CASE WAS DISMISSED

Kinmount Liquor Case Suspicious But dismissed

Thursday's daily. A very important liquor case was heard at the police court this morning when Mrs. Simpson, of Kinmount, was accused of selling liquor without a license. Mr. G. A. Jordan acted for the accused, and Mr. I. E. Weldon for the Crown. Inspector Lithgow was also present.

Mr. Stephen Dumon, a farmer of Sunderland, was the first witness for the Crown and swore that he was in Kinmount on Tuesday, the 20th September, and while there stayed at Mrs. Simpson's hotel, where he, Silas O'Brien and his (O'Brien's) son were served with drink, but it was not the "real stuff," being very poor. Mr. Silas O'Brien, the next witness, swore that he was in Kinmount on that date and also stopped at Mrs. Simpson's. While there he met Mr. Dumon who took him into a little place behind the bar, where a young man served them with whiskey out of a bottle. The bottle was taken from a little hole in the wall.

Mr. O'Brien did not take any whiskey when his son was there and he would not swear that it was Irish, Scotch or Canadian whiskey, but he knew that it was intoxicating liquor. The case was adjourned until one-thirty, when other witnesses were examined as follows:

Mr. O'Brien, jr., was next sworn and in part stated that he was at the Kinmount Fair and while in Mrs. Simpson's hotel had secured liquor which he thought to be rye whiskey. It was secured by the barkeeper from a cupboard and was served in small glasses in a small room. William Dumon did the treating and paid for the same.

To Mr. Jordan the witness stated that he was not an expert at judging whiskey. The room was also dark.

Dr. White, of Kinmount stated that he did not know whether Mrs. Simpson was the owner of the hotel or not, but he heard her say that she was in court in Lindsay a year or so ago. He knew nothing more about the place.

Friday's daily. The case against Mr. Jas. Simpson, of Kinmount, for selling liquor without a license was continued yesterday, when two of three witnesses were heard and the trial adjourned until Saturday next.

It appears that there is a similar case against Mr. Simpson. The following evidence was given yesterday:

Inspector Lithgow, of Bobcaygeon when sworn stated that he did not know whether Mrs. Simpson was the proprietress or not, but he heard her say so in court a year ago that she was. He was in the hotel

SUFFERED THREE YEARS

Bill Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cured his Kidney Trouble

There are few diseases that cause more acute suffering than Kidney Trouble, and Mr. F. A. Thomas, of Sudbury Ont., is one of those who know it. He writes: "For over three years I suffered from kidney disease. First I thought I had sprained my back, for suddenly the pain would catch the small of my back and it would be impossible for me to straighten myself up for several minutes. A dull ache across the kidneys was always present, my urine was thick and cloudy, and passing it caused a burning, scalding pain. Tried medicines, but they failed. I was advised to try Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, as they had cured my wife years before. A few boxes effected a complete cure. I now enjoy the blessings of good health, which is due to this remedy."

Don't neglect kidney trouble—it's too dangerous as well as too painful. That old, reliable family remedy, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, has cured thousands and will cure you. It is equally effective in curing constipation and its attendant evils—biliousness, indigestion and acid stomach, and in purifying the blood. Be a bit at your druggist's.

It's Easy to Stop Pain on Sept. 20, but saw no liquor being sold. He knew that Mrs. Simpson was not the license holder. Witness also stated that he heard a rumor that her mortgage had been foreclosed.

Mr. Jordan contended that the crown had no case according to the evidence submitted, and failed to prove that Mrs. Simpson was the owner of the hotel.

Magistrate Moore stated that witnesses had sworn that they had liquor, but it was as yet not proved who was the owner of the hotel. He, however, granted the defence an enlargement in order to secure another witness, the barkeeper.

(From Saturday's Daily)

The trial of Mrs. Simpson, the Temperance House keeper, of Kinmount, was continued this morning at 9.50, with Mr. Roland Young, bartender at the hotel on the day of the fair, Sept. 20, as the first witness.

When questioned Mr. Young stated that he sold "soft stuff" kept in a room behind the bar, but could not recognize any of the former witnesses as customers on that day. He admitted that he would know whiskey from "soft stuff" and he did not sell any intoxicating liquors. In the morning before starting to work Mrs. Simpson showed him all the stock which was kept in a small dark refrigerator room behind the bar. The witness could not say that men were served with any kind of drinks in this room, but men were not invited into the room by him nor was there any "cubby holes" in this room.

The witness knew nothing of there being any "good stuff" in the room, neither in tapped or full bottles. He was not instructed to sell any rye whiskey and would not do such a thing.

The case was dismissed by His Worship, Magistrate Moore, whose reasons are given below.

Mrs. Simpson stated that soft drinks were kept in the small room and that she did not sell or cause to be sold any intoxicating liquor. Mr. Silas O'Brien came to her place the next morning inquiring for a horse collar and threatened that if Simpson did not pay him for it he would ruin the house, as he had received liquor there the day before.

James Simpson, her husband, swore that he had nothing to do with the bar that day and did not think there was any liquor sold that day.

Mr. I. E. Weldon then briefly outlined the case for the prosecution as follows: Silas O'Brien swears that he got liquor there, while O'Brien, jr., swears that he got something strong. Dumon, jr., swore that it was stronger than soft drinks and Dumon, sr., would not swear that it was not whiskey. Why would four men go in behind a bar into a dark room for a soft drink?

