WILL HAVE NO OVERDRAFT

Mayor Walters Will Keep the Expenditure Within the Revenue

REGULAR MEETING MONDAY NIGHT—COLLECTOR NICOLE RE-APPOINTED—VARIOUS LETTERS.—MR. BIGELOW SCORED—GRANOLITHIC CONTRACT—THE DUMP GROUND SOLD—TIME OF ASSESSMENT CHANGED.

Council held its regular meeting on Monday night. Aldermen Lennon and Horn were absent. At no period of the session did anything arise to ruffle the aldermanic dignity if we may except a slight tempest that smote the soul of the Crandella man. Even that was of much less than usual violence and of brief duration, and the lucky number were able to betake themselves to post-sessional refreshments in the best of humor.

THE CORRESPONDENTS. Solicitor Hopkins wrote saying that Messrs. Rider and Kitchener have asked for the $2,000 bonus according to agreement. They had handed him the mortgage on their property. There was not more than $4,000 of a previous mortgage. The insurance had not yet been arranged. Finance with power to act.

The solicitor also wrote that the contractor was going on with the granolithic on the south side of Kent-st. although no contract had been signed. He pointed out that there was grave danger of legal trouble if that was allowed.

Ald. Jackson—That is a most important matter. The contract should be signed at once or the work stopped.

Ald. Sootheran—I told the contractor he could not go on without signing and I believe it will be done at once.

Ald. Crandell moved that the mayor be empowered to have the contractor executed but under the startled gaze of his colleagues at such a sanguinary proposition he explained that it was the contract he desired to have executed. With this explanation the motion carried.

Mr. J. A. Lang wrote asking that when the granolithic is laid in front of Mr. Arch. Campbell's store an iron door be substituted for the present trap-door there.—Board of Works.

Thos. Carroll has $1500 borrowed from the town at six per cent. He said he would keep it for five years longer if he could get it at five per cent.—Finance with power to act.

Constable Reeves explained that he has had no holidays and would be glad of leave of absence for two weeks after the 30th inst.—Police with power to act.

Engineer Ashbridge's report on the proposed granolithic walk beside T. McConnell's hotel said that it was desirable but there should be some other than the ordinary way of paying for it. A court of revision and other expenses would make it a costly work.—Board of Works.

Auditor Eagleson said that the complicated nature of his work and its increased amount made it worth more money. He would do some additional duties if the salary were raised to $300.—Finance.

Chief Bell asked for a police uniform winter overcoat.—Police.

Jas. Boxall wrote that the trustees of the Methodist church wanted a drain laid from that building to the Bond-st. sewer.—Board of Works with power to act.

J. O'Connell complained of the state of the waterways near his house on Jordan-st.—Board of Works.

Geo. Bryans offered $50 for the dumping ground.—Laid on table.

John Begley of Russell-st. asked permission to pile building material on the boulevard.

This brought to Capt. Crandell's mind the recent woes of his fellow-citizens of the east ward, and he spoke as follows: We have no plan to give satisfaction in this matter. We have no system. See what we have suffered in the east ward. Just to see how people were annoyed while that elevator was building. There was no thoroughfare; they had to take to the middle of the street and get mired. The people murmured to me. What could I do? I wasn't the chairman of the Board of Works. Why don't we do like enlightened places and Toronto do—put down planks. I hope it won't go on any longer. I wouldn't abuse my great grandfather the way we have been.

Ald. Jackson—I am surprised that Capt. Crandell should try to blame anybody. When I see anything wrong I think it my duty to talk it over with the council.

Ald. Crandell—You didn't make me chairman of any committee and I am not going to do the work of one. I want to nail it where it belongs.

At this moment the clerk informed the council that by-law 266 governed all such cases, and Mr. Begley's request was granted subject to that statute.

Edward Murphy wrote that he intends selling some lots of his park and again offered the whole park to the town.

Ald. Crandell moved that the letter go to the Finance Committee but got no second. This caused him to opine that there must be a snake in the grass somewhere.

Mr. F. K. Begbie wrote about the charge for water used by the contractors.

Messrs. Rider and Kitchener asked for the $2000 bonus.—Finance.

Engineer Ashbridge would like to have $25 commission due.

A number of accounts went to their committees.

The clerk announced that 165 had voted for the recent $20,000 by-law and 249 against it, while the $7000 one got 156 for and 254 against it.

The market clerk contributed $65 95 last month and the chief constable $133.15.

Auditor Eagleson said that since there was only one day between the end of last month and the meeting of council he had not had time to complete his report.

Commissioner Pilkie tendered his report, but it did not contain the amounts expended in each department of the public works, and this together with the absence of the auditor's report led the mayor to express his displeasure. He declared that he could not accept the excuse of the auditor. He should have presented at least an approximate report. He would not tolerate an overdraft in any department, and it was necessary for council to know how the expenditures and appropriations compared.

MR. BIGELOW THANKED

His worship drew attention to a letter of Mr. O. Bigelow's appearing in the Evening Post of that date, in which it was stated that granolithic laid now would not dry in time to escape the frost. The mayor said: Mr. Bigelow is not an authority on this matter. We are dealing with practical men and we can assure the public that the granolithic now being put down is quite safe from frost. Men who are not practical should not be allowed to influence the public either directly or indirectly. When the frost is likely to come we shall stop. The engineer should be our guide. The last communication of Mr. Bigelow regarding this council was far from the language of a gentleman. If he is qualified to speak of such things let him have enough public spirit to take his place in this council and bear part of the responsibility. I should be glad to step down and let him have a place at the wheel. He has taken steps to oppose every measure proposed by this council in the way of public improvement. It is a pity that he should try to prejudice the public mind on a subject of which he knows nothing.

