decades Mr. Cooper retired from active civic duties, although he at all times was conversant with the affairs of the town and kept in close touch with various civic matters. Mr. Cooper was a member of the town council for a number of years, giving the ratepayers good, honest service under the regimes of Mayors George Dormer and David Brown. Afterwards he was the representative of the town at the county council, first as deputy-reeve and then as reeve. He was a faithful and attentive member of the Board of Education under the chairmanship of Mr. William Grace, and the deceased in all the public enterprises with which he was connected by his strict integrity and devotion to the affairs under his charge gained the esteem and regard of his fellow citizens, who held the highest degree of confidence in his business ability. He was a church worker and a valuable and useful citizen, and when the news of his death was heard on the streets this morning it was a general comment, "He was a good citizen, active and useful in his time,—a good Christian citizen," than which no higher tribute can be paid.

Being the founder of the Victoria Warder and also of the Watchman, Mr. Cooper's demise is sincerely regretted and deplored by the proprietor of this paper and the members of the staff in general. As a newspaper man he did good service for Canada, being honest in his con-some time foreman for William Lyon Mackenzie, in printing his Message. In a recent article written by Mr. Cooper he said: "There were few more independent, patriotic or honest politicians to be found in those days, or I may say since, than Mr. Mackenzie, and few worked harder in the business. There were many occasions when the writer had to remain in his sanctum to keep him awake while he was reading proofs, his drowsiness being attributed to the late hours which he spent compiling the history of his chequered life."

In 1856 the late Mr. Cooper came to Omeme, where in company with one Joseph Twell, he established the Metcalf Warder. The partnership lasted but a short time, and when Mr. Twell withdrew Mr. Cooper continued the paper. When the name of the village was changed it became the Omeme Warder, and in the year 1866 was removed to Lindsay, and was again changed to the Victoria Warder; this from the very outset proved a successful undertaking. Mr. Cooper sold the Warder to Mr. Edward Flood, who after being proprietor for a short time sold to Col. Sam. Hughes, M.P. Mr. Cooper retired from active work for about five years and then he established the Lindsay Watchman, which paper he conducted for several years. He then sold the Watchman to the late George Lytle, who later on also bought the Warder and the two papers became one.

For the last fifteen years the deceased gentleman has been working for his son-in-law, Mr. J. D. Flavell, in the office of the Flavell Milling Co., and he was active in business affairs right up until a few weeks previous to his death.

While essentially a public man, Mr. Cooper's activities were not confined to secular circles, but he was one of the most influential Methodist laymen in the Cambridge-st. Methodist church, and was the only surviving trustee of this church when it was erected. Only about half a dozen members of the church at the present time were members at the time when Mr. Cooper first became identified with the same edifice.

An interesting incident in regard to the life of the deceased is told as follows: When he first moved to Lindsay in the year 1866 from Omeme there was no railway service in the evening and Mr. Cooper was in the habit of walking to his home in Omeme every night and back again the following morning to his work.

The late Mr. Cooper was one of the oldest Free Masons in the town and was also an Orangeman. In politics he was of course, a staunch Conservative, a life-long follower of the Tory cause, and as such he did valiant work for his party.

Even in the athletic field Joseph Cooper was quite active and up to within a few weeks ago was wont to ride his bicycle and play a good game of golf. He was also a lover of the curling game about ten years ago. The beautiful flowers also claimed his attention and he was a lover of nature's beauties. He was a member of the Horticultural Society and enjoyed spending an hour or two in his splendid garden at the family residence. When he first moved to Lindsay he lived on Peel-st., building the family residence on Victoria-ave., about forty years ago.

His domestic relations were of the happiest. He was married to his wife, Jane Baird, in 1852, who predeceased him some years ago. She was of a county Mayo, Irish family, and also a native of Killala. They first met at Toronto, where they were married. One son, Mr. David Havelock Cooper, barrister, and assistant manager of the National Trust Co., Winnipeg, and two daughters, Mrs. J. D. Flavell and Miss Eliza Cooper, both of Lindsay, survive him. The latter was the faithful nurse of her mother during an illness of several years, and housekeeper for her father many more. Two sisters also survive, Mrs. Ivor and Miss Jane Cooper, Montreal.

