The Coming Bye-Elections.

[To the Editor of THE POST.] SIR,-During this election Mr. Fairbairn and his friends are likely to raise four meetings in Verulam on this question ber and March, and no man should comber woting day, particularly so if the meetings in Verulam on this question before voting day, particularly so if the before voting day, particularly so if the before voting that they are likely to be tories find that they are likely to be the bonne also said that the farmers were the bonne also said that the farmers were the bonne also said that the farmers were defeated. Surely the Verulam farmers the house also said that the farmers were the house also said that the farmers were will not allow themselves to be fooled willing to be bled on their twine, for he not be will not allow themselves to be fooled willing to be bled on their twine, for ne not again. I really hope not. Then beyond only made a speech in favor of dear twine and Miss Margie, third daughter of Mr William Beecroft, all of Mariposa. The knot was securely tied but also voted for it. If the farmers will but look to their own interests they will be but look to thei Bobcaygeon, which did such yeoman vote for free trade and cheap twine and pervice in the December election, but was cast their votes for Mr. Walters. dropped so suddenly at the March election tion, simply because the March election was a general election. But this being a bys-election I am prepared to see the "railroad" fake again trotted out, and no doubt surveys will be made and stations at Dunsford and Bobcsygeon staked cut.

Look out for McDonald and his railroad On Saturday I was told that the tories were about sure to pose Mr. Fair-bairn as a temperance man in Marinesa, as the local option bill is now being tested known. Let us as farmers vote for our own interests this time, and send Mr. Walters to Ottawa instead of Mr. Fairbairn, when if he votes as did Mr. Fairbairn to make us pay at least three cents a pound more for our Mnder twine we in turn can leave him at home the next time, but as he is the free trade advocate there is no danger of that.
