ALL HOPES VER GETTING WELL

Y, SEPT. 3, 1912

E. Herr, 111 Grange St. t., writes:-"Ten years ago th a very peculiar disease, bed feeling as well as could sleeping for five hours with a severe pain in my noving into my side an pain was so terrible n my bed, and usually had rning with a pillow propped back. With all my pain work, and after working up clock the pain would leave The same thing would han night, and every night for tried four different doctors hem did me any good. nany patent medicines, but I gave up all hopes of all. A friend persuaded me n's Heart and Nerve Pills, boxes, and after using the It a change for the better. g three boxes I could sleen ne pains were gone, and I v cured. Heart and Nerve Pills are ox, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at mailed direct on receipt e T. Milburn Co., Limited

ld Boy angled to Death

Sept. 28.-Johnnie, the d son of Mr. Geo. Page brakeman of this town d to death while playope swing in the wood-ad was endeavoring to swing, using an overbut the pail slipped from nd his head was caught ent of the little fellow ropes becoming crossed igled. n l a few minutes later swing to turn around extinct.

You a Little Your Home

that the restless and ndition of baby invarfrom the use of i d or the lack of some ticle for its comfort VE EVERYTHING NEEDED.

Bottles for keeping th at night. All you have pour it out. very good kind known

ll the recommended

II the approved varsponges, soaps, tal-

rs' Earth, violet pow

IOON'S

IG STORE EXALL Store

2. 人名英格兰人名

ore

ent here IN QUAL-

and you

ecial: bar-

BELL

Rockers. Also

large. mattresses

you buy.

nej pholstering and licture Framing

Marble and Granite MONUMENTS

Still doing business in the same old stard but not in the same old We advance with the times and are in a position to do better work than ever. New designs, new granites, new and improved tools and methods, in fact, the most upto-date Marble and Granite works in this part of Ontario, Get our prices and see our designs before perchasing. Shop and show rooms 11 and 13

Cambridge-st., immediately north of

Lindsay Marble Works R. CHAMBERS. Prop.

COAL and WOOD

Lumber, Shingles, Etc. Cement and Sash Factory Goods

The Baker Lumber Co., Limited PHONE 77

Get the Best it pays.

Among the many Positions our College has recently filled were two worth $1,100 and $1,500. We are now teving to fill one at $1,980 Demand for our staduates is fully five times is a Business College of the highest grade. Several former students of other colleges are now in attendance. It pays to get a business education, if you got it in the right exthool. Write for our catalogue. Enter now. Cor. Yonge and W. J. ELLIOTT Principal Alexander Sts.

DR. S. J. SIMS, Dentist Graduate of Toronto University and Royal College of Dental Surgeons. All dental operations carefully performed according to the latest methods at moderate prices. Office over Gregory's Orug Store, corner of Williams and Kent Streets.

DYE DOLLA S

One common form of waste is the di-carding of fabries which, for wearing qualities, are as good as new, but which are faded or soiled.

The outgrown clothing of adults or elder children can often be made as good as new for the younger folks by this means. We have that are easy to use and sati-factory in results. A dime's worth will often save a dollar. These dves color silk, linen, woolen, cotton and feathers.

Diamond Dyes and Dyola

HIGINBOTHAM Lindsay

Dispensing Druggist

Prism Brand" Ready Mixed McLENNAN &

Mower Knives and Binder Knives sharpened by Special Machine at

Geo. W. Shephard's William St. North Next Post Building, Lindsay

TELEGRAPH

operating and Station Agent's work thoroughly taught in our school-The Central Telegraph and Railroad School, Toronto. Get our book, "Guided by the Key." It explains our Work and the splendid chances for operators. Write W. H. Shaw, President, Yonge and Gerrard-sts., Toronto.

The police captured a man at St. Louis believed to have been implicated in the New Westminster bank

One can figure on a single mistake making the world forget a hundred times he was right about it.

