Henry Love Arrested But Allowed to Remain in House Until After the Funera

Flesherton, Ont., Dec. 14.—"My wife went to Heaven, didn't she, Mr. Love? If ever any good woman went to Heaven my wife did," called out Henry Love to High Constable Cook, across the dining table at Mr. MacLaren's place in Ceylon village dur- ing supper last night.

Inspector Reburn issued an affirmative. He took away from the table in the house of Love whom he had arrested an hour or so before on a warrant charging him with brutally murder- ing his wife in their little home in Ceylon, hiding the body in a half-dug cellar under the house and finding it himself at midnight two days after the time it is alleged the murder was committed.

Love attempted to speak further, when he was checked by Inspector Reburn, of the Provincial police, who had the information for the arrest from five hours' pumping of the young Love, whose mother was mur- dered.

The prisoner angrily protested his innocence to Reburn and Cook when he had been quietly summoned from his home where the victim's body was found and was in Reburn's room at the police station. He was in a daze and wanted that anything he said would be used against him.

Love was arrested before he had time to get up, and as there is no one else in the house, where the murder took place, he was taken to the police station. He was held in the station until his wife's funeral, and his friends insisted on his being allowed to remain in his home, a prisoner in his home, a constable of two constables, and to be present at the funeral on Monday.

Inspector Reburn communicated by phone with Crown Attorney Armstrong, of Owen Sound, who consented the man being allowed to stay, as he was a prisoner in his home, a constable of two constables, and to be present at the funeral on Monday.

His arrest was a distinct shock to the community, who had, however, expected it, but his story had been generally credited in the face of the circumstances.

"I didn't do it, I didn't do it," he repeated to the people who knew him in the street and at his home.

My God, this is a hard position for a man to be in."

not seen his mother before going to school on Tuesday, as he has main- tained right along, and that it was his father who had told him to tell the story of having met a stranger some distance from his home that morning.

The lad's new story, as reported by Inspector Reburn is to the effect that when he went to bed on Monday night about eight o'clock, his father and mother were up and apparently on the best of terms, as they always were excepting that they occasionally had spats over small matters.

Mrs. Love was devoutly religious, and one cause of frequently unpleas- antness was her strong objections to Love's smoking.

This was some times the cause of disagreements, but the father was never brutal.

When the boy came down to break- fast on Tuesday morning, he told the inspector, his mother was absent and his father told him that she had gone to the house of Rev. Mr. MacLaren, the Baptist minister in Flesherton, who was her pastor, and for whom she frequently worked.

He told the boy not to mention her absence to any one, and also in- spected him to eat his lunch at school instead of going to the house of Mr. MacLaren at lunch time as he sometimes did.

This leads Inspector Reburn to believe that the crime was committed while the lad was in bed on Monday night.

He says he heard no sounds nor any signs of all down stairs.

Disagreements between his parents had been more frequent in the past few months, but he could recollect none lately.

HOW HE EXCUSED HIS CRIME.
His father betrayed a bad temper at times.

St. Mary's Parish Benefit by Will of Late Michael Guiry

By the death of Miss Margaret Guiry, St. Mary's R.C. church, Lindsay, falls heir to a portion of the estate of the late Michael Guiry, de- ceased, a brother of the late Miss Guiry.

According to a will the above parish receives one-third, St. Vincent de Paul Society a like portion, and the Stafford library a similar amount.

The estate consists of three stores on Kent-st., occupied by Mr. G. A. Little, Olympia Candy Works and one occupied by Dwyer's grocery. The net receipts will total about $3,000 when the property is sold and the mortgage on the buildings is paid, which is about $4,000. In all probability the property will be placed on the market for sale at a date appointed by the executors of the estate. Miss Guiry was receiving an income of about $200 per year from the property, which ceased upon her death.

Farmer Shoots Wife - Then Ends His Own Life

Belleville, Dec. 15.—After mortally wounding his 15-year-old wife by firing the contents of a gun loaded with shot at her head, E. D. Wall- man, a farmer in the township of Hawdon, Hastings county, blew out his own brains late Saturday. It is said that his reason for ending the existence of himself and his wife was that he believed his wife's relatives disapproved of him. They had been married a year.

The girl, despite her condition, was able to describe the circumstances of the crime. The doctors are of the opinion that the girl cannot survive her injuries.

