HYMENEAL

BADENOCK-NICHOLLS. The marriage took place in Calgary on Oct. 18th, of Russell Badenock, lieutenant of No. 2 fire hall, and Miss Melinda Nicholls, of Sunderland, Ontario. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. Kerby. Mr. and Mrs. Badenock are expected back in Edmonton to-night on return and will take up their residence on Sixth-st. Mr. Badenock has been with the fire department for two years and is a very popular member of the brigade.—Edmonton Journal.

BARRETT-FLAVELLE. A very lovely autumn wedding was that of Miss Mima Flavelle, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Flavelle, to Mr. Wallace Barrett, eldest son of the late Harold Barrett and Mrs. Barrett of Port Hope, and nephew of Judge Barrett of Walkerton, which took place at half-past three o'clock, on Oct. 28, in Sherbourne-st. Methodist church, Toronto.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George Jackson, of Victoria University, assisted by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Rose. The church was decorated with palms and ferns, the altar rail being banked with Easter lilies. Mr. Arthur Blakely presided at the organ, playing the "Lohenhrin" and Mendelssohn wedding marches, and the music from the Valkyrie, a mixed quartet, singing "O Love Divine and Tender."

The ushers, Mr. John A. Fraser, Mr. Ralph Burns, Mr. B. Wickens, and Mr. Douglas Henderson, preceded the bridal party up the aisle. Next came the two bridesmaids in single file, Miss Edith Flavelle, the bride's cousin, and Miss Valda Bonnick, followed by the maid of honor, Miss Clara Flavelle, sister of the bride. All were dressed alike, in pale turquoise blue. Liberty satin draped frocks, with silver-embroidery and blue velvet hats, swathed with silver net and wide satin bows at the back. They carried sheafs of American Beauty roses and wore the groom's gifts, topaz rings. The gifts to the ushers were silver-mounted canes.

Lastly, with her father, came the bride, wearing a graceful gown of ivory liberty satin charmeuse, made of simple, plain lines, with long train, the bodice and sleeves being of heavy silver embroidery, with tucked neck yoke. Over this was arranged a filmy tulle veil, caught with a chaplet of orange blossoms. She carried an exquisite shower of lilies of the valley, and wore the groom's gift, a necklace of diamonds.

Mr. Howard Barrett, brother of the groom, was best man. After the ceremony the bridal party and guests drove to the family residence in Queen's Park, where Mrs. Flavelle, wearing grey charmeuse with velvet applique and grey velvet toque, with plumes, and carrying mauve orchids, welcomed the guests in the drawing room, which was decorated with American Beauty roses. The bridal party received in the conservatory, where congratulations were showered upon the bride and groom. Dejeuner was served in the large dining room, when the Rev. Mr. Jackson proposed the health of the bride.

After cutting the cake the bride slipped away and changed her bridal attire for a traveling suit of dahlia cheviot, smartly tailored, and toque of gold tulle, with plumes, and ermine stole and muff, the gift of her mother. In a shower of confetti Mr. and Mrs. Barrett drove away to catch the 5.20 train, en route for Bermuda. On their return they will live at 77 Chestnut Park road, the gift of the bride's father.

TUBERCULOSIS COWS.

Dr. Broad, veterinary surgeon, who was appointed inspector of dairies by the town council, will submit his report to the council next week. He has inspected a number of dairies and found several cows afflicted with tuberculosis. He at once gave orders that no milk be sold from these cows so affected and the animals were allowed to go dry. It is probable that they will be destroyed at a later time, and the matter will come before the town council.

FURS ARE SCARCE.

Those who are thinking of buying furs this winter would do well not to delay too long, as a jump in prices from ten to a hundred per cent. appears to be likely.

The Watchman made some inquiries to-day as to why prices for furs are higher than last year. Local fur dealers say that lynx is the one fur that is going to be much dearer; in fact, already it has become more valuable through an advance of a hundred per cent.

The reason assigned for this is that the fur is very scarce, and that there is now a demand for dyeing it. Lynx is sent to Leipzig to undergo a particular dyeing process, which gives it a special gloss that is in demand, but the outlet is so great there being extra duties, etc., that the cost had advanced by leaps and bounds. Russian pony, sable, and pointed fox are expected to jump in price from 50 to 75 per cent.; while mink, ermine and seal have gone up from ten to fifteen per cent. Even the skunk, that is often abused, is worth something now, for its skins will sell at a much higher price this winter.

PLEASED WITH THE WEST.

Ald. W. W. Jordan, second deputy-revee of Lindsay, returned Thursday from a two months' trip to the Canadian West, along with Mr. Jas. Hopkins.