Mr. G. A. Jordan, for the defence, stated that he had never seen the crown take up such a poor case, as in the first place no evidence was put in to show that Mrs. Simpson sold or caused to be sold any intoxicating liquor. These men knowing the hotel well and seeing the bar crowded went into the room to enjoy a sociable drink and the bartender gave them what he had.

His worship in dismissing the case said that the evidence as a whole, so far as it rests upon the unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor, was based upon the O'Brien's, as they testified positively it was intoxicating, but are flatly contradicted by the two Simpsons' and the bartender. The information was laid under a threat and under such conditions he could not give it as much importance as he would otherwise do. His worship then dismissed the case.

COLLARET FOR BLOUSE.

New Black is Used as an Accessory Touch.

Collarets, with their endless promise of changing the appearance of any blouses with which they are worn, are shown now with a few innovations. They are decidedly different from the frills of lace, linen and embroidery of the summer, for in the great wave of black satin that has swept over Parisian modes the collarets have come under the influence and show in fascinating variety the touch of black.

On the round flat model a band of black satin is used for the straight foundation upon which lace insertion is placed, the ends at the front rounded and separated enough to show the black in delightful contrast. A frill of wide lace is attached to the edge.

The pointed shape shows a little more black. Here the foundation is circular, with a modified line at the front. Ecru Valenciennes edges the top, and the insertion and edging define the lower line. If you wish you can introduce coin spots of black on the lace by using silk floss in quick, long stitches.

Black satin is used to cover button molds from under which tiny bows peep out toward each side. Three of these form rows on each edge of the square tab of all over lace. The circular collar top is edged with a ruffle of lace that also drops down on each side of the central tab. The deeper yoke shows a slot arrangement of ribbon on the heavy linen underpiece. Lace is the top decoration, and the eyelets are placed in pairs, allowing the black to appear in long lines on the upper surface. The satin is threaded halfway and continued the remainder of the way after the collar is adjusted. The ends are tied in a stiff bow in front.

Common sense is more useful than common.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

We go to all parts of the world for the wonderful ingredients of Psychine (pronounced Si-keen). We combine these ingredients in the finest chemical laboratories in Canada, and so great is our 30-year-old faith in this preparation that we'll buy a 50-cent bottle of it from your druggist and give it to you to try.

For nearly the third of a century we have known what Psychine will do. We have known it to cure hundreds of thousands in that time, of some of the most desperate cases of disease known to medical science.

We have received thousands of unsolicited testimonials, which we will gladly let you look over should you desire.

Think of it, a third of a century's experience with one preparation, a third of a century's intimate knowledge of what extraordinary cures it has made—almost a lifetime!

Do you wonder then with that perfect knowledge of Psychine, that we are anxious to bring it to the notice of everyone in Canada suffering from disease?

Do you wonder that we want those to know who are using wrong methods of cure, who are not getting well, and who we know will be benefited by Psychine.

Do you wonder that we can buy hundreds of thousands of 50-cent bottles of Psychine from the druggists of Canada to give to those who wish to try it?

Psychine builds vitality. It strengthens and increases the white corpuscles of the blood—the phagocytes, the policemen or scavengers of the blood.

These white corpuscles of the blood, when strong enough, destroy every disease germ that gets into the body, keeps the body healthy.

If these white corpuscles are not in sufficient numbers or are not sufficiently strong, then these disease germs destroy them and disease holds the body. That's the cause of nearly every disease that afflicts the human race. For years, centuries, in fact, it has been recognized that herbs are the most effective treatment for disease.

It is only within recent times that we have been able to tell just why they were so effective.

Because certain of them increased and strengthened the white corpuscles or phagocytes.

These herbs are employed in compounding Psychine.

We go all over this world to obtain these herbs. Arabia, South America, China and Japan all contribute.

And the result is a preparation that will restore health and build vitality as no other preparation will.

That has proven itself in nearly the third of a century's use as no other preparation has proven itself.

That is a most effective treatment for:

- La Grippe, Bronchitis, Hemorrhages, Sore Throat, Anemia, Female Weakness, Indigestion, Poor Appetite, Chills and Fevers, Sleeplessness and Nerve Troubles, After-effects of Pleurisy, Pneumonia and La Grippe.

- Bronchial Coughs, Weak Lungs, Weak Voice, Spring Weakness, Early Decline, Catarrhal Affections, Catarrh of Stomach, Night Sweats, Obstructive Coughs, Laryngitis and Dyspepsia.

Now we don't ask you to take our word for the tremendously beneficial effect of Psychine. Fill out the coupon below, mail it to us and we'll give your druggist an order (for which we pay him the regular retail price) for a 50-cent bottle of Psychine to be given you free of cost.

We will undoubtedly buy and distribute in this manner hundreds of thousands of these 50-cent bottles of Psychine.

And we do that to show our entire confidence in this wonderful preparation.

A confidence that has been based on our 30 years' experience with this splendid preparation, with a full knowledge of the hundreds of thousands of cures it has made.

Some of our young people attended the fowl tea held in the Presbyterian church at Rosedale, on Wednesday. The steamer Wacouta, left the wharf with a small number on board. To some people the coal stove was more attractive than the fowl supper consequently the crowd was smaller than was expected. However, all the braves who attended report having a good supper and a splendid time.
