LINDSAY, FRIDAY, JAN. 8, 1897. ZEHRUNG KILLED HIMSELF.

A Popular Business Man of Lincoln, Neb., Got Tired of Life. Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 1.-Ex-State

Senator Henry C. Zehrung, at the head of the Standard Glass and Paint Comone of the most prominent as well as most popular business men in Lincoln, committed suicide by hanging yesterday. He was 54 years old, high in the ranks of Masonry, and was reputed to be wealthy. Originally a Republican, he deserted that party at the last election and was one of the strong supporters of Bryan, of whom he was a near neighbor. On the subject of free silver he was almost a fanatic, and among his intimates it is known he brooded much over its defeat and that of his candidate for the Presidency.

New York, Dec. 29 .- A special to The Journal from Rome says: The Italian newspapers announced the impending elevation of the Catholic Archbishop of New York to the Cardinalate, and with respect to this matter The Arena, one of the bestinformed journals in Vatican affairs, makes the following remarks: "Every one knows of the conflict which has long existed in the American episcopate relative to cer-tain doctrines, the principal apostles of which were the ex-rector of the Catholic University at Washington, Bishop Keane and Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul. "It is also known that the Pope recently had an laterview with Mgr. Keane, who has given His Holiness such explanations that Leo XIII. has completely absolved him of the alleged charges of which he was accused.

"This event has certainly produced a great impression among American Bishops, who, up to the present, have been opposed to Keane and Ireland. In pardoning these prelates the Pope has, so to speak, disapproved of the conduct of their accusers. "To lessen, however, the effect which this pardon may have produced on the American episcopate, His Holiness has decided to raise to the Cardinalate Monsignor Corrigan, who represents the party hostile to Keane and Ireland."

Sir James Grant Tells About Her Majesty.

Plans Opened for the Canadian Building at Bisley-Death in San Francisco of Mr. James Johnson The Coming Postal Union Convention-Other Ottawa News,

Ottawa, Dec. 28.-(Special.)-Sir James Grant, Ottawa's famous physician and orator, was honored by being presented to the Queen on his recent visit to Great Britain. His views, therefore, as to Her Majesty's health will be received with some satisfaction at this time. Speaking to-day he said: "The statements made in the correspondence of the New York papers have little or no foundation. Her Majesty doubtless is experiencing in a moderate degree the usual disability for active movement seen in age and in very many individuals of a younger age than the Queen. She drives out regularly every day with her usual attendants, and enjoys the mountain air of her residence at Balmoral. Her mental activity appears to be marvelously acute, and she seems to take in thoroughly almost everything connected with her vast empire and its people. There is no appearance whatever of infirmity, and the present prospects are that her subjects will enjoy for some years to come the great pleasure and gratifica-tion of having Her Majesty at their The plans for the Canadian building at Bisley have been opened. They come from architects in Montrea!, Hamilton, Halifax and Quebec. Many are of great merit, showing buildings of a very pretentious character, but it is questionable whether any single one can be constructed for the sum fixed by the council of the D.R.A., viz. : $7500. The idea of the association was to get a building typical of Canada and constructed almost entirely of Canadian material, but it is probable there will be some disappointment on this score. The plans will be judged at a meeting to be held in a few days. Word has been received in the city of the death in San Francisco of Mr. James Johnson, late Commissioner of Customs, at the ripe old age of 73 years. In November, 1867, he was appointed Assistant Commissioner of Customs at Ottawa, and in 1874 appointed Commissioner, which position he held till about five years ago, when he was superannuated. About three years ago he removed to California with his two daughters for the benefit of his health. Mr. E. V. Johnson of the Department of Railways and Canals is his son. The late Mr. Johnson spent a blameless life, and was much respected The Postal Union Convention is to be held at Washington during the coming year, and great preparations are already being made for the reception of delegates. The convention is to last a month, and the program of business to be taken up has arrived at the postoffice here in the form of several large volumes. They naturally cover a variety of suggestions, none of them likely to materially alter the system that has been found to work so well. The Postal Union now extends practically over the entire globe, embracing almost every civilized country. From the continental countries of, Europe come many new ideas as to registration. Mr. Matte, sr., was always a Liberal and had promised to vote for the Liberal party. Mr. Gobell, no doubt, does not wish to part with any of his staff, particularly when he states that there is no one belonging to the Liberal party who can fill the positions of the above-named gentlemen. The Liberal party must indeed be very short of intelligence if they cannot find men capable enough to replace these men. These men for the last twenty years have grossly insulted the Liberal party even so far as to put crape on their doors with a red ribbon attached and some of the most filthy correspondence that they could obtain. In his next correspondence "A Liberal" says he will give the names of those who divulged the secrets of the Liberal party to the Conservatives after the election of 1878. Ottawa, Jan. 3. — (Special.) — A general order was issued yesterday. The Major-General announces the receipt from the Colonial Office of the Secretary of State's expression of satisfaction at the success of the detachment of the Canadian artillery at Shoeburyness. B. Ranger, by the wellknown distillery firm of Hiram Walker

