

FALL AND WINTER COATS!

We are handling the finest line of Ladies' Coats in town at the moderate price of $10

The showings are loose and semi fitting, the colorings are navy, green and black. We also have in stock some very choice cloths for fur covers; these are of finest beaver, broadcloth and other suitable materials. We pay strictest attention to correct styles in ladies' garments, and can recommend all lines of them.

We beg to call your attention to some snaps in lace neckwear, having purchased at a bargain some beautiful samples of boleros, shoulder, neck and front decorations. These will not be long on hand so come at once, if you wish to secure any.

Furs are going with us this season at a rapid rate, and already we have had great returns from our fur-lined long coats: just think of this fact that we give you a splendid fur-lined garment with mink collar and revers for $75—away down in price, are they not? It's a fact though. We handle the right goods and we quote you the right price, at O'LOUGHLIN & McINTYRE.

The Man Who Has the Cash is the One who Can Dictate the Price.

Too few realize the immense strength that lies in being possessed of the actual cash. Not to disparage Real Estate or other security, there is a great potency in the coin itself.

When you have it, you can dictate the price to a considerable degree, especially when the other party wants to sell. "Cash on the nail" means "rockbottom" on the price.

I reiterate my advice to those who have not yet set aside something from time to time, to commence now to save their spare dollars, and train for independence by starting a Savings Bank Account.

Fight at Threshing Resulted in Complicated Police Court Case

From Thursday's daily The police court was packed to the doors all day yesterday to hear the result of the much-talked-of fight that took place at a threshing at a well-known and respectable farmer's place in the township of Emilly, four miles from Lindsay.

Almost the entire community was present and the case was very interesting throughout. The substance of the case is as follows: On the night of October 13, a well known young man in that community went to a neighbor's place and is said to have taken a young fellow's wheel, and kept it away all night. He returned it next day in a damaged condition and the owner of the wheel became a little angry at him for taking his wheel without his leave, and damaging it. The man that took the wheel offered to pay the young fellow for the damage done, but he would not accept payment in any way or other. The two got into an argument with the result that the young boy received a slap on the face.

This started the trouble and the young fellow called his assailant some very nasty names, whereupon he got another severe trimming. His employer heard the noise and separated the two.

In the meantime the boy told his older brother what had happened, and naturally he wanted to beat the man that trimmed his brother, so on October 15 he went to the place where the threshing was being held, and looked around for his man. He discovered him on the straw stack that was only a few feet high. He approached the occupant of the strawstack and asked him why he had beat his brother? Hot words flowed fast and the brother of the young lad who was abused challenged the man on the stack (the one who beat the young lad) to fight.

The defy was accepted and in a very short time the two men were in a mix-up.

The rest of the gang heard the noise and immediately went, as it were, to separate them. A free-for-all bonnybrook ensued, in which the man who in the first place beat the boy received a bad trouncing at the hands of the lad's brother.

By this time the proprietor of the farm came to the scene and, with the aid of his son and a couple of others, they separated them and he ordered the young lad's brother off the farm, and then immediately came to town and laid the information. It was also proved in police court that the man on the straw stack pulled out his jack-knife and picked up a stone and made several threats. However, there was no information against him for this action, and the case was dismissed as he swore that he did not intend to use them unless in self protection.

The case was very complicated as there were numerous charges and counter-charges. Mr. Geo. A. Jordan and Mr. G. H. Hopkins, K.C., were the law advisers in the case. Each addressed the magistrate for some time in behalf of their clients.

Magistrate Moore went over the evidence and condemned the young boy for his truthful evidence, but censured him for using profane language. He also commended the owner of the farm for restoring peace and quietness and for ordering the young boy's brother off his premises, and also censured the rest of the men for their rowdiness and accordingly imposed a fine of $5 and costs on the man that beat the young lad. $10 and costs on the young fellow's brother, and $2 and costs on the two men who participated in the row, and for not trying to stop the fight.

President Watson Puts An End To the Town League

President Watson, of the town baseball league, had a conference with Sec. Ferguson last evening and decided that the game between the Bankers and Wideawakes be thrown out and all bets declared off. This leaves the two teams a tie for the championship, which will not be played off this year.

If you would be farsighted you must learn to live on the heights.

HOME FROM THE WEST

Lindsay Boy Tells About the Canadian West

From Friday's Daily. Mr. Fred Whitworth, of the mechanical staff of The Watchman, returned last evening from the Canadian West, where he has been during the past two or three months. He is looking hale and hearty and apparently the climate in Canada's great wheat belt agrees with him.

Mr. Whitworth left Lindsay on August 22, and reports that he had good accommodation on the C.P.R. all the way out. An exciting time transpired when the coach caught fire and had to be stopped, when all hands took a turn at extinguishing the blaze. One of the wheels on one of the trucks also got off the track and caused considerable excitement. The crowd on their way to the West was perfectly orderly.

