JUST CURED HIM THAT WAS ALL

What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did For Thomas Moon

DOCTORS COULD NOT CURE HIS DROPSY BUT DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CLEARED IT OUT COMPLETELY.

Markstone, Sask., Dec. 3.—(Special).—"Cure me completely. That's what Dodd's Kidney Pills did for me." Such is the statement made by Thomas Moon, a well-known resident of this place, who for years suffered with dropsical swellings brought on by diseased kidneys.

"I had pains in the small of my back," Mr. Moon continues, "and across the loins. The swelling commenced first in my legs and gradually got to my body. I tried different doctors but kept getting worse every day until I was swollen up to an awful size.

"One doctor sent me to the hospital where I got a little benefit but the swelling soon all came back.

"Then I used Dodd's Kidney Pills, and as I said before they cured me completely."

Dropsical swellings are caused by diseased kidneys failing to take the surplus water out of the blood. Cure the kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills and the dropsy naturally cures itself.

ADVANCE IN LUMBER.

Rough lumber has advanced at $1 a thousand feet all over Western Canada. The mills are calling in salesmen, owing to the rush of orders. Export mills in British Columbia report a largely increased business in the United States, this being one cause for the advance. Another advance in prices will take place before the spring, it is said.

A FEW LOFTY IDEAS

Expressed by President Falconer, of Toronto University, at a Recent Date

Universities ought to be nursing mothers to produce men who will help to unravel the riddle of life.

We need such men in the world as Darwin to cultivate the spirit of the ideal, men who will be patient and know what they say before they speak.

In connection with the University of Geneva the idea prevails that the state and the university in each the complement of the other.

The artistic side of life needs to be more developed in Canada, and this can only be done when wealth turns its attention to it.

We should have museums and galleries open to the public in which the history of the country could be traced. A start has been made in Toronto.

In Germany they know that the universities are the great hearthstones of the national life.

In Canada we should apply scientific training to the ordinary affairs of life.

The better our universities the better will be our lower schools.

We need to apply scientific knowledge to the driving back of disease and to the problems that lie at the back of economic distress.

"THE MAN OF THE HOUR"

Woodville Boy Thus Described by Vancouver Paper

Under the caption, "The Man of the Hour," the Vancouver World gives a good portrait of Mr. John B. Campbell, formerly of Woodville, who was an aspirant for political honors in the Pacific Province, in the Liberal interests. Mr. Campbell will be remembered as a boy and young man by many of our readers, as he grew up to manhood in Woodville. The World says:

Mr. Campbell was born on Nov. 21, 1859, at Woodville, County of Victoria, Ontario. He comes from a good old Scotch stock, long associated with the rugged Island of Islay. Young John was early interested in "transport" and locomotion, for his father was a carriage manufacturer, and everything connected with wheels has interested J. B. C. ever since his early days—his knowledge of railway matters is "extensive and peculiar," and on such subjects he speaks with authority. In his early days he worked hard as a blacksmith, acquiring, like Longfellow's smith, "brawny arms, strong as iron bands." His fine physique has indeed stood in him in good stead during a very strenuous career. Leaving home at 23 to make his way in the world, he began railway work in 1880, spending some years with the "Burly-Quincy" Railway Co. After some three years here he next found himself associated with Wabash and Des Moines, Iowa. From workman to foreman, from foreman to command of big construction departments—these were the steps John B. Campbell took in Kansas. He had much knowledge of railway mechanics; but coming to Vancouver some twelve years ago, he launched out "on his own" as a storage and warehouseman, with such success that in his large premises he has had to "lengthen his ropes and strengthen his stakes" again and again to keep pace with the demands of a growing business. Year after year he has succeeded himself as alderman in No. 11 ward, the "big business end" of the city, where he has the esteem, respect and confidence of all business men. For the city he has done yeoman service in the thorough equipment of the fire department, with its auto escapes, etc., and in the ambulance department he has taken a keen interest. With the enterprise of the bugle band and his association with "go-ahead-men"—as he has been all his life. Chas. M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific worked side by side with John B. Campbell, who knows railway matters inside and out, and whose judgment on railway matters can be relied on. In connection with the Vancouver police department, the juvenile court, and other matters he has done splendid service, the full value of which cannot yet be estimated. His sons are now associated with him in business—leaving him more time to devote to public affairs, and it will be indeed a good thing for Vancouver if the experience he has acquired, his knowledge and his energy can be utilized in the larger area offered by the Provincial Parliament. Hard work is his hobby, and he is never so happy as when working hard in some effort of public utility.

WILL ATTEND MEETINGS.

Thursday Mr. Albert Ware received an invitation from Rev. Asa MacIntosh, of Ivanhoe, to be present at the convention of the Holiest Movement Camp, which will be held at Ivanhoe on Christmas Day. At this convention several addresses will be delivered by prominent ministers. Mr. Ware has decided to attend.

RACE TRACK GAMBLING.

When the question of race-track betting came up before Parliament Col. Hughes expressed his opinion on the matter. A despatch says:

Col. Sam Hughes, in a humorous speech, declared that though he had been a sport all his life, he had never wagered a farthing. He had been taught that it was wrong to get something for nothing. He did not believe in gambling, but he could not see in the bill any condemnation of gambling itself. He would support a bill which would eradicate gambling. The house was convulsed when he referred to the reverend editor of the Globe in a moment of weakness, demanding editorially that the Metropolitan Racing Association's charter be cancelled. But the secretary of state had gone to Toronto. Whereupon it was delighted to see how the Globe had crawled, got under the bed in fact, and remained there for several days. He said if the measure would put down gambling, not only on race tracks but at football matches, and worse than all gambling at bridge, he would support it.
