While a trifling inflammation like that from a musquito bite was on his little finger, Dr. Collison recently performed an operation at the hospital. The operation involved the removal of pus, and a day or so afterward, the finger developed blood-poisoning with which the doctor had a rather serious time for some days. He is now out of danger.

On Thursday night Mr. Bonnette, the G. N. W. telegraph representative here acting under instructions from the superintendent, Toronto, removed the company's instruments from Dever & Company's stock office here, that was in charge of Mr. J. C. Ray. A wire next morning informed Mr. Ray that both this and the Peterboro office had been discontinued by his company.

On Thursday the flooring above the gasoline engine shops at Sylvester's dropped and wrecked some of the machinery below. It was loaded above with harrows and other implements, and without warning it gave about a foot, and then held long enough to allow the workmen above and below to escape, but soon after came the rest of the way. One engine was wrecked by it, but that it did not fall the whole way at once and cost several lives was very fortunate.

On Thursday night Messrs. Geo. Chapman and Geo. Savanae of Oakwood went out hunting coons in the rainforest. By some means Savanae's gun was discharged and the slugs struck his companion in the leg below the knee. The men went to Mr. Jas. Webster's house, and a doctor was called. The wound is a bad one but not necessarily dangerous. It was Mr. Chapman who made the heroic attempt to rescue Mr. Rennie's son who was drowned in the Oakwood creek last fall.

Our stock of furniture has arrived, and our warehouses are filled with the most complete stock we have ever purchased. The prices are the lowest yet. If you are contemplating purchasing anything in the following lines call on us: Dining-room, parlor and bedroom furniture in oak and ash, all styles; mattresses, bedsprings, folding spring cots, cradles; rocking chairs, Morris and other easy chairs. Upholstering and picture framing a specialty. M. E. TANGNEY, opp. Benson House, -41-42.

On Friday afternoon two sons of "Happy Jack" Rogers got orders to clean out Mr. W. A. Goodwin's well. They got the water pumped out. Now the well is situated high in the woods; and in the woods were stored four tons of coal. To facilitate their operations about the well mouth, the workmen removed some poles leaning against the woods. It proved that these were supporting the side of the shed against which the coal was high piled inside. Shortly after their removal out came the side of the shed, and two tons of coal shot into the bottom of the 30-foot well.

On Friday night contracts for building the Queen-st. and Ridout-st. sewers were awarded to Mr. P. G. Pilkie. At Tuesday night's meeting of the Board of Works committee, when Ald. O'Reilly's motion to accept Contractor Lindsay's offer to build the Sussex-st. sewer for $954 was considered, Mr. Pilkie offered to do the work for $750. Mr. Lindsay immediately lowered his price to $740. The mayor justified his proposal to give Mr. Lindsay the contract at his own figures, and without asking for tenders, on the ground that if the property owners were satisfied, council need not care if the price was high.

Globe: Mr. W. R. Cummings, a school teacher at Troun Creek, Parry Sound district, dropped dead in front of the Red Star Restaurant at Jarvis and King-sts., about 6.30 on Saturday evening. He had been in the place and coming out the place when he was d.t.d. Police-man Lannin had the body taken to the morgue. The deceased was a former resident of Oakwood, and is well known to many in Lindsay. He was the eldest son of Mr. J. C. Cummings, division court clerk, Oakwood.

The contractors have the library site enclosed and notices denying admittance to anyone. On Friday Mr. Ewart, mason, wanted to see a form-employe of his who was working on the foundation, and to do so entered the enclosure. He was immediately confronted by Contractor Chalmers, who demanded to know what he was doing there and bade him get out as fast as he could. Mr. Ewart propounded the other view that he was on town property and would remain as long as he liked. After a somewhat vigorous verbal dissent the contractor set out to hunt up Chief Nevison, but returned without him shortly before Mr. Ewart left. It seems that other persons have also questioned the workers of the enclosed plot. Which view is right, ought to be made clear.

The fall assizes opened before Justice Meredith on Tuesday. J. P. Ryle claimed a partnership with Jas. Miller in certain sewer contracts. On hearing plaintiff's own evidence, the judge dismissed the case without costs. McLaughlin and Weldon for plaintiff, O'Leary, K. C., for defendant. Mr. John K. C., for defendant. On Henderson's action for damages on account of having his hands crushed in a trip hammer at Sylvester's on March 10th, was settled for $350. Plaintiff and Godfrey, Toronto, for plaintiff, DuVernet, Toronto, for plaintiff, K. C., Lindsay, for defendant. Patrick Leary's action against Mrs. A. D. Mallon for slander was settled. Weldon for plaintiff, Steers for defendant. The case of Dora Higgins charged with concealing birth, sent to the court by the magistrate was not tried by the Justice, who said the defence had not had time to prepare its case. Judge Harding will hear the case today (Thursday).

Fenelon Falls Gazette: The office of the Rathburn mill was entered last Wednesday night, and about $80 in notes, cheques and cash stolen. So far no clue has been found as to the burglars. Three rather sudden deaths have occurred this week among the older residents of this locality. On Monday, Mrs. Abbott, wife of Mr. Henry Abbott, of Verulam, passed away after a short illness, aged 70 years, then on Wednesday, Mr. Robert Menzies, sr., of the village, died very suddenly, aged 70 years. Mr. Robert McFarlane, of Fidler's Hill, also passed away this morning. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved families. Dr. Wilson drove out to Mr. Smithers' on Fenelon on Monday night and left his horse tied outside, while he attended to a patient. When he came out the top of the buggy lay by the roadside and the horse was rapidly making tracks for home. When the Dr. reached home the horse was waiting for him outside the office, without injury.

On Sunday afternoon a canoe with the mast in place was found among the stumps on the west shore of Sturgeon lake well northward, by Mr. Joe. Lytle and party in the yacht Mirpah. It has been identified as that of Albert Davey, a fisherman who lived alone on an island at the mouth of Emily Creek, and it is feared that Davey has been drowned. A couple of weeks ago he was in town and got $60 from the L. B. & P. officials for the right-of-way across his island. On Friday the last day he was seen, he left Fenelon Falls in the canoe found. He wanted to stop all night at the Rathburn camp at the mouth of Fenelon river, but when he could not go on. The men heard him singing some time afterward. It is said that Davey had $200 with him at Fenelon Falls, and that he and a pedlar were drinking together. McConnell's Laura Mc will take out a search party this morning.

Last week, a young woman named Dora Higgins, who is not living with her husband, but with her father, in the east ward, was arrested by Chief Nevison pending investigation of the death of her illegitimate infant which was found buried under an apple tree in the garden. Because of having received a number of anonymous letters saying that the child was born at the house and had disappeared, the chief interviewed the young woman, who admitted birth and said that the child had died shortly after being born and been buried by herself unknown to anyone. Coroner Burrows held an inquest on Thursday night. The young woman said that the child had been born at 5 o'clock on the evening of Sept. 11th. Fearing her parents she wrapped it up in a blanket, put it into a basket and placed it in the garden till she should be able to take it elsewhere. At 9 o'clock she went to it and found it dead. Then she buried it. Drs. Herriman and Blanchard had examined the child's body, and testified that because certain attentions necessary at birth had not been shown the child it had bled enough to have, with the neglect, caused death. A clot of blood under the upper lip had been caused by a bruise, that might have been inflicted accidentally but otherwise the body was practically normal. The jury exonerated the mother; but she was detained on a charge of concealment of birth, and will be tried before Judge Harding today (Thursday).
