Wisdom of Church Union Subject of Debate

Fenelon Falls, Dec. 5.—Mrs. John Welch and Miss Grace McFarland were in Toronto last week. Mr. C. C. Forsythe, of Lindsay, was in town on Monday. Misses Ella Pearce and Lulu Jones drove to Bornt River on Monday. Miss Jennie Duggan is the guest of Lindsay friends. Mr. Geo. A. Jordan, of Lindsay, called on Toronto friends on Monday. Rev. C. S. Lord spent a few days last week in Toronto. Miss Bellingham, of Burnt River, spent Sunday in Toronto. Mrs. Johnstone, of Colborne, is the guest of her son, Dr. H. B. Johnson. Mr. Boardway, of Jarratt Corners, is the guest of his daughter, Mrs. R. Wagar. Mr. P. J. Breen and Mr. A. Ross motored to town on Monday. Mrs. John Robertson and daughter Emily are the guests of Mrs. Jas. Cook, of Cameron. For the first time this season Cameron Lake has been frozen over, and for several evenings past our young people are being thoroughly exercised. Every evening huge bonfires are to be seen, and every one seems to be enjoying the sport. Miss Margaret Lee returned home from Lindsay on Saturday. Mr. W. McArthur visited in Lindsay last week. Mr. S. J. McKendry left on Thursday to visit friends in Gary, Indiana. Mr. Jas. Lord returned to Detroit after spending a short vacation with his parents in town. The Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's church were entertained at the home of Mrs. Dr. Johnstone. Mrs. Radnor left on Saturday for Peterboro. Mr. R. M. Hamilton spent the week end in Peterboro. The St. James' church Parish workers are holding their annual bazaar on Friday, Dec. 8, and it will be held on Colborne-st. one door north of McFarlane's store. A splendid assortment of fancy work, home made candy and baking will be for sale. On Dec. 15 the Methodist League hold their bazaar at the Washburn millinery parlors. At the meeting of the Woman's Institute held at Mrs. A. Jewell's on Friday, Dec. 1st there was a large attendance. The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. (De.) H. Gould, who gave a splendid address on the institute convention held in November at Toronto. Miss S. Martin gave a piano solo in her usual good style. Miss Margaret Jordan led a discussion on preparareplied to in the negative, as the genial couple decided to celebrate their china wedding by letting others participate in their happiness. A very sumptuous fowl supper was served, at which an address of congratulation was read by Mr. Roy C. Banks, and ably responded to by Mine Host Mr. J. Haw. Dr. Grant, of Victoria Road, and Mr. Alfred Vaughan also made short appropriate addresses. After this an impromptu concert was held, which more than proved the quality of the local talent as excellent vocalists, and musicians. Dancing was also on the program, and the evening's enjoyment was terminated with Auld Lang Syne. Mr. and Mrs. Haw were the recipients of numerous presents, including a beautiful dinner set from the Kirkfield Cement Company's employees. OMEMEE. Omemee, Dec. 4.—A meeting of the public library board was held on Friday evening, when a resolution was passed that the present status of the library be changed to that of a free public library. A committee was appointed to present the matter to the municipal council and to ask them to submit a by-law to the people for endorsement at the coming municipal elections. There were many reasons given in support of the change and in fact the board was unanimous when the vote was taken. It is in the interests of every citizen to enquire into the change of this important factor of our educational life and to be prepared to vote intelligently on the issue. The village is quieter since the collapse of the Graham fave electric railroad scheme, the employees having disappeared from the scene as if by magic. However, there is a large force of telephone men moving about. They are putting in a new line straight north from Mount Pleasant to Henderson's Corner and then direct west to Omemee. The old main line, which entered town via the quarter line, is sold, or about to be, to a company that will use it in connection with a rural line to Mount Pleasant. It is current talk that Mr. H. Beatty, owner of the Commercial House, has decided to close up this well known and well-conducted hostelry about the first of the year. Some of the visitors to Peterboro, on Saturday were: Messrs. G. McQuade, G. Spence, W. Mitchell, J. Palmer, H. Bradford, S. Fee, T. Ingram, I. Shaw and L. Wilson. Messrs. John J. Burton, F. J. Owen, and E. T. Butler, of Toronto, were in town on Tuesday. Mr. J. F. Lafferty, of Peterboro, made a business call last week. Mr. H. W. Livingston, of Hamilton, and Mr. W. G. Grant, of Toronto, called on Omemee friends on Wednesday. On Thursday Messrs. A. H. Clement and J. C. Horner, of Toronto,