FARM FOR SALE - 200 ACRES, SUFFERED WITH lot 27, con. 5, Ops. well drained, 21 miles north of Lindsay, good grain and dairy farm. band barn, 52 x 72, cement floors all through. Hen house, pig pen 3 wells, small hardwood bush, 13 acres summer fallow, 8-roomed house, 11 storey with furnace. Young orchard. Pasture with ac cess to river. Apply to W. R. Helson, Lindsay, P. O., on on FARM FOR SALE - NORTH HALF lot 13, con. 4, Mariposa, containing 100 acres, more or less, 85 acres cleared, balance pasture, and swamp. Good clay land. Watered with two wells and a good March, T913. Ploughing grivileges illness arising from diseased kidneys. after fall harvest. Apply to Chas. Found, Little Britain.

STRAYED-INTO THE PRIMSES of the under signed on or about the 1st . Sept. 1912, 1 yearling steer red. The owner is requested to prove properity pay expenses and take away. John McGahey Bot 1 cen. 14 township Emily.

FARM IN THE TOWNSHIP OF Ops for sale or to rent. - Lot No. 119 in the 1st concession and the west half of the south quarter of lot number 19 in the 2nd concession. This is one of the best farms in the County and conveniently situated, being within 3 miles of the Town of Lindsay and within half a mile of the school. There are from 175 to 200 acres cleared and There are erected thereon a brick his jaw dropped. dwelling and frame outbuildings: To a purchaser 'making a reasonable cash payment satisfactory terms will be given for the pagment of the balance. For further FARM FOR SALE. SOUTH HALF lot 14, con. 3, Mariposa, 1900 acres more or ress, 90 acres cleared and tillable, 10 acres hardwood bush, good two-storey red brick house. Frame barn 50 x 65 stone wall, windmill on barn and waterworks in stable. Good stabling, well finished, driving shed hog pen, hen house, well fenced and watered, two miles from Little Britain, delephone and rural mail delivery. Good orchard, 17 acres good diever. Apply to Elias Bowes, Liadsay, real estate agent. she asked.

son, Solicitors, Etc., Lindsay.

WANTED .- WOUNG MAN WITH OF without experience for a drytgwods store, also young lady with some experience in bookkeeping. Apply in own hand-writing. Box 594, Lindsay.

farm Lot 14, Con. Emily sixuated 9 miles from Peterboro 11 miles from village 90 acresof clay leam in cultivation balance in pasture, 2 ggod frame barns: Apply Mrs. J. Rutherford Omemee.

FARM TO RENT - NORTH HALF of lot 3, con. 10, Emily, 100 acres 85 cleared and in good state cultivation. On leading road, miles from Lindsay, 2 miles from church, school, post office and further particulars apply to O'Neill, Lindsay-st., south, corner of Lindsay and George-sts., Lintsay, Ont.

HIGH CLASS FARM FOR SALE .-We offer for sale one of the best 200 acre farms in Eldon; 170 acres cleared balance hardwood bush. brick dwelling two large barns driving and other sheds three miles from railway station. Low price for quick sale small payment down balance 41 per cent. interest. Also several good farms in Ops. Agnew and Marshall real estate agents Lindsay Sept. 12, 1912.

FARM FOR SALE .- TWO MILES from village of Oakwood, 100 ac north half lot 17, con. 10 Mariposa, choice clay soil, adapted to grain, alsike, etc., 17 acres alsike fresh seeded, also 11 acres fall wheat. Buildings and fenc - good repair ; frame house, hip-row barn, 42 x 64, stone basement, windmill and grain track, also small barn, hog pen, hen house and implement shed. Small orchard, good well at house and barn, telephone and rural mail delivery. Immediate possession to plough. Chas. L. Rogers, Oakwood P.O.

FRIDAY OCT. 4 BY GEORGE Jackson Auctioneer Credit sale of valuable farm stock and implements The property of Melville H. Gilson Lot. 4 Con. 3 Mariposa sale commences at one o'clock sharp.