Short in stature, but broad in intellect, the late Mr. Cooper was a familiar figure in Lindsay. His quiet and unassuming manner won for him a host of friends both in town and country; on the athletic field he was also wont to demonstrate his ability, and no matter where he was his fairness, his up-

Her Baby Nearly Died. WAS TAKEN SICK WITH Dysentery.

Mrs. Chas. Farrell, Oakland, Man., writes:—"My dear baby was taken sick last fall, and we got the doctor and he said she had dysentery. She nearly died with it, but two or three doses of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry completely cured her.

"My two little boys got a bad case of diarrhoea and two doses made a wonderful change and they were completely cured also. I would not be without such a grand medicine as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry if it were twice the price, as I consider it a wonderful medicine, and I cannot recommend it too highly."

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for over sixty-five years, so you are not experimenting when you use this old and tried remedy.

Do not accept any of the many substitutes for this sterling medicine, but ask for Dr. Fowler's and insist on getting what you ask for. Price 35 cents.

HONEST CLOTHES

EVERY THREAD WOOL

Wool at this store means wool. Remember all wool suits do not grow in the back yard of "Mr. Job Lots" at $6.98 a suit.

Cotton grows in Alabama and the country's shoddy mills are always busy.

You will be sure to get your share of the product, sir, if you chase up "Bargain Sales" or "Job Lot Sales"—sales where they claim to sell "$20 suits for $6.98."

We've built up our reputation for selling good clothes, the best of clothes, by giving a dollar's worth of value for a dollar, and saying "money back if you want it."

There are no clothes disappointments here.

Suits from $10.00 to $18.00.
Overcoats from $12.50 to $17.00.

MAGISTRATE CURED OF PILES & ECZEMA

One of the latest prominent gentlemen to speak highly of Zam-Buk's favour is Mr. C. E. Sanford of Weston, King's Co., N.S. Mr. Sanford is a Justice of the Peace for the County, and a member of the Board of School Commissioners. He is also Deacon of the Baptist Church in Berwick. Indeed it would be difficult to find a man more widely known and more highly respected. Here is his opinion of Zam-Buk. He says:—

"I never used anything that gave me such satisfaction as Zam-Buk. I had a patch of Eczema on my ankle which had been there for over 20 years. Sometimes also the disease would break out on my shoulders. I had applied various ointments and tried all sorts of things to obtain a cure, but in vain. Zam-Buk, unlike everything else I had tried, proved highly satisfactory and cured the ailment."

"I have also used Zam-Buk for itching piles, and it has cured them completely also. I take comfort in helping my brother men, and if the publication of my opinion of the healing value of Zam-Buk will lead other sufferers to try it, I should be glad. For the relief of suffering caused by Piles or Skin Diseases I know of nothing to equal Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk cures ulcers, abscesses, blood-poison, ring-worm, festering or running sores, bad leg, varicose ulcers, salt rheum, prairie itch, cuts, burns, bruises, baby's sores, etc. Purely herbal, 50c box, drugists and stores. Refuse imitations.

DEATH OF JOSEPH COOPER

rightness, his courtesy were always in evidence. He had a passion for work, and when engaged in journalistic work he was ever zealous, the result being that he built up not only a large circulation for his paper but also a splendid reputation. He was earnest and conscientious in his opinions and charitable in his judgment of others. The late gentleman was one of whom it can be said, "It was a pleasure to meet him"; he was pleasant and affable, and there was an unusual purity of contour and delicacy of chiselling in his visage. In conversation and in private life he was modest and retiring. He had the usual common school education, but he had to go into the world as soon as he was able to earn his livelihood, so that the best part of his education was gained in what Elbert Hubbard describes as "the University of Hard Knocks."

Great factors in Mr. Cooper's success were his geniality, long experience and constant striving to reach the highest attainable. His fair and honest methods in dealing secured and retained the fullest confidence of the public. A fitting closing eulogy to the above obituary is furnished as follows in a letter received from one of his apprentices, Mr. George Hughes Hale, editor of the Orillia Packet, Orillia, Ont., who says: "Mr. Cooper was a useful resident, earnest and conscientious in his opinions, genial, hospitable and charitable in his judgment of others. He made few enemies and many firm friends. He forgot injuries but never forgot a favor."