The two Lindsay men journeyed as far as Moosejaw, Sask. They visited the principal cities on the way out and enjoyed the trip immensely. Winnipeg, Regina and other cities were visited. At Lumsden, Sask., Mr. Jordan visited relatives.

Speaking of Saskatchewan and particularly Moosejaw, Mr. Jordan said this morning the school system was the best in the country. Particular care is taken to build modern school-houses and expense is no object when such structures are being erected, the people looking more for permanency and modern construction rather than cheapness. The school houses in Moosejaw are magnificent and the school equipment excellent.

"In fact every building which is built is erected on superior lines so that that city has many beautiful buildings and also residences. The courthouse there is a superior structure in many ways.

"In Lindsay we think we have a splendid courthouse," continued Mr. Jordan, "but it is not anything as good as the courthouse in Moosejaw, and that place is not much larger than Lindsay."

In Regina Mr. Jordan met and talked with Arthur McDonald, formerly a bookkeeper with Flavelles Ltd. in town. Art. is in a good position with a big firm and has received one advancement already. He went out "on his nerve," that is, with no position in view, but resolved to win a way for himself. His first job was with a threshing gang, but shortly afterwards he got a position at his profession, bookkeeping. Now he is on the road to success.

Mr. Jordan said that he had heard of the proposition to pave Kent-st., and so far was hardly in accord with it. In the west many streets were paved with brick and also with cement, and these proved more durable than asphalt. He said he was pleased with the condition of Kent-st. in front of the market, and would not think it inadvisable to treat the entire business part of the street in a similar manner.

LATE JAS. TURNER.

The Carleton Place Herald contains the following death notice of the father of a well-known Kirkfield preacher:

This week we record the death of one of our most respected citizens, in the person of Mr. Jas. Turner, whose spirit took its flight last Tuesday evening. For 78 years James Turner had lived on the same farm. He was born on the homestead two years after his parents came from Greenwich Scotland, in 1829, his father being the late Alexander Turner, who took up a crown deed in Ramsay, in November, 1854. Mr. Turner was united in marriage to Miss Mary Thom-who predeceased him by eight months after over half a century spent together through the hardships of pioneer days to the present period of comparative luxury. Of the family of eleven children two are dead, Alexander and Mary Agnes (Mrs. Thos. Arthur) and there are living: Mrs. Daniel Henderson, Beckwith; Mrs. Thos. Sadler, Carleton Place; Mrs. Norton Hill, North Augusta; John and James on adjoining farms; Jean and Arthur on the homestead; Rev. W. D. Turner, B.A., located at Norval, Ont., and Rev. H. H. Turner, B. D., at Kirkfield. All the family were home during the last moments. Mr. Turner was a life-long and consistent member of the Presbyterian church, and was an elder in St. Andrew's here ever since the separation from Almonte. He was also superintendent of the Sabbath school for over forty years. For a very long time he did good service as a school trustee and altogether was a most useful and progressive citizen. By this death he succeeded in life, and leaves a handsome estate. Among his legacies is a gift of some $2,500 to the mission schemes of the Presbyterian church. The funeral on Thursday afternoon was very largely attended. The pallbearers were the five sons and one grandson, Mr. Ernest Turner.

ELLA MAY LOUCKS.

Ella May Loucks, the eleven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Loucks, of Donald, died from blood-poisoning last Monday. A pimple was noticed on her chin and was picked with a pin while she was at school. Blood poisoning developed, and despite the doctor's efforts, the little girl died. The funeral was on Wednesday.

LATE MRS. BROCK.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Brock took place to the Riverside cemetery Friday from the residence of her son, in Ops, west of the town. Rev. C. H. Marsh and Rev. Mr. Bilkey, rector and curate of St. Paul's, conducted the services. The funeral was very largely attended, the deceased being widely known. The grandsons acted as pallbearers.

EXPLOSION IN DYE WORKS. Toronto, Oct. 28.—An explosion occurred at Parker's Dye Works, 791 Yonge-st., about eleven o'clock this morning, which blew out the rear of the building and injured at least nine persons, several of whom have been removed to the hospital. At least one Robt. Harris is fatally hurt. The explosion set fire to a small building in the rear of the dye works under which was a tank containing one hundred gallons of gasoline, but the firemen succeeded in extinguishing the flames before any serious damage was done. The explosion caused by the ignition of gasoline in tank used for cleaning purposes.

OLD WOMAN ROBBED. Orillia, Oct. 27.—Mrs. Hannah Barnett, of Wauhaushene, twenty miles west of here, was robbed on Wednesday night, last week, of about three hundred dollars. She is an old woman and crippled, and lives alone, except for another old woman who is her housekeeper. Mrs. Barnett had taken the money from the bank with the intention of making some alterations to her house, and had put the money in a locked valise in her bedroom. The following morning the valise on the verandah. It had been cut open and the money was gone. No clue to the thief has been found.

