WIND COLIC

"In my opinion," writes Mrs. Phillip Collins, of Martindale, Quebec, "there is no medicine can equal Baby's Own Tablets. Before I began the Tablets my baby cried all the time with the wind colic and got little or no sleep, and I was nearly worn out myself. Sooa after giving baby the Tablets the trouble disappeared, and sound natural sleep returned. I have also proved the Tablets a cure for hives, and a great relief when baby is teething. I would not feel that my children were safe if I had not a box of the Tablets in the house."

All mothers who have used Baby's Own Tablets speak just as highly of them as does Mrs. Collins. The Tablets cure all the little ills from which infants and young children suffer, and the mother has a solemn assurance that this medicine contains neither opiate nor any harmful drug. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 25c a box by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Advertising For Teachers

Editor Watchman-Warder:

Sir,—I would strongly advise the trustees when advertising for a teacher, to state the salary they are willing to give. If this plan were adopted it would save a deal of unnecessary correspondence, and often failure to obtain what was wanted. Then a date should be given up to which applications would be received. The trustees should meet the next day, and the secretary should notify both the successful and unsuccessful candidates as to the result.

Yours truly,
J. H. KNIGHT,
P. S. Inspector.
Lindsay, 24th Oct., 1908.

Trooper Gifford's Claim

Edtor Watchman-Warder:

Sir,—Permit me, through your paper, to ask a question of the Victoria county council. I was a member of the First Canadian Mounted Rifles doing duty in South Africa. On the return of the South African volunteers the members of the various contingents, who were residents of Victoria county, or who had been residents at any time were given $25. I believe I was the only one who did not partake of the county's generosity, and I would like to ask on what grounds I was left out.

I was told by one member of the council that the reason that I did not receive it was because I got a gratuity from the city of Toronto. Yes, Toronto showed her appreciation by donating $25 and a souvenir match-box to every man who enlisted in their city, including myself, and one other who was an old Lindsay boy, but who had been a member of the Toronto Permanent Corps (The R. C. D's) for three years previous, but who nevertheless received the Victoria county grant.

I was born in Victoria county and also a member of the 45th Battalion, and served my time with the corps and had lived in the county till within 18 months of the South African war, and why I should be discriminated against is somewhat problematic to me, unless I have no influence.

I am not begging at present, neither am I financially embarrassed, but in the interests of right I think I should like to have the same appreciation of my services shown me as any other member of the contingents.

Yours truly,
F. A. GIFFORD,
Ottawa, Oct. 26th, 1908.

WHERE OLD HATS GO.

Clerk Tells of Unique Scheme for Making Cigar Money.

"Needn't send that old hat home," said the customer as he placed the newly purchased derby on his head. "It's too shiny around the edges, and it would just take up room in the closet."

The customer walked out of the store and the clerk turned to a friend.

"That means cigar money for me," he said, "and I smoke good cigars at that. In most stores it wouldn't do me very much good, as all the discarded hats are given to the drivers of the delivery wagons. But here the house allows the clerks to have the hats, and as result we make a little extra money. About once a week the buselman comes around to the store looking for old hats, and when I give him all I have collected he pays on an average of 15 cents apiece for them."

"After the buselman has made his rounds he takes the hats to a shop on South street, and there they are taken apart. The silk ribbons and bands and sweatbands are removed and the hat given a thorough cleaning and new material and trimmings put on. When it is all fixed up it is extremely difficult to tell it from a new hat, and in many cases it will sell for as high as $2. When you can buy a hat for 15 cents, clean it for about 5 cents, put 25 cents' worth of leather and ribbon on it and sell it for a dollar or more, you see where the profit comes in, don't you?"

The "Show" and the Showy People.

"Society" in England is divided into two classes—show people and showy people. To the first "society" belongs; the second are anxious to belong to "society."

Of the former there are comparatively few. It is a feature of the times that there are very many of the latter. The show people are those who, because of their position, their popularity or their abilities, have attained prominence and are more or less associated together in the social life of their period.

The showy people, without the position, the popularity or the abilities, strive to become prominent by display, extravagance, eccentricities or self advertisement. Their carriages are painted in the most glaring color; they are dressed expensively even on ordinary occasions; they are tireless and tire some in their endeavors to appear to be associated with "society"; their life may be described as one of continuous deceit and disappointment, and they take offense on the least provocation and are implacable in their vindictiveness.—London Truth.

The Actor's Mouth.

The actor's mouth is essentially facile and not infrequently it exhibits a tendency to turn to one side or the other. This is due in part to its being ## recognized fact that when the mouth is somewhat crooked a greater effect can be produced than when it is opened quite straight.

The officials are expected to live in a style which leaves no possible margin to the good. Men of large families lead a struggling existence to keep up social appearances and die poor. The consequence is the service has ceased to attract the best material.

Matters on the bench are even worse. The High Court judges in Ontario receive $6,000 a year, and Federal Supreme Court judges, the highest in the land, only $7,000 a year. The insufficiency of these salaries may be gathered by comparison with New South Wales, with a population of only 1,400,000, which pays ten Pulse judges $12,500 a year each; Victoria, population 1,200,000, pays $15,000 to the High Court judges, and so in all the Australian colonies.

The integrity of Canada's judges is traditional, but the salaries paid are below the earnings of first-class lawyers. Recent discussions on the subject in Parliament have made it clear that many vacancies on the Bench have been filled of late years with less regard to fitness than for party purposes.

A similar undesirable state of affairs as regards pay exists in the defensive forces. Canada maintains a permanent corps, established for the express purpose of producing a body of men capable of taking charge at a moment's notice, in case of national danger, of the training of all branches of the militia—cavalry, artillery, infantry, and the rest; but the pay is in no sense the model required.

The London Fashions.

A Canadian girl now in London sends the following to a Toronto correspondent: "Some very dainty yet warm little wraps are to be seen at the theatres. A cream satin pelerie, or, rather, collarlette, which was padded, for warmth, was veiled in a handsome silk braid lace collar, and had a ruche of white ostrich round the neck, and ostrich trimming all round the collarlette, the features shaped like sable tails. The long stole ends were also of ostrich. Another neck-protector was of white satin, under lattice-work of chenille, and all trimmed with accordion-plated chiffon frills. In Paris, where ladies attend theatres in a special style of dress, suggesting both evening and outdoor toilets, a novelty, seen on a leader of fashion, was a set of chiffon and marabou. The shoulder cape, of white satin, was applique, with Irish sulphure, and frilled with plisse chiffon, on which the marabou came in scollops. The long ends to match, were further trimmed with bows of satin ribbon. There were a hood and muff to match. The collarlette and hood might well serve for a London theatre, but no lady over here would dream of carrying a muff with her into the stalls of an evening."

A Scientific Classification.

"Now, children," says the dear teacher, "I have explained to you how yeast grows until it is full of cells. Which little boy or girl will tell me the kingdom to which yeast belongs?"

The little wise boy lifted his hand.

"You may tell, Johnny."

"The criminal kingdom, teacher."

The Pay of Canadian Officers.

Compared with the United States, Canada's civil service, notwithstanding the increases under the new amending Act, remains ill paid. The maximum for deputy heads of departments is only $4,000 a year, and for chief clerks of departments $2,800 a year, far below the remuneration of equal ability command