TUESDAY, OCT. 22.-BY W. F Marquis, auctioneer, auction sale of farm stock and implements, the property of W. J. Beecroft, mile north of Woodville. Sale commences at 1 o'clock sharp.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 9 .- BY J. M. Purvis, auctioneer. Auction sale of farm stock and implements, the property of Thos. Robinson, lot 25, con. 5, Eldon. Sale at 1 o'-

LAME BACK

WAS NOT ABLE TO STRAIGHTEN UP

"I was suffering with lame back, and for two weeks was not able to straighten up to walk, and hardly able to sit down for the pains in my back, hips and legs. I had used different kinds of pills, plasters, liniments and medicines, without any refref. One day there was a B.R.B. book left at our door, and I read about Doan's Kidney Pills, and I decided to try them. Before I had half a box used I felt a great spring. Good frame house and deal better, and by the time I had used outbuildings. Stone foundation un- two boxes I was cured. I have no hesitader barn. One mile west of Little tion in recommending Doan's Kidney Jeu"-Britain. Will give possession 1st Pills to all suffering as I did, or from any Price 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or will be mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. When ordering direct, specify "Doan's."

BEVERLY OF GRAUSTARK

By GEORGE BARR M'CUTCHEON.

Copyright, 1994, by Dodd, Mead and Company

"You speak it beautifully," she said Baldos leaned forward mainfully and spoke to the officer in the Granstark

"Don't you know your princess?" he at for cultivation and the balance demanded a trifle barshly. The man's is wooded and fit for pasture. eyes flew wide open in an instant and

"The-the princess?" he gasped.

"Don't stare like that, sir, Direct us to the main gate at once, or you will have cause to regret your slowness." "But the princess was-is coming by the northern pass," mumbled the man. particulars apply to Moore & Jack- "The guard has gone out to meet her and"- Baldos cut him off shortly with the information that the princess, as he could see, had come by the lower pass and that she was eager to reach arresting place at once. The convincing tone of the speaker and the regal indifference of the lady had full effect upon the officer, who had never seen her highness. He fell back with deep obeisance and gave:a few bewildered commands to his men. The coach moved off, attended by a party of foot soldiers, and Beverly breathed > her first sigh of relief. "You did it beautifully," she whispered to Baldos, and he was considerably puzzled by the ardor of her praise. "Where are we going now?"

"Into the city, your highness," he answered. It was beginning to dawn upon him that she was amazingly ignorant and inconsequential for one who enjoyed the sight to command these common soldiers. 'Her old trepidation returned with this brief auswer. Something told her that he was beginning to mistrust ther at last. Aft-FARM TO MENT - 100 ACRES er all, it meant everything to him and so little to her.

When the coach halted before the city gates she was in a dire state of unhappiness. In the darkness she could feel the reproachful eyes of old well watered good brick dwelling Aunt Fanny searching for ther abanto doned conscience.

"Ask if Baron Dangloss is in Ganlook, and, if he is command them to take me to him immediately." she whispered to Baldos, a sudden inspiration seizing her. She would lay the whole matter before the great chief of police and trust to fortune. Her hand fell impulsively upon his and, to her amazement, it was as cold as ice. stores. Buildings, medium. For "What is the matter?" she cried in

"You trusted me in the wilds, your

WANTED.-FARMERS! IF YOU want to buy or sell a farm we ar specialists in that lime. We also have a large selection of house and stores in different localities, in Toronto and elsewhere, and from $500 to $25,000, either reside in or for investment. cant lots in all parts of the city. No trouble to show you these properties. Our car at your disposal in short notice. The J. G. Eyres Realty, 894 Bathurst-st., Toron-

FARM FOR SALE .- 100 ACRES of farm land in the township, con. 1, lot 2, the west part. The soil face. is clay loam of first-class quality. There is five acres of hardwood bush also on the farm. Frame house, bank barn and other suitable out buildings. Two wells and two acres of orchard. One mile from village of Sonya. Apply to A. McDougall, Sonya P.O.