the Police Court yesterday. The charge is that Ranger has in his possession a counterfeit seal of Messrs. Walker, and that he has from time to time opened barrels of liquor upon which was the Walker seal, adulterated the liquor and sealed it up again. For some time past it appears that numerous compaints have been going in to Messrs. Walker's office that their liquor was not up to the standard. The firm were at a loss to know what the cause of the complaints were and the services of Detective Carpenter of Montreal were obtained. The detective worked very quietly on the case, and finally located the source of the trou-Mr. Ranger purchased large quantities of liquor from Messrs. Walker, and in turn sold it to outside parties as coming direct from the distillery. This liquor was found to be inferior in quality, and a close investigation showed that the seals had been tampered with, the bungs removed and a counterfeit seal replaced. These barrels of liquor were in possession of various customers, and sold in each case by Mr. Ranger. Mr. Latchford, for the prosecution, quoted the criminal code, chap. 447, in reference to any person having in his possession any die, lock, machine or other "ument that is used as a trade mark. Mr. N. A. Belcourt, who represented Mr. Ranger, said he desired the case adjourned until Tuesday to allow him to see his client. He had no explanation to offer until then. The case was the leading topic among business men about the city, and the outcome will be watched with interest. Witnesses will be brought here from

There are two charges against Mr. Ranger. The first is that on December 21 he sold a barrel of adulterated whisky. The other is with intent to defraud by having in his possession a brass seal for the purpose of using as a trade mark, which is the registered property of Hiram Walker & Sons of Walkerville. The Marine Department yesterday received a request that when the Government is carrying out its scheme for placing cold storage accommodation on board the vessels sailing from Montreal and Halifax, there should be room provided for shipping fish to the Old Country market. The Premier has ordered an investigation in the matter of the charge laid against the postmaster of Crane Island, Charlevoix County, of having destroyed copies of L'Electeur which passed through his office, and which were destroyed in compliance with the order of the cure of that parish after the reading of the mandement last Sunday. A sharp shock of earthquake that lasted fully ten seconds, and was accompanied by a dull, rumbling noise, was felt in various parts of the city yesterday morning between 12.15 and 12.45 o'clock. According to various statements people who were awake at the time felt it distinctly, and quite a few who were asleep were awakened by the force of the shock. Lord Haddo, the eldest son of His

The trade in frozen fish between Can-

British dealers have secured from the Canadian Pacific Railway and other of our roads advantageous rates for the carriage of their consignments. It is officially stated that so far as Canada is concerned Mr. J. M. Lemoine

The crop of applications for the Crow's Nest Pass Railway charter is multiplying, and promises to give the Railway Committee plenty of work at the coming session. Owing to outside bakers being allowed to come into the city and cut prices. the managers of a few large establishments in the city have arranged to lower the price of bread to ten cents per loaf. combat deepens and if Hon. Mr. Tarte succeeds he will be a man to be remembered, but if he fails the fall will be considerable. It is understood that the Minister of Public Works is determined that an important amendment to the election law will be introduced at the coming session of Parliament, and, although the details in full have not yet leaked out, it is stated that he will make it a criminal offence for any clergyman to exert political influence either from the pulpit, by means of the confessional or by private visit. Be the result what it may Mr. Tarte is evidently a marked man for episcopal displeasure, as the attacks or writings in the Minister's personal organ, Le Cultivateur, against what is called clericalism have been much more severe than those of L'Electeur; consequently a good deal of surprise was felt when the firstnamed sheet did not meet with the same fate as its Quebec confrere. Le Cultivateur was not condemned by the prelates, but the priests are doing the work all the same. Hon. Mr. Tarte's friends were stating yesterday that no less than two thousand of Le Cultivateur's subscribers had given up the paper on account of its action on the Manitoba school question.

in another vigorous article which was published in La Patrie yesterday, the ex-Mayor says, in opening, that the violence of his journalistic opponents would almost make one believe that they were inspired by a monastic abuse of Oka whisky. The reader outside this province will understand the French journalist's expression in recalling the fact that the rev. Trappists of Oka were fined some months ago for the illlegal manufacture of whisky within their domain.

What will they do here in Montreal? I really know nothing, but if they launch their thunderbolts, I ask that it be of the first order and that there shall be no ambiguity about it. Let them be as explicit as in Quebec, so that it will make a cause celebre for the Privy Council. They finished by burying Gulbord, and they will also finish by leaving politics alone. No one wishes any harm to the clergy of the Province of Quebec, and no one will interfere with their concerns if they will only do us the honor to keep out of politics. There is no air of bravado on my part or a tempestuous declaration of war against the clergy, yet, with three years of this kind of work, have almost lost patience. Besides the letters of approval which I have received from all sections of the country, a great deal of correspondence has come to hand which it would be impolite to publish in La Patrie. The campaign which we have entered upon is so serious that we must direct it according to our own way of thinking: therefore I wish it to be thoroughly understood that Hon. Mr. Laurier and Hon. Mr. Marchand have not been, or will not be, consulted in this matter."