The destination of the train was Winnipeg, but Mr. Whitworth went 250 miles the other side of the Western City and as he had a job awaiting him he was a great deal better off than the very large number of harvesters who were dumped into the West with the outlook very poor. Mr. Whitworth states that many of these were working for their board, while hosts of others were living at the country's expense. Large crowds of idlers were noticed at almost every station along the line.

Mr. Whitworth was favorably impressed with the country as a whole, although he says that for himself he would not like to live there. "It is too lonesome," he remarked, "and the houses are too far apart."

Speaking of the weather he said that when he went out in August it was exceptionally hot, almost melting. The very next day they were forced to wear their fur overcoats, owing to the severe coldness of the atmosphere.

Among the many Lindsayites he ran across was Mr. Ben. Corscadden, who was in the same village as Mr. Whitworth. The latter states that the wild geese and ducks are flocking about in thousands and wolves were also running about in large numbers. He shot many ducks and killed four wolves. "Why," he stated, "the wolves act just similar to the dogs in Lindsay. They run a piece ahead of you and then sit down turns around and stare you in the face."

"When I left the West they were not done harvesting. I think the crops on the whole will turn out well, especially in the section which I visited."

Sues Mrs. Mackenzie, Kirkfield, For Removing Trees at Balsam Lake

Mrs. Margaret McKenzie, Kirkfield, wife of William Mackenzie, of Toronto street railway fame, is the defendant in an action being brought by Mrs. Eliza Taylor in the Non-Jury Assize Court before Mr. Justice Britton at Toronto.

The dispute is over alleged damage to a small strip of land and the timber thereon bordering on Balsam lake, near Lindsay. Mrs. Mackenzie is said to own the land running around the shore of an arm of the lake, with the exception of a narrow strip lying between her property and that of a relative, Mr. Mitchell. This is the piece of land in question, which is some 53 feet in width, and contains about a quarter acre.

BUILT A ROAD. According to Mrs. Mackenzie's claim, she wished to construct a road from her property to that of Mr. Mitchell, and she entered into negotiations with Mrs. Taylor for the purchase of the disputed land at $300. Believing the deal was practically settled, she had a couple of men go on the land clear away some trees, so that the road could be constructed.

The deal, however, was not concluded, and Mrs. Taylor is suing for trespass and damage, stating that Mrs. Mackenzie's men had "deposited on her land many large stones or boulders, gravel, and rubbish," and had cut down trees.

In reply, Mrs. Mackenzie says there were only two men who worked; that they put in only one hour on the work, cutting down alder bushes and scrub, and that all they cut down was hauled away in one load. Further, the work was done in the winter, with several inches of snow on the ground, and no stones were placed on the property whatsoever. The sum of $25 has been paid into court to cover the damage done. The action is to fix damages and to prevent further trespass.

BIG LAW FIRMS IN IT.

Blake, Lash and Cassels appear for Mrs. Mackenzie, and DuVernet, Raymond, Jones, Ross, and Ardagh are representing Mrs. Taylor.

Mr. Peter Cameron, who was employed by Mrs. Mackenzie to clear away some of the boulders and cut down some trees, was the first witness called.

"Who owned this property before Mrs. Taylor bought it?" asked Mr. Osler, for Mrs. Mackenzie.

"My mother did," replied Mr. Cameron.

"What did she get for it?" "40."

"What were the sizes of the trees you cut down?" "Well, I cut down one elm tree about six inches through."

"Would it be a shade tree?" "Oh, yes, it would cast some shade."

"Was it dead or alive?" "Alive."

Cameron stated that while he was busy on the clearing, Mrs. Mackenzie had come down several times to see the work done.

Mrs. Taylor's counsel wanted to know how long the witness had spent on the work of clearing in 1906, and a sharp debate took place between him and the defendant's counsel.

"I object to my learned friend going back so far," declared Mrs. Mackenzie's counsel.

"We will hear the evidence, and judge of its nature later," ruled the court.

A LITTLE EACH DAY.

"I worked part of 17 days in November, 1906," explained Cameron after referring to a note-book, but the whole time would be about four whole days.

The witness stated that he had been born in the neighborhood, and was quite familiar with the property in question. "It was fairly well wooded at first, but a lot of trees have been cut down since I first remember it."

"What would you consider the meet again to-morrow to receive his answer."

