One of the many aftractions at the Winter Fair, which will be heldon Dec. 16th inst., will be the baby show. This feature of the fair proved so great a drawing card in 1911 that the management decided to put it on this year again,

The ladies, the children, everybody that loves to smile over a cradle, and bring back memories of youth, are invited on that day to see the metry of form, dimples and curls, the chuckle and prattle of the baby of office. and all the beauty lines which youth and innocence possess, that will entered for competition. It will be better than a comic opera, or trip to coast, and the public will be fully compensated for the time spent in looking at those little nestlers sputtering now and cooing like pigeons in another moment, all of which is indicative of pureness and childish simplicity. We are all kings and queers in the cradle, and each babe is a new marvel, a new miracle; so do not forget to come to town on that day to see the exhibit of man in a small letter; the Christian's example and the aged man's reis a common-sense old fellow, happy, hearty and healthy himself, and bent on seeing others just as well off. He believes it is right to make children merry at Christmas with jim-cracks and other playthings, and believes the big folks are all the better if they too, come in for a share of these delights. However, he has way of being practical as well as jolly, and so he sends out, maybe an Overcoat, pair of Gloves, or Hat for father; a Suit, Muffler or Cap for brother; a House Coat, Umbrella or Tie for some other girl's brother.