High Constable Bissonnette left for Quebec last night, bearing a warrant for the arrest of Mr. J. P. Tardivel the so-called ultramontane editor of La Verite, the criminal action being taken by Dr. Louis Frechette, the wellknown Canadian poet and litterateur. L'Institut Canadien of the Ancient Capital having invited Dr. Frechette to deliver a lecture, Mr. Tardivel wrote in his paper that he was under the impression that the institute was a respectable organization, hence the action in question. He Was Convicted of Picking Pockets, His Mother Begged Him Off, and Now He is Suspected of Murder. Philadelphia, Jan. 3.- A few days before Christmas two boys, giving the names of James Hagen and Edward Burns of New York, were arrested here for picking pockets. Hagen was identified as a boy who had served time on Blackwell's Island for picking pockets in New York, but nothing was learned of the Burns boy. Both boys were convicted and sentenced to two years' impreserment in the Hantingdon boys were convicted and sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the Huntingdon Reformatory. On Friday a middle-aged woman and a well-dressed young man visited Judge Yerkes. who sentenced Burns, and told him they were the mother and brother of the boy. They said their name was Canover, and that the boy lived in Chicago. The woman made such a piteous plea that yesterday Judge Yerkes had the boy brought into court, and after giving him some good advice set him free. Not two hours after the happy mother and her boy left the court room a telegram came from Chicago saying that Edward Burns was wanted there for murder. The Chicago despatch contained no details, but the police here think the boy is the one wanted. They have been unable to get any trace of him or his mother and brother. The boy is only 15 years old and wears knee breeches.

Havana, Jan. 3 .- (Via Key West, Fla., Jan. 3.)-Reports that Maceo is alive are coming constantly from the field, and all tend to show that he is recuperating rapidly. Letters received in Havana from his medical attendants explain the nature of his wounds and confirm previous reports of and his comrades were in ambush. As soon as Maceo appeared the Spanlards opened fire. Macco being in front fell from his horse. Gomez also fell at his side. The rest of the staff, some of whom were wounded, managed to escape and reach Baldomero. Acosta's camp instantly gathered all its small forces and rushed to the rescue. They made a desperate fight and drove Cirujeda into Punta Brava, recovered the bodies and carried the apparently dead Maceo with them. He remained unconscious four days and five nights, and when prepared for burial it was found that he was still alive. As soon as he was able to be transported he was carried with the greatest care and under a strong escort to the Cienega Hospital, though others say to

It appears that the project of the Cubans as soon as Macco is able to move is to send him to the United States, and a steamer has already been ordered for the purpose, and thus personally prove that he is alive. Great excitement prevails in Havana over the news. It is widely discussed, and even the Spaniards are talking of the possibility of his being alive. A member of the Produce Exchange created a sensation the other day when he announced the fact, and a commotion followed.

BAD FOR THE CUBANS.

The Loss of the Steamer Commodore Upset Some of Their Plans.

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 3.-The steamer Commodore sank in 20 fathoms of water 20 miles northeast of Mosquito Inlet at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. All of the men on board were saved, and 12 of them reached Jacksonville last night. The story of the accident, as told by one of the men, is as follows : The steamer crossed the St. John's Bay at 2 o'clock on friday, and at midnight was 100 miles down the coast. One of the men went into the hold for something, and found it halffull of water. Great excitement prevailed, but the pumps were started, and everyone on board was put to work bailing. The water gained steadily, and at 3 o'clock the steamer was deserted, R. A. Delgado taking command of one boat, with 11 other men, and Delgado party landed on the beach near New Smyrna at 10.30 a.m., but Capt. Murphy's boat load did not land until 9 o'clock to-night. The boat is said to have been overloaded with coal when it left here, and it is thought that she sprang her seams when she grounded on Commodore Point in going down the St. John's. Stephen Crane, the novelist, was on board, and was in Capt. Murphy's boat.

The Cubans here are downhearted at the accident, as the Commodore was expected to carry the men left by the Three Friends on No Name Key.

A. A. Bisbee, owner of the Dauntless, received the following from that Key : "The Dauntless rescued a large body of men and men were in a helpless condition. She Dauntless will wait and meet the Commodore and deliver the men and cargo to her. Will report as per signals seen at Miami, and will return as soon as we meet the Commodore, probably Friday." This confirms the reports received from Key West Friday night, stating that the Dauntless was anchored off No Name Key. Friday afternoon, taking on men and carge.