ARM FOR SALE. - NORTHWEST quarter of lot 3, con. 10, Eldon, containing 50 acres. First-class frame house with summer kitchen. Good well and cistern in house. One acre of orchard. Frame log stable, pig house and hen house. Less than one mile from Hartley P. O., school and church. Apply on the premises or to Alex. Mc-Millan, Hartley P.O.

FARM FOR SALE-WE OFFER good 107 acre farm on Boundary of Ops and Manvers, 8 miles from Lindsay, all cleared, good frame house, and barn with stone stabling under. Terms very easy if not sold will be rented. Agnew and hours after your departure, having un-Marshall.

TIMBER FOR SALE.-LUMBER Ties, Poles and Posts. Hard and soft wood. Address Pontypool Yelverton post offices, or apply on the premises, 8th con. of Manvers, five miles north of Pontypool.

Thos. Lytle.

A reliable French regulator; never fails. These policy are exceedingly powerful in regulating the generative portion of the female system. Refuse all cheap imitations. Dr. de Van's are sold at a goat hunter, and Baldos is not your name. Am I not right?"

highness," he said tensely; "I am trusting you now." Before she could reply the officer in charge of the Ganlook gates appeared at the coach window. There were lights on all sides. Her heart sank like lead. It would be a miracle if she passed the gates u

"I must see Baron Dangloss at once. she cried in English, utterly disdaining

Mr. C. Grace, Hamilton, Ont., writes: her instructions to Baldos. "The baron is engaged at present can see no one," responded the good looking young officer in broken English.

"Where is he?" she demanded nerv

"He is at the house of Colonel Goaz.

pess with him?" "It is with him, and not with you sit," she said, imperious once more, "Conduct me to him immediately."

the commandant. What is your bust

"You cannot enter the gates unless "Insolence!" exclaimed Baldos. this the way, sir, in which you address the princess? Make way for her."

"The princess!" gasped the officer. Then a peculiar smile overspread his face. He had served three years in the castle guard at Edelweiss! There was 's long pause, fraught with disaster for Beverly. "Yes, perhaps it is just as well that we conduct her to Baron Dangloss," he said at last. The deep meaning in his voice appealed only to 'the unhappy girl. "There shall be no further delay, your highness? the added mockingly. A moment exter the gates swung open and they massed through. Beverly alone knew that they were going to Baron Dangless under heavy guard, virtually as prisoners The man knew her to be an impostor and was doing only his duty. There were smiles of derision on the faces of the soldiers when Leveri swept proudly between the files in up the steps leading to the comma dant's door, but there were no analible remarks. Baldos followed, walking painfully, but defiantly, and Aunt Fanny came last, with the hand bar. The guards grinned broadly as the corpudent negress waddled up the steps. The young officer and two men entered the door with the warfarers, who were ordered to halt in the hallway.

"Will your highness come with me said the officer, returning to the ha after a short absence. There was unmistakable derision in his voice and palpable insolence in his manner. Beverly flushed angrity. "Baron Dangloss is very curious to see you," he added, with a smile. Nevertheless he shrank a bit beneath the cold gleam in the eyes of the impostor. "You will remain there," she said turning to Baldes and the negress. "And you will have nothing whatever to say to this very important young man." The "in: portant woung man' actually chuckled. "Follow me, year most royal highness," he said, preceding ther through the door that opened into the office of the commandant. Baldos glared after them in angry amazement.

"Young man, some day-and soonyou will be a much wiser soldier-and in the ranks," said Beverly hotly. The smile instantly receded from the insolent fellow's face, for there was world of prophecy in the way she said . meliow he was in a much more respectful humor when he returned to the hall and stood in the presence of the tall, flushed stranger with the ragged uniform.

A short, fierce little man in the picturesque uniform of a Graustark officer arose as Beverly entered the office. His short beard bristled as though it were concealing a smile, but his manner was polite, even deferential. She advanced fearlessly toward him, wayward smile struggling into her

You are Miss Beverly Calhoun Washington."

