Guy Fawkes' Night Celebrated at Omeme
Omeme, Nov. 11.—Mr. McDermid, representative of the Dominion Temperance Alliance, held meetings in the Presbyterian church on Sabbath morning, Lebanon in the afternoon and in the Methodist church in the evening. The speaker outlined the work of the Alliance rather than denouncing the evils of intemperance in a very optimistic manner. The services were enthusiastic and well attended.
Some of the deer hunters are abroad with their rifles. The effluvia of cooking venison steak is in our nostrils.
The funeral of the late William Osborne took place to Emily cemetery on Sunday afternoon. The cortege was one of the longest seen here for some time and was composed largely of single buggies. Rev. W. Chapman, B.A., pastor of the Methodist church, conducted the service at the house and at the grave. The deceased was popular, widely known and had just arrived at the threshold of useful citizenship when he was called away, thus his death is the more lamentable. To his young wife and child, his parents and two brothers the warmest sympathy is extended in their heavy bereavement.
A Choral Society was formed on Tuesday evening. It is proposed to give a public performance in the near future. Reeve Mulligan will swing the baton.
Mr. John Murray, of Peterboro, came home on Saturday afternoon. Guy Fawkes night in our town is an annual time for the younger male members to "cut loose" and have a maximum amount of fun. From dark till about 11 p.m. they pursued their vent on Tuesday last with the greatest apparent success. The disguises were varied, some being a burlesque in fashion and others on humor and character. The procession marched up and down King-st., with the effigy and his guard, accompanied by the music of a concertina soloist and innumerable drummers of old tinware, finally reaching the river bank at the foot of George-st. Here the crematory services took place in great style, the many torches giving a weird appearance to the perpetuation of the rehearsal of an historic occurrence of over 300 years ago.

Messrs. J. J. Lamb, Max, Shier and Robt. Toole were business visitors to Peterboro on Saturday.
Miss Kate Harrison and Master Eric McLean, of Mount Pleasant, called on Omeme friends on Wednesday.
Another rural mail route will be in operation from this forwarding centre on December 1. The course will be south on the quarter line, serving residents of each side for three or four miles distant to the boundary of Durham county. Mr. Leonard Carey is the contractor. Mrs. (Rev.) Chapman has returned from visiting with friends at Bowmanville.
Mr. J. McGhie has moved from Quarter Line-ave. to the residence on King-st. just east of the tannery.
Miss Greta Mills, of Lindsay, is holidaying with her parents in town.
Mr. William Brown, who has been in the west since August returned home last week. He spent most of his time around Saskatoon, of which he speaks in terms of praise.
Mr. George Balfour, of Lindsay, was in Omeme on Friday.
The Orangemen are making preparations for their big concert on Christmas night.
Rev. D. H. Currie was at Millbrook on Sunday, having exchanged pulpits with Rev. R. Johnston, who was here with a message from the presbytery.
Public School Inspector Broderick, of Lindsay, visited our schools on Monday officially.
A field day of temperance campaigning was held on Monday at Lindsay. A number of our citizens attended.
Mr. Clifford Mulligan, of Toronto, was down home for over the week end.
Mr. H. Gallagher, of Peterboro, spent Sunday with his Omeme friends.
The many friends of Mrs. R. J. Mulligan are pleased to see her home from Toronto, where she was under treatment, and to know that she is rapidly convalescing.
Mr. Havelock Fee, of Lindsay, was home for over Sunday.
Mr. Rube Bradley, of Dunsford, was in town on Sunday.

Collins Gets off on the Charge of Killing Appleby
Peterboro, Ont., Nov. 18.—"Not guilty" was the verdict of a jury returned this afternoon after an hour's deliberation at the trial of Peter Collins, charged with the manslaughter of his friend Grant Appleby, in a fight near Cobden, Ont., on the night of August 30th, which arose over a 17-year-old girl, Lillian Gow.
Before discharging Collins Chancellor Sir John Boyd said he was not surprised at the verdict in the face of the evidence. The judge warned Collins to be more careful of his company and habits in future.
Immediately on leaving the dock Collins was greeted by his father, who sobbed like a child, and other relatives and friends. He is a popular young man in the district where he lives.
Peter Collins, the prisoner, said that on the night of the fatal quarrel, while passing the Appley's home, Grant Appley and John Appley, brothers, came out from a field and attacked him. Grant used a plow cleave and struck him on the back of the head. John used his fists and pummeled the face of accused until he was almost stunned.
When the fight began he had a knife in his hand with which he had been whittling a match. He did not use the knife in self-defense, but during the fracas it entered the heart of Appleby accidentally.
Collins said he was on friendly terms with Lilly Gow, the 17-year-old Toronto girl. He admitted getting into a fight with the dead young man because Appley called her vile names. The girl herself swore that she was invited by Grant Appley while in Toronto to visit his home, and she left there when he suggested that she live with him as his wife until after he graduated from the Toronto Veterinary College. Because she refused he went to strike her, and she left his home, and went to live with a brother of Peter Collins. This rupture between Grant Appley and the girl seemed to be the cause of the fight which ended fatally for Appley.
Lilly Gow swore that she was willing to go to Appley's home when asked because the home she left was not very pleasant. R. A. Pringle, K.C., the Crown prosecutor, accused her during his address to the jury of being the cause of Appley's death.