The Right Rev. Cosmos Gordon Lang, D.D., Bishop of Stepey, and Suffragan to the Bishop of London, has had a brilliant career in the Church. Educated at Glasgow University and Balliol College, Oxford, he became a student of the Inner Temple, London, in 1883. From 1893 when he left the curacy of Leeds, his career has been identified with wonderful advancement. He was Fellow and Dean of Divinity at Magdalen College, Oxford, from 1893 to 1896, and during that time he was also the vicar of St. Mary's, the University Church. Leaving Oxford, he became the vicar of Portsea, where he ministered for five years. He was appointed chaplain to the late Queen Victoria, and in 1901 he was made canon of St. Paul's. He has been a Fellow of All Souls' College, Oxford, for the past twenty years.

THE HUNTSMEN ARE BUSY

From Thursday's Daily. A new and ingenious idea will be put into practice by the hunters from Lindsay, when engaged in the pursuit of game in the woods this fall. Every man will wear a red coat.

The purpose of the introduction of this bright-hued garment is obvious. It is to prevent the "mistaking-of-men-for-deer" accidents, the result of which is the cause of the death of many every fall. The matter has received the careful consideration of the local hunters and the above step was decided on. Red-coated hunters will be easily distinguishable from a deer, not like the dusky clad coats being worn previously.

Dr. Roy Reazin, of Toronto, arrived in town this morning and will accompany the Sinclair-Ellis hunting party.

Henry Jackson, of Ops, and a number of neighbors, left this morning for Squaw river, where they will spend two weeks hunting.

Mr. Wm. Heatlie, of Little Britain and Mr. Jas. Jackson, town, will spend this afternoon for Haliburton to spend a couple of weeks' hunting.

Messrs. Fred Telford, Geo. Foss, and Thomas Pollard, of Niagara Falls, Ont., were in town to-day for a few hours and left this afternoon for the north to enjoy a deer hunt.

Mr. W. Jinks, an old Lindsay boy, now of Kenora, is in town for a few days and will accompany the Bay's Water hunting party on Saturday for a couple of weeks' hunt.

Rev. Geo. W. Henderson, of Peterboro, arrived in town this morning and will join the Sinclair-Ellis hunting party. He is a former pastor of Cambridge-st. Methodist church and has accompanied the party for several years past.

The Robert Neil hunting party, from Peterboro, passed through town this morning on their way to Harry's Bay, Parry Sound district, to enjoy a couple of weeks' hunt. They were joined here by Mr. Albert E. Dickson, of Bobcaygeon, and Mr. E. Gregory. There were fifteen in the party, ten dogs and six canoes.

The Portland hunting party, from Portland, Leeds County, Ont., were in town to-day for a few hours on their way to Haliburton, to enjoy a few weeks' hunt. They had several dogs and canoes. The party comprised Messrs. J. Cuggan, C. Morris, I. Morris, S. Lockwood, H. Hama, W. Byington and W. Pinkerton, all of Portland.

The Pine Lake hunting party from Janetville, left this morning for Gooderham on the G.T.R. and will drive from there to Big Point Lake. They had four hounds and a couple of canoes. The party consisted of J. E. Burn, Jas. Tomson, George Wilson, L. Fritz, Jas. Henry, A. McGill and O. McGill, all of Janetville.

The advance guard of the "Bays Water" hunt party passed through town this morning from Port Hope on their way to Beaverton, and thence to Bays Water on the Canadian Northern Railway. The remainder of the party will leave on Saturday morning. The party consists of: A. B. Terry, G. H. Wilson, W. J. Moore, town; E. Dancy, Omamee; E. Brown, Toronto; W. J. Jinks, Kenora; P. Terry, Toronto; and W. E. Fraser, B. F. Peters and M. E. Mason, of Port Hope. For a number of years this party went to Kennebec Lake in Harvey township, but they hope that the change will bring better luck.

From Friday's Daily. Messrs. John R. Burn, Geo. Wilson and Lou Fritz, of Janetville, left for Haliburton on their annual hunting tour, and will be joined Saturday by Messrs. Oswald and Andrew McGill, of that village.

Messrs. John Jones and M. H. McCullum left yesterday for Hawk lake, Haliburton county, in pursuit of the bounding deer. We hope they may enjoy their usual good luck.

Messrs. D. J. McPhee, Charles Carter, Geo. Beaudry, of Detroit, and J. Currie, of Bellington, Washington, arrived in town last night and left for Haliburton this morning to spend a couple of weeks hunting.

Messrs. Thos. Wight, Andy Wright, John Rutten, C. Killbanks, of Trent Bridge; B. Smith, Havlock; and Fred Schitte, of Toronto, arrived in town this morning and left for Terry Hill this afternoon for a couple of weeks' hunt.

The "Rosemeath" hunting party, of Keene, were in town to-day for a few hours on their way to Harvey township on the I.B. & O. They had several hounds and canoes. The party consisted of Messrs. A. Shearer, R. Wallace, A. McCamus, of Keene, and W. T. Taylor, of Peterboro. They expect to be away for three weeks.