It appears that Wallman on Satur- day borrowed a shotgun from a neighbor, declaring that weasels were bothering him and he desired to shoot them. About 4.30 Saturday afternoon he went into the bedroom, where his wife was lying sick, and as she turned to face him he fired off the gun at her head. The weapon was loaded with a shell and the shot destroyed one of her eyes, carrying away a portion of the roof of her mouth and knocking out several teeth. Some of the shot are still embedded in her head. Think- ing he had killed his wife, Wallman then went upstairs, reloaded the gun with a cartridge, tied a string to the trigger and discharged it with his foot, blowing a portion of his head off and causing instant death.

A FEW HINTS FOR CHRISTMAS

Christmas is approaching, and it is the one season of the year when more inflammable material is collected in the home of citizens and in the stores than in all the other seasons put together. Spruce, evergreens, tinsel and all kinds of inflammable decorations are brought into the house. Paper streamers are strung from wall to wall, evergreen boughs are tied to the balustrades and every- where danger is lurking in the festive hangings.

A few hints, if taken seriously, will go far to avert the danger of this and make the day a merry Christ- mas, which otherwise might turn out to be a tragedy. A few of the pre- cautionary measures are as follows:

Hundreds View Remains of the Murdered Woman

Flesherton, Dec. 15.—The casket containing the remains of the late Mrs. Henry Love, whose husband is now in custody charged with her murder, was opened at the grave be- fore interment in the village cemetery at Ceylon to-day, in order that the large concourse of people who had gathered to pay tribute might have a final look at the face once familiar to the majority of them.

At the graveside the crowd, form- ing single file, passed slowly by the remains, each man, woman and child passing with uncovered or bowed head. The ceremony throughout was most impressive. Many who were intimate with the dead woman and felt strongly the horrible circumstan- ces surrounding her death, wept bit- terly when they viewed the remains.

Arnold Love, the fourteen-year-old son, was visibly affected, crying and sobbing during the entire service.

Miss Muir, a dressmaker, has stated that when sewing with Mrs. Love some time before her death, they had talked freely on the subject of Chris- tianity. Mrs. Love, in the course of their talk, had said she was sincerely sorry her husband was not a Christian, but he was nevertheless a good husband to her.

The very high respect which the people of Ceylon have toward Mrs. Love was strikingly evidenced to-day by the number of people that packed the funeral procession. Among the floral tributes on the casket were one from the people of Ceylon, raised by subscription, and one from Mrs. Love's Sunday school class. The flag on the public school was at half-mast all day.

ONE MAN KILLED SEVEN INJURED

Jarvis, Ont., Dec. 15.—Two freight trains collided on the G.T.R.-Wabash line, two miles west of Nelles Cor- ners, Haldimand County, Saturday morning, resulting in the death of one man, Fireman L. Locke, and in- juries to eight others.

Locke was a young man and leaves a widow. He came from St. Thomas. The injured men are: Engineers H. Harland, bruised, and Jas. A. Black, nose cut, ankle and knee sprained. Wm. Saxon, fireman, shoulder disloca- ted; Walter McQueen, brakeman, scalded and bruised; S. P. Dougal, bruised; all of St. Thomas. F. Mar- shall, brakeman; Conductor Brown, shoulder dislocated; both of Wind- sor.

Drs. Jacques and Howell, of Jar- vis, Overend, Snider and Gourlay, of Cayuga, were rushed to the scene as soon as word of the accident was re- ceived at the places named, and at- tended to the injured. Fireman Locke's body was found crushed be- tween the tender and the boiler head of the engine.

Engineer Harland and the crew of the westbound freight had orders to meet the eastbound drawn by engine 1871, at Nelles Corners. When that point was reached they noticed a train standing on the side track. The engine on this train was 1874, but the crew of the westbound, it is said, read it No. 1871, and, believing it was the train they had orders to meet, kept on going, with the result that the collision occurred.

Madre Wonderful Recovery When Dr. Hamilton's Pills were Used.

