Neither of these gentlemen took any steps to pack the convention. They left that to the other candidate, and of course he carried the day. Several nominations were made but all retired except Dr. Wood and Messrs McKenzie and Hughes. The balloting resulted as follows:—Hughes, 126; McKenzie, 28: Wood, 22. Dr. Wood in his McKenzie, 28; Wood, 22. Dr. Wood in his speech strongly condemned the conduct of Hughes in the last contest and since; but the

Hughes in the last contest and since; but the Convention was packed.

Mr. Barron and his friends are satisfied with the nomination and the way it was made or rather secured. They would, of course, have preferred Dr. Wood or Mr. Mr. McKenzie as an opponent. The north riding will this time give the officious "administrator" a needed lesson that will probably put an end to his parliamentary aspirations. Mr. R. J. McLaughlin is earnestly hoping that Jim Hughes may be tempted into the riding again to address a few meetings.

A Sad Fatality.

Many friends in town were greatly shocked Monday last by the news that Mrs. Armstrong wife of Mr. Christopher Armatrong of Toronto, and sister of Mrs. W. B. Fee of this town, had died of injuries sustained by her clothing catchdied of injuries sustained by her clothing catching fire from an oil lamp. Mr. Armstrong, who some eight years ago operated the soda water factory here, resides on Jarvis-st., Toronto, and the accident which has cost Mrs. Armstrong her life happened Christmas evening. Having occasion to arrange a folding bed in a room upstairs, she and her daughter. a young lady 18 years of age, set about the work. A lighted hand-lamp stood on upon a centre table, and in moving the bed a portion of it fell against Mrs. Armstrong in such a manner as to force her against the table, upsetting the lamp. The burning oil set fire to her clothing, which in an instant were in flames. The daughter attempted to remove the burning garments without avail, and then wrapped heavy articles about the sufferer, butthe whole lower portion of her body was severely burned before the efforts to extinguish the flames were successful. A physician was called in, who had her removed to the 'hospital for treatment, where she sucsician was called in, who had her removed to the 'hospital for treatment, where she suc-cumbed to her injuries about five o'clock Sunday merning. The body was brought to Lindsay Monday for burial. The funeral took place on Tuesday from the residence of Mr. Fee, inter-ment taking place at Yelverton, her former home. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family and relatives. The life of the deceased was insured for $2,000 in a Home Circle, and for $1,000 in a Good Templars' Association.

[To the Editor of THE POST.] SIR,-I notice that in the contest first reeve an effort is being made to remove a good and useful member of the council in the personef Mr. Kylie. I have taken some interest in muricipal matters during the past five years, and I reticed with satisfaction that Mr. Kylie was one of the very best men we had, and the if the neve and first deputy-reeve were retiring Mr. Kilie as second deputy had the first claim on thereeveship, and I contend that it was Mr. Wallace's duty to ask Mr. Kylie if that was his intention, and if he did ask him then he is doing wrongin opposing him, and if he did not ask he is wrong again. I have it from no less an authority than Mr. John Fell that Mr. Kylie is one of the very best representatives that the town of Lindsay eversent to the county council. The question of a water works system must be settled the coming year and Mr. Kylie, on account of his position as chairman of that committee and his experience in going over the different agreements that the council have been trying to make during the last five years, is well qualified to deal with that matter. The principal of putting out a good man just at a time when he is becoming useful to the muni-cipality is wrong. We notice for instance the municipality of Ops, and we know of none in Canada where the the business is so satisfactorily done. Old and tried men are kept at the head office year after year, and I contend that the tax payers will consult their own interest by voting for Mr. Kylie.—Yours truly,