MACADAM ROADS HERE TO STAY
Experts in road-building claim that the days of the macadam road are coming to a close, that its sun has about set, and that we are approaching the decline and fall of this form of road-building.
Permanent roads are in themselves desirable within a city's limit or in the suburbs, but for general use the macadam road will remain paramount and favored in the country as giving the most satisfactory service. For the past century the discovery of Charles Loudon, macadam has proved its usefulness to civilization. Has the time now come that it must be discarded and its usefulness to fall into obscurity? There must be a reason for this reformation in forming road beds. This is brought about by the innovation of introduction of the automobile, which we must all admit has come to stay, and as the clay roads followed the corduroy after wooden jumpers were banished by the introduction of the car-cart, for the latter could not withstand the continuous bumps over the logs, so does the automobile bring about a transformation in this century with regard to forming roadbeds of material that will withstand the destructiveness of the machine, which only a higher class of constructiveness can possibly do.
Some genius may discover a treat-

Her Unpaid Army Her Worst Enemy
The troops encamped outside the gates of WuChung, China, capital of the Province of Hu'peh, mutinied and attacked the city. The troops numbered several hundred and were composed for the most part of cavalry. A strong force of General Li Yuen Heng's regiment immediately engaged the rebels, and after several hours of fierce fighting dispersed them. The casualty list is not known, but two officers were executed for failing to divulge their knowledge of the movement.
It is believed that the attacking party only intended to loot the city, but most of the towns in the interior have no defenders from such outbreaks, in which both the Republican and former Imperial troops indulge. The republic spirit apparently is not appreciated by the classes from which the soldiers are recruited.
The object of the present loan is ostensibly for the purpose of buying off and discharging this menacing army, which is very large, according to the lists submitted by the generals.
The National Assembly recently made an investigation and discovered that the generals, like the soldiers, were not free from the methods prevalent under the Manchus, but the Government argues that it is cheaper to pay the military leaders' demands than fight.
Pathetic conditions prevail throughout the country. Occasionally detachments of soldiers engage in looting and destruction. Trade is greatly hampered, and thousands are dying from starvation who could be saved by the employment of a few foreign engineers. Meantime the political situation, which is absorbing the Republican leaders, has curious and interesting phases.

Shilch's Cure
quickly stops coughs, cures colds, heals the throat and lungs. 25 cents
ABOUT EGGS
In Toronto the supply of fresh eggs is limited, and the demand is reported keen. Sixty-five cents was the price asked on Saturday at the market but fifty-five to sixty cents was the normal range of prices. This high price is caused by the presence of purchasers who are willing to pay any figure for the few fresh eggs offered.
This set the pace for these high records. Butter is reported to be in good supply and the call fairly large, the price in most cases not exceeding that asked in Lindsay.
Poultry is said to be more plentiful in the city than in previous years. Turkeys are quoted from 22c to 25c dressed, the demand being moderate and the offerings liberal. When one compares Toronto prices with that on our home market producers around Lindsay receive as much money for their produce, as the farmer who sells on the Toronto market, eggs excepted.
President Chamberlain, of the Grand Trunk Railway, said there was no change of policy regarding its New England connections.
The British House of Commons was adjourned, owing to the riotous conduct of the Unionists.

News of the Week From the Cataract Village
Fenelon Falls, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Thos. Graham and daughter Audrey are guests of Toronto friends this week.
Miss Hazel Sharpe visited Lindsay relatives for a few days.
Rev. C. S. Lord, Dr. D. Gould, Mr. J. C. Northey, Mrs. M. Chambers and Mrs. B. M. Maybee attended the Dominion Alliance convention in Lindsay on Monday.
Rev. C. S. Oke, of Fox College, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. MacKenzie.
Mr. M. Robertson, of Udney, visited Messrs. John and Will Robertson on Wednesday.
Miss Sabina Martin is in Toronto this week, attending the flower show and Woman's Institute convention.
Miss Maude Ellis, who has been spending a few months' vacation with her mother, left on Friday to resume duties in the St. Louis Hospital. She was accompanied by Miss Heta Arnold, who will also enter in the City Hospital, St. Louis.
Mr. and Mrs. Levi B. Hartle were in Minden last week, where Mr. Hartle enjoyed a few days' hunting.
Miss E. Spratt and Mr. Thos. Spratt, of Lindsay, were guests of Miss Fanny C. Brandon on Sunday.
The members of the Baptist choir met at the home of Mrs. Thos. Graham on Monday evening, and presented Miss Margaret Golden with a handsome carving set. Miss Golden has at all times been a willing assistant in the choir and general church work, and will be very much missed by a host of friends. We wish her every success in her new home at Janetville.
The Dominion Alliance Society were well represented in the Fenelon Falls churches on Sunday. Rev. Dr. McTavish and Rev. A. Farrell, of Toronto, occupied the pulpits in the Methodist church and St. Andrew's. They were ably assisted, also, by Master Douglas Stanbury, of Toronto, who is known through Ontario as the boy soloist. He has certainly a marvellous voice, and his solos in both churches were very much enjoyed. At the close of church services Sunday evening a mass meeting was held in Dickson's hall, which was crowded to the doors. Two splendid addresses were given by the Alliance representatives. Master Douglas Stanbury and his mother, Mrs. (Dr.) Stanbury, again kindly favored the audience with a couple of selections, "Banish the Bar-room for Somebody's Boy," and "Canada Awake," were well received.

LABORERS SCARC.
Mr. A. M. Olyphant, of the Toronto Construction Company, has been spending several days in town trying to hire men to go on construction work on the Georgian Bay and Seaboard line. In conversation with a Worker man this morning he stated that idle men were as scarce as hen's teeth, not only in Lindsay, but in other places, and for the death of laborers he blames the present war in the Balkans.
"Owing to the war all the foreigners engaged on the work have left, and as a result they have practically tied up construction work all through Canada," said Mr. Olyphant. "We have reports from headquarters on the C.P.R. lake shore line, and on the Sudbury-Fort William double-tracking line, that the work is almost at a standstill for want of laborers."
