A TEAMSTER'S STORY

SUFFERED GREATLY FROM ASTHMA AND KIDNEY TROUBLES

Spent Some Time in a Hospital and Almost Impoverished Himself Buying Medicines Without Benefit—Again Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cure After Other Medicines Fail

From the Recorder, Halifax, N.S.

Mr. William Cochrane, a well known teamster, who lives near the Halifax Polo Grounds, is one of those who willingly bear testimony to the curative powers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A reporter of the Acadian Recorder who had heard of Mr. Cochrane's sufferings and subsequent cure, called at his home, when he gave an account of his experience substantially as follows: "He had for many years been a constant sufferer from asthma, accompanied by an aggravated form of kidney trouble. The latter trouble caused severe pains in the back and loins, and at times his sufferings were very acute. He said he had almost impoverished himself in buying medicines of all kinds, but to no purpose; the trouble continued and seemed to grow worse as the years passed. Mrs. Cochrane said that she had frequently seen her husband choke up and fall to the floor as though dead, and he would have to be worked with and rolled around before he would revive. A few years ago he spent ten days in the Victoria General Hospital. The doctors then thought that the pains in the back were due to over-exertion in his business as a teamster, but gave him no material help. After leaving the hospital, he used bottles and bottles of medicine, but failed to find a cure. A neighbor of his, Mr. Lowe, whose wife had been made a well woman after years of sickness by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advised him to try them. He used a couple of boxes without apparent result, and felt somewhat discouraged, but Mr. Lowe advised him to continue the use of the pills, and before the third box was finished, he began to improve. "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a God-send to me," said Mr. Cochrane; "they are the only medicine I have taken which seemed to do me any good. I had one prescription from a doctor which cost me $1.75 a bottle, which like many other medicines I took, was just so much money wasted. I have used eight or ten boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and can say that before I began their use life was an intolerable burden. I have reason to be thankful that I followed the friendly advice that urged me to use this medicine."

Most diseases have their origin in poor blood or weak nerves, and it is because Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make rich, red blood and strengthen the nerves that they have met with such success in curing kidney trouble, rheumatism, paralysis, St. Vitus dance, anaemia, nervous prostration and kindred troubles. See that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," is on the wrapper, and direct to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be mailed post paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50.

RELIGION IN ENGLAND

Rev. Mr. Macmillan's View Supported by Dean Farrar

In his sermon the Sunday night after his return from Europe Rev. J. W. Macmillan declared that in England the established church was losing its hold on the masses. That statement surprised some people and aroused the criticism of others. Confirmation of his utterance has since come from an exalted source. Rev. F. W. Farrar, Dean of Canterbury, and one of the greatest scholars in the Church of England agrees with him as the following despatch will show:

"Very Rev. Frederic William Farrar, Dean of Canterbury, startled the religious world on Saturday, 26th Oct., by his public declaration that the Church of England must make essential reforms if it is not entirely to lose the masses of the English people. Ceremonials, rituals and theological subtleties, the dean declares, must be abandoned, and a living spirit infused into the forms of the state religion. The great canon admits as a terrible fact the drift of the working people from the church. He says the prayer book no longer attracts the people. The poor of the cities complain that the services are tiresome and too long. The saloon and the gambling den are more valued than the sanctuary. If this state of things is to be changed the church, in Dean Farrar's opinion, must rouse itself to action, and quickly. Ministers must look to their enthusiasm and their office as reformers. Dean Farrar is without doubt the most intellectual churchman in the English communion."

Shantymen Must Stay

The recent amendment of the act respecting master and servant makes "jumping" after R. R. fares have been paid to camp punishable by law. The amended clause reads: "In case any person enters into an agreement under which he receives as an advance of wages, money, food lodging or railway or steamboat ticket to enable him to reach any place at which he has engaged to perform labor, work, or other services, if such person thereafter, without the consent of his employer, leaves his employment before money, or cost of such food, lodging or transportation has been repaid, he shall, on proof thereof before a justice of the peace, be liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding $25; and in default of payment of such penalty to imprisonment in the common goal of the county or district for a period not exceeding 30 days, as the justice may direct."

THE COST OF THE FIRE HALL MUST NOT EXCEED $5000

If the Tenders Amount to More than That the Town Itself Will Build It

There was a general meeting of committees on Saturday night. Contracts were let for keeping the sidewalk free of snow next winter, and several interesting matters discussed. Fresh from the woods Ald. Sinclair took a hand.

Geo. Barnett whose son was fined for riding his bicycle on the sidewalk asked council to remit part of the $6 and something fine and costs assessed on him by the magistrate.

Ald. Hore thought well of granting the request. Mr. Barnett contended that it was not right for council to interfere with everybody that got fined would soon be asking them to remit part of it. The latter was referred to the police commissioners.

Dr. McAlpine was present and at Mr. T. Cuff's request for a grant on account of injuries received by his wife on a bad piece of walk, he said that he was doctoring Mrs. Cuff, and that she had received injuries from which her complete recovery was doubtful. The acting chairman of the Board of Works (Ald. O'Reilly) was instructed to see if $50 would satisfy Mr. Cuff.

Ald. Sinclair—Wasn't the commissioner notified of that poor walk? Why wasn't it fixed?

Com. Chalmers—There was no complaint about that part.

Mr. A. M. Paton sent Dist. Supt. Tiffin's letter offering to place watchmen at the Kent and Lindsay streets crossings if the town would pay half.

The clerk was told to write Mr. Tiffin asking for the service but saying that the town would pay nothing for it.

Ald. O'Reilly favored saying that the police would enforce the law against trains going at more than 6 miles an hour in town, if watchmen were not appointed.

Mayor Ingle thought some check should be put on fast driving out of the lanes and alleyways leading on to Kent-st.

