The funny man also endorsed the apology; that it was part of his business to try to pun on prominent topics and personages, and he had no intention of offending, etc. The affair has made a good deal of gossip.

-Another strenuous effort is being made to have Mrs. Mayorick, the American woman who is confined in prison in London, Eng., on the charge of having poisoned her husband, released from custody on the ground that she was wrongfully convicted. It is said that important evidence has been discovered since the trial tending to bear out the denial made by Mrs. Maybrick on the witness stand. Alexander William Macdougal, a London barrister, has written an exhaustive treatise on the Maybrick case. It is a review of the circumstances and evidence, including that recently discovered, and it is said to be a remarkably strong argument. She was demented and sobody knew her name or whence she came, and she was buried in the Pine Ridge cemetery. A couple of weeks ago Dr. A. Falvey, who held the inquest, saw an advertisement in a Michigan paper inquiring after a lost person, and as the description tailied so well with the deceased he answered the advertisement. The identity was proven, and the other day a couple of the relatives came, disinterred the remains and took them stantine, state that there is considerable back to Michigan. mortality among the Arabs of the mountain

-A Berlin cable says: "Further details have been learned of Prof. Koch's ex-periments with his lymph. They show that many thousands of guinea pigs which had been experimented on were cremated after the work of vivisection had been completed. The bodies of the animals are burned in a huge furnace situated in the hygienic institution. The researches which are being carried on with the new remedy are attended with considerable danger. It is reported that five scientists died after testing the glander bacillus, and that three medical men working on the cholers microbe subsequently suffered from a violent attack of the disease. It is explained that Prof. Koch and his assistents owe their immunity from sickness to the increasing precautions they take while pursuing their experiments."

-Dr. Butler of London, Ont., received a very interesting letter from Dr. G. B. Wil son, who with his brother James (also a physician) is at present in Berlin, studying exaggerate the joy and enthusiasm of process of inoculation with the lymph and its effects on various persons, Dr. Wilson myself to one of Koch's assistants for inoculation. He injected double the amount used in a consumptive in my back under the skin over the right lung. I went directly home and stayed in my room all day, taking my pulse and temperature every haif-hour during the day, but no effect whatever took place, which proved the greatest of satisfaction to me, showing that I am perfectly free from tubercular bacilli, and making more evident to me its unsurpassed value as a means of diagnosis. Through the kindness of the British ambassador and Sir Charles Tupper we have received a supply of lymph, with the promise of all we require for both hospital and private use, and expect to be home by the 24th of this month." -A London cable says: Kochism in England has received a severe blow from the publication of the opinion of Dr. Symes Thompson, a leading physician, from his study of cases in the King's college hospital and the Brampton hospital, in which he has been investigating the effects of the ymph on consumptive patients. He proves, according to his conclusions, that the injection of the lymph often arouses baccilli of tuberculosis which have lain dormant in a scar in the tissue of the lungs which had before successfully resisted the attacks of the bacilli, and revivifies an active form of the disease, converting the first and curable stage of it into the third stage in the short space of two or three weeks, rendering the malady incurable by the lymph or any other agent that ly take to any homospathic remedy like Koch's, have written to the newspapers claiming that Kochism is no novelty, and that Hahneman cured diseases by similar morbid products. A remedy, they say, called tuberculinum, directed to the remoand in America. It must be confessed that these later statements do not in the least vitiate Prof. Koch's claims, but they have a dampening effect on public opinion. -A London cable says: There is the very best authority for stating that, even before the death of King Kalakaua, England was preparing to secure the transfer to herself or Canada of the political and commercial preponderance heretofore held by the Americans in Hawaii. The British are anxious to have control of Pearl harbor, which will soon be one of the finest in the world, and which the present treaty gives to the there, especially since the passage of the McKinley bill, which deprives Hawaii of CAMERON, Woodville P.
