THE SNAPSHOT GUILD
SPECIAL PICTURE HOBBIES

SPECIAL PICTURE HOBBIES

ONE of the attractions of the hobby of amateur photography is that it provides an almost unlimited number of hobbies within the hobby; as many, in fact, as there are kinds of things that the eye can see. Ships, flowers, trees, clouds, locomotives, colonial architecture, historical monuments, gargoyles, machinery, insects are only a few subjects which have their devotees as special picture hobbies. Enthusiasm for photography combines with the collector's instinct, resulting in albums of photographs of the chosen subject that are a source of pride, pleasure and instruction.

In addition to the enjoyment of making the photographs, the value of a special picture hobby is that it usually leads to an accumulation of knowledge about the subject that is educational and broadening. If the photographer starts making pictures of flowers, he soon discovers that there are many things about flowers that he never knew before. He is likely to become quite a botanist. So with ships. He is likely soon to be studying up on marine architecture and enjoying it.

Above is an amateur photograph from the album of an insect specialist. This is a hobby which affords him the extra enjoyment of walks into the woods and fields in his hunts for specimens. He photographs them on the spot and captures them to take home for indoor shots. He has become an amateur entomologist. Now he really knows about "bees' knees," "butterflies' eyebrows" and how many legs a caterpillar has. He finds that photographing insects in the open field, garden or woods, is really a sport. Some kinds you can stalk successfully but he tells you that, more often than you would suppose, you have success by lying in wait for an insect to come within lens range and pose itself on flower, leaf or twig on which you have focused. If you locate yourself in a place where there are plenty of them, it won't be long before one of the multitude hops or flies into position in front of your waiting lens. Of course, if you do not have a close-focusing bellows camera, you should use a portrait attachment in order to get a large image, and in either case you will usually need to have an enlargement made from the important part of the negative.

The exposure should usually be twice that given regular outdoor scenes with the same light conditions. Being close to the subject there is less light reflected, and, as detail is essential, it is better to double the exposure time, and also to use a small stop. Your camera should be stationary on a support. You must expect some failures because of the refusal of an insect always to stay in position long enough for the required exposure, but that adds to the value of the successful pictures.

Grasshoppers, bees, spiders and their webs, the praying mantis and the butterfly offer good opportunities; so does the wasp's nest, if you care to take a chance.

STORIES NAME MACAULAY AS HOUSE LEADER

Early Meeting of Provincial Association Is Scheduled
80 ATTEND CAUCUS
George Henry Nominates His Successor in Office

A thorough house-cleaning of the Ontario Conservative Association, to be undertaken before a convention is called to decide the leadership question, was planned Monday by a caucus of official conservative candidates in the October 6 elections.

The first step in the long heralded reorganization of the party was taken Monday when Leopold Macaulay, former Minister of Highways was chosen House Leader to succeed George S. Henry. It was Mr. Henry himself who nominated Mr. Macaulay, seconded by W. D. Black.

The caucus approved a resolution enlarging the present number of executive officers and representatives. The chief reason for this move, it was understood, was to ensure a majority favorable to an amendment to the constitution changing the election of officers from a three-year term to a one-year term.

Replacement Planned
Without a change in the constitution, the present set of officers, consisting mainly of the much-criticized "veterans" would have two more years in office. The amendment to the constitution is designed to overcome this, and to enable Hon. W. Earl Rowe and his followers to replace them immediately.

The executive elected at this annual meeting then will set a date for a leadership convention, at which time Mr. Rowe either will obtain a renewal of confidence in his leadership, or resign. (At the previous caucus of elected conservatives, held Oct. 25, Mr. Rowe supported a motion to call a leadership convention.)

If the amendment to the constitution passes the annual meeting (and it seems scheduled to do so), new blood will seek control of the affairs of the association, Wilfrid Heighington, K. C. defeated Conservative in Toronto-St. Davids, will seek to oust W. H. Ireland as president of the Association, it was reported. Mr. Heighington has strong support for the position within the party.

The plans for the house-cleaning and reorganization were drawn up by a caucus of more than eighty of the candidates in the Oct. 6 elections. Earlier, a meeting of the twenty-three successful candidates selected Mr. Macaulay as House Leader.

MOLTEN LAVA FOUND ON WESTERN FIELD

Regina Nov. 26—Molten lava, found in southern Saskatchewan, brought visions of spouting volcanoes in the dim past. The lava was found on Earl Budhams farm near Willowbunch, 35 miles south of Moose Jaw.

The find weighing 14½ pounds, was at first believed to be a meteorite museum geologist, Regina revealed what the clinker-like object was. He was unable however to say anything definite about the origin of this lava in Saskatchewan, since I have not yet visited the district in which it was found.

The geologist, recalled C. M. Sternburg Ottawa geologist, wrote an article some years ago on "Notes on Lava formation in Southern Saskatchewan. Mr. Houldsworth expressed the belief the volcanic eruption responsible for the lava occurred some time before the glacial age 25,000 to 30,000 years ago.

PROPOSES EXTENSION OF B. C. PROVINCE

Victoria, Nov. 26—Premier Pattullo proposes extension of British Columbia's boundaries "not only to take in territory east of the Yukon Territory the Yukon Territory but also the east of the Yukon following the 120th meridian to the North Pole.

The extension would add 400,000 square miles to the provinces 365,000 Expand Industry

The proposal was part of a program of government objectives designed to make the province "a beehive of industry and development" and outlined in the legislature Wednesday night.

Among objectives enumerated by the premier in his speech concluding the budget debate were:

Maintenance of empire tariff preferences for the benefit of the province's business with United States and other countries.

Construction of a highway through British Columbia and the Yukon to provide transportation for territory not now served and establishment of highway connection between the United States and Alaska.

YOUNG JUDGES ENTERTAINED

Peterborough County Council Gives Dinner for Winter Fair Buildings
Peterborough, Nov. 25—"The boys and girls of Peterborough County made a record for themselves through out the entire Dominion, particularly those who have taken part in the various competitions held by the Ontario Government for the past few years. They have done much to raise our noble calling, agriculture, to a very high pinnacle," said J. J. Duffus M. P., in responding to the toast to the Dominion at the dinner given by the County Council to the junior farmers' judging teams. City Councillors and their wives were present along with other guests.

"If anything is wrong with agriculture today it is because those who are connected with it do not understand their work. A study of the soil can be made so that suitable crops may be planted. Heavy farming in Ontario for the past 100 years has no doubt caused deficiencies in our soil, and we must replace these if we wish to keep our children on the farms."

A toast to the province was proposed by George Mullen, Reeve of Smith Township, and was responded to by Alex. Elliott, M.L.A., while the toast to "Our Guests" proposed by Reeve Tanner of Lakefield, was answered by Mayor G. MacDonald of Peterborough.