A PETITION

Ald. Sootheran read a petition signed by Jos. Cooper, W. Woods, Ald. Jackson and others asking for a sanitary sewer along Francis-st. from the county buildings to Mr. Woods' residence.—Referred to the engineer.

The chairman of finance read a report dealing with the new rate of taxation and kindred matters.

In the absence of Ald. Lennon, acting chairman Jackson read the report of the Town Property committee. It told how the sewer pump had been rented to Mr. Wm. Walters for 75 cents a day; three offers of $30, $35, and $37 had been made for the dump ground; the request of Rider and Kitchener for fire protection had been granted; Rathbun's similar request was held over; Mr. Robbins of the underwriters had been told of the defeat of the by-law for a fire hall and the proposed improvement.

The Board of Works report said that W. B. Fee's complaint about the condition of Bond-st. east led to no action; that the request of Mr. Ross and others for a permanent lane at the rear of buildings east of the Dominion bank be referred to the engineer; that Robert Sylvester's request for a strip of the avenue be held over; Thos. McConnell would pay half of the cost of a cement walk east of his hotel; that John McDonald was allowed to build solid cement steps in front of two of his stores.

BY-LAWS

A by-law to appoint a tax-collector for 1899 was read three times. Mr. Peter Nicholle is still the publican, and he will get $300. Another by-law that already had one reading was pushed through and sealed. It fixed the time for the assessor to begin his work as July and to finish as September.

Crandell—Sootheran—That Mr. Bryan's offer of $50 for the dump ground be accepted.—Carried.

Crandell—Sootheran—That the sidewalk be re-built leading to Mrs. Powers' residence on Durham-st.—Carried. Council adjourned.

Kinnmount Fall Fair

Owing to the very unfavorable condition of the weather, the crowd was not as large as expected, although the number of entries and the quality of exhibits showed a very marked improvement over last year. In draught and general purpose horses the competition was keen. In roadsters the judges had a very critical task in awarding the prize between the fine carriage teams of Messrs Scott and Christopher. Mr. Galloway of Miner's Bay, Lutterworth, made a creditable showing in Durham cattle. Mr. Galloway was also a large exhibitor in grain, roots and dairy produce. In farm implements carriages and cutters Mr. John T. Craig was to the front. Mr. Chas. E. Cole exhibited some fine specimens of light and heavy harness. In sheep and hogs Mr. J. Blanchard swept the boards. The directors are to be congratulated on the success of their exhibition.

Church Notes.

—Services of an unusual character were conducted at the Cambridge st. Methodist church on Sunday. They had reference to the Twentieth Century Fund. In the morning His Honor Judge Dean delivered addresses on "The Early Days of Methodism," and in the evening a song service was held. In place of the usual sermon was delivered by Messrs. J. D. Fiavelle and R. J. McLaughlin. The pastor was present at both services and the congregations were large.

—The congregations were large and appreciative at St. Andrew's church on Sunday. The interior decorations have been completed and the handsome new pipe organ was used for the first time. St. Andrew's is now among the most beautiful places of worship in the towns of the province. At the morning service Dr. Nugent, who shortly leaves as a medical missionary to India, said farewell. His remarks were listened to with great interest and sympathy. In the afternoon a mass meeting of the Sunday school was held and the pastor delivered an able address. At night the pastor preached on "Music." His text was part of the 150th Psalm, in which the people are exhorted to praise God on various musical instruments, among them the organ. Mr. Macmillan's remarks contained the following points: Music is the religious art. Sculpture and painting have tended to idolatry, hence the Israelites were forbidden to make the likeness of anything. The painter and sculptor have their models in nature but there is no music in nature. It has to be a pure creation of man's genius and is for that reason the more suitable as a means of devotion. What is sacred music? Some think all music is irreligious, others that all music is equally religious. Neither is right. Music is the language of the emotions, and like literature may arouse trifling or evil emotions. It is only that which stirs the better nature that is sacred music and to have its proper effect it must have no ill association either in the mind or surroundings of the listener. A masterly sermon closed with words of hearty appreciation of the choir's work and the declaration that all the music and singing of that church are to be for the praise of God and not the entertainment of men.

—The annual harvest home services of St. Paul's church were held on Sunday last. The beautiful church was appropriately decorated with grains and autumn fruits. Large congregations were in attendance and engaged heartily in the services. In the morning Rev. Curate Macnamara preached. His text was in the third verse of the ninth chapter of Isaiah's prophecy. "They joy before thee according to the joy in harvest." The outline of an admirable sermon on these words was as follows: Celebrations of this sort are not of modern origin; the Jews held three great festivals. The first was the Passover, in the spring commemorating the nation's birthday and forecasting the Paschal Lamb, its Redeemer. The second event was the Pentecost or Feast of Weeks at the beginning of harvest and the third the Feast of Tabernacles or harvest home. The present service combines the ideas of the two latter feasts for it has regard to both seed-time and harvest. As the first fruits were demanded for the Feast of Weeks so the first of our time and produce should be dedicated to God. Harvest joy has its cause in hopes realized, labors repaid, rest attained, promises fulfilled. Each of these was skillfully expanded with regard to the husbandman. The sermon closed with an application of the same idea to the great harvest at the close of life, and the audience was earnestly entreated to so live that their dissolution might be attended with harvest joy and a safe arrival in the garner of God. The anthem at the morning service was "Oh Lord how manifold." Miss Russell taking the solo. Mrs. G. H. Hopkins sang the Ave Maria in a very effective manner. Rural Dean Marsh preached at night. The anthem was "Ye shall dwell in the Land." Mrs. Hopkins and Mr. Bethune taking the solos. "A Dream of Paradise" was sung beautifully by Miss Russell accompanied on the violin by Mr. Pease. Miss Leary directed the musical exercises and presided at the organ in her usual capable fashion.
