Lesson III.-Fourth Quarter, For. Oct. 15, 1911.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Ezra i, 1-11; ii, 64-70-Memory Verses, i, 3, 4-Golden Text, Mic. vii, 18-Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

As we turn to the story of the return from Babylon some words come to mind such as these: "Every purpose of the Lord shall be performed," "Whatsoever the Lord pleased that did He." "He worketh all things after the counsel of His own will" (Jer. II. 29; Ps. cxxxv, 6; Eph. i, 11).

Compare the previous chapter, verses 21, 22, and the words of the Lord Jesus in Luke xxiv. 44, "All things must be fulfilled which were written in the law of Moses and in the prophets and in the psaims concerning Me." All the predictions concerning the captivity of Israel and Judah were fulfilled, and now under Bara and Nehemiah the predictions concerning the return from captivity are to be fulfilled. God controlling the hearts of kings to bring it about. Just as surely shall all predictions concerning a still future restoration be fulfilled, and they shall then be plucked up no more nor see evil any more. Neither shall they weep any more (Amos ix, 15; Zeph. iii, 15; Isa. xxx, 19). The Lord shall be their everlasting light, and the days of their mourning shall be ended (Isa. Ix, 20).

He is quite able to accomplish adl that He has purposed, and it is our privilege to walk with Him and see Him do it. If we are abiding in Him He may use us, but He will work out His eternal purpose, and He cannot fail nor be discouraged (Eph. ili, 11; Isa. xiii. 4). He may use a Cyrus or Darius, an Ezra or a Nehemiah, but He is ever saying. "I will work, and who shall hinder it?" (Isa. xiiii, 13.) · Cyrus is one of the seven men mentioned by name before they were born. Isaiah speaks of him as God's chosen one over 150 years before he came on earth (Isa. xliv, 28; xlv, 17), just as Jesiah was mentioned by name and some things that he would do about 300 years before he was born (1 Kings xiii, 2; II Kings xxiii, 15-17). How inspiring are the words, "I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like Me, dollaring the end from the beginning, and from anclent times the things that are not ye done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all My pleasure." "Known unto God are all His works from the beginning of the world" (Isa. xivi. 9-11; Acts xv, 18). It was the Lord who stirred up the spirit of Cyrus, the king, to send Ezra and the people back to Jerusalem to build the house of the Lord God of Israel, and it was He who stirred up the hearts of all who went back (verses 1, 5). Cyrus acknowledged who had made him ruler over the Jerusalem (verses 2-4), and he called commanding those who did not go to help in every way those who went "It is all important to notice this, for the church seems to have forgotten it willingly offered, and they brought so abundantly that Moses had to ask them to stop bringing, as more than enough had come in for all the work. · Concerning the temple, David said, "I have prepared with all my might