"I dare say you know I am not the princess," she said composedly. Every vestige of fear was gone now that she had reached the line of battle. The doughty baron looked somewhat surprised at this frank way of opening an interview.

said politely. "They say you know every one, Baron Dangloss," she boldly said. "Pray,

"I am quite well aware of it," he

The powerful official looked at the smiling face for a moment, his bushy eyebrows contracting ever so slightly. There was a shameless streak of dust across her cheek, but there was also a dimple there that appealed to the grim old man. His eyes twinkled as he replied, with fine obsequiousness: "You are Miss Beverly Calhoun of Washington."

CHAPTER IX. EVERLY'S eyes showed her as tonishment, Baron Dangloss courteously placed a chair for her and asked her to be seated. "We were expecting you, Miss Calboun," he explained. "Her royal highness left St. Petersburg but a few

"You don't mean to say that the Dr. de Van's Female Pills fortunately missed you."

"That was one of the purposes of her visit," said he brusquely "Oh, how jolly!" cried she, her gray burg?" cried Beverly in wonder and eves sparkling. The grim old captain was startled for the smallest fraction of a minute, but at once fell to admiring the fresh, eager face of the visitor. "The public at large is under the impression that she visited the czar on matters of importance," he said, with a condescending smile.

"And it really was of no importance at all, that's what you mean?" She smiled back securely.

"Your message informing her highness of your presence in St. Petersburg had no sooner arrived than she set forth to meet you in that city, much against the advice of her counselors. I will admit that she had other business there, but it could have waited. You see, Miss Calhoun, it was a great risk at this particular time. Misfortune means disaster now. But Providence was her friend. She arrived safely in Ganlook not an hour

"Really? Oh, Baron Dangloss, where is she?" excitedly cried the American

"For the night she is stopping with The Countess Rallowitz. A force of men, but not those whom you met at the gates, has just been dispatched at her command to search for you in the lower pass. You took the most dangerous road, Miss Calhoun, and I am amazed that you came through in "The Russians chose the lower pass,

I know not why. Of course, I was quite ignorant. However, we met nerther brigands nor soldiers, Axphain or Graustark. I encountered nothing more alarming than a mountain lion And that, Baron Dangloss, recalls me to the sense of a duty I have been neglecting. A poor wanderer in the hills defended me against the beast and was badly wounded. He must be taken to a hospital at once, sir, where he may have the proper care."

Whereupon, at ms request, she hur riedly related the story of that trying journey through the mountains, not forgetting to paint the courage of Baldos in most glowing colors. The chief was deeply interested in the story of the goat hunter and his party. There was an odd gleam of satisfaction in his eyes, but she did not observe it.

"You will see that he has immediate attention, won't you?" she implored in "He shall have our deepest consideration." promised he. "You know I am rather interested because I shot him, just as if it were not enough that his legs were being torn by the brute at the time. He ought not to walk, Baron Dangloss. If you don't mind, I'd suggest an ambulance," she hurried on glibly. He could not conceal the smile that her eagerness inspired. "Really, he is in a serious condition. I think he needs some quinine and whisky, too, and"-

"He shall have the best of care," interrupted the captain. "Leave him to me, Miss Calhoun." "Now, let me tell you something."

said she, after due reflection. "You must not pay any attention to what he says. He is liable to be delirious and talk in a terrible sort of way. You know, delirious people never talk rationally." She was loyally trying to protect Baldos, the hunted, against any incriminating statements be might make. "Quite right, Miss Calhoun," said the baron very gravely. "And now, I'd like to go to the princess," said Beverly, absolutely sure of herself. "You know we are great friends, she and I."

"I have sent a messenger to announce your arrival. She will expect you." Beverly looked about the room in perplexity. "But there has been no messenger here," she said. "He left here some minutes before you came. I knew who it was that came knocking at our gates, even though she traveled as Princess Yetive of Graustark." "And, oh, that reminds me, Baron Dangloss, Baldos still believes me to be the princess. Is it necessary toto tell him the truth about me? Just at present, I mean? I'm sure he'll rest much easier if he doesn't know differently."

