—Selling off Millinery at half price this week at Miss Mitchell's.—47-11.
 —A member of the Thurston-Hunter-Parker hunting party of Duns-ford says that the Galway dog exchange is a genuine success, and recommends fanciers to visit that township next fall. Lumber is cheap at the mills, but hunters from Lindsay should estimate their wants and ask for tenders from Carew before going north.
 —One night recently as Mr. Fred Conway and wife and child were driving past the sandpits on their way to town, the horse shied and threw the rig over the bank which is 10 feet high at that point. The buggy lit upside down and Mr. and Mrs. Conway were painfully hurt.
 The child received serious injuries.
 Mr. Jos. Thornhill came along with a lantern and assisted in righting things. This dangerous point should have a guard put up.
 —Orillia Packet: Lindsay Collegiate Institute has issued the prospectus for its seventh series of lectures. As we look it over, and consider the long list of distinguished men that the people of our neighboring town have the privilege of hearing, at their best, on their own subjects, we find it hard not to break the spirit of the Tenth Commandment.....The Lindsay Collegiate Institute is to be congratulated on its enterprise and success.

 Belleville.
 —Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hill of Oakwood left last week for Cornwall, England, where they will spend a couple of months visiting relatives and friends.
 —On Monday Miss Alton, daughter of Mr. W. Alton, Bexley, went to Dr. McKenzie's Orthopaedic Hospital, Toronto, for treatment. She has been suffering from partial paralysis for some time. Dr. Grant of Victoria Road, and her father accompanied her.
 —Miss Clara Thompson and Mrs.
 D. N. Pearce of Victoria-ave., arrived home Friday evening from Cobcunk, where they were attending the funeral of the late Gordon McBride the young brakeman who was crushed to death while coupling cars at Orillia.
 —Mr. W. S. and Mrs. McClellan are at present visiting Mrs. McClellan's parents, Dr. and Mrs. McAlpine. Mr.
 McClellan has quite recovered from his serious illness and expects to resume his position as manager of the Metropolitan bank, Wellington, on December 1st.
 —On Friday, Nov. 13th, Mrs.
 Armstrong held the first reception to meet the ladies of Lindsay. Many called and were delighted with the hostess and her charming daughter.
 Miss Ruth Fuller, who has been the guest of Miss Armstrong, has returned to Toronto.

The meeting of the Literary Society was held last Friday afternoon.
 The program commenced by an instrumental by Miss C. Emmerson.
 This was followed by an interesting reading by Miss A. McLean and another instrumental from Miss I.
 Smith. The next item excited great enthusiasm. The boys of III sang a chorus and after hearty applause, the boys again responded. The meeting was closed by the singing of the National Anthem.
 —Mr. Arch. Riddle, representing the Gilmours of Trenton was in town on Tuesday. While here he disposed of the entire cut of timber for this season on their limits on Squaw river, Nogey's, Union and Concession creeks to Mr. John Carew.
 Mr. Riddle states that the great distance to their mills at Trenton together with the prevailing high wages is the reason for selling. The timber will comprise pine, hemlock, spruce, cedar, basswood, ash and elm.
 —Edward Wilkes Rathbun, president and general manager of the Rathbun Company, died in Deseronto Tuesday morning shortly after nine o'clock.
 Heart failure was the cause. He had been a sufferer from heart affection for some years, and was constantly under the care of doctors and nurses. He had frequent attacks of the malady. Twice married, he is survived by seven children. His eldest son, E. Walter succeeds him, as general manager of the extensive enterprises of which his father and grandfather were founders.

—A sportsman writes to the Orillia Packet: "The number of small deer and does brought back from the woods this season is deplorable, and if some change in the game law is not soon made we shall have to import our venison from outside Ontario. In British Columbia it is illegal to kill does or fawns, and no hounds are allowed to run. It would be an excellent idea to put the same law in force in this province, for a few years at any rate. The season, too, opens too early. Tons of meat spoil in the bush; the 15th of November is plenty early enough to begin.
 City pot-hunters will not, of course, endorse this."
 —On Monday County Police Magistrate Deacon and Mayor Sootheran heard two charges of infraction of the liquor law. One was against Mr. Thos. McConnell of the Royal Hotel, who was charged with selling liquor to minors. In the absence of the chief witness the case was enlarged till Friday. The other case was against Mr. Jas. Butler, charged with selling liquor on Sunday, the 8th inst. to an unknown man and to the man Mullen who was stopped by Cook Redshaw the same day at Camp "A." The charge was proven, but it was shown that the proprietor did not sell the liquor. It was a second offence and a fine of $40 and costs, $44.45 in all was imposed.
 —On Saturday afternoon a team of horses belonging to Mr. D. V. Rowan of Manvers were scared by the train while left standing in front of a Kent-st. house west of track. The animals ran down Kentst. at a furious rate, narrowly avoiding collision with rigs and pedestrians. At McConnell's corner the wagon struck a post, and was overturned. The horses were swung suddenly against a buggy with two young men in it, and threw the occupants out. If the post had not been struck, it is almost certain that the runaways would have dashed into this rig for right in their path.
 The escapes from fatal runaway accidents in this town seem like inter-positions of Providence waiting patiently to see if folks will not stop leaving their horses standing on the street without being tied.
 —The first of the Y. M. C. A. series of concerts was held at the Academy of Music on Friday night and was a success, both in program and point of attendance. Mr. Harold Jarvis was very happy in his vocal selections and rendered them in that splendid voice and style that have made him a favorite all over the continent. Mr. Smily's impersonations were new and in the very best form of that clever entertainer.
 Miss Dean by stage presence, and made his home in California where his life was so suddenly terminated.

 He had been employed as a motor-man on the Pacific Electric railway and was in the act of coupling two cars when he was crushed by them and died from his injuries about two hours later. The fatal accident occurred on Tuesday evening, October 6th, last and he was buried on the following Friday. He left a wife and a little 6-year-old daughter who have the heartfelt sympathy of a community in which he had become a worker for other's good. "He was one of the best motormen in the service of the company and of high morality, trustworthy and of high testimony of character" — such was the testimony of Manager W. H. Smith of —Peterboro Examiner: The members of a hunting party just returned are telling a good story on one of their number. It appears that he, with others at the edge of the lake, having laid his rifle on a log and was waiting for a deer to come within range. Suddenly he saw one come out of the woods on the farther side of the lake and go into the water. Exhibiting his characteristic carelessness he launched his canoe and paddled swiftly to intercept the deer. After several strategic moves he finally achieved his purpose and in about half an hour he had succeeded in tiring the deer, and had got close enough to touch it with his paddle. He then withdrew a short distance in order to shoot his captive, but was considerably surprised upon reaching behind him for his rifle to find it was not there. It just then dawned upon him that in his haste he had forgotten that necessary weapon and it was still on the log where he had left it. It was a lucky circumstance for the deer as the hunter in question was one of the best, if "over cautious," shots in the party.