Ald. O'Reilly—There is a statute saying a walk is the limit in such places.

Mr. Steers' letter saying that Mr. R. McIntyre would issue a writ for $200 against the town and gas company for injuries received by falling into an excavation, was filed, together with one from the town solicitor saying that the writ had been issued.

Mr. McIntyre had refused the gas company's offer of $50 and that company will stand a suit.

McLaughlin, McDiarmid and Peel sent a letter saying that Mr. R. Smyth would sue for $60 because water ran from the street into his cellar. The solicitor was ordered to defend the suit.

Ald. Jackson said that if a man builds in a hole the town could not help it.

The commissioner was ordered to put the floating bridge into position at the foot of Ridout-st.

The Snowplow Contracts

Mr. Geo. Brooks offered to keep the walks clear of snow in the north ward for $80, Mr. Seward Armstrong for $90, and Mr. Geo. Hartwick for $70. The last named got the contract. It cost $80 last year.

For the east half of the south ward Seward Armstrong asked $55 but Mr. John Reynolds got it at $54. Mr. Reynolds got the west half also at the same price.

Mr. John Kearns got the east ward for $90.

The G. T. R. employees asked for the town hall in which to hold their annual ball.—Held over.

The Chief of the fire brigade will get 50 zincs and 50 coppers for the alarm.

A bill of $21 for cutting the grass on the park last summer brought Ald. Sinclair down on Ald. Hore, chairman of Town Property.

Ald. Sinclair—Why didn't you get the mower from the school board? We paid for it, and you could have used one of our own horses and saved that expense.

Ald. Hore—I couldn't.

Ald. Sinclair—Why couldn't you? Ald. Hore—I asked Mr. Kennedy and he said he couldn't give me an order to get the roller.

Ald. Sinclair—Why didn't you tell council so? We paid for that roller and I would see if we couldn't get it.

Ald. Jackson—You couldn't. The Board is independent.

Ald. Sinclair—We could have got it. The thing was done in a careless way.

The insurance men's demand for a fifth nozzle roused the blacksmith alderman again. "What do they want five for?" demanded he. "We only have pressure for four. If we get five they will want six. That is just like them."

The mayor—Yes, we have pressure for five.

Ald. Sinclair—You may think so, but the people don't. Ald. Jackson—Oh, I don't know. Ald. Sinclair—You should know. More Taxes Rebated.

The other night the Y.M.C.A. and St. Mary's Hall got their assessments reduced from $3700 and $3400 to $500 and $300 respectively. That $500 and $300 referred to next year's reduction referred to those of this year. Next referred to those of this year. Next day they found out their mistake and on Saturday night asked council to fix this year's on the same basis.

Ald. Hore—They are religious bodies and get the reduction by law.

Ald. Sinclair—I might hold religious services in one of my buildings and ask the same treatment. I could start just as good a church as they are.

Ald. Robson—It just means that the general taxpayer has to pay what these institutions escape.

Ald. Sinclair—How much will it be? Ald. O'Reilly—About $150. On motion of Alds. Hore and O'Reilly the request was granted.

At this point Ald. Sinclair admonished the Post reporter to take back a statement recently made in that never asked exemption; I am not like paper that he got exemption. "I some sitting on this board," said the alderman.

Mayor Ingle—I have paid more me.

Ald. Sinclair—Yes. Mayor Ingle—I never asked exemption.

Ald. Sinclair—You get it all the same.

Mayor Ingle—Ja have paid more taxes here than you.

Ald. Sinclair—No you don't. Mayor Ingle—I say I have paid more.

Ald. Sinclair—You have been here longer; you don't pay more now.

Kelcher's Dogs

A letter from Mr. Kelcher complained that he had been notified to pay his dog tax one day and two days after was brought into the police court, and lost a $5 trip with his train. He thought he was the victim of vengeance.

Ald. Jackson—It was supposed he had only one dog, and when the chief went here he found 4.

Mayor Ingle—I knew another dog that ran around here a all summer with no tag and belonged to a man sitting at this board.

Ald. Sinclair—You mean me. Mayor Ingle—Yes.

Ald. Sinclair—I have a tag for my dog.

Mayor Ingle—He don't wear it. Ald. Sinclair—He don't have to.

Ald. O'Reilly—No, as long as you have the tag it is all right. Of course the police can arrest the dog without a tag and the owner runs the risk of having it shot after three days.

It was now 10 o'clock and the aldermen left the board to compose themselves for the Sabbath.

DARK UNSOUNDED CHANNELS

Mr. John Morley Speaks Sober Words to His Constituents

In the course of a speech to his constituents of Forforshire, Mr. John Morley the great English writer and scholar, said of the war and present conditions:

The struggle had indeed been a prolonged one. The consequences would be a burden on their statesmanship and on their resources for generations to come. Were they not entitled to ask who were the better friends of the Empire, who showed more of the Imperial instinct? Those who two years ago warned the government that patience in the negotiations before the sword was drawn was a quality required, or those who now invited patience as the ship of their great State was moving slowly and heavily through dark and unsounded channels?

Another danger to the Empire, or to what he preferred to call the British Commonwealth, was the heavy, violent, heedless temper of no inconsiderable a proportion of their population, the very temper to which the government appealed at the last election.

This country more than any other required that those who had its destinies in their hands should not be heady and violent, reckless and heedless.

Let them try to influence public opinion. If the country remained in its present mood of financial indifference, depend upon it if there was any relation whatever between cause and effect, that expenditure due to their Imperialism and their militarism would ruin the country.

More territorial expansion, mere acquisition of barren territory in South Africa or anywhere else, was not empire-making, and the estrangement of the good-will of the world did not strengthen the Empire, but weakened it.