"So far as I am concerned, Miss Ca houn, he shall always regard you as a queen," said Dangloss gallantly. "Thank you. It's very nice of you

A man in uniform entered after snocking at the door of the room. He saluted his superior and uttered a few words in his own language. "Her royal highness is awaiting you at the home of the countess. Miss Calhoun. A detail of men will escort you and your servant to her place." "Now, please, Baron Dangloss," pleaded Beverly at the door, "be nice to him. You know it hurts him to walk. Can't you have him carried in't "If he will consent," said he quietly. Beverly hurried into the outer room after giving the baron a smile he never forgot. Baldos looked up eagerly.

anxiously. "It's all right," she said in low tones, pausing for a moment beside his chair. "Don't get up! Goodby. I'll come to see you tomorrow. Don't be in the least disturbed. Baron Dangloss has his instructions." Impulsively giving him her hand, which he respectfully raised to his lips, she followed Aunt Fanny and was gone.

Almost immediately Baldos was requested to present himself before Baron Dangloss in the adjoining room.

Refusing to be carried in, he resolutely strode through the door and stood before the grim old captain of police, an easy, confident smile on his face. The black patch once more covered his eye with defiant assertiveness. "They tell me you are Baldos, a goat hunter," said Baron Dangloss, eying him keenly. And you were nurt in delending one who is of much consequence in Graustark. Sit down, my good fellow." Baldos' eye gleamed coldly for an instant; then he sank into a chair. "While admitting that you have done Graustark

"They did not I take the liberty of inquiring on my own responsibility." "Very well, sir. Until you have a right to question me, I am Baldos and a goat hunter. I think I am here to receive surgical treatment." "You decline to tell me anything concerning yourself?" "Only that I am injured and need re-

"Perhaps I know more about you than you suspect, sir." "I am not in the least interested, Baron Dangloss, in what you know.

The princess brought me into Ganlook. and I have her promise of help and protection while here. That is all I have to say, except that I have implicit faith in her word." Dangloss sat watching him in sllence for some time. No one but himself knew what was going on in that threwd, speculative mind. At length be arose and approached the proud fellow in rags. "You have earned every consideration at our hands. My men will take you to the hospital, and you shall have the best of care. You have served our princess well. Tomorrow you may feel inclined to talk more freely with me. for I am your friend, Baldos," "I am grateful for that, Baron Dangloss," said the other simply. Then he was led away, and a comfortable cot in the Ganlook hospital soon held his long, feverish frame, while capable hands took care of his wounds. He dld not know it, but two fully armed soldiers maintained a careful guard outside his door under instructions from the head of the police. Moreover, a picked detail of men sallied forth into the lower pass in search of the goat hunter's followers. In the meantime Beverly was conducted to the home of the Countess Rallowitz. Her meeting with the princess was most affectionate. There were tears, laughter and kisses. The whole atmosphere of the place suggested romance to the eager American girl. Downstairs were the royal guards. In the halls were attendants. All about were maidservants and obsequious lackeys, crowding the home dainty meal. "Oh, I am so delighted," murmured Beverly for the hundredth time. "I'm appalled when I think of the of the kindly countess. At last, comfortable and free from the dust of travel, the two friends sat down to a dangers you incurred in coming to me. No one but a very foolish American girl could have undertaken such a trip as this. Dear me, Beverly, I should have died if anything dreadful had happened to you. Why did you do it?" questioned the princess. And then they laughed joyously.

"And you went all the way to St. Petersburg to meet me, you dear, dear Yetive." cried Beverly so warmly that the attentive servant forgot his mask of reverence. "Wasn't it ridiculous of me? I know Gren would have forbidden it if he had been in Edelweiss when I started. And, more shame to me, the poor fellow is doubtless at the conference with Dawsbergen, utterly ignorant of my escapade. You should have heard the ministry-er-ah"- And the princess paused for an English word. "Kick?" Beverly supplied.

