OBITUARY

RICHARD SHAW

The death occurred in South Ops, near Omeme, on Sunday last, Dec. 14th, of Mr. Richard Shaw, one of the oldest residents of the vicinity, and a gentleman highly respected by all acquaintances. The deceased, who was in his 83rd year, had been up and around a couple of weeks ago, but owing to advanced age he was unable to withstand his attack of illness.

In politics he was a Conservative, while in religion he was a member of the Methodist Church.

The deceased gentleman is survived by five sons, one of whom, Ira, resides on the homestead in Ops. They have the sincerest sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement.

The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon, interment taking place in Emily cemetery.

FRANCIS CHAMBERS

One of Cambrey's respected residents passed to his eternal reward last night at 10 o'clock, in the person of Mr. Francis Chambers, after an illness of about six weeks at the age of 69 years. The deceased had followed agricultural pursuits previous to nine years ago, when he moved into Cambrey village with his wife and family. He was a Methodist in religion. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 18th, to the Eden cemetery. Mr. Chambers is survived by his wife, two daughters, one sister and one brother. The daughters are: Mrs. Albert Wilson, of Lindsay; and Mrs. Henry Sluggitt, of Fenelon township. The brother is Mr. Jas. Chambers, Glenelg-st., Lindsay, and the sister is Mrs. Wintburn of Haliburton.

THE HILLS.

Now men there be that love the plain

With yellow cornland dressed, And others love the sleepy vales Where lazy cattle rest; But some men love the ancient hills, And these have chosen best.

For in the hills a man may go Forever as he list, And see a nat of distant worlds, Where streams and valleys twist A league below and seems to hold The whole earth in his fist.

Or if he tread the dales beneath A new delight is his, For every crest's a kingdom edge Whose conqueror he is, And every fell the frontier 'Of unguessed empires.

And when the clouds are on the land In shelter he may lie, And watch adown the misty glens The rain go marching by, Along the silent flanks of fells Whose heads are in the sky.

And in the hills are crystal tarns As deep as malgen's eyes, About whose edge at middle-noon The heavy sunshine lies, And deep therein the troll-folk dwell, Can make men wondrous wise.

The gorse of Spring is like a host Of warriors in gold; And Summer heather like a cloak Of purple on the wold, While Autumn's russet bracken is Monks' livery of old.

—W. N. Hodgson.

East Victoria W. I. Gathered at Omeme

Omeme, Dec. 15.—The concert in Coronation Hall, under the auspices of L.O.L. 113 on Christmas Night, with such a long list of first-class artists, promises to draw a record house if the weather be favorable. As there is no reserve for seats, it will be necessary to be early to have a choice.

The following Omemeites were visitors to Peterboro on Friday: Miss Johnston, Mrs. H. R. Murray, Mrs. John McCrea and Joseph Johnston.

The Farmers' Club met one evening last week in the Armouries. The President, Mr. Joseph Bradley, after a short address, as chairman, called on Mr. A. A. Knight, B. S. A., of Lindsay, for an address on "Feeds and Feeding." The speaker outlined much practical and useful information on the essential qualification of mixed farming. A large audience listened to the discourse with marked attention. This being the annual meeting of the Club, officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows:—President, Mr. D. H. Dick; Vice-President, Mr. W. Burgess; Secy., Treas., Mr. F. G. Sandy. Directors many of whom were visitors and some of them became members. Mrs. Wm. Cottingham, the President, called the meeting to order, the first part being a full and lengthy report of the Provincial convention, which convened at Toronto on November 20th and 21st last. The representatives to the Provincial meeting were Mrs. R. Cornwall and Mrs. Joseph Shield. There are 780 branches of the W. I. in Ontario, with about 30,000 members. The society is fast becoming a recognized power in community work, child welfare, etc. During the convention telegrams of greeting were received from sister organizations in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. The report was listened to with great attention, and was much appreciated by all present. Next followed a paper, "Being Interested," read by Mrs. Jas. Sanderson, a visitor from the Mt. Pleasant Branch. Those following the advice given in this paper will never become old. Have a "holby" of some kind and your heart will keep young. This paper was a real treat to everybody. Mrs. (Dr.) Irvine, of Lindsay, added to the list of good things by reading a humorous sketch from "A Spinner in the Sun." Just as the President was about to close the meeting Miss Lila Parsons, on behalf of the members, presented Mrs. Cottingham with three pretty pieces of silver—a cold meat fork, a pickle fork and a butter knife. Although Mrs. Cottingham was completely taken by surprise, she thanked the members for the Christmas gift, in a few well-chosen words. The meeting was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem. Last but not by any means the least came the very dainty refreshments, served by Mrs. Sanderson, who proved herself an ideal hostess. The members departed for their homes about 5.30 p.m., all agreeing that this had been one of the most successful in the local history of the Woman's Institute.

The Christmas meeting of the Omeme Branch of the East Victoria Woman's Institute took place at the home of Mrs. John Sanderson on Thursday afternoon, December 11th, 1913. There were 46 ladies present.

Winter Fair Brings Out Best Products of the Farm

In the five years since this town has held annually a Winter Fair there never has gathered together here or elsewhere in Canada a finer or better collection of horses of all classes than that which was on exhibition Tuesday.

In that time the fair has grown and developed wonderfully, and in its past history neither memory or the records can recall a fair that approached this one in all round excellence. There has been no let up by the President and Directors in their ambition to make it the grand success which it has attained.

There has been an especially well-marked annual move upwards in quality and importance, and this year again greatness nobly asserts itself.

AT MARKET BUILDING. The market building was thronged with people from ten o'clock in the morning viewing the fine exhibit of dairy products on display. Butter, eggs, turkeys, geese, ducks and chickens were placed on tables in endless numbers, and the quality was in keeping with the magnitude of the display and fit for a top place in competition with anything in Ontario. Samples of choice barley, wheat, peas and oats were shown, all of extra good quality and weight.

BABY SHOW. The baby show at the Academy was the hub of the attraction for the ladies and children, with a goodly number of men sandwiched in, viewing some of the cutest little babies ever seen. They were all little types of beauty, and each had a dimple or curl that added to its attractiveness, and gave it a chance in competition with some other mother's pet.
