----An IDEA

HE knowing hostess takes advantage of every opportunity to give individuality to her table.

She always makes her own salad dressings. She prefers to create her own desserts. And she makes her own mustard pickles.

In this way she can develop her own combination of vegetable ingredients-and be sure they are firm and fresh. She can use the purest of vinegars, peppers and spices. And, most important of all, she can give her pickles that superlative, indispensable tang of flavour imparted only by a real old English Mustard like KEEN'S!

PICKLED BEANS

String a quarter of a peck of tender green beans, throw them into a kettle of boiling water, add I teaspoon-ful salt and boil 25 minutes. When done drain in a colander, let stand until cold, then put into jars. Sprinkle lightly with cayenne, add one tablerpoonful of Keen's Mustard, I tablespoonful chop-ped horse - radish and cover the whole with strong cider vinegar.