"Yes. They objected violently. And. do you know, I was finally compelled to issue a private edict to restrain them from sending an appeal to Grenfall away off there on the frontier. Whether or no, my uncle insisted that he should be brought home, a three days' journey, in order that he might keep me from going to St. Petersburg. Of course they could not disobey my edict, and so poor Gren is none the wiser, unless he has returned from the conference. If he has, I am sure he is on the way to Ganlook at this very

"What a whimsical ruler you are! cried Beverly. "Upsetting everything sensible just to rush off hundreds of miles to meet me! And Axphain is trying to capture you too! Goodness, you must love me!" "Oh, but I did have a trifling affair of state to lay before the czar, my dear! Tomorrow we shall be safe and sound in the castle, and it will all be very much worth while. You see, Beverly, dear, even princesses enjoy a diversion now and then. One wouldn't think anything of this adventure in the United States; it is the environment that makes it noticeable. Besides, you traveled as a princess. How did you like it?"

And then the conversation related particularly to the advantages of royalty as viewed from one side and the disadvantages as regarded from another. For a long time Beverly had been wondering how she should proceed in the effort to secure absolute clemency for Baldos. As yet she had said nothing to Yetive of her promise to him, made while she was a priners would not have been so faithful and true if they had not believed me to be a princess," said Beverly, paving the way. "You haven't a man in your kingdom who could be more chivalrous than Baldos." "If he is that kind of a man, he would treat any woman as gently."

"At any rate, I'm sure the goat hunt-

"You should have heard him call me 'your highness,' " cried Beverly. "He will loathe me if he ever learns that I

To be continued.

The mug of a hard drinker likely to give him away. Robt. Sutton caretaker of Thomas: Church, St. Catharines died suddenly early yesterday morn-

For construction w rk between Oshawa and Whitby,

HILL LEONARD

Engineering & Construction Co., No. 2 Toronto-st., Toronto.

L.C.I. L.C.I. Lindsay

Be a loyal supporter of the good old school and wear the official Collegiate Pin.

These pins are beau-I tifully designed and finished and sell for 20 cents at the Popular Jewelry Store.

W. F. McCarty

CANADIAN PACIFIC -Cne Way-Second Class-

FROM ALL STATIONS IN ON-TARIO TO CERTAIN POINTS IN British Columbia Alberta Montana California Washington

regon

Idaho, Etc. Arizona SEPT. 25 TO OCT. 10. Full particulars, rates, etc.,

T. C. MATCHETT

from Lay C.P.R. agent.

tests of your evesight. It is not our sim to see how hurriedly and cheaply we can fit you with glasses, but how well at reasonable prices. Consult us about your glasses, Children's eyes a specialty

M. B. ANNIS Oph.D

Eyesight Specialist

92 Kent-st., over Neili's Shoe Store

Eveglasses repaired. Broken

Lenses replaced

ACCUMULATED JAG. "Make it as light as possible" said a man from Cannington to His Worship Magistrate Jackson this morning. The charge read was that of being drunk and incapable York-st. Saturday night when was surprised by chief Short and taken in a carriage to the lock-up. The prisoner pleaded guilty cheerfully to the charge and stated he had paid $40.00 a short time ago in Cannington for being under the influence of the barley juice while in a local option district. He admitted coming to town for the purpose of quenching his thirst and had and abnormal one. For divers reasons the fine was made $2.00 and costs or a total of $5.50 which was paid by the baggage and dray man from the neat little village. He left on the mixed train for his home at 12.00 o'clock noon

The first train to be operated by a portable storage battery ran yesterday between New York and Long

WANTED

Men or women to look over their hens or chickens and see if they haven't any to spare. If they have they can deliver them to our poultry depot. 40, Queen Street, East Ward. or leave their order at A. Applebaum's Store, where a horse and waggon will call for any quantity, and receive the highest prices. Don't delay. it right now, and secure the highest prices.

APPLEBAUM and SON, 'Phone 337 L

Think this over! Is there any beverage that costs you less per cup than

GOES FARTHEST FOR THE MONE