ASK FOR THE OLD PATHS

The elections are on. In less than 30 days the political control of this country for the next five years will be decided. It is a consideration that must stir every thoughtful man and lay upon every voter the responsibilities of citizenship more heavily than he is wont to wear them.

It is a time and a crisis that ought to thrill Conservatives like a battle shout. There is nothing noble in blind partyism, but there come days when a man's service to his country finds its most effective expression in fidelity to his party. These are such days for Conservatives; and it is to make this clear with rousing emphasis that these lines are written. The Conservative party stands for the policy and principles that have made Canana great. It originated and administered them. The history of Canada's up-building has been the history of the Conservative party. For eighteen years the difficult problems of a young nation were wisely solved by the splend d statesmanship of that party's leaders. Four years ago, on a question that was a mere accident in the country's affairs, the party was turned out of power. Once before the same thing occurred. It then took only a term for the people to see their mistake, and if indications are not misleading it has taken them no longer to find it out this time.

However, the Conservative party is asking the countrue friend, who in the stress and trial of our young nationhood stood shoulder to shoulder with the pioneer and the settler, with sympathetic eye beholding their burdens and with strong and speedy hands removing them. The outlines of statesmanship that make this country presentable to the world, are the work of Conservative leaders. The very pol.cy under which it is now being administered is the product of the greatest genius for nation-building that Canada has ever known-Sir John Macdonald. It is Lot a pre-umptuous thing for the Conservative party to ask all its old adherents and the young elector who with rosy prospect, has come into the rich national heritage that Conservative effort has endowed him with, and is now casting his first ballot-it is not a presump uous thing for the Conservative party to ask these to rally to its support and once it has made

But there is more than that. A strange king has appeared in Egypt. The Liberals-these people of whom it was so truly said: "they have not the genius of government," have come into power. Rejected at every election when the ab ding problems of the nation were the issues, they, by a mere accident, such as adventurers profit by, came into power. Judged by any legitimate standard they have been a failure. Vainly does their chief organ placard the first page of its daily issue with arithmetic designs to show that Liberal rule has meant prosperity. Commercial prosperity, C:nada has had, but only in common with the rest of the world; and the fact that the United States has a together outstripped us in the percentage of its duty. increased trade returns, leads to a suspicion that, so far are the Liberals from deserving any credit for our advancement. as to deserve positive condemnation for having hampered us by their policy. Prosperity that has come to all the world is scarcely a product of the Liberal party of Canada. That is no test; for they did not bring all over in a mouth. it about. The only increase for which the government is responsible is the increase in the national debt. That has gone up eight million dollars, but it does not appear among the figures on the Globe's first page.

Taking away the increased trade, what even appears to commend the Liberals? They made promises They were to provide a fast Atlantic service; they have not done it They were to reduce expenditures; they have raised them from 40 to nearly 60 millions. They were to give a pure aim nistration; the political corruption and gifts of public property to favorites, have surpassed all records. The Liberals have failed. They have brought the country into the ways that lead so certainly to disaster that no temporary revival of the world's trade can hide the peril. As before, so now, the country's hope is in the Conservative party. With its splendid history, high ideals, capacity for government, and veteran leader, it presents the will surely not be slow to accept.

All except bad ones!

There are hundreds of cough medicines which relieve coughs, all coughs, except bad ones! The medicine which has been curing the worst of bad coughs for 60 years is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Here is evidence:

"My wife was troubled with a deep-seated cough on her lungs for three years. One day I thought of how Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved the life of my sister after the doctors had all given her up to die. So I purchased two bottles, and it cured my wife completely. It took only one bottle to cure my sister. So you see that three bottles (one dollar each) saved two lives. We all send you our heartfelt thanks for what you have done for us."-J. H. BURGE, Macon, Col., Jan. 13, 1899.

Now, for the first time you can get a trial bottle of Cherry Pectoral for 25 cents. Ask your druggist.
