The Watchman-Warder

THURSDAY, OCT. 5th, 1899.

THE LOCAL BUDGET.

HAPPENINGS ABOUT TOWN IN BRIEF.

Little Local Lines

The steamer Crandella has made her trip and is now on the "ways."

Mr. Thos. Rutherford, contractor of Peterboro, was in town on Monday purchasing lumber.

Marriage licenses issued by Mr. Thos. Beall at his residence, Albert-st., also at W. Beall's store, Kent-st.—5 tf.

Graham's stock of Furnishings is up to date. West of Benson House, Lindsay.

Dr. G. Sterling Ryerson of Toronto will visit the Denson house, Lindsay, for consultation in all affections of eye, ear, nose and throat, on Saturday, Oct. 14th.—39 2.

The Watchman-Warder and Toronto Sun to Dec. 30th, 1899—fifteen months—for one dollar to new subscribers.

A young lad named York was kicked by a colt on Thursday. Mr. S. Bagshaw is leading the animal from the fair grounds, Fenelon Falls, when the boy tried to pass behind it, with the result that he was knocked insensible.

This is a growing time with the Watchman-Warder. Thirty-three new subscribers have been added to our list in the last three weeks without solicitation. A 12-page up-to-date local paper for a year in advance is a bargain everyone appreciates.

McSweeney & Anderson, as a law firm, having dissolved, we are glad to know that Mr. Anderson will continue the practice at the offices of the firm. Mr. Anderson's attentiveness to business, coupled with his past success, will, we are confident, ensure for him a large share of the law business of the county.

Even T. DeWitt Talmage can say a noble thing occasionally. For example: "The newspaper whose columns overflow with advertisements of business men has the influence in attracting attention to things up to town than any other agency can be employed. People go where the news is business. Capital and labour go where there is an enterprising community. Power on earth is so strong to build up a town as a newspaper well patronised, its power should be appreciated."

The fourth addition of the very handy pamphlet "The Ontario Game and Hunting Laws" has reached us. It contains in concise form all the information necessary to guide the up-to-date sportsman in the narrow way of law observance in pursuing his craft. The compiler, A. H. O'Brien, M.A., barrister of Toronto, does the sporting world a great service by his little publication. Price 25 cents.

Our write-up last week of the outside exhibit at the Central Fair mention was made of the display made by the Irwin Pump Works. This firm will open out for several days in the premises first door west of Maunders' hotel, and already a number of first class orders have been booked. The manager, Mr. H. Irwin, is well and favorably known in this district, having been doing business here for years. The firm will supply all wood pumps of all kinds, and give special attention to deep wells. They are also agents for the famous Brantford Windmills, to which the attention of the public is directed. Repairs of all kinds on pumps and windmills.

They will carry a full line of material for Battenburg and point laces. Prices will be found right. The ladies of Lindsay and district are invited to call and inspect.

—Mr. Thos. Calvert of Reboro draws the leather over about as fine a bit of horseflesh as can be located in this province. The animal is a fine bay mare 5 years old of Sunshine stock. To a novice she is a beauty and judges at the fairs agree, for besides taking first here and at Peterboro as a carriage beast she won the silver medal in an open competition against ten rivals from all classes.

—The annual treat that lovers of high-class minstrelsy look forward to will be presented in the Academy of Music on Tuesday evening next. The Guy Brothers are booked for that occasion. They are favorites all and everywhere. Their show is the climax of such entertainments. With wit, music and minstrel specialties of the highest order, they come to provide the best three hours pastime of the season. Those who do not buy their tickets early will not get in.

—While returning from Oakwood one evening this week on his wheel one of our young business men collided with an outgoing bicyclist on Victoria-ave., near Bond-st., with disastrous results. Both wheelmen were dismounted, the young man of business alighting in the ditch, while his opponent landed in a heap on the track. Both wheels were badly wrecked. As a train was coming up the avenue at the time, and only a few rods distant, the accident came near being attended with fatal results.

—Our recent recital of the various pea pulling, turnip-hoeing and wood-cutting performance of Mr. Everson, of Dunford, has led a correspondent of that section to deliver himself as follows: "That article of yours about Everson's work is all nonsense. I have seen him hoe turnips and he had to set up a stake to tell where he left off and I know for a fact that anyone watching him has to get a line on some object to tell whether he was moving or not. With regard to pulling peas a neighbor told me that if he had peas to pull he would either get a man or a herd of pigs to do the job and not Mr. Everson. He tramps out more peas than he pulls it is a well-known fact down here that he is no chopper for he can't hit twice in a place and as a result cuts wood all lengths so that it can't be used in any stove. Hoping that no one will be misled by your former article I am yours etc."

The new Elevator

A look through Mr. P. J. Hurley's new grain elevator impresses one with the magnitude and convenience of the modern grain-storing structure. Up the centre clear to the little cupola on the top there goes a winding stair. Having made the lung-testing ascent one lands on a small square platform flanked on all sides by great patches of darkness. In reply to a question one is informed that these are the bins, and it dawns upon him that a bin that goes down 35 feet is quite a different receptacle from the thing of the same name in the old farm granary where he used to turn soursaults in the oats. And for fear he may accidentally repeat that performance in one of these bins he gets a firmer hold on the friendly centre post and takes for granted the manager's remarks about those black caverns without personal investigation. There are eighteen of these bins in Mr. Hurley's elevator, and they are some eight feet square. So complete is the system of spouts and elevating machinery that a man can stand on the ground floor and by a small wheel determine which bin the load of grain shall enter, although the spout is at the top of the building. An eight h. p. motor supplies the power. The procession of teams has already begun, and Foreman Naylor is getting to be a busy man.

