MOVING TO LINDSAY.
Mr. St. Thomas and family, of Gogrie's Creek, Harvey Township, are moving to Lindsay.

IS IMPROVING.

Latest reports are to the effect that Mr. John Spratt is improving rapidly, and will be in his usual fettle for sport inside of ten days.

INDUCTION OF RECTOR.

Archdeacon Warren officiated at Christ Church, Bobcaygeon, on Wednesday evening, in the induction of the new Rector, Rev. Mr. Greaves. Services for the occasion were held, and the reverend gentleman was presented with the key by the wardens.

FOWL SUPPER.

The annual fowl supper and concert under the auspices of the Methodist Church at Salm, Ops., will be held on the night of Monday, Oct. 21st, from 6 to 8 o'clock. After supper, a choice program will be rendered, consisting of solos, choruses and readings. There will also be one or two addresses from interesting speakers. This promises to be a treat.

SISTER THEODOSIA DEAD.

Funeral services for Sister Theodosia, of the Convent of the Holy Spirit, were held this morning for Peterboro, to be present at the funeral service of the late Sister Theodosia, which took place today. The above Sister was at one time a teacher in St. Joseph's Academy, Lindsay, and acted as instructor for the pupils of the Grand-pa's Birthday" was presented in the Opera House five years ago.

W. I. MEETING.

The regular meeting of the Cambridge branch of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. D. Gordon on Oct. 2nd, but owing to the busy time for the farmers there were not as many there as usual. Mrs. H. Feir gave an instrumental; Miss H. McInnes gave a splendid reading, and Mrs. D. Gordon gave an excellent instrumental. A question drawer was then taken charge of by Mrs. R. E. Tompkins, and the meeting closed by singing God Save the King. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. F. Wood, on Nov. 6th.

BUTTER AND EGGS BY MAIL.

In Germany, where the parcels post has long been in operation, the farmers mail butter and eggs to town without embarrassment, either to the postal clerks or the carriers. The eggs do not break and the butter does not melt because of packing boxes manufactures especially for the purpose, which can be had in this country, unasssembled, at from $23 a thousand for butter to $45 a thousand for eggs. Joy over the convenience of the inventions will be chastened by an application of their effect upon the high cost of eating.

PETERBORO CHEESE BOARD.

A thirteen-cent bid, propped by Mr. Morton, quickly decided the sale of 2,543 boxes of cheese on the Peterboro Cheese Board Wednesday morning. One week ago the Board met, and adjourned, when the highest bid did not exceed 12 1/2c. Wednesday morning Mr. Morton ventured a sixteenth of a cent more, making a standing bid of thirteen cents, that swept the entire Board. The opening bid was made by Mr. Watkins at 12 1/2c. Mr. Gillespie increased the bid by a fraction, and was followed by Mr. Morton, with the result as stated.

LADIES, ATTENTION!

A lady representative of the firm of Hall-Bochert will be in our store on Monday and Tuesday next, Oct. 21st and 22nd, inst., demonstrating their famous adjustable dress forms. Every lady should have one of these forms, as they are a decided boon to home dressmakers. Prices, $1.00 to $15.00 each. Come and see them demonstrated. Dundas & Flavell, Limited.

Wedding Bells

MCGINLEY-MALONEY.
A pretty wedding was celebrated at St. Mary's R. C. church this morning by the Rev. Fr. Guiry, when Miss Susie Maloney, of Lindsay, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Joseph McGinley, of Ops. The bridesmaid was attended by her cousin, Miss Loretto Maloney, of Douro, while the groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Daniel McGinley. After the celebrating of the nuptial mass the happy young couple with their attendants took a carriage to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. C. McMillhargey, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast awaited the party. Mr. and Mrs. Maloney will reside in Ops on the return from their honeymoon trip.

Battle of Queenston Heights 100 Years Ago Sunday

A hundred years ago last week was fought the famous battle of Queenston Heights. On October 10, 1812, an American spy, who had crossed the Niagara River to the British camp, reported to General Van Rensselaer that Sir Isaac Brock had moved off toward Detroit with all his men. Thus deceived, Van Rensselaer ordered a detachment to cross the river, but the boats were carried astray in the current. At three in the morning of the 13th a crossing was effected by several boats, but others were sunk by the British guns at Queenston. Three hundred British regulars and Canadian militia men, under Captains Dennis and Williams, drove the invaders back to the brow of the heights, where they were reinforced by more men from across the river.
General Brock, at Fort George, hearing the firing, galloped to the scene, arriving about daybreak. The Americans were then coming up the bank in force, and they captured a gun and drove back the little party of British. Brock sent to Fort George for more men, and led the little body on the scene—about 100 strong—against the 300 or 400 Americans in the battery. Then it was that shouting, "Push on the

Successful Tea and Concert At Hartley

Hartley, Oct. 15.—The anniversary services of our church were held here on Sunday, and large congregations assembled in the afternoon and evening, when two inspiring sermons were preached by Rev. J. E. Robins, of Little Britain. Fine weather prevailed, and as a result the seating capacity of the church was taxed to its utmost at both services.
The fowl supper and entertainment on Monday evening passed off pleasantly and successfully. Supper was served in the hall to a crowd fully up to that of former years, the proceeds amounting to one hundred dollars. The first fowl supper of the season in this part of the county was certainly well attended. After supper was served a two hour program was given in the church. Helpful addresses were given by Rev. J. U. Robins and Rev. S. G. Steele, of Glenora. Miss Bernice Greene, of the Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby, elocutionist, and Miss M. A. Welsh, of Woodville, violinist, were very popular with the audience, several encores being granted. The various members of the local choir, including those of the quartette, deserve special credit for preparing the quality of music rendered by them.

York volunteers," he was shot, and fell mortally wounded.
His aide-de-camp, Col. Macdonell, soon arrived with 100 more militia, and the whole, about 200, charged up the heights, but had to fall back. Then arrived General Schaeffe with about a thousand British regulars, militiamen, and Indians. Van Rensselaer crossed the river with more men, so that the Americans numbered at least 1,500.
The British charged the invaders with the bayonet and drove them back clear over the heights. Some threw themselves over the precipice or into the river. Others rushed for