"I was never actually sick," writes Mrs. Norman La Pierre, wife of a well-known resident of Labellen, "yet I never could get strong like other women. I ate well en- ough, but somehow rich and red blood I could never make. When I married I took a great pride in my housekeeping, but it kept me tired all the time. Mrs. Lechance, my neighbor, looked well—she told me her health had been made up by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I only thought of pills as a physic, but now I know that Dr. Hamilton's Pills are more, for they quickened my stomach, liver and bowels—made me stouter and stronger, gave me such color in my cheeks as I never had before. I sincerely believe Dr. Hamilton's Pills should be used by every woman—that's why I write this letter."

No medicine invigorates and re- newes health and spirits like Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box, five for $1, at all druggists and store- keepers, or postpaid from the Cat- tarthozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

Celebrate New Year.
Canada's Hebrew population cele- brated their New Year on Sept 12. All of the rabbis, accompanied by a number of adherents, observed the day by going down to the waterfront late in the afternoon, where a cer- tain number of their sins away took place. On this day every year the orthodox Jews visit the lake front and shake the skirt of their garments over the water in pursuance of their faith found in Micah: "And cast into the depths of the sea all their sins."

The day is also a day of fasting, the tradition being that nothing but grapes and other fruits and honey shall be eaten. Another time-honored custom is the blowing of shofars, which took place in the synagogues and reformed temples on Sept. 12 and 14.

Quaint Oaths.
The first appearance in an English Divorce Court of the Chinese form of oath by breaking a saucer recalls other quaint forms of swearing.

In Assam the oath is taken by standing within a rope circle, to im- ply a wish to rot as the rope does if the swearer does not tell the truth. In lawsuits between Russians and the Ostsiaiks of Siberia a bear's head is brought into court, and the Ostiak, making the gesture of eating, calls on the bear to devour him if he lies.

There are tribes of India that swear by the head of a tiger, while others chop a dog in two as emblematic of the fate of the perjurer. But the sim- plest method is that of the Quaker, who swears not at all, but just tells what he thinks.

Keeping the Bloom of Health On the Cheeks of Youth

Keeping the skin thoroughly clean is worth all the squills and pills in the world, but half of its benefit and enjoyment depend upon the purity of the soap used.

Bathe the children often—daily if possible—with whose lasting whiteness shows its perfect purity.

FAIRY SOAP is made from edible products, has no coloring matter, or high perfume, to cover up im- purities in the soap.

Its floating properties, handy oval shape, and low price leave nothing to be de- sired.

CURIOUS INSURANCE.
Some of the Queer Risks Taken by the Brokers at Lloyd's.

They will take any risk at Lloyd's in London. It should be understood that this great corporation has nothing to do with it, but that the brokers issue policies as individuals. Here are a few specimens of risks actually in- sured:

The uncle of a rich heiress took out a policy for 10,000 guineas against her eloping with a certain man before a specified date. He paid 1,000 guineas premium, and the girl did not elope, so the broker was in 1,000 guineas.

A young man sued by a girl for dam- ages for breach of promise to marry paid 800 guineas for a policy covering any amount of money the jury might award to the plaintiff. It gave her £700, so the broker made more than £100 profit.

A cablegram arrived at the office of a shipowner stating that one of his steamers was on the rocks in a dan- gerous place. The owner took out a policy for £5,500, to be paid to him if the ship were lost. He paid for this a premium of £5,000. The ship was saved, so he lost the money.—New York World.

Important to Stock Owners!

Have you ever considered how many valuable horses become brok- en minded each year? How many valuable horses and colts die from Strangles Distemper and other diseases of the breathing organs? The same applies to cattle and other stock. What is the cause—A neg- lected cough or cold and the want of the proper remedy at the right time. The question "What is good for a cough?" is a common one. During our wide experience of shippin- horses our chief difficulty was shipping cold, consequently we have tried nearly all the remedies on the market.

When shipping pedigreed fillies or stallions from Scotland we found the "king" of all cough medicines. It is made in London, England, and is called and is used in all the principal stables in Great Britain and Ireland. It is a splendid remedy for both horses and cattle, young or old. We would not think of sending a consignment of valuable pedigreed fillies and stallions on the ocean without having this fine remedy on hand. No drenching, no forcing up the animal's head when the muscles and throat are in a delicate and inflamed condi- tion. You just place on the tongue.

Do not wait till your stock become sick. Have it on hand. Sold under a guarantee by sole agent for Canada. Price $1.00 per bottle post free.