Here it is Again! The Warder's Santa Claus Stocking Fund

"Blessed are they that expect nothing, for they shall not be disappointed." This proverbial saying does not hold true with many of the poor children of Lindsay. They expect nothing in their stockings on Christmas morning, but when they find nothing they are certainly disappointed. Their disappointment is the bitter disappointment that only children feel. The Warder by means of a Santa Claus Stocking Fund last year endeavored to relieve many of those who were in dire need of assistance, and in distress. The fund was very liberally subscribed to, and the three dispensers appointed to see

Lindsay Presents Possibilities Unlimited

Well did Goldsmith say, "Auburn, loveliest village of the plain, where peace and plenty greet the laboring swain." So might he have said of Lindsay. Seated in the heart of the richest agricultural section of our fair province and at the gateway of Ontario's great playground, the Kawartha Lakes, nature has clothed our town with bounteous gifts, and man has not been niggardly. One of England's leading municipal engineers lately said in Toronto, "A city must be planned for its future." The settlers of Lindsay were wise in their time and builded wiser than they know, for no town can boast of a finer lay-out, or wiser than this. The broad main street (Kent-st.) extending from east to west, and the principal business artery of travel is 100 feet in width, and bisects the town. The cross streets extending in each direction make the home avenues of the finest home section in Ontario. Then the river winding its way from south-east to north-west, providing along its banks many of the finest sites unoccupied, and in the grouping and laying out of the town this has been taken advantage of in no small measure. Lindsay is unique in this, that it is an ideal home town, possessing at the same time the advantages of a rural life, and the advantages of a commercial and trading centre. Among its many other home advantages are its good water, its fine broad avenues in the residential section, its splendid opportunities for business advancement, and its culture with six churches, having 8960 membership, both public and parochial schools with a total of 1446 scholars in attendance, including the Collegiate Institute with 290 scholars. These schools are all housed in fine buildings, only last year seeing several new school buildings erected, including an extension to the Collegiate Institute with teaching equipment unsurpassed anywhere. A good library, modern and up-to-date in every way, with the latest books and periodicals. Then, all alive with the funny tribes awaiting the sport of the angler. No town anywhere can offer more. To enumerate the manufacturing advantages could be done best by saying Lindsay has them all, either at the moment or in prospective. Among these are her unsurpassed transportation facilities—both rail and water—two railroads. Four Grand Trunk lines radiate from the town, one being the Midland grain route and to the north-west and to the Great Lakes. Two Canadian Pacific lines cross here, one being the new Victoria Harbor water level line between Montreal and Winnipeg with both water connections at Port McNichol, and rail connections at Sudbury. Lindsay is on one of the branches of the Trent Valley Canal, and when this is completed between Georgian Bay and the St. Lawrence, fuel and heavy raw materials will be brought in at prices competitive with Toronto and other lake ports. Thus, Lindsay, situated on two transcontinental railroads with water transportation, has advantages of the lowest freight rates both on raw material and finished products. Lindsay, too, has an unlimited supply of the great white coal, of Ontario, The Seymour Power Company supplying power and light at the surprisingly low rate of $20 per h.p. per annum for 24 hour service and seven cents per thousand watts for light. The industrial section is being developed with careful reference to the advantages of the transportation facilities, so that the future years may reap in full these benefits. Commercially, Lindsay's position is undisputed for a town of its population. "All roads lead to Rome," so all roads lead to Lindsay,—from the beautiful, rich, agricultural sections of Mariposa, Ops, Emily, Eldon, Fenelon, and Verulam on the east, west, north and south, and from the vistas of the forests of the north come those with the products