Two weeks ago the house of William Heels was entered while the family were away, and money taken from the children's banks.

Just ten years ago this month, Oct. 24, to be exact, a number of Lindsay's bravest sons departed for far-off South Africa, to help fight Britain's battles against the Boers. The patriotic enthusiasm which marked the departure of the soldiers, was perhaps never equalled before nor since. War was new to Canadians of that generation, and it became the all-absorbing topic. The anxiety to prove the loyalty to the empire, which many superficial observers had questioned, helped to bring around the general outburst.

The offering to the contingent from this county, the shire of Royal name, comprised the following young men: Pte. George Williams, Lindsay; Pte. Henry Corbeir, Lindsay; Pte. McGregor, Lindsay; Lieut. Suddaby, Burnt River; Corp. Dodd, Burnt River; Sergt. McGrae, Omeamee. The above volunteers left Lindsay along with Col. Sam. Hughes, and were given a hearty send-off. A number of other Lindsay boys left for the war from other points.

The Boer war has passed into history, and now at the close of only the first decade, the outstanding historical fact is the reconciliation of the races in the territory where they strove so bitterly for supremacy. What fictionist of the days of 1899 could have pictured with any appearance of probability, Gen. Botha then leading his grizzled warriors through the fastnesses of the Transvaal against the British, becoming within a short period of ten years, by the grace of those Britons, the leading political figure of a South African Commonwealth, in which each race was to enjoy equal rights and liberties? Already historical writers are blaming two or three men for the war, and perhaps a few decades hence the fused races of South Africa will wonder why they ever came to strife.

PE-RU-NA PROMPTLY RELIEVES

A Case of Dreadful Suffering Which Had Continued For Months.

An Account of a Remarkable Recovery Given By Mr. Alfred Wood, Teacher of a Private School at Launceston, Tasmania.

MR. AND MRS. ALFRED WOOD.

Mr. Alfred Wood, who has a private school at 22 Frederick street, Launceston, Tasmania (Australia), has been a teacher for 37 years under the Educational Department of Tasmania. He writes, concerning his wife's case, as follows:

"My wife was suffering for months from gastro-enteritis, and was given up by her medical attendant. "By good fortune I was induced to try Peruna in her case, and I can truthfully state that from the first dose her dreadful suffering ceased; and after taking five bottles she is permanently cured."

HOW does Peruna make such extraordinary cures as above recited? By simply arousing the forces of Nature to throw off the diseased action.

Peruna contains no magic and does not operate in any mysterious way, but it does help Nature to combat disease, and thus many times comes to the rescue of the patient in some important crisis.

There is always a time in the course of any disease when a little help goes a great way.

Just as the scales are beginning to descend, when one ounce more would determine the fate of the patient, a little lift will turn the scales in favor of the patient.

Peruna is a handy medicine to have in the household.

It helps many diseases by imparting a natural vigor to the whole system.

As a tonic or cathartic remedy, its reputation is well established all over the world.

As a remedy for stomach and bowel disease, the fame of Peruna is undoubtedly destined to become greater than that of any other medicine in the world.

A great many cases like that above referred to have found Peruna of untold value when no other help seemed of any avail.

Pe-ru-na For Indigestion.

Mr. Donald Robb, Jr., 16 Wrights Ave., Halifax, Nova Scotia, member Independent Order of Foresters, writes: "While on a visit to Boston, I must have eaten something that did not agree with my stomach, as a terrible case of indigestion followed.

"Peruna was recommended to me and after using three bottles I was entirely cured. "I therefore recommend Peruna to any one suffering with stomach trouble."

Mr. Chas. Brown, Rogersville, Tenn., writes: "A friend advised me to take Peruna for indigestion and it cured me in a short time."

WRECKED HUSBAND'S HOME. Chatham, Ont., Oct. 27.—Mrs. Mary Rumble, charged with dynamiting the house of her husband, from whom she had been separated, was arrested in Detroit last night by Provincial Detective Mahoney and arraigned before Judge Houston this morning. She elected to be tried by jury. The house was two miles east of this city.

BURNED TO DEATH.

New York, N.Y., Oct. 28.—Two persons were burned to death and sixteen others were injured, one fatally in a fire which spread with almost lightning-like rapidity in the three-story building at Nos. 203 and 205 East 15th street early to-day. The police declare that the fire was of incendiary origin and are making every effort to capture the culprits, who risked their lives in climbing over the firemen and policemen. More than twenty persons were rescuers who were practically enveloped in flames and carried to the street the helpless occupants of the house.