Mariposa Fall Fair

The attendance at the Mariposa fair yesterday was somewhat below the average owing to the unfavorable weather. In other respects the fair was fully up to its old time reputation. The speeding events were hotly contested and resulted in straight heats. The open race was won by Wallace's Robt. Wallace, Gordon's Letto 2nd, and Hill's Birdie C. 3rd. The green race was won by Gordon's Maud, Thorndikes Billie L. 2nd, and R. Dobles Nellie B. 3rd. Henry Carpenter won the township bicycle race in good form, and looked a winner in the open race when an unfortunate accident left him out of it. W. Robinson won, with H. Sidde 2nd.

CAREW—BEATTY
Rev. C. M. Carew, once a student at the Collegiate Institute here and a young man who made many friends during that time, was married on the 20th of last month to Miss Olive Beatty, youngest daughter of Mr. J. Beatty of Omemee. The ceremony was performed by Revs. C. L. Thompson and E. Roberts. Mr. Carew is now pastor of the Baptist church at Cambellford and is very popular with the people of that thriving village. We extend heartiest congratulations to Mr. Carew, and wish him and his accomplished wife many years of happiness.

CALDER—JAMES

An interesting ceremony was held in Knox church, Beaverton, on Wednesday the 25th of September, when Mr. J. Richard James and Miss Kate Calder were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Calder of Alexandria, Man., Rev. R. P. McKay, secretary of foreign missions, and Rev. Mr. Macdonald of Beaverton. The groom is a missionary to Calcutta, India and his bride has been active in missionary work. Mr. D. Calder, brother of the bride, was groomsmen, while her sister and cousin were bridesmaids. The newly-married couple left on their way to India by the evening train.

MARCELLUS—RODGERS

Yesterday a pretty wedding took place in the Cambridge-st. Methodist church when Miss Blanche, youngest daughter of the late Rev. John A. Rogers, Lindsay, and Dr. Marcellus of Finch, were united in marriage by Rev. Thos. Manning. The bride, who was handsomely dressed in cream silk, bridal veil, orange blossoms, carrying a bouquet of white roses, entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Fred Rogers, while a wedding march was played by Mr. Morris, the organist of the church. The bridesmaid was Miss Ada Dundas of Toronto, Mr. Wm. Dundas and Mr. Howard Porter being ushers. The church was handsomely decorated with flowers, ferns, etc., by a few of the young lady friends of the bride. After the ceremony the bride and party returned to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly, Cambridge-st., where a reception was held. Dr. and Mrs. Marcellus left by the evening train for Toronto, where they will spend a few days previous to returning to South Finch, where they will reside. The many beautiful presents to the bride showing the high esteem in which she is held by her many friends. The Watchman-Warder wishes the young couple the usual congratulations.

FLACK—BROWN.

The residence of Mr. Jos. Brown, William-st., south, was the scene of a very pretty home wedding yesterday afternoon at 3.15 o'clock, when his daughter Miss Anna Mae was united in the bonds of holy wedlock to Mr. Alexander Flack. The bride looked very pretty in a travelling suit of brown ladies' cloth, opening over a white silk blouse, trimmed with chiffon and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Ida Brown, attired in a costume of green ladies' cloth, trimmed with white satin and velvet, and carried a bouquet of roses and carnations. The pretty little maid of honor, Miss Retta Brown, was gowned in white silk and fulfilled her duties admirably. Mr. Will Crawford supported the groom. The "tie that binds" was deftly made by Rev. Thos. Manning, B.A., in the presence of fully one hundred invited guests. The wedding march was played by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dennison on the violin and organ. The house decorations were very pretty, the rooms being decorated with palms, smilax and flowers of all descriptions. After the ceremony all sat down to a sumptuous repast. The presents received by the bride were unusually costly, numerous and very appropriate, many coming from friends at Chicago, Toronto, Oakwood, Bowmanville and Peterboro. St. Catharines, Peterboro and elsewhere. Mr. and Mrs. Flack left on the evening train for St. Catharines and Buffalo followed by the best wishes of a host of friends. in which the Watchman-Warder joins.

MOORE—BEACOCK.

On Wednesday, Sept. 27th, at the residence of Mr. William John Beacock, Cartwright township, his eldest daughter Edith Marguerite was united by marriage to Mr. John Moore of West Ops. The interior of the house was handsomely decorated with flowers. The ceremony took place on the terrace close to the steps leading down from the front door, while the invited guests occupied the lawn facing the bridal party. The bridal dress was white brocaded organdy, trimmed with silk lace and chiffon. Precisely at 3 p.m. the bride leaning on the arm of her father and carrying a beautiful bouquet of white roses took her position beside the groom. She was attended by her sister Miss Minnie, dressed in white brocaded organdy trimmed with lace and ribbon and carrying a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was attended by Mr. F. Brass of Oakwood. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. E. Howard, pastor of the Methodist church, Blackstock. After congratulations the company repaired to the spacious dining room, where a plentiful repast was served to more than one hundred guests. On account of the unseasonable weather on the previous day quite a large number failed to be present, but representatives from London, Toronto, Port Perry, Lindsay, West Ops, Woodville, Oakwood, Bowmanville and Peterboro were present. The presents were a numerous, elegant and costly collection. Mr. and Mrs. Moore left by the 7 p.m. train for Montreal and eastern points. The bride's travelling dress was navy blue with white trimmings and hat to match.
