

Fall Overcoats

A little early for a heavy winter overcoat to be sure, but none too early for one of our comfortable and dressy Fall Overcoats.

We've been told, time and again, that "we've the handsomest and smartest Fall Overcoats in town."

We just want to add to this that they are reasonably priced, too.

There are plain unfinished woads, tweeds and chevots. Some are silk lined and have silk faced lapels. Every coat beautifully tailored.

$6.50, $8.00, $10 to $20

We're right sure that we'll make a sale if you'll step in and try on one of the New Coats. We know you'll like them.

The New Suit Models

The New Fall Suits we are now showing are full of good breeding, progressiveness and animation.

You may say that it is ridiculous to look for such qualities in a Suit of Clothes, but there is nothing ridiculous about it.

Come In and Let Us Show You!

The Beautiful Fabrics and the Artistic Tailoring will at once tell you a story of clothes distinctiveness and merit.

Then when it comes to value-giving—

We Shine Our Brightest!

Suits at $6, $7, $8 to $20

Prize Winners at Cameron Rural School Garden Fair.

Cameron, Oct. 1.—The pupils of S. S. No. 6 Fension held their 3rd school garden Fair in the school grounds on Monday Sept. 23, from 1 to 5 p.m. A large crowd of parents and visitors were present. The schoolhouse was tastefully decorated with pressed plants and art work by the pupils. The judges of the flowers construction work and the garden journals were: Miss Myrtle Anderson of Cameron and Miss L. Maybe of Cannington. The judges of the vegetables and poultry were Mr. D. A. McKenzie B. S. A. and his assistant Mr. Hunter of Lindsay.

also gave them some directions for further experiments to test the good qualities of their flocks. Mr. McKenzie gave a wood-seed judging contest to the boys after which he spoke of the improvement in the work done by the school especially along the line of experimental work. He then explained the plan adopted at Dunsford and Little Britain and the intense interest aroused by the success of the work this year. He wished to organize such a centre in this district but had no definite plans yet. The children then sang "The Flag for me." Mr. Stevens then called upon the trustees and some of the gentlemen present for their views on the work. All expressed themselves pleased with the Fair and the work that was being done. The prizes for the races were then given and the ribbons for the winners in the poultry and weed-seed contest were presented by Mr. McKenzie. Miss Landsford, the principal was then called upon and gave the results of their interesting experiments with O. A. C. No. 21 Barley and with Red wethersfield and yellow Globe Denvers onions. The extremely wet weather had interfered with the success of the experiments but the results were very interesting. GASSIEN—CAIN. A pretty wedding was celebrated at St. Mary's R. C. church on Wednesday, when Miss Margaret Rossella Cain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cain, became the bride of Mr. Albert Joseph Gassien, of town. The indissoluble knot was tied by the officiating clergyman, the venerable Archdeacon Casey, after which the nuptial mass was celebrated by the officiating clergyman. Many of the bride and groom's friends were in attendance at the ceremony, also many members of the congregation. The bride looked beautiful and was dressed in a navy blue suit with black hat trimmed with white plumes. The bridesmaid wore a pretty navy blue suit, black hat with cream plumes. After the signing of the register the happy couple repaired to the home of the bride's parents, when a sumptuous spread awaited the gay party. After a short honeymoon the young couple on their return will reside in Lindsay.

MONTHLY W. I. Meeting at Cameron

Cameron, Oct. 1.—The monthly meeting of the Cameron Branch of the Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. T. Downer on Thursday, 11th. In answer to roll-call Mrs. Smith gave an excellent paper on "How to make the Institute a success". Then followed a discussion on "Series of winter meetings". Next on the program was a song by Mrs. J. Suggitt which was very nicely rendered. Mrs. P. Mark and Mrs. H. Eyres, each gave a paper on the "Advantages of a country girl". While Miss Thelma Townsend and Miss Arvilla Downer by their papers strove to show that the city girl had many advantages over her country friend. These papers were all good and brought out many good points on both sides showing that careful study and consideration had been used in preparing them. It was decided to hold a social evening on Oct. 17th at Mrs. Eyres home, a fee of 5c to be taken at the door. The Nov. meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. Naylor Subjects "Evil of fault-finding and Sociability", meeting closed by singing "God Save the King" and lunch was served in the usual hospitable manner by Mrs. Downer.

OBITUARY.

MRS. WICKS. Norland Sept. 30.—The angel of death has once more visited our midst and has taken from us an old and respected lady in the person of Mrs. Wicks, who passed away peacefully on Friday night last from this world of care to her heavenly home. The remains were placed at rest in the Pine Grove cemetery on Sunday Sept. 24th. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Wilkinson at her residence a short way from the village. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved relatives and friends.

Well-Known Live S Judge Int

Mr. Wm. Channon returned from Minden fair last Wednesday and remained in town for the night, being engaged as judge at Midbrook fair Thursday. In speaking of fairs Mr. Channon said: "They are a great source of education to the farmer and better results are being obtained each year." He remarked that fairs were of very ancient origin and were held in England and the old countries centuries ago. The United States had been going along in a lethargic way for many years, but were now awakening to the fact that to keep abreast of the times in the production of good stock competition.

Why Discuss L At th

Peterboro Times.—Mr. Burnham says that he is frequently asked the question: "Do you mind stating whether you are in favor of submitting the Temperance question (that is Local Option) to a vote of the people next January, as suggested by some, or of letting it go to the people when they go to the polls at the next election for the legislation?" His reply is: "I do not mind giving my opinion. I should say that it was necessary and not a matter of option at all, to leave it to Sir James and Mr. Rowell at the Messrs. Stephen Oliver and R. Smith arrived home from Markham, where they attended the Markham fair. Mr. Oliver was successful in carrying off 45 first prizes, 20 seconds, 12 of the number were ticketed on his herd of Jersey cattle. Mr. Oliver reports the fair as good, but not up to the Lindsay Central.
